§ 3.6 (t) Advertising falsely or misleadingly—Qualities or properties of product or services: § 3.66 (h) Misbranding or mislabeling—Qualities or properties. In connection with offer, etc., in commerce, of respondent's "Vacu-matic" mechanical device, or any other similar device, representing, directly or by implication, (1) that the use of respondent's device on an automobile engine will result in quicker starting, faster acceleration or pick-up, increased power, or a smoother-running engine; (2) that the use of respondent's device on an automobile engine will result in any reduction in gasoline consumption or in any increase in mileage per unit of gasoline, unless such representation be expressly limited to those cases in which the fuel mixture, due to improper adjustment of the carburetor, is excessively rich and a small amount of additional air may serve to lean such mixture; or (3) that respondent's device performs any useful service in the carburetion of gasoline in an automobile engine in excess of such effect as it may have in leaning the fuel mixture in those cases above referred to; prohibited. (Sec. 5, 38 Stat. 719, as amended by sec. 3, 52 Stat. 112; 15 U.S.C., sec. 45b) [Cease and desist order, Vacu-Matic Carburetor Company, Docket 3388, June 29, 1944]

It is ordered, That the respondent, Vacu-Matic Carburetor Company, a corporation, and its officers, agents, representatives, and employees, directly or through any corporate or other device, in connection with the offering for sale, sale, and distribution in commerce, as "commerce" is defined in the Federal Trade Commission Act, of respondent's mechanical device designated "Vacu-matic," or any other device of substantially similar construction or possessing substantially similar characteristics, whether sold under the same name or under any other name, do forthwith cease and desist from representing, directly or by implication:

1. That the use of respondent's device on an automobile engine will result in quicker starting, faster acceleration or pick-up, increased power, or a smoother-running engine.

the fuel mixture, due to improper adjustment of the carburetor, is excessively rich and a small amount of additional air may serve to lean such mixture.

3. That respondent's device performs any useful service in the carburetion of gasoline in an automobile engine in excess of such effect as it may have in leaning the fuel mixture in those cases referred to in paragraph 2.

It is further ordered, That the respondent shall, within sixty (60) days after service upon it of this order, file with the Commission a report in writing, setting forth in detail the manner and form in which it has complied with this order.

Section 702.34 of NHA General Order 60-8 contains a request of owners of war housing begun prior to February 10, 1943, to provide the War Housing Center or the NHA Regional Office with certain information on Form NHA 60-9 as to the occupancy of the housing. PART 3114—SIMPLIFICATION AND STANDARDIZATION OF PORTABLE TOOLS, CHUCKING EQUIPMENT, MECHANICS' HAND SERVICE TOOLS, FILES, HACK AND BAND SAWS, VISES, AND MACHINE TOOL ACCESSORIES

[Limitation Order L-216, Schedule VII]

HACK SAW BLADES

§ 3114.8 Schedule VII of Limitation Order L-216—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Hack saw blade" means any steel saw blade more than six inches in length, having a pinhole or pinholes near each end, the cutting edge or edges of which consist of teeth with set, and which is hardened or hardened and tempered by any process at the cutting edge or edges or throughout the entire blade.

(2) "Producer" means any person who manufactures hack saw blades.

(b) Restrictions on production. On and after July 29, 1944, no producer shall manufacture, sell, or deliver any hack saw blades unless such blades when completed are of the widths, thicknesses and number of teeth described in Appendix A to this schedule and conform with all other provisions of this schedule and the appendix.

(c) Exemptions. Notwithstanding any other provision of this schedule, its restrictions shall not apply to the manufacture, sale or delivery of the following types of hack saw blades:

(1) Any hack saw blades the production of which was commenced prior to July 29, 1944 and is completed prior to September 29, 1944.

(2) Any hack saw blades which are manufactured for experimental purposes. Such blades must be stamped or otherwise permanently marked "test" or "experimental." They may not be sold by the producer but may be delivered by him in reasonable quantities to users for test purposes only to be returned to the producer with a report of the results.

(3) Any partially fabricated hack saw blades which are sold or delivered by one producer to another producer. Such saw blades when completed and resold shall, however, conform with all of the provisions of this schedule and the appendix.

(d) Necessity for filing specifications. Each producer shall file with the Tools Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. L-216, Schedule VII, a letter in triplicate, indicating the type of tooth set, width of set, and tooth spacing which he has selected for each of the blades which he intends to manufacture under this schedule. This letter should be filed by August 29, 1944. Thereafter no producer may change the tooth set, width of set or tooth spacing which he has selected without the specific permission of the War Production Board. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(e) Appeals by users. Where any provision of this schedule prohibits the production of any hack saw blade and a user of such blade believes that this imposes an unreasonable hardship upon him, the user may apply for permission to have production of such blade continued. The user should file a letter in triplicate with the Tools Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. L-216, Schedule VII, giving a detailed description of the special hack saw blade which he requires, the quantity he needs, and the reason why he is unable to use a standard blade.

(f) Termination of simplification letter of August 18, 1941. This schedule supersedes the restrictions imposed by the letter, dated August 18, 1941, signed by the Chief of the Tools Section, Office of Production Management. Authorizations for the manufacture of special hack saw blades which were issued under that letter to designated blade users shall, however, remain in effect, subject to the terms and conditions of such special authorizations, provided that delivery in all such cases is made directly to the person for whom the manufacture of the blades was authorized.

Issued this 29th day of July 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

APPENDIX A—SCHEDULE VII TO LIMITATION ORDER L-216

(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this appendix:

(1) "Carbon type" means a hack saw blade all of which is made of steel known in the industry as "ordinary steel," "straight carbon steel," or "plain carbon steel," being that type of steel which owes its properties chiefly to the percentage of carbon and does not contain substantial amounts of other alloying elements.

(2) "Standard type" means a hack saw blade all of which is made of steel known in the industry as "standard" or "tungsten alloy," being that type of steel containing approximately but not more than 1¼ percent tungsten or approximately but not more than ¾ percent molybdenum and substantially no other alloying element.

(3) "Molybdenum type" means a hack saw blade all or the tooth section of which is made of alloy steel containing not less than 0.60 percent carbon and more than 3.0 percent molybdenum; or alloy steel containing not less than 0.60 percent carbon, 0.0 percent or less tungsten, and more than 3.0 percent molybdenum. Other alloying elements may be present.

(4) "18-4-1 type" means a hack saw blade all or the tooth section of which is made of alloy steel containing not less than 0.55 percent carbon and more than 12.0 percent tungsten. Other alloying elements may be present.

(5) "Welded and composite blade" means a hack saw blade made of two or more pieces of steel joined together.

(6) "Broach blade" means a hack saw blade no two teeth of which are alike, so that the pitch, i. e., the number of teeth per inch, decreases from the first to the last tooth.

(b) General provisions—(1) Tooth set. All hack saw blades having 24 or 32 teeth per inch shall have wavy set only, and all other blades shall have straight or regular set. Set for each tooth spacing or pitch shall be according to a single standard of the producer.

(2) Width of set. The width of set for each type, size and tooth number of hack saw blade shall be according to a single standard of the producer.

(3) Starting teeth. All hand frame sizes of hack saw blades permitted by this schedule may be made with starting teeth of greater pitch (i. e., number of teeth per inch) or closer spacing on the forward 2½ inches of the blade than is specified in the tables. Producers may also manufacture these sizes without starting teeth.

(4) Edges. Types and sizes of hack saw blades designated by the letter S in the column headed "Nominal length" shall be made only with single edge (i. e., with teeth on one edge only); blades designated by the letter D, only with double edge (i. e., with teeth on both edges); and those designated by the letters DS may be made with double edge and with single edge.

(5) Width before milling of double-edge blades. The width before milling of the blanks for double-edge hack saw blades may exceed that specified in the tables by not more than ¼ inch, except that the width before milling of the blank for the standard type shall be as specified.

(6) Thickness tolerance. The actual thickness shall be the nominal thickness plus or minus 0.003 inch, except that the actual thickness of carbon type and standard type blades shall be the nominal thickness plus 0.001 inch or minus 0.003 inch.

PART 3114—SIMPLIFICATION AND STANDARDIZATION OF PORTABLE TOOLS, CHUCKING EQUIPMENT, MECHANICS' HAND SERVICE TOOLS, FILES, HACK AND BAND SAWS, VISES, AND MACHINE TOOL ACCESSORIES

[Limitation Order L-216, Schedule VIII]

HARD EDGE FLEXIBLE BACK BAND SAWS

§ 3114.9 Schedule VIII of Limitation Order L-216—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule:

(1) "Hard edge flexible back band saw" means any saw made from strip steel with teeth on one edge, with or without set, the tooth edge of which is hardened or hardened and tempered by any process so that it is harder than some portion of the saw below the gullets of the teeth. These saws are generally classified as metal cutting band saws but as defined here the term includes all such saws irrespective of intended or actual use.

(2) "Producer" means any person who manufactures hard edge flexible back band saws.

(b) Restrictions on production. On and after July 29, 1944, no producer shall manufacture, sell, or deliver any hard edge flexible back band saws unless such saws when completed are of the width, thickness, and number of teeth described in Appendix A to this schedule and conform with all other provisions of this schedule and the appendix.

(c) Exemptions. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this schedule, its restrictions shall not apply to the manufacture, sale or delivery of the following types of saws:

(1) Any saws the production of which was commenced prior to July 29, 1944 and is completed prior to September 29, 1944.

(2) Any saws which are manufactured for experimental purposes. All such saws, except those ⅛" or less in width, must be stamped or otherwise permanently marked "test" or "experimental." Experimental saws ⅛" or less in width shall be tagged or otherwise identified as "test" or "experimental" in such manner as is practical and does not affect the efficiency of the saw. Experimental saws may not be sold by the producer, but may be delivered by him in reasonable quantities to users for test purposes only, to be returned to the producer with a report of the results.

(3) Any saws which are sold or delivered to the producers of hole saws, provided that the producer of hole saws shall use such saws only for the manufacture of hole saws and shall not sell or deliver any such saws to any person in lengths exceeding four feet.

(4) Any partially fabricated saws which are sold or delivered by one producer to another producer. Such saws when completed and resold shall, however, conform with all of the provisions of this schedule and the appendix.

(5) Any other saws which are sold or delivered in lengths four feet or less.

(d) Necessity for filing specifications. Each producer shall file with the Tools Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. L-216, Schedule VIII, a letter in triplicate, indicating the widths of set and the hardnesses which he has selected for each of the saws which he intends to manufacture under this schedule. This letter should be filed by August 29, 1944. Thereafter, no producer may change the width of set or hardness which he has selected without the specific permission of the War Production Board. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(e) Appeals by users. Where any provision of this schedule prohibits the production of any hard edge flexible back band saw and a user of such saw believes that this imposes an unreasonable hardship upon him, the user may apply for permission to have production of such saws continued. The user should file a letter in triplicate with the Tools Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref. L-216, Schedule VIII, giving a detailed description of the special band saw which he requires, the quantity he needs, and the reason why he is unable to use a standard saw.

(f) Termination of the simplification letter of August 18, 1941. This schedule supersedes the restrictions imposed by the letter, dated August 18, 1941, signed by the Chief of the Tools Section, Office of Production Management. Authorizations for the manufacture of special band saws which were issued under that letter to designated saw users shall, however, remain in effect, subject to the terms and conditions of such special authorizations, provided that delivery in all such cases is made directly to the person for whom the manufacture of the saws was authorized.

Issued this 29th day of July 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,

APPENDIX A—SCHEDULE VIII TO LIMITATION ORDER L-216

(1) Type of tooth set. All band saws having 32 teeth per inch, the teeth of which are set, shall have Wavy set only. All other band saws, the teeth of which are set, shall have Raker set only, except that ⅛-inch band saws with 8 teeth per inch and ⅜-inch band saws with 6 teeth per inch shall have Straight set only; and ¾-inch band saws with 3 teeth per inch and 1-inch band saws with 2, 3, or 6 teeth per inch may have both Raker set and Straight set.

(2) Width of set. The width of Raker set and Wavy set for each width, thickness and tooth space of saw permitted in Table 1, the teeth of which are set, shall be according to a single standard of the producer. The width of Straight set shall not be less than 0.061 inch for 0.025-inch thick saws, not less than 0.068 inch for 0.032-inch thick saws, and not less than 0.071 inch for 0.035-inch thick saws.

(3) Hardness. The hardness for each width, thickness and tooth space of saw, when tempered or drawn after hardening, shall be according to a single standard of the producer, and the hardness for each width, thickness and tooth space of saw, when not tempered or not drawn after hardening, shall be according to a single standard of the producer.

(4) Tolerances. The width after milling of a size shall be the width stated in Table 1 for such size, plus .000 inches or minus 1/64 of an inch. The actual thickness shall be the nominal thickness, plus or minus .001 of an inch.

PART 3290—TEXTILE, CLOTHING AND LEATHER

[General Conservation Order M-73, as Amended July 28, 1944]

WOOL

§ 3290.286 Conservation Order M-73—(a) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(b) Definitions. In this order:

(1) "Wool" means the fiber from the fleece of the sheep or lamb, or the hair of the Angora goat (mohair) or the Cashmere goat, camel, alpaca, llama, vicuna, and related fibers, including carpet wool, but does not include noils, waste, tanners' wool waste, reprocessed or reused wool, or yarn or cloth;

(2) "Waste" means the by-product resulting from carding, combing, spinning and subsequent operations on any system, but does not include the by-product resulting from scouring and carbonizing operations;

(3) "Put into process" means:

(i) On the worsted system, the first operation of drawing after combing;

(ii) On any other system using tops, cut tops or broken tops, the first operation of cutting, breaking, picking or carding, as the case may be;

(iii) On the woolen, felt, or any other system not using tops, the first operation after scouring, carbonizing, dusting or similar cleaning or preparatory process;

(4) [Deleted Nov. 19, 1943]

(c) Restrictions. (1) No person shall put into process any wool other than carpet wool or mohair for the manufacture of any floor covering.

(2) No person shall put into process or use any alpaca or tops therefrom (except alpaca seconds, llama, huarizo, pieces, low offsorts or locks), except for the manufacture of yarns or cloth to be delivered to or for the account of, or to be physically incorporated into material or equipment to be delivered to or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission, or the War Shipping Administration.

(3) No spinner shall deliver on an unrated order any knitting yarn which he puts into process in the period from May 21, 1944 through July 30, 1944. No spinner shall deliver on unrated orders more than fifty per cent of the knitting yarn which he puts into process in the period from July 31, 1944, through October 29, 1944. (No spinner is hereby relieved from the requirements of Priorities Regulation 1 to accept and fill rated orders placed with him regardless of the percentage of his production covered by such orders.) He shall in each such period produce at least the same proportion of knitting yarn to all other Bradford yarn as he produced in the first calendar quarter in 1944.

In this subparagraph "yarn" means yarn containing wool, produced on spinning, twisting or roving frames on the Bradford system; "spinner" means a person who produced in the first calendar quarter in 1944, or who hereafter produces, such knitting yarn for use by himself or others; calculations shall be in pounds.

(d) Prohibition against sales or deliveries. No person shall sell, deliver, or accept any material if he knows, or has reason to believe, such material is to be used in violation of this order.

(e) General exceptions. The restrictions of this order shall not apply to any person to the extent that such person puts wool into process for the making of wool products entirely by hand, including the spinning and weaving of the cloth.

(f) Equitable distribution. It is the policy of the War Production Board that wool, noils, waste, tanners' wool waste, and reprocessed or reused wool, and yarns, cloth, felts and products containing any of the foregoing, not required to fill rated orders, shall be distributed equitably. In making such distribution due regard shall be given to essential civilian needs, and there should be no discrimination in the acceptance or filling of orders as between persons who meet the seller's regularly established prices and terms of sale or payment. Under this policy every seller of such items, so far as practicable, should make available an equitable proportion of his merchandise to his customers periodically without prejudice because of their size, location or relationship as affiliated outlets. It is not the intention to interfere with established channels and methods of distribution unless necessary to meet war or essential civilian needs. If voluntary observance of the policy outlined is inadequate to achieve equitable distribution, the War Production Board may issue specific directions to named concerns. A failure to comply with a specific direction shall be deemed a violation.

(g) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(h) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(i) Reports. Every person classified below, to whom the form is sent by the War Production Board or by the Bureau of the Census, shall, within the period specified in the reporting form, file with the War Production Board, or the Bureau of the Census, whichever is specified in the form, each form applicable to him, giving the information required, as follows:

PART 3291—CONSUMERS DURABLE GOODS

[Limitation Order L-233, as Amended July 28, 1944]

PHOTOGRAPHIC FILM AND FILM BASE

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of critical materials and facilities used in the production of film and film base for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3291.265 Limitation Order L–233—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "Film" means any of the types of photographic film listed in Groups I through VI of paragraph (b) (1).

(2) "Unfinished film" means sensitized film base which requires further finishing in order to put it in a form ready to be sold for exposure.

(3) "Manufacturer" means any person engaged in the business of finishing film, or making unfinished film or film base.

(4) "To finish film" means the final act of putting unfinished film in a form in which it is ready to be sold for exposure. A person who purchases unfinished film and who cuts it, winds it, packages it, or performs any operation on it to put it into such form is finishing film. A person who purchases film which has already been finished and who recuts, respools, rewinds, and repackages it is not finishing film whether he performs any or all of these operations.

(5) "Preferred order" means any order, contract or subcontract placed by or for the account of the Army, Navy, Maritime Commission, War Shipping Administration and any order for export. Orders from the Army or Marine Corps Post Exchanges or the Navy or Coast Guard Ships Service Departments are not preferred orders unless they carry a preference rating assigned on Form WPB–542, applied and, if necessary, extended pursuant to paragraph (c) (3) in this order.

(b) Restrictions on finishing of film and on delivery of unfinished film and film base. (1) During the calendar quarter beginning July 1, 1944 and during each calendar quarter after that:

(i) No manufacturer shall finish more film of the following groups:

"Group I"—Amateur and 35 mm. still camera roll film whether packaged in cartridges, spools, or in bulk.
"Group II"—Cut sheet film including film packs and graphic film in roll form but excluding x-ray film.
"Group III"—35 mm. motion picture film.
"Group IV"—8, 16, and 32 mm. film.
"Group V"—X-ray film.
"Group VI"—Aero film.

than according to a quota authorized in writing by the War Production Board; and

(ii) No manufacturer shall sell or deliver more unfinished film or film base in that form than according to a quota authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(2) Each manufacturer who wants a quota shall file a letter in triplicate with the War Production Board on or before the 10th day of the month before the calendar quarter in which he wishes to finish film or to sell or deliver unfinished film or film base. This letter should show film in the groups listed in paragraph (b) (1), stating the amount of film (to the nearest thousand square feet) he wishes to finish in each group, separately for preferred orders and all other orders. Where request is made for a quota to sell or deliver unfinished film or film base, the letter should specify the amounts involved to the nearest thousand square feet.

(3) Before the start of each calendar quarter the War Production Board will notify each manufacturer who has applied what his quotas are. Quotas for the finishing of film will be assigned separately by group for preferred orders and all other orders. In assigning quotas for the finishing of Group I, Group II, and Group III film, it will be the general policy of the War Production Board not to authorize any manufacturer to finish in any calendar quarter more than 12½% of the Group I film finished by him in 1941 or more than 19% of the Group II or Group III film finished by him in 1941.

(4) The War Production Board will from time to time or upon the request of any manufacturer give the amounts of film by group which each manufacturer is authorized to finish.

(5) The War Production Board may from time to time change any quotas assigned by it and may direct any manufacturer to sell specific quantities of film, unfinished film or film base to specific persons or for specific uses. Any manufacturer who wishes to have a quota adjusted to take care of changing conditions during a quarter may make application to the War Production Board.

(c) Special restrictions on distribution. (1) No rating may be used to obtain film unless that rating has been assigned on Form WPB–541 or WPB–542. All other orders for film shall be treated as unrated orders.

(2) Ratings assigned on WPB–541 and WPB–542 (except on orders from the Army or Marine Corps Post Exchanges or the Navy or the Coast Guard Ships Service Departments) shall be applied and extended in the manner provided by Priorities Regulation 3, with the following added to the form of certification: "This rating his been assigned on Form WPB–541 (or WPB–542)".

(3) Ratings assigned on Form WPB–542 on film orders from the Army or Marine Corps Post Exchanges, or the Navy or Coast Guard Ships Service Departments, shall be applied and extended, in the manner provided by Priorities Regulation 3, but shall also bear the appropriate endorsement prescribed in Priorities Regulation 17.

(4) This order restricts the production of 35 mm. motion picture film but no restrictions in this order are applicable to the delivery of such film. The distribution of 35 mm. motion picture film is controlled by Order L–178.

(d) Reports. Each manufacturer shall file with the War Production Board on or before the twentieth day of April, July, October, and January Form WPB–1600 according to the instructions for filing that form.

(e) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(f) Appeal. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–233, referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating the grounds of the appeal.

(g) Applicability of regulations and other orders. This order and all transactions affected by this order are subject to the applicable regulations of the War Production Board. If any other order of the War Production Board limits the use of any material in the production of film, unfinished film, or film base to a greater extent than does this order the other order shall govern unless it states otherwise.

(h) Communications. All reports to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Consumers Durable Goods Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: L–233.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

ULTRAMARINE BLUE

§ 3293.1037 Schedule 37 to General Allocation Order M–300—(a) Definition. "Ultramarine blue" means the manufactured blue pigment approximating the composition of natural lapis lazuli. The term includes only those grades known in the trade as CUX, 4186 and 8268, meeting specification TT–U–450, (Navy grade)—Color Index 1290.[1]

(b) General provisions. Ultramarine blue is subject to the provisions of General Allocation Order M–300 as an Appendix B material. The initial allocation date is August 1, 1944. PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[General Allocation Order M–300, Schedule 38]

NAPHTHALENE

§ 3293.1038 Schedule 38 to General Allocation Order M–300—(a) Definitions. (1) "Naphthalene" means the chemical compound known by that name.

(2) "Naphthalene bearing oil" means any oil containing 20% or more naphthalene by weight as determined in accordance with paragraph (f) and having a melting point under 70° C.

(3) "Crude naphthalene" means any naphthalene-oil mixture having a melting point of 70° C. or higher but less than 79° C. Grade is determined by the following melting point ranges:

70° C. to less than 74° C.
74° C. to less than 76° C.
76° C. to less than 78° C.
78° C. to less than 79° C.

(4) "Refined naphthalene" means naphthalene or any naphthalene-oil mixture having a melting point of 79° C. or higher.

Crude and Refined Naphthalene Restrictions

(b) General provisions. (1) Crude naphthalene and refined naphthalene are subject to the provisions of General Allocation Order M–300 as Appendix A materials. The initial allocation date is June 1, 1942, when naphthalene first became subject to allocation under Order M–105 (revoked). The allocation period is the calendar month. The small order exemption per person per month is 250 lbs. in the aggregate of either crude or refined napthalene, or of any combination of crude and refined naphthalene.

(2) Any person who has been authorized to use naphthalene for a specified purpose may perform all intermediate operations to accomplish that purpose. For example, a person who has been authorized to accept delivery of crude naphthalene to make beta naphthol may refine the naphthalene and use it to produce beta naphthol without further application or authorization.

(3) Prior to September 1, 1944, crude and refined naphthalene shall be delivered, accepted and used on the basis of applications and authorizations hitherto required by Order M–105 (revoked).

(c) Insecticides and repellents. (1) Allocations of aggregate quantities of crude or refined naphthalene will be made to producers or refiners for distribution for moth and insect repellent purposes and for agricultural insecticide purposes. This naphthalene may then be prepared and delivered by the producer or refiner and may be received, redelivered and used by any person for these purposes without further application or further authorization under this order, but subject to all other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board.

(2) No producer or refiner shall package or process crude or refined naphthalene for repellent or insecticide purposes in advance of receiving an allocation of naphthalene for these purposes. Application for allocation should be made as provided in paragraph (h) below. The refining of naphthalene for these purposes is subject to the restrictions of paragraph (d) (2) below.

(3) Each person ordering over 250 pounds per month of crude or refined naphthalene for resale for any moth and insect repellent purpose, or for any agricultural insecticide purpose, shall furnish each of his suppliers with a signed statement that the naphthalene will be resold for one or both of these purposes (specify which purpose and if both, specify quantity for each). The statement should be followed by the certification prescribed in Appendix D of Order M–300. This statement need be filed only once with each supplier if the purchaser buys naphthalene exclusively for only one of these purposes and if the statement refers to future deliveries. This statement need not be filed when ordering in retail packages of 5 lbs. or less labeled for use as a moth or insect repellent or as an agricultural insecticide.

(4) No supplier who has been allocated crude or refined naphthalene for delivery on exempt small orders of 250 pounds or less shall deliver any part of this naphthalene to any person who he knows or has reason to believe is ordering it for moth and insect repellent or agricultural insecticide purposes.

(d) Refining. (1) Crude or refined naphthalene may be delivered and received for further refining to a higher melting point without specific authorization, if the person receiving it certifies to the person delivering it that the naphthalene will be further refined. The certificate should be filed as prescribed in Appendix D of Order M–300.

(2) Crude or refined naphthalene may be refined to remove impurities or to raise the melting point, without specific authorization, if no greater quantity is refined than is required to maintain a minimum practicable working inventory of naphthalene of that degree of refinement and to fill orders for which allocations have been made under this schedule.

Any refining of crude or refined naphthalene not exempt under this paragraph, or under paragraph (b) (2), constitutes a use which must be authorized under this order.

Naphthalene Bearing Oil Provisions

(e) Refining of naphthalene bearing oil. No person shall use, deliver or accept delivery of naphthalene bearing oil for any purpose other than further concentration of the naphthalene content or extraction of crude or refined naphthalene. Before delivering naphthalene bearing oil for these purposes the person making delivery must obtain from the person accepting delivery a certified statement that the oil is required for these purposes. The statement should be filed in the form prescribed in Appendix D of Order M-300. Application for exemption from these provisions may be made by letter (three copies) to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-300-38, specifying why exemption is requested.

(f) Test method for naphthalene bearing oil. The naphthalene content of an oil shall be determined from a representative sample of the oil by the following procedure: (1) The sample of the oil shall be distilled by Method A. S. T. M.-D246-42, and the oil distilled between the temperatures of 170° C and 235° C shall be removed and chilled to a temperature of 15° C plus or minus 1° C for a period of three hours. (2) The free oil shall then be separated from the naphthalene crystals and these crystals shall then be pressed to remove the remaining oil. The crystals shall be weighed, and this weight shall then be compared with the weight of the original naphthalene oil to determine the percentage of naphthalene content.

Applications for Crude or Refined Naphthalene

(g) Suppliers' applications on WPB-2946. Each supplier seeking authorization to deliver crude or refined naphthalene shall file application on Form WPB-2946 (formerly PD-601). Note that certain deliveries are exempt under paragraphs (c) and (d) (1). Filing date is the 20th day of the month before the proposed delivery month. Separate applications shall be filed for each producing and distributing point. Send three copies (one certified) to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-300-38. Unit of measure is pounds. Grade shall be specified as "refined" or in the case of crude naphthalene, in terms of the ranges listed in paragraph (a) (3). Group customers by grades ordered. In Table I, first list all customers from whom copies of WPB-2945 applications have been received (including the name of the applicant supplier if he has filed application on Form WPB-2945 for use of his own stock). Second, an aggregate quantity may be requested, without specifying individual customers' names, for delivery on exempt small orders of 250 pounds or less per customer per month. Third, report all customers to whom it is expected exempt deliveries under paragraph (d) (1) will be made, including the name of applicant supplier if he expects to refine some of his own stock. Do not report names of customers exempt under paragraph (c). (If the applicant supplier is a producer or refiner seeking allocation for repellant or insecticide purposes, he should file application under paragraph (h) below). Fill in Table II as indicated, specifying separate quantities for each grade of naphthalene referred to in Column 3 of the application.

(h) Customers' applications on WPB-2945. Each person seeking authorization to use or accept delivery of crude or refined naphthalene, and each producer or refiner applying for an allocation of crude or refined naphthalene for moth and insect repellent or agricultural insecticide purposes, shall file application on Form WPB-2945 (formerly PD-600). Note that certain exemptions are provided in paragraphs (c) and (d). Filing date is the 15th day of the month preceding the requested allocation month. File separate sets of forms for each different supplier. Send three copies (one certified) to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: M-300-38, and one copy (reverse side blank) to the supplier. The unit of measure is pounds. Specify grade as "refined" or, in the case of crude naphthalene, in terms of the melting point range listed in paragraph (a) (3). Fill in Column 2 in terms of the following:

(d) Assignment of preference rating, allotment symbol and purchase order quota. (1) The blanket preference rating and allotment symbols under this order shall be those specifically assigned by the War Production Board to each producer on Form WPB-1765, or in some cases by letter. This rating may be applied for services to have the producer's plant, machinery or equipment repaired, as provided in Priorities Regulation 3. No producer shall apply the preference rating or allotment symbol assigned under this paragraph to any order for fabricated parts or material having a unit cost of $1000 or more, excluding the P-89 producer's cost of labor. For the purpose of determining unit cost, an item shall not be subdivided into its component parts. Unit cost shall be computed on the basis of the cost of each item ordered, and not on the basis of the total cost to the P-89 producer for each particular operation requiring maintenance, repair and operating supplies. Applications must be made pursuant to paragraph (e) for preference ratings or allotment symbols for parts or material having a unit cost of $1000 or more.

(2) No producer shall place orders during 1944 for maintenance, repair and operating supplies costing more than 120% of the cost of the maintenance, repair and operating supplies which he ordered during 1943. This refers to orders without ratings or allotments (unless specifically for postwar delivery), and to orders with ratings or allotments assigned independently of this order (as on Form WPB-541, formerly PD-1A), as well as to orders with blanket ratings or allotments under this order, whether for straight maintenance, repair or operating supplies or for minor capital additions or for installation materials under paragraph (a) (8). However, orders for items having a unit cost over $1000 (or over $500 prior to July 29, 1944) approved upon application on Form WPB–1319 are not included, nor orders approved under paragraphs (e) or (f) of P–89. Orders for items on Lists A and B of Priorities Regulation 3 may be disregarded if not counted among either 1943 or 1944 purchases.

The producer may calculate his 1943 purchases under this paragraph on the basis of his normal accounting practice or on the basis of doubling the estimated dollar value of the quotas specifically assigned to him under this order for the 3rd and 4th quarters of 1943, including revisions.

Each producer must count against his quota all his purchase orders for maintenance, repair and operating supplies placed during 1944, even though he may have registered under P–89 after January 1, 1944.

Application for revision of 1944 quota may be made on Form WPB–1765 as prescribed therein.

(e) Special applications. (1) If the producer is unable to secure delivery of materials or services for maintenance, repair or operating supplies, including Class A products, because the preference ratings or allotment numbers or symbols assigned hereunder are insufficient, or because the unit cost limitation would be exceeded, the War Production Board may, upon written or telegraphic request, assign such special ratings or allotments as it deems proper. Such letters or telegrams shall be addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: P–89, and shall contain the following information:

1. Plant location and P–89 serial number.
2. Fabricated item(s) or controlled material(s) being ordered. When a Class A product is being ordered specify weight of each controlled material. When controlled materials are ordered specify in what quarter needed.
3. Value of order.
4. How will item(s) be used by you upon receipt of order?
5. If a replacement, is the item a duplicate of the one being replaced? If not, explain the difference. How old is the replaced item?
6. (a) Amount of such material (or equivalent substitute) in inventory. (b) In the case of processing equipment, how many units in service?
7. (a) What is the average life of the item(s) being ordered? (b) How many hours per week is it used?
8. Name and address of the supplier.
9. Purchase order number and date (if placed).
10. Principal end uses of product or products affected.
11. Actual curtailment of entire plant production now.
12. Estimated curtailment of plant production if breakdown occurs before receipt of order.
13. Explain urgency of the order—is it for actual replacement on receipt, for inventory, or for expansion.
14. Requested rating and allotment.
15. Delivery date promised by supplier on basis of rating requested.

(2) If the request under paragraph (e) (1) above is for the kind of Class A facility covered by Direction 34 to CMP Regulation 1, the War Production Board will treat the request as an application under that direction and will, if the request is approved, assign a rating for the purchase of the facility and make an allotment on CMPL–150 of the controlled materials needed to make the facility. When a CMPL–150 is issued under this paragraph, the applicant and the manufacturer of the Class A facility should follow the procedure set forth in Direction 34 (paragraphs (e) and (f) in particular) to CMP Regulation 1, as if the CMPL–150 had been issued under that direction.

(f) Special ratings for containers. (1) Steel drums as defined in Limitation Order L–197, cans as defined in Conservation Order M–81, wooden or fibre containers as defined in Preference Rating Orders P–140 and P–146, glass containers as defined in the L–103 series of orders, and all other containers (and container parts) on List B of Priorities Regulation 3, may not be obtained by blanket or special ratings under this order.

(2) Other containers may not be obtained by use of the blanket rating assigned under paragraph (d) of this order, but application may be made to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D. C., Ref: Chemicals Packaging Section, for special preference ratings under this order. The application shall be filed by letter in duplicate or by telegram and shall specify:

1. Product to be packaged.
2. Plant location and P–89 serial number.
3. Number of containers requested.
4. Specification of container.
5. Other sizes of containers used to package the product.
6. Average number of containers shipped per month (of the size ordered).
7. What substitute containers have been used or could be used.
8. Inventory position of the requested containers, including both new and used containers, and those out on deposit.
9. Name of container supplier and applicant's order number.
10. Total value.
11. Rating requested.
12. Delivery date promised by supplier on the basis of rating requested.

(g) Procedure for applying preference ratings and allotment numbers or symbols to purchase orders. (1) Ratings or allotments assigned under this order may be endorsed on or attached to purchase orders in the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7:

------ (Preference Rating) ------ (Allotment number or symbol)
------ (P–89 Serial Number)
Certified under P–89.

---------- (Name of purchaser)	---------- (Address)
By ---------- (Signature and title of duly authorized officer)	---------- (Address)

The certification provided in Priorities Regulation No. 7 may be used as an alternate procedure, provided the above information is added.

(2) An order bearing such certification shall be deemed an authorized controlled material order in the case of controlled materials, and in the case of all other materials shall have the same status as an order bearing an allotment number or symbol for the purposes of CMP Regulation No. 3 and all other applicable CMP regulations.

(3) No producer may apply the ratings assigned by or pursuant to this order to obtain delivery of the items set forth in Lists A and B attached to Priorities Regulation 3, as now or hereafter amended, except where the regulation permits the use of P–89 ratings for a particular item or where ratings are specifically assigned pursuant to paragraphs (e) or (f) of this order for specific kinds and quantities of List B items.

(h) Inventory diversion. No producer shall use material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies obtained with ratings or allotment numbers or symbols assigned by or pursuant to this order, except in that portion of his productive facilities to which a serial number under this order has been assigned.

(i) Inventory restriction. No producer shall accept delivery of any non-controlled material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies, whether or not obtained with preference ratings or allotment numbers or symbols assigned by or pursuant to this order, which would cause his inventory of such material for maintenance, repair or operating supplies to exceed a minimum practicable working inventory. Inventories of controlled materials held by producers are subject to the provisions of CMP Regulation No. 2.

(j) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable provisions of War Production Board regulations, as amended from time to time; Provided, however, That no producer shall be subject to the provisions of CMP Regulations No. 5 or No. 5A, and no producer shall obtain any material under the provisions of either of said regulations. Privileges under other WPB regulations and orders granted to persons on Schedules I and II of CMP Regulation 5 shall be considered as applicable to producers assigned an equal preference rating under this order (for example, Order E–5–a on gauges and precision measuring tools classifies a person on Schedules I and II of CMP Regulation 5 as an 'approved user'). For the purpose of this order a producer remains a producer from the time a serial number is granted to him until the time when the serial number is expressly revoked by the War Production Board.

(k) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Records. In addition to the records required to be kept under Priorities Regulation No. 1, a producer placing any purchase order or contract rated or assigned a CMP allotment number or symbol hereunder, shall retain, for a period of two years, for inspection by representatives of the War Production Board, endorsed copies of such purchase orders or contracts, whether accepted or rejected, segregated from all other purchase orders or contracts, or filed in such manner that they can be readily segregated for such inspection.

(2) Reports. The War Production Board may require each producer to file such other reports as may be prescribed, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to Federal Reports Act of 1942, and may issue special directions to any producer with respect to preparing and filing Form WPB–1765.

(3) Budget Bureau approval. The reporting requirements of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(4) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter, in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(5) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact, or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(6) Communications to War Production Board. All reports required to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to the War Production Board, Chemicals Bureau, Washington 25, D.C.; Ref.: P–89.

Issued this 29th day of July 1944.

PART 1010—SUSPENSION ORDERS

CHARLES MANOOG, INC.

Charles Manoog, Inc., a corporation substantially owned and managed by Charles Manoog, is a wholesale dealer in plumbing supplies in Worcester, Massachusetts. On or about September 15, 1943, it accepted delivery of forty-three bath tubs which it had purchased on the previous day at an auction sale, without preference ratings, in grossly negligent violation of General Limitation Order L–79. It sold and delivered four of the tubs on or about October 11, 1943, to a retail dealer in Portland, Maine, without a rated order, in wilful violation of Order L–79, and seven of the tubs on or about October 16, 1943, to Louis M. Kortick, a plumber, of Providence, Rhode Island, upon a consumer's P–84 certification stamped on the order by one of the company's salesmen, which he had reason to know was not true, in violation of Preference Rating Order P–84. On or about February 10, 1944, it delivered a Class B oil burner to a consumer for installation, which was not for replacement or a new installation for which the Petroleum Administrator for War had specifically approved delivery of fuel oil. This was a wilful violation of General Limitation Order L–74 in that the sale was in reckless disregard of the provisions of Order L–74.

Suspension Order S–151 was issued against the company on November 23, 1942. Its course of conduct demonstrates that it is an inefficient and wasteful conduit of scarce materials. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.591 Suspension Order No. S–591. (a) Deliveries of material to Charles Manoog, Inc., its successors or assigns, shall not directly or indirectly be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order and no preference rating shall directly or indirectly be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating certificates, preference rating orders, general preference orders or any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) The provisions of this suspension order shall not apply to orders for maintenance or repair (excluding minor capital additions) as defined in CMP Regulations (as amended from time to time), nor to orders bearing a preference rating of AA–2X or higher.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Charles Manoog, Inc., and Charles Manoog individually, and their respective successors and assigns, from any restriction, prohibition or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on July 29, 1944, and shall expire November 29, 1944.

Issued this 22d day of July 1944.

LOUIS M. KORTICK

Louis M. Kortick of 45 Pembroke Avenue, Providence, Rhode Island, is a dealer in plumbing supplies. On or about October 16, 1943, he accepted delivery of seven bathtubs from Charles Manoog, Inc., Worcester, Massachusetts, which he obtained upon a purchase order which either had no preference rating or a rating of AA–5 which he knew he was not entitled to apply or extend. The order also contained Kortick's certification that the equipment was needed by him to replace equipment worn out, damaged beyond repair or destroyed; this certification was not true for the bathtubs were purchased for Kortick's inventory as a dealer for the purpose of resale.

The acceptance of delivery of this plumbing equipment on an order not rated A–10 or higher was in violation of General Limitation Order L–79, and the execution of the false certificate was in violation of Preference Rating Order P–84. Louis M. Kortick was aware of these two orders governing his business and the violation of General Limitation Order L–79 was the result of gross negligence and the violation of Preference Rating Order P–84 was wilful. These violations have diverted critical materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that § 1010.592 Suspension Order No. S–592 (a) Deliveries of material to Louis M. Kortick, his successors or assigns, shall not be accorded priority over deliveries under any other contract or order, and no preference rating shall be assigned, applied or extended to such deliveries by means of preference rating orders, preference rating certificates, general preference orders, or any other orders or regulations of the War Production Board, unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) The provisions of this suspension order shall not apply to orders for maintenance or repair (excluding minor capital additions) as defined in CMP Regulation 5 (as amended from time to time), nor to orders bearing a preference rating of AA-2X or higher.

(c) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve Louis M. Kortick, his successors or assigns, from any restrictions, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(d) This order shall take effect on July 29, 1944, and shall expire on September 29, 1944.

Issued this 22d day of July 1944.

EL CAMPO RICE MILLING CO., INC.

El Campo Rice Milling Company, Inc., El Campo, Texas, is a corporation engaged in the sale of rice and the manufacture and sale of mixed feeds in which molasses is customarily used as an ingredient. During the first three calendar quarters of 1943, it accepted delivery of 11,611 gallons of molasses in excess of the quota permitted by General Conservation Order M-54, but during the fourth calendar quarter it accepted delivery of 136 gallons less than its quota, so that its net receipts for the year 1943 exceeded its quota by 11,475 gallons of molasses, in violation of General Conservation Order M-54. During the first three calendar quarters of 1943, it used or consumed 13,267 gallons of molasses in excess of the quota permitted by General Conservation Order M-54, but during the fourth calendar quarter it used or consumed 3,776 gallons less than its quota, so that its net use or consumption for the year 1943 exceeded its quota by 9,491 gallons of molasses, in violation of General Conservation Order M-54. The responsible officials of El Campo Rice Milling Company, Inc., were familiar with the provisions of General Conservation Order M-54 and its actions were so grossly negligent that they must be deemed to constitute wilful violations of that order.

These violations of General Conservation Order M-54 have diverted scarce materials to uses not authorized by the War Production Board and have hampered and impeded the war effort of the United States of America. In view of the foregoing, it is hereby ordered, that:

§ 1010.594 Suspension Order No. S-594. (a) El Campo Rice Milling Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, during the third and fourth calendar quarters of 1944 shall reduce its total acceptance of delivery and use of molasses by 9,491 gallons under the quota it would otherwise be entitled to accept delivery of and use under General Conservation Order M-54 (as amended from time to time), unless hereafter specifically authorized in writing by the War Production Board.

(b) Nothing contained in this order shall be deemed to relieve El Campo Rice Milling Company, Inc., its successors or assigns, from any restriction, prohibition, or provision contained in any other order or regulation of the War Production Board, except insofar as the same may be inconsistent with the provisions hereof.

(c) This order shall take effect on July 29, 1944, and shall continue in effect until December 31, 1944.

PART 944—REGULATIONS APPLICABLE TO THE OPERATION OF THE PRIORITIES SYSTEM

[Priorities Regulation 24]

PURCHASE OF MACHINE TOOLS, MANUFACTURING MACHINERY, AND SIMILAR EQUIPMENT NEEDED FOR CIVILIAN PRODUCTION

§ 944.450 Priorities Regulation 24—(a) What this regulation does. This regulation tells how purchase orders for machine tools, manufacturing machinery, and similar equipment may be placed by companies who wish to get ready for the resumption or expansion of civilian production when this is possible without interfering with war or essential civilian production. Where suitable existing equipment is not available, this regulation modifies the restrictions on the acceptance and filling of unrated purchase orders which are imposed by the WPB orders listed at the end of this regulation. It is the policy of the War Production Board to encourage the purchase of such equipment primarily from existing excess stocks as they may be made available in order to avoid using scarce materials in making additional new equipment. When these are not available, it is the policy of the War Production Board to permit the placing of unrated orders for new equipment which will be needed for civilian production as long as the filling of these orders does not interfere in any way with direct or indirect war production. This regulation also explains when ratings may be assigned to orders for equipment needed for civilian production.

(b) Removal of restrictions on placing, acceptance and delivery of certain purchase orders. The various WPB orders shown on List A at the end of this regulation forbid the sale of items which they cover to fill unrated orders. Some of them require a rating before a purchase order may be placed and accepted, while others require a rating before an item may be produced or delivered to fill a purchase order. Many of them contain both kinds of restrictions. They may also require a special WPB form. This regulation overrides these restrictions and unrated purchase orders may now be placed, accepted and filled for items covered by the WPB orders mentioned in List A. This elimination of restrictions is subject to the following:

(1) The buyer must obtain the approval of the War Production Board as explained in paragraph (c) before he places the unrated purchase order.

(2) No producer of products covered by WPB orders on List A who accepts unrated orders under this regulation may put into production any unrated orders for such products without getting specific permission from the War Production Board. A producer who wants to begin production on unrated orders may apply for permission by filing Form WPB-3996 with his nearest War Production Board office.

(c) How a purchaser gets WPB approval to place unrated orders. A person who wishes to place an unrated order in spite of the restrictions of the WPB order on List A may apply for War Production Board approval by filing a letter in triplicate with his nearest War Production Board field office with a list in triplicate attached giving a description of the equipment which he wishes to get including make, type, size, and approximate price. Approval of the War Production Board will be given on Form GA-1977 if it finds that no suitable existing excess equipment is available. Upon receiving War Production Board approval, the person placing the unrated order must endorse the following statement on his purchase order, signed either manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7: "This order approved by the War Production Board in accordance with Priorities Regulation 24." The standard form of certification contained in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be used. Approval by the War Production Board under this paragraph does not give the purchase order a rating of AA-5 under Section 944.1 (b) of Priorities Regulation 1.

(d) Record of unrated orders. The War Production Board may wish to find out how much business a producer of any item covered by a WPB order on List A has accepted under paragraph (c). Each producer of equipment subject to any WPB order on List A must keep unrated purchase orders placed under this regulation filed so that they can be readily segregated and examined.

(e) Effect of other WPB orders and regulations. (1) This regulation does not relieve anyone from complying with the requirements of Priorities Regulation 1 with respect to the compulsory acceptance and filling of rated orders in preference to unrated orders.

(2) If an unrated order under this regulation is put into a production schedule it shall not become a part of any "frozen" schedule in spite of Priorities Regulation 18 or other War Production Board order, but shall be subject to postponement in favor of rated orders in accordance with Priorities Regulation 1.

(3) Attention is called to the fact that this regulation does not authorize any construction contrary to the provisions of Construction Order L-41.

(4) Except to the extent specifically provided in this regulation, it does not waive the restrictions or conditions of any other order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(f) Other cases where unrated orders allowed. Many types of machinery and equipment, including most jigs, dies, fixtures and special tooling, are not subject to a WPB order limiting or restricting the placing or filling of orders. Consequently, unrated orders for these items have always been permissible where they can be filled without interference with rated orders as provided in Priorities Regulation 1. Many types of machinery and equipment may be bought under Priorities Regulation 13 from somebody who is not in the business of selling such machinery and equipment without any preference rating or other authorization. Permission under this regulation is not required in the case of such purchases.

(g) Ratings for equipment required for civilian production. (1) The policy of the War Production Board is not to grant any ratings for equipment needed for resumption or expansion of civilian production where this equipment can be obtained out of existing available stocks or where unrated orders for it can be filled within a reasonable time. However, where this is not the case, and the equipment takes a long time to produce, the War Production Board will consider applications for ratings both for equipment covered by the WPB orders mentioned in List A and for other types of equipment.

(2) If you need equipment for war production or for civilian production which is currently authorized by the War Production Board during the war, you may apply for a rating in accordance with existing procedures and without regard to this regulation. However, if you want equipment for operations which are neither directly related to the war effort nor currently authorized by the War Production Board, you cannot get a rating except by applying on Form WPB-1319 to your War Production Board field office in accordance with the instructions printed at the end of this regulation. This is so whether the equipment you need is covered by the WPB orders on List A or not.

(3) If the War Production Board grants a rating under this regulation, it may be applied only for the make of equipment shown in the application Form WPB-1319. The rating may be applied by use of the standard certification in Priorities Regulation 7 but the following statement must be added: "This rating applied pursuant to Priorities Regulation 24." Such an order may be accepted and filled in spite of any War Production Board order requiring approval on a special form.

NOTE: The reporting provisions of this regulation have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR FILING FORM WPB-1319 (SEE PARAGRAPH (g))

Follow the general instructions appearing in the WPB-1319 instruction pamphlet except to the extent the instructions printed here conflict. The following general instructions will be added to the pamphlet as paragraph (12). When the new instructions are added to the pamphlet they will supersede the instructions printed here.

12. Applications filed pursuant to Priorities Regulation 24.—General. Four copies of applications under this regulation must be filed with the nearest WPB field office. You must use a single WPB-1319 for all items of equipment controlled by a single WPB order, or if the items are not controlled by a WPB order, by a single WPB division. Separate forms must be used for items controlled by separate WPB orders or by separate WPB divisions if there is no order. If you are not sure what WPB order or division controls the equipment, consult your nearest WPB office or the WPB publication "Products and Priorities." If possible, file together all applications for equipment required to produce one class of product. If you are unable to file these together, state this in item 20. If you are going to buy from several different suppliers equipment which may be included in a single application, you are not required to file separate applications for each supplier but may file one application.

The authorization on WPB-1319 limits you to the make of equipment shown but you may purchase this from any supplier. If you find that you can obtain sooner a make of equipment different than the one authorized, you may file a letter in duplicate with the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., identifying the case number and industry division listed in your original WPB-1319 application and requesting an amendment of the authorization.

Even if the installation of the equipment for which you are applying requires construction as defined in Order L-41, you must nevertheless use form WPB-1319 for the equipment. Note however that approval of your WPB-1319 does not remove the necessity for any approval of construction which may be required by Order L-41.

Special Instructions. Disregard the special instructions for individual items of equipment set forth in the WPB-1319 instruction pamphlet.

Do not fill in blocks 10, 13, 14, 16, 17B, or 19.

In block 6, insert "Priorities Regulation 24" and the WPB order, if any, controlling the equipment.

In block 7, state the industry division controlling the equipment.

In block 8, check the second space (marked "to receive").

In block 18, state also any efforts you have made to get the equipment on an unrated order and why such efforts were not successful.

In block 20, state:

(a) The approximate dollar value of equipment not covered by this application which is needed to resume or increase civilian production and for which preference ratings are necessary;

(b) The approximate dollar value of necessary equipment you can obtain without the use of preference ratings whether new or from excess stocks;

(c) Why you consider this equipment vital to your resumption or increase in civilian production;

(d) Any other pertinent information.

(1) "Copper" means unalloyed copper metal. It shall include unalloyed copper metal produced from scrap.

(2) "Copper base alloy" means any alloy metal in the composition of which the percentage of copper metal by weight equals or exceeds 40% of the total weight of the alloy metal. It shall include alloy metal produced from scrap.

(3) "Copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing" means any pipe, tube or tubing into which there has been incorporated any copper or copper base alloy (except as plating) or where the item contains less than 25% of copper or copper base alloy by weight).

(4) "Copper or copper base alloy building material" means any brass mill product [2] of the following types: Sheet,

[1] This order used also to apply to certain plumbing fixture fittings and trim. The use of copper or copper base alloy in the manufacture of all items of plumbing fixture fittings and trim is prohibited or restricted by Order M-9-c and Order L-42, Schedules V and XII. The change in this order releases for use only finished items. For restrictions on the manufacture and installation of copper and copper base alloy screening, see Conservation Order M-9-c.

[2] Order M-9-c prohibits the manufacture of many fabricated building materials from copper products or copper base alloy products.

plate, roll, strip, rod, bar, extruded shapes and wire into which there has been incorporated any copper or copper base alloy (except as plating or where the item contains less than 25% of copper or copper base alloy by weight).

NOTE: Paragraph (4) formerly paragraph (3) redesignated, July 31, 1944. Former paragraph (4) deleted July 31, 1944.

(b) Restrictions on installations of certain copper products—(1) Restrictions. Installation of certain copper and copper base alloy products is prohibited notwithstanding any contract or agreement of any person to make the installation and notwithstanding any preference rating or CMP allotment, in the following instances:

(i) The installation in place, of any copper or copper base alloy building material in or on any building or structure, or in or on any cooling tower or water tower.

(ii) The installation in place, for plumbing, heating or cooking purposes, of any copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing, in any building or structure.

(iii) The installation in place, whether inside or outside of a building, of any copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing in any water supply or water distribution system, in any water sprinkling system, in any underground gas supply or gas distribution system, or in or on any cooling tower or water tower.

(2) Exceptions. Notwithstanding the prohibitions against installation of paragraph (b) (1):

(i) Copper or copper base alloy building material may be installed in place when necessary to replace in or on a building, structure or system, like worn out items of copper or copper base alloy building material.

(ii) Copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing in the possession of the person owning a building, structure or system, or in the inventory of a plumber, jobber, distributor, or warehouse other than a brass mill warehouse (which is authorized to replace deliveries from stock under the provisions of letter BM–36 (WPBI–505–Brass Mill warehouse replacement orders) of July 23, 1943), (a) may be installed in place when necessary to replace in, or on such building, structure or system, like worn out items of copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing; and (b) may be installed in place when necessary to connect a new water heater which is being installed to replace a water heater worn out and damaged beyond repair, provided that copper or copper base alloy pipe or tubing was similarly used in the installation which is being replaced.

(iii) Copper or copper base alloy pipe and tubing which were, on January 1, 1944, in the inventory of a plumber, may be connected by the plumber in whose inventory the material was on that date, to a water supply or water distribution system or to any underground gas supply or gas distribution system, if the pipe or tubing are to be used both underground and outside of a building; and copper or copper base alloy pipe and tubing which were, on January 1, 1944, in the inventory of a water or gas utility may be connected by a utility to a water supply or water distribution system or to any underground gas supply or gas distribution system, if the pipe or tubing are to be used both underground and outside of a building.

(iv) Copper or copper base alloy tubing may be installed in place in a heat exchanger for a cooling tower.

(v) Copper or copper base alloy building material pipe and tubing purchased by or for the account of the Army or Navy of the United States, the United States Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration may be installed in place: Provided, however, That nothing in this order shall supersede any applicable instructions to any officers of the foregoing, including without limitation the directive for War Time Construction dated May 20, 1942, issued by the Chairman of the War Production Board, the Secretary of War and the Secretary of the Navy, or the List of Prohibited Items for Construction Work dated April 1, 1942, issued by the Army and Navy Munitions Board, as amended from time to time.

(vi) Copper or copper base alloy building material, pipe and tubing may be installed in place, upon the written authorization of the War Production Board, authorizing the specific installation. Applications for such authorization may be made by letter setting forth the reasons why the person applying believes such material should be installed in or connected to a structure or system. If the applicant is applying for authorization to begin construction on Form WPB–617, he may apply for authorization under this order on that Form or in a supplemental letter attached thereto, and need not make a separate application.

(c) Restrictions on delivery. Notwithstanding any contract or agreement to the contrary or the receipt of any CMP order or a preference rating, no person shall deliver, sell or otherwise dispose of any copper or copper base alloy building material, pipe or tubing, if it is to be used for a purpose prohibited by this order; and no person shall accept delivery or a transfer of, or purchase, such building material, pipe or tubing unless the person making the delivery, sale or other disposition was permitted to do so. The foregoing shall not prevent:

(1) Delivery, sale or disposal to, or acceptance of delivery or transfer by or purchase by, a brass mill or a person regularly engaged in the business of selling copper or copper base alloy scrap.

(2) Delivery, sale or disposal to, or acceptance of delivery or transfer by or purchase by Defense Supplies Corporation, Metals Reserve Company or any other corporation organized under section 5 (d) of the Reconstruction Finance Act as amended (except Defense Plant Corporation) or any person acting as agent for any such corporation (except Defense Plant Corporation).

(3) Delivery, sale or disposal to, or acceptance of delivery or of transfer by or purchase by, any person upon the written authorization of the War Production Board permitting the specific delivery sale or disposal. Applications for authorization may be made by the person seeking to make delivery, sale or disposal, by letter setting forth the reasons why the person believes such material should be delivered, sold or otherwise disposed of.

(d) Restrictions on sale and use of nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers, and expansion shields. (1) No manufacturer, warehouse, store or outlet, other than a retail store or retail outlet, shall sell or deliver, without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, any copper or copper base alloy nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers or expansion shields except on a preference rating of AA–5 or higher.

(2) No retail store or retail outlet shall sell or deliver, without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, any copper or copper base alloy nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers or expansion shields except on a preference rating of AA–5 or higher. However, each store or outlet may sell such products to fill unrated orders or orders rated lower than AA–5 provided that the total sales of such products after December 31, 1943, to fill unrated orders or rated lower than AA–5, does not exceed $25 in amount.

(3) No person engaged in the business of building or repairing a building, structure, cooling tower or water tower, and no corporation or other organization, shall install in place, without the specific authorization in writing of the War Production Board, any copper or copper base alloy nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers, or expansion shields in a building, structure, cooling tower or water tower.

(4) The foregoing restrictions of this paragraph (d) are not applicable if the items have been placed in packages with builders' finished hardware items, such as locks and hinges, prior to June 24, 1943, for the purpose of attaching or installing the hardware, nor to iron or steel items which are plated or washed with copper.

(5) Application for specific authorization under this paragraph (d) shall be made by letter setting forth the reasons why the person applying believes the nails, tacks, screws, nuts, bolts, rivets, washers and expansion shields should be installed, or be sold or delivered to fill unrated orders or orders rated lower than AA–5.

In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(g) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

PART 1226—GENERAL INDUSTRIAL EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L–341]

COMMERCIAL TYPE ELECTRIC MOTORS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of electric motors for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote the national defense.

§ 1226.140 Limitation Order L–341—(a) Purpose and scope. This order applies only to the following kinds of new electric motors (not including electric generators, but including such motors furnished in motor-generator sets):

(1) Fractional horsepower AC motors of all sizes and types, including universal (AC–DC) motors, except specially designed airborne and shock proof shipboard types; and

(2) Single phase AC motors in sizes one to five horsepower, inclusive, except specially designed airborne and shock proof shipboard types.

Motors of the kinds described above are referred to in this order as "commercial motors". Persons who wish to get more than certain quantities of commercial motors in any calendar quarter from all sources for any purpose except resale as such, must file an application with the War Production Board. Unless the Board takes some action upon the application by notice in writing to the applicant, he may continue to receive all motors which he has ordered and may continue to place his orders in advance, to the extent permitted by other orders and regulations of the Board.

This order also requires commercial motors obtained with ratings assigned on Form WPB–547 to be distributed after August 15, 1944 only for replacement purposes or for use by farmers.

(Additional rules concerning deliveries and receipts of these and other types and sizes of motors are contained in Limitation Order L–123 relating to fractional motors, Limitation Order L–221 relating to integral motors, and General Scheduling Order M–293).

(b) Applications required for receipt of over 450 fractionals or 75 integrals per quarter. Every person who has ordered or hereafter orders, for delivery from all of his suppliers during any one calendar quarter, a total of more than four hundred and fifty (450) fractional horsepower AC motors, or more than seventy-five (75) single phase AC motors in sizes one to five horsepower, must file application with the War Production Board if such motors are to be used for any one or more of the following purposes:

(1) For his own installation and use; or

(2) For incorporation into other products which he makes; or

(3) For sale as a driving unit or accessory for other products which he makes or purchases (even though the motors are not actually incorporated into such other products by him). A person who receives motors for this purpose, and also for distribution separately as such, need not file the application for those which he will distribute separately. If he is unable to know what number he will distribute separately, he must assume that the number he will sell as a driving unit or accessory will be equal to the number of items of such other products which he has ordered for delivery to him without motors, or plans to produce, during the same period. (If he has ordered less motors than the number of items of such other products which he will receive without motors or make during the same period, he must consider the entire quantity of motors as being ordered for sale as a driving unit or accessory.)

Use Form WPB–3825. Application must be made by the purchaser on Form WPB–3825, prepared in accordance with the instructions for that form. The applications must be filed on or before the 10th day of September, 1944, the 10th day of December, 1944, and so on quarterly. Each application must show all unfilled orders (whether previously reported or not).

Application required in addition to ratings. Any person who now or at any future time has outstanding unfilled orders for such motors for delivery during any immediate or future calendar quarter in quantities in excess of those stated above, is forbidden to receive any of them after September 10, 1944, even though he has a preference rating for them or has been authorized to receive them under some other order, regulation or certificate of the War Production Board, if he does not file the application on or before the dates indicated. However, if he reduces, postpones or cancels his orders to the extent necessary to bring all of his requested deliveries during each calendar quarter within the quantities specified above, and does not receive deliveries from his suppliers in excess of those quantities, he need not file the application.

This order applies also to intra-company receipts. The application must be filed to permit receipts by one department (a branch, division, or section) of a single organization from another department of the same organization when the motors are to be used by the department receiving them for any of the three purposes stated above, if that department's receipts in any quarter are to exceed the quantities indicated.

If requirements increase after filing dates. If any person who has not requested delivery of more than the quantities stated above during any calendar quarter, at the time required for filing, should after that time increase the quantities requested in any quarter to an amount in excess of that stated above, he must file the application immediately and may not receive delivery of any of the increased amount until at least fifteen days after he has filed.

Restrictions on suppliers. If any motor supplier knows or has reason to believe that any customer of his who should file an application under this order has not done so, he may not make any deliveries of such motors to such purchaser. If he knows or has reason to believe that a customer of his has been directed by the War Production Board to reduce, postpone or cancel his orders, by a direction issued pursuant to (d) below, and that the customer has not done so, he may not deliver commercial motors to the customer in excess of the quantities authorized by the direction. The War Production Board will notify the supplier when such a direction is issued to a customer of his.

Persons who supply motors, as such, do not file. This order does not apply to receipts of motors by a distributor or other supplier of motors which are intended to be and are resold as such by him (and are not to be utilized by him for any of the purposes stated in (1), (2), or (3) above). It does apply, however, to any person who receives motors from a motor supplier for any of the purposes stated.

(c) Receipt of motors by a purchaser who has filed the application. Unless otherwise notified by the War Production Board by action on his application, a purchaser who has filed his application may receive motors during the calendar quarter following his application, and may place orders or leave in effect orders previously placed for delivery of motors in future quarters, subject to any other applicable order, regulation or certificate of the War Production Board.

(d) Individual directions. The War Production Board may issue directions to any such purchaser requiring him to reduce, postpone or cancel his unfilled orders for delivery of such motors when it finds (1) that the deliveries which he has requested appear to be in excess of the minimum practicable amounts required to fulfill his authorized production schedules or in excess of the practicable minimum working inventory reasonably necessary to meet deliveries of the products which he produces or distributes, or (2) that some adjustment in receipts is necessary in order to distribute the available production of such motors equitably between him and other purchasers or assure the fulfillment of War Production Board programs.

If it is found that the aggregate of shipments requested are continuing in excess of the aggregate production, it will be the policy of the Board to require reductions in receipts of such motors to such extent as may be necessary to bring requested shipments and production in balance. As the motors covered by this order are more or less standardized types, the factors referred to in Interpretation 7 of Priorities Regulation 1 (Minimum Sale Quantities and Production Runs) will normally not be considered as justifying receipts in excess of the purchaser's minimum requirements.

(e) Commercial motors distributed by WPB–547 ratings to be sold and used only for replacement purposes or for use by a farmer. (1) Any distributor who gets, or has gotten, any commercial motors with ratings assigned on Form WPB–547 (formerly PD–1X) must not deliver any of them after August 15, 1944 unless he has marked each one, before delivering it, with a stamp or durable tag firmly attached to it and containing substantially the following statement in easily readable lettering:

This motor allocated by WPB and to be sold and used only as a replacement, or for use by a farmer. See WPB Order L–541.

After August 15, 1944 no distributor may deliver any commercial motors obtained with a WPB–547 rating if he knows or has reason to believe that the motors will be resold or used for any purpose except for replacement purposes, or for use by a farmer.

"Farmer" has the same meaning in this order as in Priorities Regulation 19.

(For the rules as to deliveries of fractional horsepower commercial motors to farmers, see Priorities Regulation 19 and Order L–123; as to integral horsepower commercial motors, see Order L–221).

(2) Any dealer, repair shop, ultimate consumer or other person who receives a commercial motor identified with the marking required under (e) (1) above, or which he knows or has reason to believe should be so marked, must not knowingly deliver, install or use it except to replace a worn out or defective motor, or for use by a farmer. The marking shall not be removed until the motor is installed.

(f) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the War Production Board, as amended from time to time.

(2) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment or both. In addition any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using, material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(3) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate referring to the particular provision appealed from and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(4) Communications. All reports required to be filed hereunder and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: General Industrial Equipment Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: L–341.

NOTE: The reporting requirements in this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 31st day of July 1944.

AUTHORITY: Regulations in this subchapter issued under sec. 2 (a), 54 Stat. 676, as amended by 55 Stat. 236 and 56 Stat. 176; E.O. 9024, 7 F.R. 329; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; W.P.B. Reg. 1 as amended March 24, 1943, 8 F.R. 3666, 3696; Pri. Reg. 1 as amended May 15, 1943, 8 F.R. 6727.

PART 4501—COMMUNICATIONS

[Utilities Order U–9, Direction 1]

The following direction is issued pursuant to Utilities Order U–3:

(a) What this direction does. This direction makes applicable the simplified procedures provided for in the June 1944 revision of application form WPB–2774, to authorizations issued to operators on form WPB–2774 before the revised application form came into use.

(b) Provisions applicable to certain WPB–2774 authorizations. Except as noted in paragraph (c) below, the following special provisions are hereby made applicable to all WPB–2774 authorizations issued to telephone operators and in effect on June 10, 1944, even though contrary provisions appear on the face of such authorizations:

(1) The applicant may use for the job authorized in his approved WPB–2774 application only materials and equipment of the kind, type, size and capacity listed in section III of his application and approved by the War Production Board, but he may use such materials and equipment in quantities required, irrespective of the quantities authorized on WPB–2774. No change may be made in the kind, type, size, and capacity of the materials and equipment listed in section III of the application and approved by the War Production Board, unless an amendment is filed and specific approval obtained. Nor may more materials and equipment be used than are required for the construction, installation or purchase authorized.

(2) The applicant is authorized to use the abbreviated allotment number U–2 for the purchase of controlled materials and Class A products to the extent authorized for use by paragraph (b) (1) above, except for purchase of:

(i) Carbon steel for jobs for which more than 100 tons of carbon steel have been allotted for all quarters;

(ii) Copper wire and cable for jobs for which more than 25,000 pounds of copper wire and cable have been allotted for all quarters.

Where specific allotments of these two materials have been made in quantities which exceed the quantities indicated, these specific allotments remain in force, subject to the provisions of CMP Regulation 6 and the authorization under which the allotment was made.

(3) Operators are hereby authorized, without making a formal return to the War Production Board, to cancel on their books controlled materials balances remaining from specific allotments other than those which remain in force under paragraph (b) (2) above.

(4) The applicant is hereby authorized to use the preference rating assigned in his approved application for the purchase of quantities of equipment and materials (other than controlled materials) additional to those rated for purchase in the approved application, to the extent that such additional quantities are authorized for use by paragraph (b) (1) above.

(5) The abbreviated allotment number and preference rating authorized herein may not be used to order materials and equipment available in the applicant's inventory in excess of a practical working minimum. The allotment number and preference rating may be used to replace materials and equipment in inventory, but only to the extent that inventory has been reduced below a practical working minimum.

(6) The abbreviated allotment number and preference rating authorized herein must not be used to order materials and equipment earlier or in greater quantity than is required for the construction, installation, or purchase authorized.

(7) Orders for controlled materials placed pursuant to this direction must show the abbreviated allotment number U–2 and must specify the month in which delivery is requested. Orders for Class A products shall be placed as provided in Direction 4, CMP Regulation 6. Orders for materials and equipment other than controlled materials to which the preference rating assigned herein is applied must also show the abbreviated allotment number U–2 for identification purposes.

(c) Cases to which paragraph (b) does not apply. The provisions of paragraph (b) above do not apply to authorizations which were revoked or on which all authorized work was completed prior to the effective date of this direction. Nor do such provisions set aside or supersede any specific exceptions or conditions which were made in the blank space below Section V of any approved WPB–2774 application.

The following direction is issued pursuant to Utilities Order U–4:

(a) What this direction does. This direction makes applicable the simplified procedures provided for in the June 1944 revision of application form WPB–2774, to authorizations issued to operators on form WPB–2774 before the revised application form came into use.

(b) Provisions applicable to certain WPB–2774 authorizations. Except as noted in paragraph (c) below, the following special provisions are hereby made applicable to all WPB–2774 authorizations issued to telegraph operators and in effect on June 10, 1944, even though contrary provisions appear on the face of such authorizations:

(1) The applicant may use for the job authorized in his approved WPB–2774 application only materials and equipment of the kind, type, size and capacity listed in section III of his application and approved by the War Production Board, but he may use such materials and equipment in quantities required, irrespective of the quantities authorized on WPB–2774. No change may be made in the kind, type, size, and capacity of the materials and equipment listed in section III of the application and approved by the War Production Board, unless an amendment is filed and specific approval obtained. Nor may more materials and equipment be used than are required for the construction, installation or purchase authorized.

(2) The applicant is authorized to use the abbreviated allotment number U–2 for the purchase of controlled materials and Class A products to the extent authorized for use by paragraph (b) (1) above, except for purchase of:

(3) Operators are hereby authorized, without making a formal return to the War Production Board, to cancel on their books controlled materials balances remaining from specific allotments other than those which remain in force under paragraph (b) (2) above.

(4) The applicant is hereby authorized to use the preference rating assigned in his approved application for the purchase of quantities of equipment and materials (other than controlled materials) additional to those rated for purchase in the approved application, to the extent that such additional quantities are authorized for use by paragraph (b) (1) above.

(5) The abbreviated allotment number and preference rating authorized herein may not be used to order materials and equipment available in the applicant's inventory in excess of a practical working minimum. The allotment number and preference rating may be used to replace materials and equipment in inventory, but only to the extent that inventory has been reduced below a practical working minimum.

(6) The abbreviated allotment number and preference rating authorized herein must not be used to order materials and equipment earlier or in greater quantity than is required for the construction, installation or purchase authorized.

(7) Orders for controlled materials placed pursuant to this direction must show the abbreviated allotment number U–2 and must specify the month in which delivery is requested. Orders for Class A products shall be placed as provided in Direction 4, CMP Regulation 6. Orders for materials and equipment other than controlled materials to which the preference rating assigned herein is applied must also show the abbreviated allotment number U–2 for identification purposes.

Chapter XI—Office of Price Administration

PART 1361—FARM EQUIPMENT

[MPR 133,[1] Incl. Admts. 1–9]

RETAIL PRICES FOR FARM EQUIPMENT

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 133 includes Amendment 9, effective August 2, 1944. The text added or amended by Amendment 9 is underscored.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator retail prices of farm equipment have risen and are threatening further to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942. The Price Administrator has ascertained and given due consideration to the prices of farm equipment prevailing between October 1 and October 15, 1941, and has made adjustments for such relevant factors as he has determined and deemed to be of general applicability. So far as practicable, the Price Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industry which will be affected by this regulation.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of said Act. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[2]

Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

[Preamble amended by Supplementary Order 70, 8 F.R. 12556, effective 9–11–43]

Therefore, under the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, and in accordance with Procedural Regulation No. 1,[3] issued by the Office of Price Administration, Maximum Price Regulation No. 133 is hereby issued.

SEC. 2. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those set forth in this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

SEC. 3. To what transactions, commodities and persons these ceilings apply—(a) What transactions are covered. This regulation covers sales within the Territory of Puerto Rico of the commodities enumerated in the tables set forth below. The type of transaction covered whether to wholesalers, at wholesale, or at retail is specified in each table.

(b) What products are covered. This regulation covers the commodities listed in the tables set forth herein.

(c) What persons are covered. Any person who sells or in the course of trade or business buys any commodities listed in the tables set forth below is subject to this regulation. The term "person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political subdivisions or any agency of the foregoing.

(d) Prices for comparable varieties. The prices established in this regulation are intended to apply to all varieties of the commodities named and without regard to country of origin, unless the provisions with regard to such commodity limit the applicability of the prices to named brands, sizes, styles, packagings, point of origin, or other determinants of variety. Where a commodity, of a variety different from that priced herein, bears a normal and customary trade relation to a variety of the commodity for which maximum prices have been fixed in this regulation or is similar or comparable to such variety or differs from such variety only in the matter of size or packaging, the Director of the Office of Price Administration for the Territory of Puerto Rico may prescribe a maximum price for such commodity, which price shall be in line with the markups and maximum prices fixed on the varieties of the commodity herein regulated.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 35, 9 F.R. 8221, effective 8-15-44]

SEC. 4. Relation to other regulations. The sale of commodities not otherwise governed by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 shall be covered by the General Maximum Price Regulation[8] and by such other maximum price regulations, price schedules and orders as are applicable to sales within the Territory of Puerto Rico. Sales for delivery in the Virgin Island of the United States of the commodities for which maximum prices are established herein shall not exceed the maximum prices in the Territory of Puerto Rico plus the transportation charges necessary to the shipment of such commodities of the Virgin Islands.

SEC. 5. Federal, State and Territorial taxes. (a) Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing, or use of a commodity imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state, territory or subdivision thereof subsequent to such commodity becoming subject to this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

(1) If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased and in such cases the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183.

(2) Also, on sales of commodities covered by this regulation to the Insular or Municipal Governments of Puerto Rico, or to the agencies or instrumentalities of either, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum prices established herein, the 3% excise tax levied on the amount of contracts of sales to the Insular or Municipal Governments by Subsection 4 of Act 25 enacted by the Legislature of Puerto Rico and approved December 4, 1942; providing that the seller actually states and collects the amount of such tax separately from the maximum price for the particular commodities involved in the contract.

The authorizations will by the Director be given by order.

SEC. 9. Gross prices. The maximum prices established herein are gross prices to which no charges shall be added for transportation, commissions, containers, storage or services in connection with any commodity, unless otherwise hereinafter provided.

SEC. 10. Price for divisible and indivisible units. The maximum price for a quantity of a commodity which constitutes a fractional or multiple part of the unit in terms of which a commodity is priced in this regulation, shall be proportionately computed unless hereinafter otherwise provided.

(2) On and after the date any commodity becomes subject to this regulation, every person offering to sell any such commodity at retail shall mark the maximum price of such commodity in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public. The maximum prices may be marked on the commodities themselves or may be posted at the place in the establishment where the commodities are offered for sale, and may be posted by price lines if the selling price of each commodity is marked thereon. The maximum prices shall be indicated in the form of "Ceiling price $_____", or "Our ceiling $_____", and "Our selling price $_____".

(c) Sales slips and receipts. (1) Every seller at retail, of the commodities subject to this regulation, who has customarily given purchasers sales or receipts shall continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser, every seller of such commodities regardless of previous custom, shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the seller, the quantity and description of the commodity sold, and the price received for it.

SEC. 12. Registration. Every person selling at wholesale, and every person who owns, or hereafter becomes the owner of, any business operating an establishment selling at retail any commodity for which a maximum price is established by this regulation, shall register with the Office of Price Administration at such time and in such manner as the Director of the Office of Price Administration for the Territory of Puerto Rico may hereafter by order or amendment prescribe, on forms which will be made available by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 13. Enforcement and licensing. (a) Persons violating any provision of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for revocation of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Order No. 9250.

(c) The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1[9] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation or schedule. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 16. Applications for adjustment. (a) Any seller or group of sellers who finds that the maximum price of a commodity established for him under the provisions of this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 or any order issued thereunder is abnormally low:

(1) Because of increased cost of importation resulting from increased rail and ocean freight and increased war risk insurance; or

(2) Because of the high cost of a commodity received by the seller on or before August 1, 1942; and that this abnormality subjects him to substantial hardship, may apply for adjustment of that maximum price. In establishing substantial hardship the applicant shall produce evidence showing the loss suffered on the particular commodity as a result of the maximum prices established and the effect of such loss on his over-all operations.

(b) Any seller or group of sellers may apply for adjustment of a maximum price of a commodity established for him or them by this Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183, or any order issued thereunder, when it appears:

(1) That there exists or threatens to exist in a particular locality a shortage in the supply of a commodity, which aids directly in the war program or is essential to a standard of living consistent with the prosecution of the war; and

(2) That such local shortage will be substantially reduced or eliminated by adjusting the maximum prices for such seller and of like sellers for such commodity or service; and

(3) That such adjustment will not create or tend to create a shortage or a need for increase in prices in another locality, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

TABLE 34—MAXIMUM PRICES FOR MILK

1. Producers maximum prices for raw or pasteurized milk.

(a) For sales of milk by a producer to a store, the maximum price is the price set forth below for the zone in which the store is located.

Type of milk	Location of store	Maximum price per quart
Raw milk, loose	Zone I	$0.13
Raw milk, loose	Zone II	.11
Raw milk, loose	Zone III	.095
Pasteurized milk, loose	All zones	.13

(b) For sales of raw or pasteurized milk by a producer delivered to a consumer or volume customer, maximum prices for sales by the producer are the same as the maximum prices established for sales by distributors to a consumer or volume customer.

(c) For sales of milk by a producer to a distributor, the producer's maximum price shall be a weighted average price computed by the distributor on a monthly basis. Each distributor shall determine the maximum price to be paid to each of its producers at the end of the month on the basis of the total sales made by the distributor during the month. The type of milk, whether raw or pasteurized, whether it is loose or in small containers, and the point of use of the milk are the factors to be used by the distributor in determining the maximum price to be paid to producers. The distributor shall compute monthly the total value of the milk sold by him at the rate of $0.13 per quart for all pasteurized milk, $0.13 per quart for all raw milk whose point of use is in Zone I, $0.11 per quart for all raw milk whose point of use is in Zone II, and $0.095 per quart for all raw milk whose point of use is in Zone III. The distributor shall determine the weighted average price, which represents the maximum price which may be paid to producers, by dividing the total value of the milk sold by him during the month by the total number of quarts sold by him during the month; and in order to arrive at the maximum payment which may be made to each producer, shall multiply the weighted average price by the total number of quarts supplied by each producer.

(d) If, on sales of raw or pasteurized milk, to distributors or stores, the producer supplies a small container the producer's maximum price may be augmented by the following:

Size of container supplied by producer:	Maximum additions
Quart	$0.01 per quart.
Pint	.006 per pint.
Half pint	0.00375 per half pint.

(e) Distributors may make cash payments to producers at any time during a month, but such payments shall be subject to settlement at the end of such month by determining the difference between the cash payments and the maximum payments computed by the method set forth above. The cash payments which may be made during the month to each producer shall not exceed the amount computed by multiplying the maximum price per quart in the lowest price zone in which any of the milk sold by the distributor finds its point of use by the total number of quarts sold to the distributor by the producer during the month.

Example: During a given month Producers A, B, C, and D supplied Distributor X with milk in the following amounts:

Producer A— 3,500 quarts, loose.
Producer B— 2,000 quarts, in quart containers.
Producer C— 9,500 quarts, in pint containers.
Producer D— 9,000 quarts, in half pint containers.

24,000 quarts.

In addition to the 24,000 quarts received from these producers, Distributor X sold 1,000 quarts of milk he himself produced. The total number of quarts sold during July by Distributor X was 25,000. Of this total 10,000 quarts was pasteurized so the value of this portion shall be computed at the rate of $0.13 per quart. The point of use of the remaining 15,000 quarts was divided among the Zones as follows:

Zone I, 8,000 quarts (rate of $0.13 per quart).

Zone II, 5,000 quarts (rate of $0.11 per quart).

Zone III, 2,000 quarts (rate of $0.095 per quart).

The method to be used by Distributor X in computing the maximum price per quart of loose milk is set forth in the following table:

Type of milk	Point of use	Number of quarts sold by distributor	Rate	Value, computed by multiplying column 3 by column 4
Raw	Zone I	8,000	$0.13	$1,040.00
Raw	Zone II	5,000	.11	550.00
Raw	Zone III	2,000	.095	190.00
Pasteurized	All zones	10,000	.13	1,300.00
Total number of quarts sold		25,000		[1]3,080.00

[1]Total value.

The weighted average price per quart is determined by dividing the total value by the total number of quarts sold:

$\frac{3080}{25000}$ = .1232 maximum price per quart

Producer A's cash payment and total payment for the month is computed as follows:

3500 x .095 = $332.50 cash payment
3500 x .1232 = 431.20 total payment

Producer B's cash payment and total payment for the month is computed as follows:

2000 x .095 = $190.00 cash payment
2000 x .1232 = 246.40
2000 x .01 = 20.00 Maximum addition for quart containers

$266.40 total payment

Producer C's cash payment and total payment for the month is computed as follows:

9500 x .095 = $902.50 Cash payment
9500 x .0232 = 1170.40
19000 x .005 = 95.00 Maximum addition for pint containers—9,500 quarts equals 19,000 pints

$1265.40 Total payment

Producer D's cash payment and total payment for the month is computed as follows:

9000 x .095 = $855.00 Cash payment
9000 x .1232 = 1108.80
36000 x .00375 = 135.00 Maximum addition for half pint containers—9,000 quarts equals 36,000 half pints

$1243.80 Total payment

(a) All laundry soap is included in Table 39. The maximum prices for toilet soap and soap chips of varieties other than those enumerated in the above Table 39 shall be established in accordance with the requirements of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

SEC. 48. Maximum prices for Southern Yellow Pine, Douglas Fir, Oak and Gum lumber on sales to ultimate consumers. (a) The maximum prices for Southern Yellow Pine, Douglas Fir, Oak and Gum lumber sold to an ultimate consumer shall be computed by adding to the "direct cost to the importer" (defined in section 17 (a) (4)) a markup of $12.50 per thousand board feet of such lumber and the actual transportation costs from the pier to the point at which the ultimate consumer receives delivery. For the purposes of this section the term: "ultimate consumer" includes the United States Government and the Insular Government or the agencies or instrumentalities of either, contractors or builders, or any person who purchases lumber for use rather than for resale as lumber.

(1) Regardless of the number of dealers or distributors handling the lumber the total amount of markups may not exceed $12.50 for each thousand board feet.

(2) The transportation cost may not exceed the customary carrier charge for a similar shipment, whether such transportation be accomplished by a common or contract carrier or by a dealer, distributor or seller.

(b) Within five days after receipt in Puerto Rico of a shipment of Southern Yellow Pine, Douglas Fir, Oak and Gum lumber for sale, the importer shall file with the Office of Price Administration for the Territory of Puerto Rico, San Juan, a statement setting forth in detail the direct cost to the importer, including the price the importer paid, all discounts allowed, all costs of shipment, customs and entry fees, and war risk insurance cost.

(c) Every person selling Southern Yellow Pine, Douglas Fir, Oak and Gum lumber shall accompany each sale of such lumber with an invoice on which shall be stated his name and address, the name of the person from whom the lumber was purchased, the date of such purchase, a description of the lumber, and a detailed calculation of the price charged as follows: the "direct cost to the importer" as reported to the Office of Price Administration pursuant to paragraph (b) above, the local transportation charges which have accrued, the charge for transportation to the purchaser, and the markup which has been added.

[Section heading and paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) amended by Am. 45, effective 8–2–44]

(d) The maximum price established in section 48 (a) is a gross price to which may be added no additional charges for breakage, warehousing, handling, or any other services or incidents of sale than those specifically authorized by this amendment.

(e) The direct cost of all lumber received in any one shipment shall be uniform despite variations in grade or dimensions unless the lumber has been purchased by the importer at different prices in accordance with varying grades and dimensions, in which case the differences in purchase price for such grades and dimensions may be reflected in the calculation of the direct cost.

[Sec. 48 added by Am. 2, 8 F.R. 11437, effective 8–21–43; paragraph (e) added by Am. 4, 8 F.R. 11847, effective 8–31–43]

(ii) The maximum price at retail shall be the price paid by the retailer multiplied by:

Group:	Sales at retail
A	$1.25

(4) For a job lot sold intact as received the maximum price shall be computed by multiplying the direct cost of the job lot by the applicable multiplier in accordance with section 54 (b) (1).

(5) For each product received in a job lot, the maximum price shall be the price fixed by the seller, provided that the total of the prices charged for each product within the job lot in which the particular product was received, does not exceed the maximum price for the job lot, and provided that he notifies the Office of Price Administration of such prices in accordance with the requirements of section 54 (f).

(6) If a job lot consists of items falling within more than one of the groups of textile products set forth in section 54 (a) (1), the maximum price for the entire lot shall be computed by applying the lowest multiplier appropriate to any item in the lot.

[Subparagraph (5) amended and (6) added by Am. 22, 9 F.R. 686, effective 12-13-43]

(7) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, any seller who has continuously sold an imported textile product pursuant to the conditions and prices of a written resale price maintenance contract executed by him with the manufacturer prior to April 1942 without any deterioration in quality since that date may apply to the Director of the Office of Price Administration for an order permitting him and other sellers similarly situated to sell such product at the price specified in the contract, or at a price equal to the direct cost to the importer of such product multiplied by 1.67, whichever is lower.

(c) Maximum prices at retail for locally manufactured textile products. A seller's maximum prices for locally manufactured textile products sold or delivered in the Territory of Puerto Rico shall be:

(1) The maximum price at retail for a product which is not part of a job lot shall be the factory price paid by the retailer, multiplied by:

C	1.75

(2) The maximum price at retail for a product which is part of a job lot shall be the price fixed by the seller: Provided, That the total of the prices charged for each product within the job lot in which the particular product was received does not exceed the maximum price for the entire job lot determined in accordance with section 54 (c) (1): And provided, That he notifies the Office of Price Administration of such prices in accordance with the requirements of section 54 (f) as applicable.

(3) Sellers at retail of locally manufactured textile products shall request from the manufacturer a sales invoice showing the following information: (i) date of the sale, (ii) number and description of units sold, (iii) the price charged per unit or in the sale of a job lot the price charged for the entire lot.

(4) If a job lot consists of items falling within more than one of the groups of textile products set forth in section 54 (a) (1), the maximum price for the entire lot shall be computed by applying the lowest multiplier appropriate to any item in the lot.

(d) Trade practices. The markups authorized herein are gross markups which shall not be exceeded regardless of the number of sellers handling a textile product. No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials or his customary alteration charges unless such change results in a lower net price.

(e) Prohibited practices. It shall be unlawful for any seller to improperly classify a textile product for the purpose of evading the appropriate pricing provision herein. It shall be unlawful for any seller to revise any maximum price fixed on a textile product and entered in his textile reference book except as otherwise provided in paragraph (h) (2).

(f) Notification to OPA on sales of job lots. Within five days of his first sale of a textile product from a job lot the seller shall file a statement with the Territorial Office of Price Administration, San Juan, Puerto Rico, and a duplicate thereof with his local War Price and Rationing Board, which statement shall show (1) the name and address of the person from whom the job lot was purchased, (2) a description of the job lot, (3) the number of units included in each class of textile products, (4) the direct cost of the job lot to the seller if it was imported by the seller, or the price paid for the job lot if it was not imported by the seller, (5) the reference stock numbers assigned as provided in paragraph (f), (6) the selling price of each unit or group of units as determined in accordance with the pricing provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, and the over-all markup taken by the seller on the job lot.

(g) Identification of textile products. Every seller shall assign a separate reference stock number to each price classification of textile products and shall clearly identify the physical merchandise with the reference stock number by use of a label, tag, slip, sticker, mark, or other similar appropriate marking.

[Paragraph (g) amended by Am. 30, 9 F.R. 3514, effective 4-6-44]

(h) Textile reference book. (1) Every person selling textile products shall prepare a textile reference book which he shall keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, in which shall be entered prior to the time any textile product is sold or offered for sale, the following information for each price classification of textile products in the seller's stock: (i) The reference stock number, (ii) a description of the units comprised, (iii) the name and address of the supplier, except in the case of merchandise from a job lot, (iv) the date of delivery except in the case of merchandise in a job lot, (v) the multiplier used in computing the maximum price, (vi) the direct cost to the seller or the price paid by the seller whichever price is material in accordance with the pricing provisions utilized, and (vii) the seller's selling price at wholesale or at retail depending upon the level at which he sells.

(2) The maximum price charged by each seller and entered in his textile reference book shall in no instance be altered except that should the seller have erroneously computed the price for an item entered in such book, the seller's local War Price and Rationing Board may, after having received a written statement of the fact from the seller, if satisfied that the entry was the result of a miscalculation, authorize such seller to change the entry to correspond with the maximum price which he is authorized to charge in accordance with this regulation.

(3) All entries in the textile reference book shall be made in numerical sequence. Textile products received by the seller which are identical to products earlier entered into the reference book shall be re-entered under a new reference stock number.

(i) Notification to customers. Every person selling an imported textile product except at retail shall with each delivery supply the purchaser with a statement, which may be included in and made a part of the seller's invoice, specifying with respect to each price classification delivered: (1) the seller's reference stock number, (2) a notation of the pricing provision employed, (3) the number and description of units sold, and (4) the price charged. This provision supersedes section 11 (b) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 with respect to sales of imported textile products.

Section 14 ("Sales Slip and Receipts" of the General Maximum Price Regulation) apply to sales of textile products by local manufacturers.

[Paragraph (i) amended by Am. 22, 9 F.R. 686, effective 12-13-43]

SEC. 61. Maximum prices for mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash and nitrogenous material—(a) Definitions. When used in this section, the term:

(1) "Manufacturer" means a person who produces, mixes or processes, or who markets for his own account and under his own brand or trade name, mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash or nitrogenous material for use as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(2) "Dealer" means a person who purchases mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash or nitrogenous material and resells it to a consumer.

(3) "Consumer" means a person purchasing mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash or nitrogenous material for use in aiding the growth of crops or plants (and not for resale) including the Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

(4) "Mixed fertilizer" means any substance containing any two or more, of potash, superphosphate, and nitrogenous material, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(5) "Superphosphate" means any product which is obtained by mixing rock phosphate with either sulphuric acid or phosphoric acid or with both acids, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(6) "Potash" means muriate, chloride or sulphate of potash, manure salts and any other substance containing potassium oxide (K_2O), when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(7) "Nitrogenous material" means any organic or inorganic substance containing nitrogen, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(8) "Grade" means the minimum guarantee of the plant food content of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, or potash, expressed in terms of ammonia, available phosphoric acid, and water-soluble potash, e. g. 4–12–4, 0–14–7, 0–20–0, 0–0–50.

(9) "Kind" as distinguished from the term "grade" refers only to mixed fertilizer and means the substances, and the proportions thereof, containing the guaranteed plant food content of mixed fertilizer—as, for example, in the case of nitrogenous material, 80% water soluble and 20% water-insoluble nitrogen; or in the case of potash, 75% sulphate of potash and 25% muriate of potash.

(10) "Price schedule" means any price list or statement, irrespective of form, issued or used by the seller, setting forth the prices, grades, kinds, terms of payment, types of containers or bags, method and conditions of delivery and any other provisions relating to sales of the commodities being priced.

(b) Manufacturers' maximum prices for mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash and nitrogenous material—(1) Maximum prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, and potash.

(i) Delivered prices. A manufacturer's maximum prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash delivered to any purchaser's premises or to the railroad shipping station located nearest to the purchaser shall be the prices set forth in his written or printed price schedule or list effective on October 15, 1941, denoted herein as the base period prices, subject to adjustment upward or downward each quarter year by an amount determined as follows:

On or before January 1, 1944, the manufacturer shall determine the average delivered-to-factory cost per unit for each of these four items used or received by him, as the case may be, during the period July 1 to December 31, 1941:

1. Ammonia.
2. Available phosphoric acid.
3. Potash.
4. Bags or containers.

Using these averages as cost figures the manufacturer shall determine, by use of his own formula, the total cost of the amounts of the first three items entering into a ton of his finished fertilizer. To this he shall add the cost (as determined above) of the number of bags of containers he has customarily used to contain one ton of his fertilizer. This final figure is hereafter referred to as "base cost". It is a figure that will be used each three months, and once verified, need not be recomputed.

On January 1, 1944, and quarter annually thereafter the manufacturer shall likewise determine the average delivered-to-factory cost per unit of each of the four items used or received by him, as the case may be, during the period of three months immediately preceding the date of computation.

Using these averages as cost figures the manufacturer shall determine, by use of his own formula, the total cost of the amounts of the first three items entering into a ton of his finished fertilizer. To this he shall add the cost (as determined above) of the number of bags or containers he has customarily used to contain one ton of his fertilizer. This final figure is hereafter referred to as "current cost".

If, during any three-month period one or more of the four items of raw material were not received by the manufacturer, he shall use as the price for such material in his quarterly computations the average price computed for the next preceding three-month period.

If on any quarter-annual date the current cost shall be less than the base cost, then for the succeeding three-month period the manufacturer's maximum price per ton shall be the price scheduled by him on October 15, 1941, less the difference between current cost and base cost.

If on any quarter-annual date the current cost be greater than the base cost, then for the succeeding three months' period the manufacturer's maximum price per ton shall be the price scheduled by him on October 15, 1941, plus the difference between current cost and base cost.

The manufacturer's maximum prices on quantities less than a ton shall preserve the same relative differentials as were present in his price schedule of October 15, 1941.

(ii) F. o. b. prices. A manufacturer's maximum prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash f. o. b. his plant or warehouse shall be determined by subtracting from his delivered prices the freight allowances which he included in his price schedule in effect on October 15, 1941.

(iii) Prices for grades not listed. A manufacturer's maximum prices for sales of a grade of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash which was not listed in his price schedule effective on October 15, 1941 shall be a price authorized, upon application of the manufacturer, by the Order of the Director of the Office of Price Administration for Puerto Rico, and shall be a price in line with those established by this regulation for grades which were offered for sale by the manufacturer in his price schedule effective October 15, 1941.

(2) Manufacturer's maximum prices for cash sales of nitrogenous fertilizer material. The maximum price for a cash sale of nitrogenous fertilizer material by fertilizer manufacturers, direct or through agents, to a consumer shall be:

(i) The manufacturer's actual landed cost of the material, in the case of ammonium nitrate; or the manufacturer's weighted average landed cost of each material, calculated as of July 1, October 1, January 1 and April 1, in the case of sulphate of ammonia or any other nitrogenous fertilizer material, for all of the lots of each material received by him during the quarter-annual period last preceding the date of the calculation; or, if none was received in that period, the cost of the latest quarter-annual period in which material was received.

(ii) An additional amount equal to the fertilizer manufacturer's expenditure, if any, for transportation of the nitrogenous fertilizer material within the territory to the fertilizer manufacturer's plant or warehouse or direct to the buyer's delivery point.

(iii) An additional 50 cents per ton if the nitrogenous fertilizer material is stored in and delivered from the fertilizer manufacturer's plant.

(iv) Plus the actual cost of bags used, and $1.00 per ton when such nitrogenous fertilizer material is received in bulk by the fertilizer manufacturer and resold in bags.

(v) An additional amount equal to the cost of governmental tax tags, if any, and the attaching thereof, or governmental tonnage or inspection tax, but no license cost or registration fee.

(vi) In addition a maximum margin of: $4.00 per ton if the cost (subdivisions (i) through (v)) is less than $40.00 per ton; $5.00 per ton if such cost is $40.00 or more but less than $50.00 per ton; $6.00 per ton if such cost is $50.00 or more but less than $60.00 per ton; $7.00 per ton if such cost is $60.00 or more but less than $70.00 per ton; $8.00 per ton if such cost is $70.00 or more per ton.

(vii) An additional 50 cents per ton if the nitrogenous fertilizer material is stored in, and delivered from a warehouse owned or operated by a fertilizer manufacturer or agent.

(viii) An additional amount equal to the actual transportation expense incurred in making delivery from a fertilizer manufacturer's plant or warehouse or from the buyer's delivery point, to the consumer.

(ix) An amount equal to the actual loading or handling charges incurred in making delivery to the buyer.

(3) Manufacturer's maximum prices for credit sales of nitrogenous fertilizer material. In the case of credit sales, credit terms shall not be more onerous on Spring season sales than those in effect and applicable to such dealer or consumer for the period from February 16, 1942, to February 20, 1942, inclusive, and for Fall season sales, credit terms shall not be more onerous than those in effect and applicable to such dealer or consumer for the period from October 1, 1941, to October 15, 1941, inclusive.

(c) Dealers' maximum prices for mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash and nitrogenous material—(1) Cash prices. A dealer's maximum cash prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash or nitrogenous material shall be determined by adding together the following factors:

(i) The manufacturer's maximum time price on a sale of the same quantity.

(ii) The actual transportation cost, if any, incurred by the dealer from the manufacturer's planter warehouse to the dealer's place of business: Provided, That such transportation cost may not exceed the customary carrier charge for a similar shipment, whether such transportation be accomplished by a common or contract carrier or any other person.

(iii) An amount equal to five percent of the sum of paragraphs (i) and (ii).

(2) Time prices. A dealer's maximum time prices for sales of fertilizer, superphosphate, potash and nitrogenous material shall be equal to his maximum cash prices, plus six percent.

(d) Prohibited practices; general. Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the dollars-and-cents price is as much a violation as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to changes in credit practices and cash discounts, and to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying-agreements, trade understandings and the like.

(e) Filing of price schedules by manufacturers. Not later than July 1, 1944, every manufacturer of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash and nitrogenous material in Puerto Rico shall file with the Territorial Office of Price Administration, San Juan, Puerto Rico, a complete schedule of prices in effect on that date and thereafter shall file within five days of their effective date all supplements and amendments to price schedules in effect on July 1, 1944.

[Sec. 66 added by Am. 33, 9 F.R. 4821, effective 5-9-44]

SEC. 67. Maximum prices for imported shoes sold or delivered in the Territory of Puerto Rico—(a) Definitions. When used in this section 67, the term:

(1) "Shoes" means all types of covering for the human feet except hosiery.

(2) "Job lot" means a single purchase of a group of shoes all of which in trade terms are "seconds," "imperfects," "close outs," "sub-standards," "discontinued models" or "samples."

(3) "Shoe reference book" means a book containing the seller's descriptive entries of the shoes which he is offering for sale and the maximum prices authorized for them by this section.

(4) "Reference stock number" means the numbers employed by the manufacturer or supplier and the seller to identify a pair of shoes.

(5) A "price line of shoes" means a group of styles of footwear offered by a seller at the same price for each style in the group.

(6) "Group A" refers to all women's, misses' and growing girls' shoes which cost $3.00 or less per pair f. o. b. port of shipment and all shoes other than women's, misses' and growing girls' which cost $4.00 or less per pair f. o. b. port of shipment.

(7) "Group B" refers to all women's, misses' and growing girls' shoes which cost more than $3.00 per pair f. o. b. port of shipment and all shoes other than women's, misses' and growing girls' which cost more than $4.00 per pair f. o. b. port of shipment.

(b) Maximum prices for imported shoes. Except as otherwise specified in paragraph (c) a seller's maximum prices for imported shoes sold or delivered in the Territory of Puerto Rico shall be:

(1) For shoes which have been imported by the seller and which were not received as a part of a job lot, the cost per pair f. o. b. port of shipment multiplied by:

Group	Sales at wholesale	Sales at retail
A	1.25	1.60
B	1.28	1.67

(2) For shoes which have not been imported by the seller and which were not received by him as a part of a job lot, the price paid to the importer multiplied by:

Group	Sales at retail
A	1.28
B	1.30

(3) For a job lot of shoes sold intact, the cost of the job lot, f. o. b. point of shipment, multiplied by 1.25. This markup may be taken only once, regardless of the number of sellers.

(4) For each pair of shoes received in a job lot, the price fixed by the seller: Provided, That the total of the prices charged for each pair of shoes within the job lot in which the shoes were received, shall not exceed the cost of the lot f. o. b. port of shipment multiplied by 1.25 at wholesale and 1.60 at retail on sales by importers, and the price paid to the importer multiplied by 1.28 on sales at retail by a merchant other than the importer.

(5) For shoes purchased in a job lot, part of which job lot has been sold prior to the effective date of this regulation, the price established and filed with the War Price and Rationing Boards in accordance with the requirements of the General Maximum Price Regulation. The seller's maximum price for shoes from a broken job lot which cannot be established by reference to such a price list shall be a maximum price, in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation, as determined by the Director of the Office of Price Administration at San Juan, Puerto Rico, on application of the seller.

(c) Duty. On all shoes on which duty is payable, the seller may add to the price of each pair of shoes the charge for duty which he has paid on them. The duty shall not be included in the cost price either by the importer or by the retailer for purposes of computing the markup to which the seller is entitled. Sales of imported shoes at wholesale on which duty has been paid shall be so invoiced as to state the amount of duty separately from the price charged for the shoes.

(d) Trade practices. The markups authorized herein are gross markups which shall not be exceeded regardless of any additional, unexpected, or unusual costs which the seller may have incurred or of the number of sellers handling the shoes. No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials unless such change results in a lower net price.

(e) Prohibited practices. It shall be unlawful for any seller to improperly classify a pair of shoes for the purpose of evading the pricing provision applicable to the sale of such shoes. It shall likewise be unlawful for any seller to revise the price entered in his shoe reference book for any pair of shoes except as otherwise provided in paragraph (h) (2).

(f) Notification to OPA on sales of job lots. Within five days of his first sale of a pair of shoes from a job lot the seller shall file a statement with the Territorial Office of the Office of Price Administration, San Juan, Puerto Rico, a copy with his local War Price and Rationing Board and retain a copy for his own files, which statement shall show:

(1) The name and address of the person from whom the lot was purchased;

(2) A description of the job lot;

(3) The number of pairs of shoes included within each price line;

(4) The reference stock number assigned as provided in paragraph (a);

(5) The f. o. b. port of shipment cost of the job lot to the seller, if imported by the seller, or the price paid to the importer for the job lot if not imported by the seller;

(6) The amount of duty, if any, paid by the importer;

(7) The selling price of each pair of shoes as determined in accordance with the pricing provision of paragraph (b) of this section; and

(8) Over-all markup taken by the seller on the job lot.

(g) Identification of shoes. Every seller shall assign a separate reference stock number to each price line of shoes and shall clearly mark on each pair of shoes the stock number by use of a label, tag, slip, sticker, mark, or other similar appropriate marking.

(h) Shoe reference book. (1) Every person selling shoes shall prepare a shoe reference book which he shall keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration or by any person duly authorized by the Territorial Director of the Office of Price Administration, in which shall be entered prior to the time shoes are sold or offered for sale, the following information for each price classification of shoes in the seller's stock:

(i) The reference stock numbers;

(ii) A description of the units included;

(iii) The name and address of the supplier;

(iv) The date received;

(v) The cost to the seller or the price paid to the importer, whichever price is material in accordance with the pricing provision utilized, the duty if any paid by the importer;

(vi) The multiplier used in computing the maximum price; and

(vii) The selling price at wholesale or at retail depending upon the level at which the shoes are offered for sale.

(2) The maximum price charged by each seller and entered in his shoe reference book shall in no instance be altered except that should the seller have erroneously computed the price for an item entered in such book, the seller's Local War Price and Rationing Board may, after having received a written statement of the fact from the seller, if satisfied that the entry was the result of a miscalculation, authorize such seller to change the entry to correspond with the maximum price which he is authorized to charge in accordance with this regulation.

(3) All entries in the shoe reference book shall be made in numerical sequence. Shoes received by the seller which are identical to others earlier entered into the reference book shall be re-entered under a new reference stock number.

(i) Notification to customers. Every person selling shoes, except at retail, shall with each delivery supply the purchaser with a statement, which may be included in and made a part of the seller's invoice, specifying with respect to each price classification delivered:

(1) The seller's reference stock number;

(2) A notation of the pricing provision employed;

(3) The number and description of units sold;

(4) The price charged; and

(5) The duty paid, if any.

The provisions of this paragraph (i) supersede section 11 (b) (1) of Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 with respect to sales of shoes.

PART 1448—EATING AND DRINKING ESTABLISHMENTS

[Rev. Restaurant MPR 5-6]

FOOD AND DRINK SOLD FOR IMMEDIATE CONSUMPTION IN TULSA, OKLA., DISTRICT

Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-6 is redesignated as Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-6, and is revised and amended to read as follows:

In the judgment of the District Director of the Tulsa, Oklahoma District Office, Region V of the Office of Price Administration, the prices of food and beverages sold for immediate consumption in Muskogee, Oklahoma have risen and are threatening further to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

In the judgment of the District Director of the Tulsa, Oklahoma District Office, Region V of the Office of Price Administration, the maximum prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to check inflation and to effectuate the purposes of the Act. So far as practicable, the District Director of the Tulsa, Oklahoma District Office, gave due consideration to prices prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and consulted with the representatives of those affected by this regulation. A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith.*

Therefore, in accordance with the direction of the President to take action which will stabilize prices affecting the cost of living, and under the authority therewith delegated by the President pursuant to the Act of Congress approved October 2, 1942, entitled "An Act to Aid in Stabilizing the Cost of Living" (H. R. 7565), 77th Congress, Second Session, and under the authority of Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, the District Director of the Tulsa, Oklahoma District Office hereby issues this Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-6, establishing as maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption in Muskogee County, Oklahoma, the prices prevailing therefor during the seven-day period beginning April 4, 1943 and ending April 10, 1943.

§ 1448.406 Maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption. Under the authority vested in the District Director of the Tulsa, Oklahoma District Office, Region V of the Office of Price Administration by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and General Order No. 50 issued by the Office of Price Administration, and Region V Delegation Order No. 48, Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-6 (Food and Drink Sold for Immediate Consumption) which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1448.406 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Laws 151, 78th Cong.; E. O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681; General Order No. 50, 8 F.R. 4808.

SECTION 1. Sales at higher than ceiling prices prohibited. If you own or operate a restaurant, hotel, cafe, bar, delicatessen, soda fountain, boarding house, or any other eating or drinking place, you must not offer or sell any "food item" (including any beverage) or "meal" at a price higher than the ceiling price which you figure according to the directions in the next two sections (sections 2 and 3).

You may, of course, sell at lower than ceiling prices.

SEC. 2. How you figure ceiling prices for food items and meals you offered in the seven-day period from April 4, 1943 to April 10, 1943. Your ceiling price for any food item or meal which you offered in the seven-day period beginning Sunday, April 4, 1943, and ending Saturday, April 10, 1943, is the highest price at which you offered the same food item or meal in that seven-day period.

SEC. 3. How you figure ceiling prices for food items and meals you did not offer in the seven-day period. You must figure your ceiling price for a food item or meal which you did not offer during the seven-day period as follows:

(a) If you offered the same food item or meal at any time during the four weeks from March 7 to April 3, 1943, inclusive, and if you have adequate records of the prices you then charged, take as your ceiling price the highest price at which you offered that food item or meal during that four-week period.

(b) If you did not offer the food item or meal during the five-week period from March 7 to April 10, 1943, inclusive, or if you do not have adequate records of prices charged prior to the seven-day period you must proceed as follows:

(1) Determine the cost of the raw food which you use in preparing the new food item or meal.

(2) From the food items and meals for which you have already established ceiling prices, choose a food item or meal which currently has a raw food cost equal to or less than the raw food cost of the new food item or meal.

(3) Take as your ceiling price for the new food item or meal your ceiling price for the food item or meal chosen for comparison. The food item or meal chosen for such comparison should be of the same class as the new food item or meal. If, however, you can find no food item or meal of the same class, you may use for comparison the most similar food item or meal of another class having a food cost equal to or less than your food cost for the new food item or meal. "Currently" as used herein means current on the day you figure your price.

(c) Once your ceiling price for a food item or meal has been fixed, it may not be changed except as provided in section 4.

SEC. 4. How you figure your prices for seasonal items. First, determine your ceiling price for a "seasonal food item", defined in section 20 (e), in accordance with the appropriate rule of sections 2 and 3 of this regulation. Thereafter, this price must be varied in proportion to any seasonal change in the raw food cost of the item, provided that in no event shall the price be higher than the ceiling price as originally determined. If in the past it has been your practice to maintain one price throughout the season, you need not vary your ceiling price according to this rule provided the ceiling price was based upon estimated average raw food cost of the item for the entire season.

SEC. 5. No ceiling price for any food item or meal to be higher than the highest ceiling price for a food item or meal of the same class in the base period. Under no circumstances are you permitted to charge a higher price for a food item or a meal than:

(a) Your highest ceiling price for food items or meals of the same class offered in the seven-day period; or

(b) The last price at which you sold the same food item or meal prior to April 4, 1943, provided you first file with the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board a menu or certified copy of a record showing the last price charged.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to seasonal dessert specialties specified in section 21 A class 24 a.

Example 1. If your highest ceiling price for any soup offered by you during the seven-day period is 15 cents, you may not offer any other soup at a higher price than 15 cents.

Example 2. You served sirloin steak in March at $1.50. You did not serve sirloin steak during the base period. The highest price at which you can now serve sirloin steak is $1.50.

SEC. 6. Substitution of food items in meals. If you have already determined your ceiling price for a meal you may substitute for any food item other than the entree (or main dish) in that meal any other food item of the same class without refiguring your ceiling price, provided the new food item costs you approximately as much and offers customers about the same value as the food item which it replaces. A meal becomes a "new" meal whenever the entree (or main dish) is changed or a new food item is substituted which costs you less or offers your customers lower value than the food item which it replaces, and you must therefore determine its ceiling price in accordance with the rules established by section 3.

SEC. 7. Prohibition against manipulation of meal offerings. You must not manipulate your meal offerings in a manner which will force your customers to pay more than they did during the seven-day period. Among other things you must not:

(a) Reduce the number of meals offered at prices equal to or below your "middle price" for meals of the same class without making a corresponding reduction in the number of meals offered at prices above that middle price. By "middle price" is meant the price most nearly at the mid-point of your price range for meals of the same class.

(b) Cease to offer at least as many different meals at or below the lowest price charged by you for meals of the same class on any day you select in the seven-day period, as you did on that day.

Example: If you select Friday, April 9, 1943, to determine the lowest price and the number of week-day meals offered at that price, and if on that day you offered six week-day dinners, of which two were priced at 85¢, and one each at 90¢, $1.00, $1.10, $1.15, you must continue to offer two week-day dinners at 85¢. Note that Sunday meals and week-day meals are meals of a different class.

SEC. 8. Evasion. (a) You must not evade or avoid the provisions of this regulation by any scheme or device whatsoever. Some, but not all, practices which will be regarded as evasive are:

(1) Dropping food items from meals, deteriorating quality or reducing quantity without making sufficient reduction in price so as to maintain the raw food cost ratio at least equal to such ratio prior to the deterioration or reduction;

(2) Withdrawing the offer, or increasing the price, of any meal ticket, weekly rate, or other arrangement by which customers may buy food items or meals at less than the prices they must pay when purchased by item or meal;

(3) Increasing any cover, minimum, bread-and-butter, service, corkage, entertainment, check-room, parking or other special charges, or making such charges when they were not in effect in the seven-day period except that a cover or minimum charge in effect during the base period may be increased in accordance with customary practice, where it was the practice to vary the charge in accordance with the type of entertainment offered and the increase does not cause the charge to go above the highest charge made during the last twelve-month period;

(4) Requiring as a condition of sale of an item or meal the purchase of other items or meals when such condition was not in effect during the base period;

(5) Reducing the selection of meals offered at table d'hote prices when the food items which you customarily offered in such meals are being offered at a la carte prices which when added together total more than the table d'hote price for the complete meal or give your customers less value for their money.

Example 1. If you customarily offered fish on table d'hote dinners at $1.10, you may not now offer fish a la carte and refuse to offer it on a table d'hote dinner priced at $1.10.

Example 2. If you offered table d'hote dinners during the base period at 85¢ to $1.25 which included dessert and beverage, you may now offer the same food item excluding dessert and beverage at 65¢ to $1.05, providing you also offer dessert and beverage to be served with the meals at prices which do not total more than 20¢.

(b) You will not be considered evading the provisions of this regulation, however, if you do any of the following things, even though you did not do any of these things during the seven-day period:

(1) You may limit your customers to one cup of coffee per meal.

(2) You may limit your customers to one pat of butter per meal.

(3) You may reduce the quantity, or eliminate altogether condiments (such as catchup, chili sauce, etc.) which you may have customarily placed at the disposal of your customers and which now are, or may hereafter be, subject to any rationing order or rationing regulation of the Office of Price Administration.

(4) You may reduce the amount of sugar served with each cup of coffee or tea, or each bowl of cereal, fruit, or other similar food items with which sugar is served, to, but not less than, one teaspoonful, except that less may be given if required by your available supply.

You may not, however, make the curtailment authorized in the foregoing subparagraphs and furnish these curtailed items at an additional charge. For example, if during the seven-day period you furnished catchup, you may not now discontinue furnishing this item free, and at the same time offer to furnish it for an additional charge.

SEC. 9. Rules for new proprietors. (a) If you acquire another's business subsequent to the seven-day period and continue the business in the same place, you are subject to the same ceiling prices and duties as the previous proprietor would have been had he continued to operate the business.

(1) If your acquisition was subsequent to the seven-day period but prior to the effective date of this regulation, you may apply to the Office of Price Administration for permission to price under paragraph (b) of this section. You may not, however, make such application after June 1, 1944.

(2) Prior to acquiring another's business after the effective date of this regulation, you may apply to the Office of Price Administration for permission to price under paragraph (b) of this section.

If you are granted permission to price under paragraph (b) of this section, it will be subject to such conditions as the Office of Price Administration deems necessary.

(b) If you open an eating or drinking place after the seven-day period, you must fix ceiling prices in line with the ceiling prices of the nearest eating or drinking place of the same type as yours. If the ceiling prices so fixed are too high and threaten to have an inflationary effect on the price of food or drink, the Office of Price Administration may issue an order requiring you to reduce your ceiling prices. You are subject to the record requirements of section 12 and the posting requirements of section 13 immediately upon the opening of your place.

SEC. 10. Seasonal eating and drinking places—(a) Exempt places. If you are the proprietor of a seasonal eating or drinking place that:

(1) Was not open during the base period from April 4 to 10, 1943;

(2) Receives 80 percent or more of its total annual revenue during four calendar months of the year;

(3) Is located in an area for which no maximum rent regulation has been issued;

the prices for food items and meals offered by you in that place are exempt from control.

You must not regard this exemption as relieving you from the obligations imposed upon you by General Order 50, and you are still subject to the provisions of section 22 of this regulation. Pursuant to this latter section the administrator will by special order establish maximum prices for any seasonal eating or drinking place which takes undue advantage of the exemption.

(b) Non-exempt places. If you are the proprietor of a seasonal eating or drinking place which is not exempt under the terms of paragraph (a), you must figure your ceiling prices as follows:

(1) If the place was in operation during the base period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, use the rules set forth in section 2, 3 and 4.

(2) If the place was not in operation during the base period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, but another place of the same type and within a reasonable distance was in operation during that period, fix your ceiling prices as a new proprietor under the terms of section 9 (b).

(3) If you cannot price under subparagraphs (1) or (2) above, you must apply for a price to the Tulsa, Oklahoma District Office of the Office of Price Administration. Your application must be filed ten days prior to the date you plan to commence operations and present the following information.

(i) Your name and address.

(ii) A brief description of your business and the manner of operation.

(iii) A list showing the prices you charged during the previous season as well as the prices you propose to charge during the coming season.

(iv) The date when you plan to commence operations.

(v) The name of two establishments similar to yours.

You may charge the prices listed if they are not disapproved by the Office of Price Administration prior to the date specified for the commencement of operations. That Office may at any time, after proper investigation and hearing, establish such maximum prices for your business as it deems proper.

SEC. 11. Taxes. If in the seven-day period you stated and collected the amount of any tax separately from the price you charged, you may continue to do so. You may also separately state and collect the amount of any new tax or of any increase in the amount of a previous tax on the sale of food or drink or on the business of selling food or drink, if the tax is measured by the number or price of items or meals.

SEC. 12. Records. (a) You must observe all the record keeping and filing requirements of General Order No. 50 which are hereby made a part of this regulation by reference.

(b) Customary records. You must preserve all your existing records relating to your prices, costs and sales. You must also continue to maintain such records as you ordinarily kept. All such records shall be subject to examination by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Records of the seven-day period. You must make available for examination by any person during ordinary business hours a copy of each menu used by you in the seven-day period. If you did not use menus, you must make available for such examination a list of the highest prices you charged in the seven-day period.

(d) Filing by new proprietors. The proprietor of an eating or drinking place which was not open during the seven-day period (including newly-opened places) shall file menus or a price list in accordance with paragraph (a), (General Order 50) except that (1) the filing shall be for the seven-day period beginning with the first Sunday that place is open after April 4, 1943 and (2) the filing shall be made within three weeks of such first Sunday.

(e) Future records. Beginning with the effective date of this regulation, you must keep, for examination by the Office of Price Administration, two each of the menus used by you each day. If you do not use menus you must prepare in duplicate, and preserve for such examination, a record of the prices charged by you each day, except that you need not record prices which are the same as, or less than, prices you previously recorded for the same items or meals. Proprietors who operate a number of eating or drinking places in the same city which have customarily been subject to central control may keep the records required by this paragraph for those places at a central office or the principal place of business within the city.

SEC. 13. Posting. (a) Beginning April 1, 1944, each menu must have clearly written on or attached to it the following statement:

All prices listed are our ceiling prices or below. By Office of Price Administration regulation, our ceiling prices are based on our highest prices from April 4, 1943, to April 10, 1943. Records of these prices are available for your inspection.

(b) If you made menus available in the seven-day period, you shall continue to make them available.

(c) In addition to the requirements in (a) and (b), you must post in a conspicuous place, preferably at or near the cash register, a sign or poster when furnished by the Office of Price Administration. You must enter on this sign or poster your ceiling price for each meal or food item appearing thereon.

SEC. 14. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one eating or drinking place, you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 15. Relation to other maximum price regulations. The provisions of this regulation do not supersede other regulations, including the General Maximum Price Regulation, and Revised Order No. G–1 under General Order No. 50 (Tulsa Beer Order), now or hereafter issued by the Office of Price Administration, in so far as they establish maximum prices for meals, food items and beverages sold by eating and drinking establishments.

SEC. 16. Geographical application. This Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5–6 applies to the County of Muskogee in the State of Oklahoma.

SEC. 17. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 18. Exempt sales. Sales by the following eating or drinking places are specifically exempt from the provisions of this regulation.

(a) Eating and drinking places operated in connection with Church, Sunday School and other religious occasions or activities, except when such places are operated as a regular business.

(b) Hospitals, except for food items and meals served to persons other than the patients when a separate charge is made for such food items and meals.

(c) Eating and drinking places located on board common carriers, (when operated as such) including railroad dining cars, club, bar and buffet cars, and peddlers aboard railroad cars traveling from station to station.

SEC. 19. Adjustments. (a) The Office of Price Administration may adjust the maximum prices for any eating establishment under the following circumstances:

(1) The establishment is operating under such hardship as to cause a substantial threat to the continuance of its operation.

(2) It is determined with reasonable certainty that such discontinuance will result in serious inconvenience to consumers in that they will either be deprived of all restaurant service or will have to turn to other establishments that present substantial difficulties as to distance, hours of service, selection of meals or food items offered, capacity, or transportation.

(3) By reason of such discontinuance, the same meals or food items will cost the customers of the eating establishment as much or more than the proposed adjusted prices.

(b) If you are the proprietor of an eating establishment which satisfies the requirements specified above, you may apply for an adjustment of your maximum prices by submitting to the Tulsa, Oklahoma District Office of the Office of Price Administration a statement setting forth:

(1) Your name and address.

(2) A description of your eating establishment including: type of service rendered, (such as cafeteria, table service, etc.) classes of meals offered, (such as breakfast, lunch and dinner), number of persons served per day during the most recent thirty-day period,[1] and such other information that may be useful in classifying your establishment.

(3) The reasons why your customers will be seriously inconvenienced if you discontinue operations.

(4) The names and addresses of the three nearest eating places of the same type as yours.

(5) A list showing your present maximum prices and your requested, adjusted prices.

(6) A profit and loss statement for your restaurant business for the most recent three-month accounting period, and a copy of your last income tax return if one was filed separately for your restaurant business.

(7) Any other information requested by the Tulsa, Oklahoma District Office.

Applications for adjustment under this section shall be acted upon by the Director of the Tulsa, Oklahoma District Office.

[Rev. Restaurant MPR 5-11]

FOOD AND DRINK SOLD FOR IMMEDIATE CONSUMPTION IN SHREVEPORT, LA., DISTRICT

Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-11 is redesignated as Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-11, and is revised and amended to read as follows:

In the judgment of the Shreveport, Louisiana, District Director, the prices of food and beverages sold for immediate consumption in the following Parishes of Louisiana: Bienville, Bossier, Caddo, Caldwell, Catahoula, Claiborne, Concordia, DeSoto, East Carroll, Franklin, Grant, Jackson, LaSalle, Lincoln, Madison, Morehouse, Natchitoches, Ouachita, Red River, Richland, Sabine, Tensas, Union, Webster, West Carroll, and Winn; have risen and are threatening further to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

In the judgment of the Shreveport Louisiana, District Director, the maximum prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to check inflation and to effectuate the purposes of the Act. So far as practicable, the Shreveport, Louisiana, District Director gave due consideration to prices prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and consulted with the representatives of those affected by this regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith.*

Therefore, in accordance with the direction of the President to take action which will stabilize prices affecting the cost of living, and under the authority therewith delegated by the President pursuant to the Act of Congress approved October 2, 1942, entitled "An Act to Aid in Stabilizing the Cost of Living," 77th Congress, Second Session, and under the authority of Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, the Shreveport, Louisiana, District Director hereby issues this Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-11, establishing as maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption in the parishes mentioned above the prices prevailing therefore during the seven-day period beginning April 4, 1943, and ending April 10, 1943.

§ 1448.411 Maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption. Under the authority vested in the Shreveport, Louisiana, District Director by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and General Order No. 50, issued by the Office of Price Administration, Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-11 (Food and Drink Sold for Immediate Consumption), which is annexed hereto and made part hereof, is hereby issued.

AUTHORITY: § 1448.411 issued under Pub. Laws 421 and 729, 77th Cong.; E. O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E. O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681.

SECTION 1. Sales at higher than ceiling prices prohibited. If you own or operate a restaurant, hotel, cafe, bar, delicatessen, soda fountain, boarding house, or any other eating or drinking place, you must not offer or sell any "food item" (including any beverage, except malt beverages) or "meal" at a price higher than the ceiling price which you figure according to the directions in the next two sections (sections 2 and 3). You may, of course, sell at lower than ceiling prices.

SEC. 2. How you figure ceiling prices for food items and meals you offered in the seven-day period from April 4, 1943, to April 10, 1943. Your ceiling price for any food item or meal which you offered in the seven-day period beginning Sunday, April 4, 1943, and ending Saturday, April 10, 1943, is the highest price at which you offered the same food item or meal in that seven-day period.

SEC. 3. How you figure ceiling prices for food items and meals you did not offer in the seven-day period. You must figure your ceiling price for a food item or meal which you did not offer during the seven-day period as follows:

(a) If you offered the same food item or meal at any time during the four weeks from March 7 to April 3, 1943, inclusive, and if you have adequate records of the prices you then charged, take as your ceiling price the highest price at which you offered that food item or meal during that four-week period.

(b) If you did not offer the food item or meal during the five-week period from March 7 to April 10, 1943, inclusive, or if you do not have adequate records of prices charged prior to the seven-day period you must proceed as follows:

(1) Determine the cost of the raw food which you use in preparing the new food item or meal.

(2) From the food items and meals for which you have already established ceiling prices choose a food item or meal which currently has a raw food cost equal to or less than the raw food cost of the new food item or meal.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(3) Take as your ceiling price for the new food item or meal your ceiling price for the food item or meal chosen for comparison. The food item or meal chosen for such comparison should be of the same class as the new food item or meal. If, however, you can find no food item or meal of the same class, you may use for comparison the most similar food item or meal of another class having a food cost equal to or less than your food cost for the new food item or meal. "Currently," as used herein means current on the day you figure your price.

(c) Once your ceiling price for a food item or meal has been fixed, it may not be changed except as provided in section 4.

SEC. 4. How you figure your prices for seasonal items. First, determine your ceiling price for a "seasonal food item" (defined in section 20 (e) in accordance with the appropriate rule of sections 2 and 3 of this regulation. Thereafter, this price must be varied in proportion to any seasonal change in the raw food cost of the item: Provided, That in no event shall the price be higher than the ceiling price as originally determined. If in the past it has been your practice to maintain one price throughout the season, you need not vary your ceiling price according to this rule: Provided, The ceiling price was based upon estimated average raw food cost of the item for the entire season.

SEC. 5. No ceiling price for any food item or meal to be higher than the highest ceiling price for a food item or meal of the same class in the base period. Under no circumstances are you permitted to charge a higher price for a food item or a meal than:

(a) Your highest ceiling price for food items or meals of the same class offered in the seven-day period; or

(b) The last price at which you sold the same food item or meal prior to April 4, 1943, provided you first file with the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board a menu or certified copy of a record showing the last price charged.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to seasonal dessert specialties specified in section 21A, Class 24a.

Example 1. If your highest ceiling price for any soup offered by you during the seven-day period is 15 cents, you may not offer any other soup at a higher price than 15 cents.

Example 2. You served sirloin steak in March at $1.50. You did not serve sirloin steak during the base period. The highest price at which you can now serve sirloin steak is $1.50.

SEC. 6. Substitution of food items in meals. If you have already determined your ceiling price for a meal you may substitute for any food item other than the entree (or main dish) in that meal any other food item of the same class without refiguring your ceiling price: Provided, The new food item costs you approximately as much and offers customers about the same value as the food item which it replaces. A meal becomes a "new" meal whenever the entree (or main dish) is changed or a new food item is substituted which costs you less or offers your customers lower value than the food item which it replaces, and you must therefore determine its ceiling price in accordance with the rules established by section 3.

SEC. 7. Prohibition against manipulation of meal offerings. You must not manipulate your meal offerings in a manner which will force your customers to pay more than they did during the seven-day period. Among other things you must not:

(a) Reduce the number of meals offered at prices equal to or below your "middle price" for meals of the same class without making a corresponding reduction in the number of meals offered at prices above that middle price. By "middle price" is meant the price most nearly at the mid-point of your price range for meals of the same class.

(b) Cease to offer at least as many different meals at or below the lowest price charged by you for meals of the same class on any day you select in the seven-day period, as you did on that day.

Example. If you select Friday, April 9, 1943, to determine the lowest price and the number of week-day meals offered at that price, and if on that day you offered six week-day dinners, of which two were priced at 85¢, and one each at 90¢, $1.00, $1.10, $1.15, you must continue to offer two week-day dinners at 85¢. Note that Sunday meals and week-day meals are meals of a different class.

SEC. 8. Evasion. (a) You must not evade or avoid the provisions of this regulation by any scheme or device whatsoever. Some, but not all, practices which will be regarded as evasive are:

(1) Dropping food items from meals, deteriorating quality or reducing quantity without making sufficient reduction in price.

(2) Withdrawing the offer, or increasing the price, of any meal ticket, weekly rate, or other arrangement by which customers may buy food items or meals at less than the prices they must pay when purchasing by item or meal;

(3) Increasing any cover, minimum, bread-and-butter, service, corkage, entertainment, check-room, parking or other special charges, or making such charges when they were not in effect in the seven-day period except that a cover or minimum charge in effect during the base period may be increased in accordance with customary practice, where it was the practice to vary the charge in accordance with the type of entertainment offered and the increase does not cause the charge to go above the highest charge made during the last twelve-month period;

(4) Requiring as a condition of sale of an item or meal the purchase of other items or meals when such condition was not in effect during the base period.

(5) Reducing the selection of meals offered at table d'hote prices when the food items which you customarily offered in such meals are being offered at a la carte prices which when added together total more than the table d'hote price for the complete meal or give your customers less value for their money.

Example 1. If you customarily offered fish on table d'hote dinners at $1.10, you may not now offer fish a la carte and refuse to offer it on a table d'hote dinner priced at $1.10.

Example 2. If you offered table d'hote dinners during the base period at 85¢ to $1.25 which included dessert and beverages, you may now offer the same off item excluding dessert and beverage at 65¢ to $1.05, providing you also offer dessert and beverage to be served with the meals at prices which do not total more than 20¢.

(b) You will not be considered evading the provisions of this regulation, however, if you do any of the following things, even though you did not do any of these things during the seven-day period:

(1) You may limit your customers to one pat of butter per meal.

(2) You may reduce the quantity, or eliminate altogether, condiments such as catsup, chili sauce, etc., which you may have customarily placed at the disposal of your customers and which now are, or may hereafter be, subject to any rationing order or rationing regulation of the Office of Price Administration.

(3) You may reduce the amount of sugar served with each cup of coffee or tea, or each bowl of cereal, fruit, or other similar food items with which sugar is served, to, but not less than one teaspoonful except that less than that may be given if required by your available supply.

You may not, however, make the curtailment authorized in the foregoing subparagraphs and furnish these curtailed items at an additional charge. For example, if during the seven-day period you furnished catsup, you may not now discontinue furnishing this item free, and at the same time offer to furnish it for an additional charge.

SEC. 9. Rules for new proprietors. (a) If you acquire another's business subsequent to the effective date of this regulation and continue the business in the same place you are subject to the same ceiling prices and duties as the previous proprietor. Prior to acquiring another's business, however, you may apply to the Office of Price Administration for permission to price under paragraph (b) of this section. If such permission is granted it may be subject to such conditions as the Office of Price Administration deems necessary.

(b) If you open an eating or drinking place after the seven-day period, you must fix ceiling prices in line with the ceiling prices of the nearest eating or drinking place of the same type as yours. If the ceiling prices so fixed are too high and threaten to have an inflationary effect on the price of food or drink, the Office of Price Administration may issue an order requiring you to reduce your ceiling prices. You are subject to the record requirements of section 12 and the posting requirements of section 13 immediately upon the opening of your place.

SEC. 10. Seasonal eating and drinking places.—(a) Exempt places. If you are the proprietor of a seasonal eating or drinking place that:

(1) Was not open during the base period from April 4, to 10, 1943;

(2) Received 90 percent or more of its total annual revenue during four calendar months of the year;

(3) Is located in an area for which no maximum rent regulation has been issued;

the prices for food items and meals offered by you in that place are exempt from control.

You must not regard this exemption as relieving you from the obligations imposed upon you by General Order 50, and you are still subject to the provisions of section 23 of this regulation. Pursuant to this latter section the director will by special order establish maximum prices for any seasonal eating or drinking place which takes undue advantage of the exemption.

(b) Non-exempt places. If you are the proprietor of a seasonal eating or drinking place which is not exempt under the terms of paragraph (a), you must figure your ceiling prices as follows:

(1) If the place was in operation during the base period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, use the rules set forth in sections 2, 3, and 4.

(2) If the place was not in operation during the base period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, but another place of the same type and within a reasonable distance was in operation during that period, fix your ceiling prices as a new proprietor under the terms of section 9 (b).

(3) If you cannot price under subparagraphs (1) or (2) above, you must apply for a price to the OPA District Office for the area in which your place is located. Your application must be filed ten days prior to the date you plan to commence operations and present the following information:

(i) Your name and address.

(ii) A brief description of your business and the manner of operation.

(iii) A list showing the prices you charged during the previous season as well as the prices you propose to charge during the coming season.

(iv) The date when you plan to commence operations.

(v) The names of two establishments similar to yours.

You may charge the prices listed if they are not disapproved by the Office of Price Administration prior to the date specified for the commencement of operations. That Office may at any time, after proper investigation and hearing, establish such maximum prices for your business as it deems proper.

SEC. 11. Taxes. If in the seven-day period you stated and collected the amount of any tax separately from the price you charged, you may continue to do so. You may also separately state and collect the amount of any new tax or of any increase in the amount of a previous tax on the sale of food or drink or on the business of selling food or drink, if the tax is measured by the number or price of items or meals.

SEC. 12. Records. (a) You must observe all the record-keeping and filing requirements of General Order No. 50 which are hereby made a part of this regulation by reference.

(b) Customary records. You must preserve all your existing records relating to your prices, costs and sales. You must also continue to maintain such records as you ordinarily kept. All such records shall be subject to examination by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Records of the seven-day period. You must make available for examination by any person during ordinary business hours a copy of each menu used by you in the seven-day period. If you did not use menus, you must make available for such examination a list of the highest prices you charged in the seven-day period.

(d) Filing by new proprietors. The proprietor of an eating or drinking place which was not open during the seven-day period (including newly-opened places) shall file menus or a price list in accordance with paragraph (a), (of General Order 50) except that (1) the filing shall be for the seven-day period beginning with the first Sunday that place is open after April 4, 1943, and (2) the filing shall be made within three weeks of such first Sunday.

(e) Future records. Beginning with the effective date of this regulation you must keep for examination by the Office of Price Administration, two each of the menus used by you each day. If you do not use menus you must prepare in duplicate, and preserve for such examination, a record of the prices charged by you each day, except that you need not record prices which are the same as, or less than, prices you previously recorded for the same items or meals. Proprietors who operate a number of eating or drinking places in the same city which have customarily been subject to central control may keep the records required by this paragraph for those places at the central office or the central offices of the principal place of business within the city.

SEC. 13. Posting. (a) Beginning April 1, 1944, each menu must have clearly and plainly written on or attached to it the following statement:

All prices listed are our ceiling prices or below. By the Office of Price Administration regulation, our ceilings are based on our highest prices from April 4, 1943, to April 10, 1943. Records of these prices are available for your inspection.

(b) If you made menus available to customers in the seven-day period, you shall continue to make them available.

(c) In addition to requirements in (a) and (b) you must post in a conspicuous place, preferably at or near the cash register, a sign or poster when furnished by the Office of Price Administration. You must enter after each meal or food item on this list your ceiling price for such meal or food item.

(d) You must also post at or near the place where beverage items are offered for sale a notice, which will be plainly visible to your customers, as follows: "Amounts which may be added to existing ceilings by Federal Revenue Act of 1943: Effective April 1, 1944."

(1) Straight or mixed drinks containing distilled spirits of 80 proof or more.

(i) One-half ounce and not more than one ounce of such spirits—2 cents.

(ii) More than one ounce but less than 1¾ ounces of such spirits—3 cents.

(iii) 1¾ ounces or more of such spirits—4 cents.

(2) Straight or mixed drinks containing one ounce or more distilled spirits of less than 80 proof—2 cents.

(3) Drinks of 2½ ounces or more still wines 14–21 per cent alcohol—1 cent.

(4) Drinks of 3 ounces or more of champagne, sparkling wine, carbonated wine or wine based cordials—3 cents.

SEC. 14. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one eating or drinking place, you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 15. Relation to other maximum price regulations. The provisions of this regulation do not supersede the General Maximum Price Regulation, the Shreveport, Louisiana, District Beer Order, or any other regulation affecting maximum prices for food items or meals sold by eating and drinking places.

SEC. 16. Geographical application. This Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5–11 applies to the following parishes: Bienville, Bossier, Caddo, Caldwell, Catahoula, Claiborne, Concordia, DeSoto, East Carroll, Franklin, Grant, Jackson, LaSalle, Lincoln, Madison, Morehouse, Natchitoches, Ouachita, Red River, Richland, Sabine, Tensas, Union, Webster, West Carroll and Winn.

SEC. 18. Exempt sales. Sales by the following eating or drinking places are specifically exempt from the provisions of this regulation:

(b) Hospitals, except for food items and meals served to persons other than the patients when a separate charge is made for such food items and meals.

If such houses sell to persons other than members or bona fide guests of members, such houses shall be considered for all sales an eating or drinking place within the meaning of this regulation. No such house shall be considered to be exempt within the meaning of this subparagraph, unless its members pay dues (more than merely nominal in amount), are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body, and it otherwise is operated as a fraternity or sorority house.

(g) Eating and drinking places operated by any school, college or university which is a non-profit institution (that is, where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual), which sells food items or meals on a non-profit or cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to students, faculty members and employees of such institution. For purposes of this subparagraph, persons receiving instruction on the premises of such institution by arrangement with the War Department or Department of the Navy shall be considered students.

(j) Bona fide private clubs insofar as such clubs sell only to members and bona fide guests of members. If such clubs sell to persons other than members or bona fide guests of members, such clubs shall be considered for all sales an eating or drinking place within the meaning of this regulation. No club shall be considered to be exempt as a private club, within the meaning of this subparagraph, unless its members pay dues (more than merely nominal in amount), are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body, and it otherwise is operated as a private club. No club organized after the effective date of this amendment shall be exempt unless and until it has filed a request for exemption with the Shreveport, Louisiana, District Office of the Office of Price Administration, furnishing such information as may be required, and has received communication from such office authorizing exemption as a private club.

SEC. 19. Adjustments. (a) The Office of Price Administration may adjust the maximum prices for any eating establishment under the following circumstances:

(1) The establishment is operating under such hardship as to cause a substantial threat to the continuance of its operation.

(2) It is determined with reasonable certainty that such discontinuance will result in serious inconvenience to consumers in that they will either be deprived of all restaurant service or will have to turn to other establishments that present substantial difficulties as to distance, hours of service, selection of meals or food items offered, capacity, or transportation.

(3) By reason of such discontinuance, the same meals or food items will cost the customers of the eating establishment as much or more than the proposed adjusted prices.

(b) If you are the proprietor of an eating establishment which satisfied the requirements specified above, you may apply for an adjustment of your maximum prices by submitting to your OPA District Office a statement setting forth:

(1) Your name and address.

(2) A description of your eating establishment including: type of service rendered (such as cafeteria, table service, etc.), classes of meals offered (such as breakfast, lunch and dinner), number of persons served per day during the most recent thirty-day period,[1] and such other information that may be useful in classifying your establishment.

(4) The names and addresses of the three nearest eating places of the same type as yours.

(5) A list showing your present maximum prices and your requested, adjusted prices.

(6) A profit and loss statement for your restaurant business for the most recent three-month accounting period, and a copy of your last income tax return if one was filed separately for your restaurant business.

(7) Any other information requested by the Shreveport, Louisiana, District Office Applications for adjustment under this section shall be acted upon by the Director of the Shreveport, Louisiana, District Office.

In determining the amount that may be granted to an applicant, the amount of unmounted tractor-implement tires held at the establishment must be deducted from the maximum allotment, and certificates may be issued for no more than the difference.

The District Director may refuse to authorize the allotment if granting it will defeat or impair the effectiveness or policy of this Ration Order No. 1A.

(3) An industrial-type tire or a Grade III tire may be delivered in exchange for a small tractor-implement tire certificate.

[RO 1A,[1] Amdt. 82]

TIRES, TUBES, RECAPPING AND CAMELBACK

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Ration Order No. 1A is amended in the following respects:

1. Sections 1315.607 (a) and (b) (1) are amended by inserting after the phrase "on OPA Form R–2 (Revised)" the phrase "or on OPA Form R–306".

2. Section 1315.607 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) When and how OPA Form R–306 is to be used. (1) No Board or District Director may issue a certificate on OPA Form R–306 until the Board or District Director has been authorized to do so by the Regional Administrator. A Regional Administrator may authorize Boards and District Directors in his region to issue certificates for tires on OPA Form R–306 whenever the Deputy Administrator in charge of rationing approves such action.

(2) A Board or District Director in issuing a certificate on OPA Form R–306, shall make the following changes on the form:

(i) Delete from the name of the Form "Sugar Purchase" and insert in its place "Tire".

(ii) Delete the phrase "pounds of sugar pursuant to Rationing Order No. 3 (Sugar Rationing Regulations) of, and at a price not to exceed the maximum price established by, the Office of Price Administration".

(iii) Enter at the top of the original of the form the phrase "Replenishment Portion".

(iv) Delete the words "by local rationing Board" appearing at the bottom of the duplicate portion of the form and insert in their place the words "dealer or manufacturer".

3. Section 1315.609 (b) is amended by deleting the phrase "Part B" wherever it occurs and inserting in its place the phrase "the replenishment portion".

4. Section 1315.609 (c) is amended to read as follows:

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

it shall mark the replenishment portion thereof "void for replenishment".

5. Section 1315.610 (b) is amended by adding after the second sentence a new sentence as follows: "Serial numbers appearing in the upper right hand corner of a certificate on OPA Form R–306 designate the tires to be turned in to a dealer or manufacturer pursuant to this paragraph."

6. Section 1315.610 (c) is amended to read as follows:

(c) Signing of certificates. The applicant or his agent shall sign all parts of a certificate on OPA Form R–2 in accordance with the instructions thereon and all parts of a certificate on OPA Form R–306 on the back thereof, prior to acquiring the tires specified on the certificate. The same person shall sign all parts of the certificate where the signature of the certificate holder is required. No member or employee of the Board issuing the certificate, no tire inspector and no dealer or manufacturer shall act as agent of the applicant in signing these certificates. However, in the case of purchase by mail, the dealer or manufacturer, on behalf of the certificate holder, may sign Parts B and D of OPA Form R–2 if the certificate holder has signed Part A, and may sign the duplicate and triplicate copies of OPA Form R–306 if the certificate holder has signed the original.

7. The last sentence of § 1315.611 (a) is deleted and the following sentence is added at the end of the paragraph: "The duplicate portion of a certificate for tires on OPA Form R–306 may be used for the same purpose as Part A of OPA Form R–2."

8. Section 1315.611 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Certificate to be completed. No dealer, warehouseman or manufacturer shall transfer tires in exchange for a certificate on OPA Form R–2 until both he and the certificate holder have signed and executed the certificate in accordance with the instructions thereon.

No dealer, warehouseman or manufacturer shall transfer tires in exchange for a certificate on OPA Form R–306 until the certificate holder has signed it pursuant to § 1315.610 (c); the serial numbers of the tires transferred have been entered below the certificate holder's signature on each part of the certificate; and the name, address, and signature of the dealer, warehouseman or manufacturer and the date of transfer are entered below the serial numbers of the tires transferred.

9. Section 1315.804 (a) is amended by deleting the parenthetical phrase "Parts B" and by substituting the phrase "replenishment portions" for the phrase "Parts B" appearing in the third and fourth sentences.

10. Section 1315.804 (c) (2) is amended to read as follows:

(2) Restrictions on transfer of replenishment portions. No dealer or manufacturer shall transfer tires in exchange for the replenishment portion of OPA Form R–2, OPA Form R–46 or OPA Form R–306, unless the name and address of the transferor of the replenishment portion and the date of its transfer have been written thereon.

11. Section 1315.804 (c) (3) is amended by deleting the parenthetical phrase "Part B" and by substituting the phrase "replenishment portion" for the phrase "Part B" appearing in the heading of the replenishment table.

Such replenishment portions shall not be transferred under the authorization unless the name and address of the transferor of the replenishment portions and the date of the transfer have been written thereon.

(2) Application to transfer replenishment portions under subparagraph (1) shall be made by the transferor and transferee jointly and shall state the address of the establishment, the number of replenishment portions to be transferred and the number, type and grade of tires represented thereby. The application shall include a separate statement of the transferee that he intends to sell tires from that establishment.

(3) An authorization granted pursuant to this paragraph shall not act as a waiver of any suspension order issued against either the transferor or transferee or as a condonation of any violation of this Order committed by the transferor or transferee.

(4) A dealer who is discontinuing the sale of tires from an establishment and who has not been authorized to transfer his stock of replenishment portions of certificates or receipts at the establishment shall surrender them to the District Director serving the area in which the establishment is located. The District Director shall cancel the replenishment portions and issue a receipt therefor to the dealer who surrendered them.

13. Section 1315.807 (e) is amended by substituting the phrase "replenishment portions" for the phrase "Parts B" appearing in the headnote and by deleting the parenthetical phrase "Parts B".

The name of the first manufacturer to whom the replenishment portion is surrendered shall be inserted in the blank and the replenishment portion shall be used for replenishment only by such manufacturer. Parts of certificates good for replenishment but which are not used by the manufacturer for that purpose must be retained by the manufacturer as his record.

16. Section 1315.1003 (a) (4) is amended by adding after the phrase "OPA Form R–12 (Revised)" the phrase "and the triplicate portion of OPA Form R–306".

This amendment shall become effective August 2, 1944.

ARTICLE I—EXPLANATION OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Purpose of the regulation; commodities and types of sales covered; exempt sales; and geographical applicability—(a) Purpose of the regulation. The purpose of this regulation is to establish maximum prices for certain sales of dry edible beans and such other dry food commodities as may be added. These will be referred to as "listed commodities."

(b) Commodities covered. This regulation covers all dry edible beans, and all dry peas both whole and split.

[Paragraph (b) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 795, effective 1–26–44]

(c) Types of sales covered. This regulation covers all sales of the listed commodities, except sales by wholesalers and retailers. "Wholesaler" and "retailer" mean the person respectively referred to as wholesalers and retailers, in Maximum Price Regulations Nos. 421,[2] 422,[3] and 423.[4]

(d) Exempt sales. The following sales are exempt from the provisions of this regulation:

(1) Sales by growers to processors or dealers.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 3, effective 8–3–44]

(2) Sales of "seed stock" for planting purposes;

(3) Export sales (see Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation).[5]

(4) [Deleted]

[Subparagraph (4) deleted by Am. 3, effective 8–3–44]

(e) Geographical applicability. This regulation applies to the 48 states of the United States and the District of Columbia.

SEC. 2. Definitions. (a) As used in this regulation the term:

[Paragraph deleted by Am. 3, effective 8–3–44]

"Country shipping point" means the first place where the listed commodity being priced is received from the grower and, having been split or screened, assorted, hand-picked, polished or otherwise cleaned is packed and stored in an elevator or other receiving station, or otherwise made ready for shipment from the producing area;

"Delivery" means (1) physical delivery of the goods to the buyer; (2) delivery of the goods to a carrier not owned or controlled by the seller for transmittal to the buyer; or (3) segregation and earmarking of the goods for the account of the buyer, at his request;

"Seed stock" means any of the listed commodities which are used for planting, and which comply with the Federal Seed Act or state seed acts, particularly with respect to labeling as to kind and variety, percentage of germination, and date of germination, and, if below Federal standard as set forth in the Federal Seed Act of 1939, are plainly marked "below standard."

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 3, effective 8–3–44]

"Process" means to split or screen, assort, hand-pick, polish, clean or otherwise prepare the listed commodity for shipment. In this industry the term "process" is used only in the limited sense set forth. It does not include operations such as cooking or otherwise preparing the goods for human consumption.

"Processor" means a person, other than a dealer, who owns the kind and variety (or class) of listed commodity being priced and processes it or causes it to be processed.

"Dealer" means a person (including a growers' cooperative association engaged in the business of processing and distributing commodities produced by its members) who (1) actively engages in the business of selling the kind and variety (or class) of listed commodity being priced to destination distributors, wholesalers, canners or freezers; (2) who owns the kind and variety (or class) of listed commodity being priced which he has caused to be processed or which he has purchased from a grower who caused it to be processed; (3) is registered and has reported under section 24.2 of Revised Ration Order No. 13 issued by the Office of Price Administration, if applicable; and (4) is licensed as a dealer by the state in which he purchased the kind and variety (or class) of the listed commodities, if that state requires such licensing. A dealer who also performs any or all of the functions of a processor or a destination distributor does not thereby become a processor or a destination distributor.

"Destination distributor" means a person, other than a processor or dealer, who is located in the terminal market or marketing area at the destination of carlot or trucklot shipments and who customarily purchases from dealers for his own account the kind and variety (or class) of the listed commodity and resells to wholesalers.

"Carlot" or "trucklot" means any quantity of the listed commodity which is contained in a car or truck and which takes the carlot or trucklot rate under the applicable tariff.

"Item" means any kind, variety (or class) and grade of the listed commodity.

"Sales ex-warehouse" means sales from a warehouse (1) which is not owned or controlled by any of the seller's customers; (2) into which the seller has actually received and stored the goods, and (3) which is located in a terminal market not at a country shipping point. No sale from a transit warehouse is a "sale ex-warehouse" unless the outbound transit privileges have been cancelled as to the particular goods being sold.

"Base price" means the sum of the processor's maximum price, f. o. b. country shipping point, for the item being priced (without the 10 cent deduction named for dry edible beans produced in the State of California) plus the allowable cost of transportation (See section 5) and plus the applicable packaging allowance (See section 6).

[Above 8 paragraphs added by Am. 3, effective 8–3–44]

[1] Statements of Considerations are also issued simultaneously with amendments. Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Delivered sales. (1) For sales on a delivered basis, the processor's maximum price in each case is the maximum price, f.o.b. country shipping point, for the item plus the cost of transportation.

(2) For sales by a processor delivered from the farm or country shipping point in his own truck to ultimate consumers or to retail stores where sales are made to ultimate consumers, the maximum price in each case is the delivered price for the item plus 30 cents per cwt. However, for any sale to one purchaser in a quantity of more than 1000 pounds of a listed commodity, the maximum price is the delivered price only.

"Ultimate consumer" means a person who buys for direct consumption, but the term does not include agencies of the United States or commercial, industrial or institutional users such as canners, hotels, restaurants, etc.

(c) Sales to the United States or certain other purchasers. For sales of those varieties of dry edible beans or peas designated in Commodity Credit Corporation Instructions of June 30, 1943,[1] or for which "support prices" are announced by the War Food Administration, made by processors to dealers, to "authorized purchasers" or to other agencies designated in the War Food Order No. 45, as amended, the maximum price in each case is either (1) the "support price" for the item plus the cost of transportation, plus any applicable packaging allowance, and plus storage or carrying charges permitted by section 8 (a) of this regulation, but without other markups, or (2) the maximum price for the item otherwise established by this regulation, whichever is higher.

Exception: In sales of dry edible beans produced in the state of California made to dealers, 10 cents per cwt. shall be deducted from the "support price" for the item in figuring the price under (1) above.

[Sec. 3 amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 795, effective 1-26-44 and Am. 3, effective 8-3-44]

SEC. 4. Maximum prices for all other sales.—(a) Explanation and prohibition against sharing of markups. This section establishes maximum prices for all sales of the listed commodities except those covered by sections 3 and 7. No seller shall share in or receive any part of the markup established by this regulation for another type of seller.

(b) Sales by dealers to the United States or certain other purchasers. For sales of those varieties of dry edible beans or peas designated in Commodity Credit Corporation Instructions of June 30, 1943, or for which "support prices" are announced by the War Food Administration, which are made by dealers to other dealers, to agencies of the United States, to "authorized purchasers" or to other agencies designated in War Food Order No. 45, as amended, the maximum price in each case is either (1) the "support price" for the item, plus the cost of transportation, plus any applicable packaging allowance, and plus storage or carrying charges permitted by section 8 (a) of this regulation, but without other markups, or (2) the maximum price for the item otherwise established by this regulation, whichever is higher.

Exception: In figuring the price under (1) above, for sales of dry edible beans, the dealer may add 10 cents per cwt. to the support price for the item if he is located in Michigan, or 15 cents per cwt. if he is located elsewhere, in any of the following cases: (1) In sales to another dealer; (2) In sales of goods which have been "set aside" pursuant to War Food Order No. 45, as amended; (3) In sales of goods which have been specifically ordered by any of the persons mentioned in paragraph (b) of this section.

In all such sales to dealers, the seller and buyer shall exchange and retain records showing their respective names and addresses, the varieties, quality and crop-year designation of the item sold, the selling price; and their respective registration numbers issued by the Food Rationing Division of the Office of Price Administration.

(c) All other sales by dealers. With respect to dry edible beans the dealer's maximum price for all other sales is the base price plus 10¢ per cwt. if he is located in Michigan or plus 15¢ per cwt. if he is located elsewhere, and plus 15¢ per cwt. for sales ex-warehouse in any quantity. With respect to dry peas the dealer's maximum price for all other sales is the base price only, plus 15¢ per cwt. for sales ex-warehouse in any quantity. In any sale of dry edible beans or dry peas by a dealer to a wholesaler made through a broker located in the terminal market or marketing area at the destination of carload or truckload shipments, the dealer may also add 10¢ per cwt. or the amount of the broker's maximum charge under Maximum Price Regulation 35, whichever is lower.

(d) Sales by destination distributors. A destination distributor's maximum price in each case is his supplier's maximum price for the item (not to exceed a dealer's maximum price for sales other than sales ex-warehouse) plus 25¢ per cwt. for sales ex-warehouse in any quantity, or plus 10¢ per cwt. for all other sales, including sales of carlots or truckloads and sales ex-car.

(e) Special provisions for sales ex-warehouse in New York City. In the case of sales ex-warehouse made by a dealer or destination distributor from a warehouse located in New York City to which the particular goods being sold were hauled from a railroad terminal, the seller may add the actual cost of such hauling not to exceed 15 cents per cwt.

(f) All sales not otherwise provided for. For all sales not otherwise provided for in this regulation the maximum price in each case is the supplier's maximum price plus incoming freight.

[Sec. 4 amended by Am. 3, effective 8-3-44]

SEC. 5. Cost of transportation. The cost of transportation which shall be added to the f. o. b. country shipping point price in arriving at the "base price" shall be determined as follows:

(a) If shipment is by a common carrier whose maximum rates and charges are regulated by the Interstate Commerce Commission or other Federal or State regulatory body, the cost of transportation which shall be added is the amount actually paid to the carrier in conformity with its lawfully established rates or charges, including the transportation tax imposed by any applicable revenue act.

If a car is stopped in transit to complete loading, 5 cents per cwt. may be added to the cost of transportation, and 5 cents per cwt. may also be added to the cost of transportation if a car is stopped in transit for partial unloading. The carrier's charges for each such stop may also be added, but charges for demurrage, out-of-line hauling, or back-haul may not be added.

If the goods are assorted in transit in compliance with the provisions of L. E. Kipp's I. C. C. No. A 3481 "Transit Rules and Regulations on Dried Beans, Dried Lentils or Dried Peas, Carlots", or such other tariff as may be applicable to the transit privileges, and the goods are actually warehoused, the carriers' charges for extending the transit privilege, together with 15 cents per cwt., may be added to the cost of transportation. This addition shall not be made on outbound carlots which contain more than 75 per cent of any one variety (or class) of the particular goods nor on any portion of the shipment on which "transit" is not used.

The allowances for stopping in transit to complete loading, for partial unloading and for assorting in transit are cumulative but not more than one of each of such allowances may be added regardless of the number of times the car is stopped or is assorted in transit.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 3, effective 8-3-44]

(b) If shipment is by a carrier for hire other than a common carrier (such as a contract carrier) the cost of transportation which shall be added is the amount actually paid to the carrier, but not in excess of the maximum charges as determined by the General Maximum Price Regulation, amendments and supplementary regulations thereto, or such other regulations of the Office of Price Administration as may be applicable to the services of the carrier at the time of movement. Charges for accessorial services equivalent to rail services allowable under paragraph (a), above, shall be included if such services are actually performed. The amount of the transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall be included.

(c) If shipment is by a means of transportation not included in (a) and (b) above (such as an unregulated common carrier or a private carrier), the cost of transportation which shall be added is the amount actually paid for transportation, but not in excess of an amount figured by applying to the actual weight of the shipment the lowest published rail carload rate between the rail stations nearest to the points of origin and destination and adding rail charges for the accessorial services allowed under paragraph (a) above, if equivalent services are performed. If the shipment is less than 20,000 pounds, an additional charge of 2 cents per 100 pounds may be made, provided that the total charge for shipment of less than 20,000 pounds shall not exceed the charge for a shipment of 20,000 pounds. In applying rail accessorial charges which are stated in amounts per car, the per-car charge may be made against a shipment of 20,000 pounds or more moving in a single conveyance, but only the proportion of such per-car charge which the weight of the shipment bears to 20,000 pounds may be made against a shipment of less than 20,000 pounds. The amount of transportation tax imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 may be included, if the shipment is subject to that tax.

SEC. 6. Packaging allowances. (a) For listed commodities packed in the following size containers, the following amounts shall be included in the seller's maximum price:

	Per cwt.
Up to and including 1 lb	$2.05
Over 1 lb. up to and including 2 lbs	1.65
Over 2 lbs. up to and including 3 lbs	1.35
Over 3 lbs. up to and including 5 lbs	1.10
Over 5 lbs. up to and including 10 lbs	.50
Over 10 lbs. up to and including 25 lbs	.40
Over 25 lbs. up to and including 50 lbs	.20
Over 50 lbs	Nothing

Each amount includes all allowances for outside or extra containers.

(b) In sales to agencies of the United States where containers other than standard commercial containers are specified by the buyer, the packaging allowance is the sum of the cost of the materials and labor required plus 8 cents per cwt.

[Sec. 6 amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 1325, effective 1-31-44 and Am. 3, effective 8-3-44]

SEC. 7. Imported dry food commodities. The maximum price, f. o. b. port of entry, for an item imported from any country shall be the maximum price under section 3 (a) of this regulation for the most closely similar domestic item plus an amount equal to the lowest railroad freight rate from the closest country shipping point, from which domestic item is normally shipped, to the port of entry. Applicable packaging allowances and cost of transportation may be added. The total price so figured shall also be the base price for the item.

[Sec. 7 amended by Am. 3, effective 8-3-44]

SEC. 8. Miscellaneous provisions affecting prices—(a) Storage. In the case of sales to any agency of the United States, including those sales mentioned in sections 3 (c) and 4 (b), charges for storage furnished by the seller may be added in any case where a delay is occasioned by the buyer's failure to furnish adequate shipping instructions within a time reasonably sufficient to permit shipment on the appointed day named in the contract of sale. In such cases, charges may be added by the seller to the maximum prices at the rate of ⅛ of one cent per cwt. for each day's delay in shipment, beginning with the 31st day after the date of sale or the delivery date or end of the period specified in the contract of sale, whichever is later.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 3, effective 8-3-44]

(b) Position of brokers. In accordance with existing trade customs, every broker shall be deemed to be the agent of the seller, and not of the buyer. In each case, any amount paid by the buyer to the broker, plus the amount paid by the buyer to the seller shall not exceed the seller's maximum price plus allowable transportation paid by the broker or the seller. The term "broker" includes a "finder".

However, this rule does not apply to the "country buyer" in California, who is the agent of the dealer. His compensation may be paid by the dealer, but the amount shall not be added to the dealer's maximum price.

[Above paragraph added by Am. 3, effective 8-3-44]

(c) Fractions of cents. If any maximum price figured under this regulation includes a fraction of a cent, the seller shall adjust the price to the nearest fractional unit (like 1 cent, ½ cent, ¼ cent, etc.) in which he has customarily quoted prices for the item.

(d) Basing point prices. Any dealer may sell the listed commodities on a basing point basis, but if he does, he must sell all the commodities handled by him on that basis, and no such price shall be in excess of the maximum price otherwise established by this regulation.

[Paragraph (d) amended by Am. 3, effective 8-3-44]

(e) Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action to be taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator or by any official of the Office of Price Administration having the authority to act on such request for change in price, or to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated. The authorization will be given by order.

However, any person who claims that he will be substantially injured by showing this statement to another person may file it with the appropriate field office of the Office of Price Administration. [Sec. 12 amended by Am. 3 effective 8-3-44]

SEC. 13. Compliance with this regulation—(a) No selling or buying above maximum prices. On and after the effective date of this regulation, regardless of any contract or obligation, no person shall sell or deliver, or buy or receive in the course of trade or business any of the listed items at prices higher than the maximum prices established by this regulation. However, prices lower than the maximum prices may be charged and paid.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 3, effective 8-3-44]

(b) Evasion. No person shall evade a maximum price, directly or indirectly, whether by commission, service, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege; by tying-agreement or other trade understanding; by any change of style of pack; by a business practice relating to grading, labeling or packaging; or in any other way.

[Rev. RO 3,[2] Amdt. 37]

SUGAR

A rationale accompanying this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Revised Ration Order 3 is amended in the following respect:

Section 1407.78 is added to read as follows:

§ 1407.78 Adjustment for lost, damaged, destroyed, or stolen sugar—(a) How to apply. A consumer whose sugar was lost, damaged, destroyed or stolen, or was taken away by legal process or order of a court, may apply for a certificate in an amount needed to replace such sugar. However, a consumer may apply for a certificate to replace such sugar only if he has given up valid evidences to acquire the sugar which is lost, damaged, destroyed, stolen or taken away. The application must be made on OPA Form R-315 to the Board for the place where he lives. The application must state:

(1) The amount of sugar he wishes to replace;

(2) The way in which the sugar was lost, damaged, destroyed, stolen or taken away; and

(3) That he gave up valid evidences for the sugar which was lost, damaged, destroyed, stolen, or taken away.

(b) Action on application. If the Board finds the statement made in the application to be true, it will issue to him a certificate in the amount needed to replace the sugar.

(c) Recovery of lost or stolen sugar or sugar that was taken away. If the applicant gets back any of the sugar covered by his application, he must give up to the Board, for cancellation, evidences equal in weight value to the amount of sugar he recovers.

This amendment shall become effective August 2, 1944.

FOOD AND DRINK SOLD FOR IMMEDIATE CONSUMPTION IN ARKANSAS DISTRICT

Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-10 is redesignated as Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-10, and is revised and amended to read as follows:

In the judgment of the Arkansas District Director the prices of food and beverages sold for immediate consumption in the State of Arkansas have risen and are threatening further to rise to an extent and in a manner inconsistent with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

In the judgment of the Arkansas District Director, the maximum prices established by this regulation are generally fair and equitable and are necessary to check inflation and to effectuate the purposes of the Act. So far as practicable, the Arkansas District Director gave due consideration to prices prevailing between October 1 and 15, 1941, and consulted with the representatives of those affected by this regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation is issued simultaneously herewith.*

Therefore, in accordance with the direction of the President to take action which will stabilize prices affecting the cost of living, and under the authority therewith delegated by the President pursuant to the Act of Congress approved October 2, 1942, entitled "An Act to Aid in Stabilizing the Cost of Living," 77th Congress, second session, and under the authority of Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, the Arkansas District Director hereby issues this Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-10, establishing as maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption in the State of Arkansas the prices prevailing therefor during the seven-day period beginning April 4, 1943, and ending April 10, 1943.

§ 1448.410 Maximum prices for food and drink sold for immediate consumption. Under the authority vested in the Arkansas District Director by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Order 9250, Executive Order 9328, and General Order No. 50 issued by the Office of Price Administration, and Region V Delegation of Authority No. 48 and other authority, Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5-10, (Food and Drink Sold for Immediate Consumption) which is annexed hereto and made a part hereof, is issued.

AUTHORITY § 1448.410 issued under 56 Stat. 23, 765; Pub. Law 151, 78th Cong.; E.O. 9250, 7 F.R. 7871; E.O. 9328, 8 F.R. 4681; General Order No. 50, 8 F.R. 4808.

SECTION 1. Sales at higher than ceiling prices prohibited. If you own or operate a restaurant, hotel, cafe, bar, delicatessen, soda fountain, boarding house, or any other eating or drinking place, you must not offer or sell any "food item" (including any beverage, except those domestic malt beverages covered by Order No. G-1 under General Order No. 50) or "meal" at a price higher than the ceiling price which you figure according to the directions in the next two sections (sections 2 and 3). You may, of course, sell at lower than ceiling prices.

SEC. 2. How you figure ceiling prices for food items and meals you offered in the seven-day period from April 4, 1943, to April 10, 1943. Your ceiling price for any food item or meal which you offered in the seven-day period beginning Sunday, April 4, 1943, and ending Saturday, April 10, 1943, is the highest price at which you offered the same food item or meal in that seven-day-period.

SEC. 3. How you figure ceiling prices for food items and meals you did not offer in the seven-day period. You must figure your ceiling price for a food item or meal which you did not offer during the seven-day period as follows:

(a) If you offered the same food item or meal at any time during the four weeks from March 7 to April 3, 1943, inclusive, and if you have adequate records of the prices you then charged, take as your ceiling price the highest price at which you offered that food item or meal during that four-week period.

(b) If you did not offer the food item or meal during the five-week period from March 7 to April 10, 1943, inclusive, or if you do not have adequate records of prices charged prior to the seven-day period you must proceed as follows:

(1) Determine the cost of the raw food which you use in preparing the new food item or meal.

(2) From the food items and meals for which you have already established ceiling prices, choose a food item or meal which currently has a raw food cost equal to or less than the raw food cost of the new food item or meal.

(3) Take as your ceiling price for the new food item or meal your ceiling price for the food item or meal chosen for comparison. The food item or meal chosen for such comparison should be of the same class as the new food item or meal. If, however, you can find no food item or meal of the same class, you may use for comparison the most similar food item or meal of another class having a food cost equal to or less than your food cost for the new food item or meal. "Currently" as used herein means current on the day you figure your price.

(c) Once your ceiling price for a food item or meal has been fixed, it may not be changed except as provided in section 4.

SEC. 4. How you figure you. prices for seasonal items. First, determine your ceiling price for a "seasonal food item" (defined in section 20 (e)) in accordance with the appropriate rule of sections 2 and 3 of this regulation. Thereafter, this price must be varied in proportion to any seasonal change in the raw food cost of the item: Provided, That in no event shall the price be higher than the ceiling price as originally determined. If in the past it has been your practice to maintain one price throughout the season, you need not vary your ceiling price according to this rule provided the ceiling price is based upon estimated average raw food cost of the item for the entire season.

SEC. 5. No ceiling price for any food item or meal to be higher than the highest ceiling price for a food item or meal of the same class in the base period. Under no circumstances are you permitted to charge a higher price for a food item or a meal than:

(a) Your highest ceiling price for food items or meals of the same class offered in the seven-day period; or

(b) The last price at which you sold the same food item or meal prior to April 4, 1943, provided you first file with the appropriate War Price and Rationing Board a menu or certified copy of a record showing the last price charged.

The provisions of this section shall not apply to seasonal dessert specialties specified in section 21 (a), Class 24a.

Example 1. If your highest ceiling price for any soup offered by you during the seven-day period is 10 cents, you may not offer any other soup at a higher price than 10 cents.

Example 2. You served sirloin steak in March at $1.00. You did not serve sirloin steak during the base period. The highest price at which you can now serve sirloin steak is $1.00.

SEC. 6. Substitution of food items in meals. If you have already determined your ceiling price for a meal you may substitute for any food item other than the entree (or main dish) in that meal any other food item of the same class without refiguring your ceiling price, provided the new food item costs you approximtely as much and offers customers about the same value as the food item which it replaces. A meal becomes a "new" meal whenever the entree (or main dish) is changed or a new food item is substituted which costs you less or offers your customers lower value than the food item which it replaces, and you must therefore determine its ceiling price in accordance with the rules established by section 3.

SEC. 7. Prohibition against manipulation of meal offerings. You must not manipulate your meal offerings in a manner which will force your customers to pay more than they did during the seven-day period. Among other things you must not:

(a) Reduce the number of meals offered at prices equal to or below your "middle price" for meals of the same class without making a corresponding reduction in the number of meals offered at prices above that middle price. By "middle price" is meant the price most nearly at the mid-point of your price range for meals of the same class.

(b) Cease to offer at least as many different meals at or below the lowest price charged by you for meals of the same class on any day you select in the seven-day period, as you did on that day.

Example. If you select Friday, April 9, 1943, to determine the lowest price and the number of week-day meals offered at that price, and if on that day you offered six week-day dinners, of which two were priced at 35¢, and one each at 50¢, 75¢, 90¢, and $1.00, you must continue to offer two week-day dinners at 35¢. Note that Sunday meals and week-day meals are meals of a different class.

SEC. 8. Evasion. (a) You must not evade or avoid the provisions of this regulation by any scheme or device whatsoever. Some, but not all, practices which will be regarded as evasive are:

(1) Dropping food items from meals, deteriorating quality or reducing quantity without making sufficient reduction in price so as to maintain the raw food cost ratio at least equal to such ratio prior to the deterioration or reduction;

(2) Withdrawing the offer, or increasing the price, of any meal ticket, weekly rate, or other arrangement by which customers may buy food items or meals at less than the prices they must pay when purchasing by item or meal;

(3) Increasing any cover, minimum, bread-and-butter, service, corkage, entertainment, check-room, parking or other special charges, or making such charges when they were not in effect in the seven-day period except that a cover or minimum charge in effect during the base period may be increased in accordance with customary practice, where it was the practice to vary the charge in accordance with the type of entertainment offered and the increase does not cause the charge to go above the highest charge made during the last twelve month period;

(4) Requiring as a condition of sale of an item or meal the purchase of other items or meals when such condition was not in effect during the base period, except that you may refuse to sell coffee unless a customer also purchases another food item;

(5) Reducing the selection of meals offered at table d'hote prices when the food items which you customarily offered in such meals are being offered at a la carte prices which when added together total more than the table d'hote price for the complete meal or give your customers less value for their money.

Example 1. If you customarily offered fish on table d'hote dinners at 75¢, you may not now offer fish a la carte and refuse to offer it on a table d'hote dinner priced at 75¢.

Example 2. If you offered table d'hote dinners during the base period at 65¢ to $1.05 which included dessert and beverage, you may now offer the same food item excluding dessert and beverage at 45¢ to 85¢, providing you also offer dessert and beverage to be served with the meals at prices which do not total more than 20¢.

(b) You will not be considered evading the provisions of this regulation, however, if you do any of the following things, even though you did not do any of these things during the seven-day period:

(1) You may limit your customers to one cup of coffee per meal.

(2) You may limit your customers to one pat of butter per meal.

(3) You may reduce the quantity, or eliminate altogether, condiments (such as catsup, chili sauce, etc.) which you may have customarily placed at the disposal of your customers and which now are, or may hereafter be, subject to any rationing order or rationing regulation of the Office of Price Administration.

(4) You may reduce the amount of sugar served with each cup of coffee or tea, or each bowl of cereal, fruit, or other similar food items with which sugar is served, to, but not less than, one teaspoonful, except that less may be given if required by your available supply. You may not, however, make the curtailment authorized in the foregoing subparagraphs and furnish these curtailed items at an additional charge. For example, if during the seven-day period you furnished catchup, you may not now discontinue furnishing this item free, and at the same time offer to furnish it for an additional charge.

SEC. 9. Rules for new proprietors. (a) If you acquire another's business subsequent to the effective date of this regulation and continue the business in the same place, you are subject to the same ceiling prices and duties as the previous proprietor. Prior to acquiring another's business, however, you may apply to the District Office of Price Administration for permission to price under paragraph (b) of this section. If such permission is granted it may be subject to such conditions as the Office of Price Administration deems necessary.

(b) If you open an eating or drinking place after the seven-day period, you must fix ceiling prices in line with the ceiling prices of the nearest eating or drinking place of the same type as yours. If the ceiling prices so fixed are too high and threaten to have an inflationary effect on the price of food or drink, the District Office of Price Administration may issue an order requiring you to reduce your ceiling prices. You are subject to the record requirements of section 12 and the posting requirements of section 13 immediately upon the opening of your place.

SEC. 10. Seasonal eating and drinking places—(a) Exempt places. If you are the proprietor of a seasonal eating or drinking place that

(1) Was not open during the base period from April 4 to 10, 1943;

(2) Receives 90 per cent or more of its total annual revenue during four calendar months of the year;

(3) Is located in an area for which no maximum rent regulation has been issued;

the prices for food items and meals offered by you in that place are exempt from control.

You must not regard this exemption as relieving you from the obligations imposed upon you by General Order No. 50 and you are still subject to the provisions of section 22 of this regulation. Pursuant to this latter section the administrator will by special order establish maximum prices for any seasonal eating or drinking place which takes undue advantage of the exemption.

(b) Non-exempt places. If you are the proprietor of a seasonal eating or drinking place which is not exempt under the terms of paragraph (a), you must figure your ceiling prices as follows:

(1) If the place was in operation during the base period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, use the rules set forth in sections 2, 3 and 4.

(2) If the place was not in operation during the base period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, but another place of the same type and within a reasonable distance was in operation during that period, fix your ceiling prices as a new proprietor under the terms of section 9 (b).

(3) If you cannot price under subparagraphs (1) and (2) above, you must apply for a price to the OPA District Office for the area in which your place is located. Your application must be filed ten days prior to the date you plan to commence operations and present the following information:

(i) Your name and address.

(ii) A brief description of your business and the manner of operation.

(iii) A list showing the prices you charged during the previous season as well as the prices you propose to charge during the coming season.

(iv) The date when you plan to commence operations.

(v) The names of two establishments similar to yours.

You may charge the prices listed if they are not disapproved by the Office of Price Administration prior to the date specified for the commencement of operations. That Office may at any time, after proper investigation and hearing, establish such maximum prices for your business as it deems proper.

SEC. 11. Taxes. If in the seven-day period you stated and collected the amount of any tax separately from the price you charged, you may continue to do so. You may also separately state and collect the amount of any new tax or of any increase in the amount of a previous tax on the sale of food or drink or on the business of selling food or drink, if the tax is measured by the number or price of items or meals.

SEC. 12. Records. (a) You must observe all the record keeping and filing requirements of General Order No. 50 which are hereby made a part of this regulation by reference.

(b) Customary records. You must preserve all your existing records relating to your prices, costs and sales. You must also continue to maintain such records as you ordinarily kept. All such records shall be subject to examination by the Office of Price Administration.

(c) Records of the seven-day period. You must make available for examination by any person during ordinary business hours a copy of each menu used by you in the seven-day period. If you did not use menus, you must make available for such examination a list of the highest prices you charged in the seven-day period.

(d) Filing by new proprietors. The proprietor of an eating or drinking place which was not open during the seven-day period (including newly-opened places) shall file menus or a price list in accordance with paragraph (a), (of General Order 50) except that (1) the filing shall be for the seven-day period beginning with the first Sunday that place is open after April 4, 1943, and (2) the filing shall be made within three weeks of such first Sunday.

(e) Future records. Beginning with the effective date of this regulation, you must keep, for examination by the Office of Price Administration, two each of the menus used by you each day. If you do not use menus you must prepare in duplicate, and preserve for such examination, a record of the prices charged by you each day, except that you need not record prices which are the same as, or less than, prices you previously recorded for the same item or meals. Proprietors who operate a number of eating or drinking places in the same city which have customarily been subject to central control may keep the records required by this paragraph for these places at a central office or the principal place of business within the city.

SEC. 13. Posting. (a) Beginning July 8, 1943, in Pulaski County and beginning October 18, 1943, in the remainder of the State of Arkansas, each menu must have clearly written on or attached to it the following statement:

> All prices listed are our ceiling prices or below. By Office of Price Administration regluation, our ceiling prices are based on our highest prices from April 4, 1943, to April 10, 1943. Records of these prices are available for your inspection.

(b) If you made menus available in the seven-day period, you shall continue to make them available.

(c) Cafeterias must post the selling prices for all items at or near the place where the item is offered for sale.

(d) In addition to the requirements in (a), (b), and (c), you must post in a conspicuous place, preferably at or near the cash register, a sign or poster when furnished by the Office of Price Administration. You must enter after each meal or food item on this list your ceiling price for such meal or food item.

SEC. 14. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one eating or drinking place, you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 15. Relation to other maximum price regulations. The provisions of this regulation shall supersede other regulations, including Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 5–10 and the General Maximum Price Regulation, now or hereafter issued by the Office of Price Administration, in so far as they establish maximum prices for meals and food items sold by eating and drinking places. However, a price charged during the base period of this regulation shall not become a maximum price under this regulation to the extent that it exceeded the maximum price established by another regulation applicable at that time nor to the extent it exceeded a price established by Order No. G–1 under General Order No. 50 (Dollars and Cents Ceiling Prices on Domestic Malt Beverages).

SEC. 16. Geographical application. This Revised Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 5–10 applies to all of the State of Arkansas.

SEC. 17. Enforcement. Persons violating any provisions of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 18. Exempt sales. Sales by the following eating or drinking places are specifically exempt from the provisions of this regulation:

(a) Eating and drinking places located on church premises and operated in connection with special church, Sunday school and other religious occasions.

(b) Hospitals, except for food items and meals served to persons other than the patients when a separate charge is made for such food items and meals.

(d) Eating and drinking places operated by any school, college or university which is a non-profit institution (that is, where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any private shareholder or individual), which sells food items or meals on a nonprofit or cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to students, faculty members and employees of such institution. For purposes of this paragraph, persons receiving instruction on the premises of such institution by arrangement with the War Department or Department of the Navy or any other part of the Armed Forces of the United States shall be considered students.

(e) Eating cooperatives formed by Officers in the Armed Forces (as for example, Officers' mess) operated as a non-profit cooperative (where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any individual), which sells food items or meals on a cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to persons who are members of the cooperative.

(f) Bona fide private clubs which file with the appropriate OPA District Office a statement setting forth that:

(1) The club is a non-profit organization and is recognized as such by the Bureau of Internal Revenue;

(2) It sells food items and meals only to members and bona fide guests of members;

(3) Its members pay dues of more than a merely nominal amount and are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body; and

(4) It is otherwise operated as a club.

Five days after filing such information or earlier if so notified by the District Director, a private club may consider itself exempt unless and until it is otherwise notified by the District Director.

SEC. 19. Adjustments. (a) The Office of Price Administration may adjust the maximum prices for any eating establishment under the following circumstances:

(1) The establishment is operating under such hardship as to cause a substantial threat to the continuance of its operation unless it is granted an adjustment of the maximum prices established by this regulation.

(2) Such discontinuance will result in serious inconvenience to consumers in that they will either be deprived of all restaurant service or will have to turn to other establishments that present substantial difficulties as to distance, hours of service, selection of meals or food items offered, capacity, or transportation.

(3) By reason of such discontinuance, the same meals or food items will cost the customers of the eating establishment as much or more than the proposed adjusted prices.

(b) If you are the proprietor of an eating establishment which satisfied the requirements specified above, you may file an application for adjustment with the Arkansas District Office of the Office of Price Administration. This application must be filed in duplicate and contain a statement setting forth:

(1) Your name and address.

(2) A description of your eating establishment including: type of service rendered (such as cafeteria, table service, etc.), classes of meals offered (such as breakfast, lunch and dinner), number of persons served per day during the most recent thirty-day period,[1] and such other information that may be useful in classifying your establishment.

(3) The reasons why your customers will be seriously inconvenienced if you discontinue operations.

(4) The names and addresses of the three nearest eating places of the same type as yours.

(5) A list showing your present maximum prices and your requested, adjusted prices.

(6) Profit and loss statements for your restaurant business for the most recent three month accounting period, the same three month accounting period for the year 1942 and the entire year 1942, and a copy of your last income tax return if one was filed separately for your restaurant business.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[SR 15 to GMPR, Amdt. 31]

CHEMICALS AND DRUGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

Section 1499.75 (a) (18) is added to read as follows:

(18) Chemicals and drugs. Any manufacturer of a commodity under the jurisdiction of the Chemicals and Drugs Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, including, but not limited to, products of the type listed in subdivision (iv) hereof, may apply for an adjustment of his maximum prices established under and presently subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation, if it can be shown that the conditions prescribed in subdivision (i) hereof exist. Applications shall be made on OPA Form No. 692-992 and shall contain the information specified therein. Copies of this form may be obtained from the Chemicals and Drugs Price Branch, Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C.

(i) Circumstances under which an application will be considered:

(a) The factory cost involved in the production of said commodity has increased so substantially since applicant's maximum price therefor was established that he cannot continue to produce and sell the product at such price. (As used in this § 1499.75 (a) (18), "factory cost" means and includes materials, labor and other manufacturing costs assignable to the production of the commodity.)

(b) There is no adequate alternative to the requested price adjustment, such as a reduction in operating costs; and

(c) Either that:

(1) The loss of applicant's production would force his customers to resort to higher priced sources of supply; or

(2) The War Production Board (or other governmental agency in charge of supply) has issued an order or other appropriate instrument requiring applicant to produce stated quantities of said commodity; or

(3) The Office of Price Administration has received from the War Production Board (or other governmental agency in charge of supply) certification that the supply of the commodity is or threatens to become inadequate for the war program or for civilian needs, but that for reasons stated therein:

(i) The commodity or local supply situation is of such minor importance, in relation to the other commodities or to the use of manpower and materials, as not to require use of production controls; or

(ii) Legal or technical reasons make it impracticable to use orders or other appropriate instruments requiring production of the necessary supply.

(ii) Amount of adjustment. No adjustment will be made under this section unless the Price Administrator finds that a price increase is necessary to aid in securing essential or low-priced supply. Furthermore, any such adjustment shall be limited as set forth below: (As used below "over-all profits" means over-all aggregate dollar profit, adjusted for changes in investment and before deduction of income and excess profits taxes, of applicant or, in the event applicant is a parent, subsidiary or affiliate of other corporations or business units, of the entire investment enterprise.)

(a) Primary limitations. Ordinarily adjustments made under this section shall in the first instance be limited to:

(1) An amount sufficient to make the adjusted price per unit equal to factory cost per unit where applicant's current over-all profits on an annual basis are favorable as judged by his own or the industry's historical experience.

(2) An amount sufficient to make the adjusted price per unit equal to factory costs per unit, plus general administrative and selling expenses per unit, where applicant's current over-all profits on an annual basis are normal as judged by his own or the industry's historical experience. However, the increase shall not ordinarily exceed an amount which will cause his current over-all profits on an annual basis to be more than normal as judged by his own or the industry's historical experience.

(3) An amount sufficient to make the adjusted price per unit equal to total cost per unit, plus an adequate margin of profit per unit, where applicant's current over-all profits on an annual basis are unfavorable as judged by his own or the industry's historical experience. However, the increase shall not ordinarily exceed an amount which will cause his current over-all profits on an annual basis to be more than normal as judged by his own or the industry's historical experience.

(b) Special limitation in case of low-priced seller. Any adjustment granted an applicant who seeks relief under subdivision (i) (c) (1) of this section on the ground that the loss of his production would force his customers to resort to higher priced sources of supply, shall not exceed the amount set out in subdivision (ii) (a) hereof and shall be further limited to an amount equal to the difference between applicant's maximum price and the selling price of the next higher competitive seller able to supply applicant's customers.

(c) General limitation. Notwithstanding limitations on the amount of adjustment listed in subdivisions (a) and (b) above, in no event shall any adjustment granted under this section exceed the difference between the factory cost of the commodity currently and at the time its maximum price was established.

(iii) Orders issued under this section. The Price Administrator may authorize or deny by order the maximum prices requested or any modification thereof, and may also adjust the maximum prices of resellers, processors and industrial users. He may require, in appropriate cases, a compensatory decrease in the maximum prices for another product or products manufactured by applicant.

Any order issued hereunder may be amended or revoked at any time.

(iv) Commodities subject to the provisions of this section.

NOTE: This section applies only, of course, to such of the following commodities as are subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation. Sellers of commodities subject to other price regulations should consult the latter to determine possibilities for adjustment of their maximum prices.

(a) Coal tar and coal tar derivatives.
(b) Heavy chemicals.
(c) Industrial paints and other industrial protective coatings.
(d) Resins and plastics.
(e) Soaps and cleansers.
(f) Miscellaneous chemicals, drugs, and cosmetics.

This amendment shall become effective August 3, 1944.

JAMES G. ROGERS, Jr.,
Acting Administrator.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[MPR 477 [1] incl. Amdts. 1-7]

SALES OF RUBBER HEELS AND SOLES IN THE SHOE FACTORY AND HOME REPLACEMENT TRADES [2]

This compilation of Maximum Price Regulation 477 includes Amendment 7, effective August 3, 1944. The text amended (except tables) by Amendment 7 is underscored. The tables amended are indicated by rates.

In the judgment of the Price Administrator the maximum prices established by this regulation are and will be generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

In so far as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or in so far as their use was not lawfully required by another government agency, the Price Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control with respect to the commodities subject to this regulation.

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this regulation has been issued simultaneously herewith

ARTICLE I—SCOPE AND PROHIBITIONS OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. What this regulation does. This regulation fixes maximum prices for all sales in the shoe factory and home replacement trades of heels and soles made in whole or in part of rubber. However, this regulation does not apply to heels or soles made primarily from paper, wood, rope, or whole fabrics. This regulation does apply to heels or soles made in part from cord, fabrics (other than whole fabrics), or other fibers, and in part of rubber. When used in this regulation, the term:

[Above paragraph amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1-7-44]

(a) "Heel" includes all heels, heel bases, toplifts, and toplifting sheets, strips and blocks.

(b) "Sole" includes all taps, full soles, midsoles, and outsoling and midsoling sheets, strips and blocks.

(c) "Sale in the shoe factory trade" means a sale or offer for sale of heels or soles made in whole or in part of rubber (1) to persons who use those heels or soles in the manufacture of civilian (non-military) shoes, or (2) to persons who sell the heels or soles purchased by them to persons who use those heels or soles in the manufacture of civilian (non-military) shoes.

(d) "Sale in the home replacement trade" means any sale or offer for sale, except one in the shoe repair trade, of heels or soles made in whole or in part of rubber, which are used for the repair of civilian (non-military) shoes. A "sale in the shoe repair trade" is a sale or offer for sale by or to a shoe repairman, by wholesalers to the persons who sell rubber heels or soles to a shoe repairman, or by manufacturers to any of the persons just named.

[Paragraph (d) added by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1-7-44]

SEC. 2. Where this regulation applies. The provisions of this regulation shall apply to the forty-eight states of the United States and to the District of Columbia.

SEC. 3. Relation to other regulations—(a) Regulations superseded. Except as otherwise provided in this regulation, this regulation supersedes the General Maximum Price Regulation[4] and any other regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration with respect to sales, deliveries or transfers covered by this regulation.

(b) Export sales. The maximum price at which a person may make any export sales or sales to exporters in the shoe factory trade of heels and soles shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation[4] or any revisions thereto. When used in this paragraph the terms "export sale" and "exporter" have the meanings given to them by section 11 of the Second Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

SEC. 4. Prohibition against dealing in heels and soles at prices above the maximum. On and after November 1, 1943, the date this regulation takes effect, regardless of any contract or other obligation:

(a) No person is permitted to sell or deliver any heels or soles at a price which is higher than the maximum price fixed by this regulation.

(b) No person is permitted to buy or receive any heels or soles at a price which is higher than the maximum price. If the purchaser receives from the seller a written statement that the price does not exceed the maximum price fixed by this regulation and the purchaser has no reason to doubt the accuracy of that statement, the purchaser shall be deemed to have complied with this paragraph.

[Paragraphs (a) and (b) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1-7-44]

(c) No person shall agree, offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the acts prohibited by paragraphs (a) or (b).

SEC. 5. Less than maximum prices. Lower prices than those established by this regulation may be charged, demanded, paid or offered.

ARTICLE II—MAXIMUM PRICES AND TERMS OF SALE

SEC. 6. Maximum prices for sales in the shoe factory trade of heels and soles listed in Appendix A. This section is applicable to all sales in the shoe factory trade of heels and soles listed in Appendix A. The seller shall determine the maximum price of a heel or sole covered by this section by deducting from the price for the heel or sole listed in Appendix A all discounts, allowances and any other deductions from the list price that he had in effect to a purchaser of the same class during March, 1942.

[Sec. 6 amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1-7-44]

The maximum price for a heel or sole covered by this paragraph shall be the first applicable of the prices set forth in subparagraphs (1) to (4) below, less the deduction required by subparagraph (6) below, wherever applicable:

[Section heading and paragraph (a) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1-7-44]

(1) The highest price at which the manufacturer during March, 1942, delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that month to a purchaser of the same class a heel or sole which is the same as the heel or sole being priced.

(2) The highest price at which the manufacturer during March, 1942, delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that month to a purchaser of a different class a heel or sole which is the same as the heel or sole being priced, adjusted to reflect the seller's March, 1942, differential between the two classes of purchasers.

1941, to February 28, 1942, inclusive, delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that period to a purchaser of the same class a heel or sole which is the same as the heel or sole being priced.

(4) The last price at which the manufacturer during the period October 1, 1941, to February 28, 1942, inclusive, delivered, or if no delivery was made, at which he offered to deliver during that period to a purchaser of a different class a heel or sole which is the same as the heel or sole being priced, adjusted to reflect the seller's March, 1942, differential between the two classes of purchasers.

(5) Same heel or sole. For the purposes of this section, the heel or sole being priced shall be deemed to be the same as a heel or sole delivered or offered for delivery by the manufacturer during the period October 1, 1941, to March 31, 1942, inclusive:

(i) If it is identical to a heel or sole delivered or offered for delivery by the manufacturer during that period;

(ii) If it is made in the same mold and is made for shoes of the same kind and price line as a heel or sole delivered or offered for delivery by the manufacturer during that period, and if its physical specifications are not lower than the physical specifications of that heel or sole on April 8, 1943; or

(iii) If it is the same as a heel or sole delivered or offered for delivery by the manufacturer during that period, except for the changes made necessary by the substitution of buna-S (GR–S) or butyl (GR–I) for natural rubber.

(6) Deduction of federal excise tax. If, during March 1942, the manufacturer did not customarily state and collect separately from the purchase price the federal excise tax on rubber commodities, he shall deduct the amount of such tax from the first applicable of the prices set forth in subparagraphs (1) to (4), inclusive.

(b) Maximum manufacturers' prices for heels and soles not listed in Appendix A which are not the same as those dealt in by the manufacturer during October 1, 1941, to March 31, 1942, inclusive—(1) Maximum prices. This paragraph is applicable to heels and soles not listed in Appendix A, which are not the same as a heel or sole delivered or offered for delivery in the shoe factory trade by a manufacturer during the period October 1, 1941, to March 31, 1942, inclusive. The phrase "the same as" is defined in subparagraph (5) of the preceding paragraph (a). The maximum manufacturer's price for a heel or sole covered by this paragraph shall be the maximum price established under paragraph (a) for the sale by the nearest competitive manufacturer to the same class of purchaser of a heel or sole made in approximately the same contour, iron, and size and to substantially the same physical specifications as the heel or sole being priced. For example, to price under this section, a men's non-fiber eight-nail reclaimed rubber half heel, size 12/13, made with a tensile strength of 800 and an abrasion of 18, it is necessary to take the maximum price of a competitor who during the base period of October 1, 1941, to March 31, 1942, delivered or offered for delivery a men's non-fiber, eight-nail reclaimed rubber half heel, size 12/13, with an approximate tensile strength of 800 and an abrasion of 18.

[Subparagraph (1) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1–7–44; and Am. 6, 9 F.R. 6629, effective 6–20–44]

(2) Report and approval of maximum prices. Before or at the time of the first delivery after October 31, 1943. of a heel or sole priced under this paragraph (b) the manufacturer shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. This report shall include:

(i) Four pairs of the heel or sole priced under this paragraph (b);

(ii) The maximum price determined by the seller; and

(iii) A statement of the reasons why the manufacturer selected the particular heel or sole produced by another manufacturer as the basis for establishing the maximum price of the heel or sole being priced.

The manufacturer may sell, offer to sell, deliver, transfer and receive payment for the heel or sole at the maximum price proposed by him. However, if the Office of Price Administration determines that that maximum price is not in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation, it will designate a different maximum price in writing (not to apply retroactively). The manufacturer may not sell, offer to sell, deliver or transfer the heel or sole at a price in excess of that so designated.

SEC. 8. Maximum prices for sales in the shoe factory trade of heels and soles not listed in Appendix A by persons other than manufacturers. This section is applicable to sales in the shoe factory trade of heels and soles that are not listed in Appendix A. The maximum price for a sale in the shoe factory trade by a person, other than a manufacturer, of such heels and soles shall be the maximum price established by section 7 for the sale of the heel or sole by the manufacturer to a purchaser of the same class. If the seller requests the manufacturer to notify him of that price, the manufacturer is required to do so in writing by paragraph (b) of section 18.

[Section heading amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1–7–44]

SEC. 9. Maximum prices for sales in the shoe factory trade of heels and soles that can not be priced under sections 6, 7 and 8—(a) Report. This section is applicable to sales in the shoe factory trade by all persons of heels and soles that can not be priced under section 6, 7 or 8 of this regulation. The maximum price for such sales shall be a price in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation, specifically authorized by the Office of Price Administration. A seller seeking such an authorization shall file a report with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. This report shall include 4 pairs of the heel or sole being priced and the following information:

[Section heading amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1–7–44]

(1) The physical specifications (abrasion index, tensile strength, hardness and rubber hydrocarbon content) of the heel or sole.

(2) The principal materials used in the production of the heel or sole.

(3) A statement of the reasons why the maximum price can not be determined under any other section of the regulation.

(4) The current estimated direct labor, direct materials, factory overhead and total costs of producing the heel or sole in the case of a manufacturer, and the current price the seller is paying for the heel or sole in the case of any other seller.

(5) The maximum price proposed by the seller.

(6) A statement of the reasons why the seller believes that this price is in line with the level of maximum prices established by this regulation.

(b) Maximum prices. The seller may sell, offer to sell, deliver and transfer the heel or sole at the maximum price proposed by him in the report. However, he may not receive payment for the heel or sole until the Office of Price Administration approves the proposed maximum price in writing or until twenty-one days have elapsed after the mailing of the report without the Office of Price Administration disapproving of the maximum price. If the Office of Price Administration disapproves of the proposed maximum price, it will designate a different maximum price in writing. The seller may not receive payment for the heel or sole at a price in excess of that so designated. The maximum price either approved or designated in the manner just set forth shall be the maximum price for all subsequent sales of the heel or sole to purchasers of the same class as the one for which the maximum price is established. However, the Office of Price Administration may establish in writing a different maximum price (not to apply retroactively).

SEC. 9a. Maximum prices for sales of heels and soles in the home replacement trade—(a) Maximum prices for sales of heels in the home replacement trade—(1) Maximum prices. The maximum prices for all sales of rubber heels in the home replacement trade shall be the prices listed in Table I of Appendix B. These prices vary, depending upon whether the heel in question is classed as a "standard", a "competitive", or a "special competitive" grade heel, according to specifications set forth in Table II of Appendix B. The classification of a heel for pricing purposes is dependent upon the physical tests the heel can meet. Accordingly, in order to be sold at the maximum prices for any of the particular grades in Appendix B, the heel must meet the specifications set forth in Appendix B for that grade of heel.

(2) Modification. Every manufacturer, wholesaler, distributor, and jobber shall give each person purchasing heels for sale in the home replacement trade a written notification of the grade of heel sold according to the specifications set forth in Table II of Appendix B. In sales to wholesalers, distributors, and jobbers, the manufacturer shall also include the maximum wholesale and retail prices applicable thereto. In sales to retailers, this notification shall include the maximum retail price applicable thereto, unless the manufacturer has marked the maximum retail price on each pair of heels or on the unit of sale container in which each pair of heels is sold at retail.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 4, 9 F.R. 5811, effective 5-24-44]

(b) Maximum prices for sales of soles in the home replacement trade. The maximum price for all sales of soles in the home replacement trade shall be determined in accordance with the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

[Sec. 9a added by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1-7-44]

SEC. 10. Federal and state taxes. Any tax upon or incident to, the sale, delivery or processing of heels or soles imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of any state or subdivision thereof, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price: If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased. The tax on the transportation of all property imposed by section 620 of the Revenue Act of 1942 shall, for purposes of determining the applicable maximum price of any heel or sole, be treated as though it were an increase of 3 percent in the amount charged by every person engaged in the business of transporting property for hire. It shall not be treated as a tax for which a charge may be made in addition to the maximum price.

SEC. 11. Terms and conditions of sale—(a) Credit charges. Charges for the extension of credit may be added to the maximum prices established by this regulation if: (1) The seller during March, 1942, required payment of a separately stated additional charge for the extension of credit by purchasers of the same class on sales of the same or similar types of heels or soles; (2) the amount charged for the extension of credit is not in excess of the charge the seller had in effect during March, 1942, for extension of credit involving the same amount and term; and (3) such charges are quoted and billed separately. No seller may require as a condition of sale that the purchaser must buy on credit.

(b) Transportation charges. No seller shall require any purchaser, and no purchaser shall be permitted, to pay a larger proportion of transportation costs incurred in the delivery of any heel or sole than the seller required purchasers of the same class to pay on deliveries of the same or similar types of heels or soles during March, 1942.

SEC. 12. Fractions of a cent. Notwithstanding any other provisions of this regulation, maximum prices established by this regulation shall be adjusted to the nearest fraction of a cent that the seller customarily used during March, 1942, in pricing heels or soles sold in the shoe factory trade.

SEC. 13. Transfers of business or stock in trade. If the business, assets or stock in trade are sold, or otherwise transferred after March 31, 1942, and the transferee carries on the business, or continues to deal in the same type of commodities, in an establishment separate from any other establishment previously owned or operated by him, the maximum prices of the transferee shall be the same as those to which his transferor would have been subject if no such transfer had taken place, and his obligation to keep records sufficient to verify such prices shall be the same. The transferor shall either preserve and make available, or turn over, to the transferee all records of transactions prior to the transfer which are necessary to enable the transferee to comply with the record provisions of this regulation.

ARTICLE III—MISCELLANEOUS

SEC. 14. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking a modification of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1.*

SEC. 15. Adjustable pricing. Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by the Office of Price Administration, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken after delivery. Such authorization may be given when a request for a change in the applicable maximum price is pending, but only if the authorization is necessary to promote distribution or production, and if it will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The authorization may be given by the Administrator, or by any official of the Office of Price Administration to whom the authority to grant such authorization has been delegated.

SEC. 16. Records. Every person subject to the provisions of this regulation is required to keep certain records for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect. These records are described in three paragraphs as follows:

(a) Records of sales. Every person subject to this regulation shall keep accurate records of each sale (except sales at retail) of a heel or sole covered by the regulation. These records shall show:

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 2, 9 F.R. 89, effective 1-7-44]

(1) The date thereof.

(2) The name and address of the buyer.

(3) The quantity of each class, type, condition and grade of heel or sole sold.

(4) The price received per unit.

(b) Records of the bases on which maximum prices are determined. Every manufacturer subject to this regulation shall keep accurate records of the following:

(1) The prices charged by the manufacturer during the period October 1, 1941, to March 31, 1942, for each heel and sole covered by this regulation.

(2) Detailed cost estimate sheets and other data showing the calculation of the prices of all heels and soles for which the maximum prices must be determined under section 9 of this regulation.

(c) Records of notifications of maximum prices given to resellers. Every manufacturer subject to this regulation shall keep exact copies of all notifications of maximum prices given to resellers of heels and soles covered by this regulation.

SEC. 17. Reports—(a) Price lists. Every seller subject to the provisions of this regulation shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., before December 1, 1943, his latest price lists for heels or soles sold in the shoe factory trade. Thereafter, whenever a seller subject to the provisions of this regulation issues a new price list, he shall file one copy with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., within 10 days after putting the new price list into effect.

(b) Maximum prices. In addition every seller subject to the provisions of this regulation shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., before December 1, 1943, the maximum prices established by this regulation for all heels or soles sold or offered for sale in the shoe factory trade on November 1, 1943, which are not included in, or differ from, the filed price lists.

SEC. 18. Notification by manufacturers—(a) Grades of heels made from HF Compound. Every manufacturer of heels manufactured from HF Compound (as defined in War Production Board Order R-1 issued on June 18, 1943) after October 31, 1943, for sale in the shoe factory trade, shall notify the purchaser in writing of the grade of the heels in question. The grades shall be "HF-A", "HF-B", "HF-C", "HF-D", and "corded." Such notification shall appear either on the invoice or in the price list sent to the purchaser.

(1) Meaning of "HF-A", "HF-B", "HF-C", "HF-D" and "corded." (i) The symbols "HF-A", "HF-B", "HF-C", and "HF-D" mean heels manufactured after August 3, 1944 which can meet the following physical tests:

* 9 F.R. 5791.

Grade	All types except whole heels		Whole heels
	Minimum abrasion [1]	Tensile strength	Minimum abrasion [1]	Tensile strength
HF-A	20	700	16	600
HF-B	15	600	12	550
HF-C	10	400	10	400
HF-D [2]	10	400	10	400

[1] No minus tolerance allowed. The methods of Federal specifications FA-ZZ-H-141 and ZZ-R-601a shall be applicable to these specifications.

[2] "HF-D" heels are all run-of-the-mill heels, not carefully trimmed or inspected.

[Subdivision (i) amended by Am. 7, effective 8-3-44.]

(ii) "Corded" heels are any heels containing clearly distinguishable whole cords which at any given level lie generally parallel to each other. The minimum abrasion of such heels must be 28.

(b) Notification of maximum prices. Every manufacturer of heels or soles covered by this regulation shall notify every reseller to whom he sells heels or soles of the maximum prices established by this regulation for the sale of the heels or soles by the manufacturer to the class or classes of purchasers to whom the reseller intends to sell the heels or soles. This notification shall be in writing and need be given only if the reseller specifically requests it.

SEC. 19. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[1] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 20. Evasion. The price limitations set forth in this regulation shall not be evaded whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase of or relating to heels and soles covered by this regulation alone, or in conjunction with any other commodity by way of commission, service, transportation, or other charge, or discount, premium or other privilege, or by tying agreement, or other trade understanding, or otherwise.

SEC. 21. Enforcement. Persons violating any provision of this regulation are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 22. Definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(2) "Natural rubber" means all forms and types of crude rubber, natural latex, reclaimed rubber and scrap rubber.

(3) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States, or any other government or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(4) "Purchaser of the same class" and "class of purchaser" refers to the practice adopted by the seller in setting different prices for sales of heels and soles to different purchasers or kinds of purchasers (for example, manufacturer, wholesaler, jobber, public institution), or for purchasers located in different areas or for different quantities or grades, or under different conditions of sale.

(5) "Rubber" means all forms and types of natural, synthetic and balata rubber.

[Subparagraph (5) amended by Am. 3, 9 F.R. 794, effective 1-26-44]

(6) "Synthetic rubber" means a material obtained by chemical synthesis, possessing the approximate physical properties of natural rubber, when compared in either the vulcanized or unvulcanized condition, which can be vulcanized with sulphur or other chemicals with the application of heat, and which, when vulcanized, is capable of rapid elastic recovery after being stretched to at least twice its length at temperatures ranging from 0° F. to 150° F. at any humidity.

(7) "Sale at retail" means a sale to an ultimate consumer.

(8) "Sale at wholesale" means a sale by a person who buys a commodity and resells it, without substantially changing its form, to any person other than the ultimate consumer.

[1] The prices given in this table are for standardized items only. The prices of specially designed or constructed heels and soles are not included. These prices also apply if buna–S (GR–S) or butyl (GR–I) is substituted for natural rubber in the standard items included in this table. For sizes or thicknesses which differ from the sizes and thicknesses given in this table for any type of heel or sole, the manufacturer shall add to or subtract from the maximum price for the size or thickness given in the table which is nearest (or if two, the lower) to the item being priced, the customary dollar-and-cent differential which the manufacturer had in effect during the base period October 1, 1941, through March 31, 1942, for the two items.

[Footnote 1 amended by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 16196, effective 12–4–43]

[2] Sec. 6 requires the seller to deduct from the prices listed in Appendix A all discounts, allowances and other deductions from the list price that he had in effect during March, 1942, to a purchaser of the same class.

[3] When used in Table I the symbols "HF–A", "HF–B", "HF–C" and "HF–D" have the meaning given to them by paragraph (a) (1) of section 18. The compounds HL Compound and HM Compound have the meaning given to them by Rubber Order R–1 issued by the War Production Board on June 18, 1943.

[Footnote 5 added by Am. 1, 8 F.R. 16196, effective 12–4–43]

[6] These maximum prices apply to flat cord soling slabs made from low grade friction scrap which at least equal the minimum specifications established by the War Production Board in Order M–217. However, such slabs which contain clearly discernible whole cords and have a minimum abrasion of 45 or more, a stitch tear test of 60 pounds or more (wet and dry), when tested by the National Bureau of Standards, Washington, D. C., may be priced by specific authorization of the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., under section 9 of the regulation. A seller seeking such an authorization shall file a report in accordance with section 9.

[Footnote 6 added by Am. 3, 9 F.R. 794, effective 1–26–44; amended by Am. 5, 9 F.R. 6256, effective 6–7–44 and Am. 7, effective 8–3–44.]

[Footnote 7 added by Am. 3, 9 F.R. 794, effective 1–26–44; amended by Am. 5, 9 F.R. 6256, effective 6–7–44]

[8] The maximum prices for youths', little gents', misses' and children's sizes of full soles dinked out of fuel cell, belt and hose scrap shall be the same as that provided for corresponding size and iron of the standard carbon-black type. Infants' sizes shall be 1¢ less than children's sizes of the same iron. If a manufacturer did not have a customary differential from October 1, 1941, to March 31, 1942, for sizes not shown in the table he shall determine his price by interpolation.

PART 1315—RUBBER AND PRODUCTS AND MATERIALS OF WHICH RUBBER IS A COMPONENT

[RO 1A,[1] Amdt. 83]

TIRES, TUBES, RECAPPING AND CAMELBACK

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.[*]

Ration Order No. 1A is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1315.201 (a) (49) is added to read as follows:

(49) "Emergency Truck Tire Board" means a Board to which a District Director has assigned a quota of new truck tires with a cross-section size 8.25 or larger.

2. Section 1315.303 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) Emergency Truck Tire Board. An Emergency Truck Tire Board shall have jurisdiction to act upon applications for truck tires with a cross-section size 8.25 or larger filed with Truck Tire Boards and War Price and Rationing Boards in the area it serves.

3. Section 1315.305 (c) is added to read as follows:

(c) No Board other than an Emergency Truck Tire Board shall issue a certificate for a truck tire with a cross-section size 8.25 or larger, unless it has been instructed to do so by an Emergency Truck Tire Board.

4. Section 1315.602 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Tires for consumers. Applications for certificates authorizing the acquisition of tires (other than to establish, increase or replenish an emergency reserve) shall be filed with the Board having jurisdiction under § 1315.302 or § 1315.303. A separate application must be filed on OPA Form R–1 (Revised) for each passenger automobile. One application may be made on OPA Form R–1 (Revised) for all commercial motor vehicles or equipment owned and operated by the same person, used for the same purposes and principally stationed or garaged at the same place, except that applications on OPA Form R–1 for truck tires with a cross-section size 8.25 or larger shall be filed separately from applications for other tires. Such an applicant shall attach a statement to OPA Form R–1 (Revised) stating the license number, state of registration, year, model, make and body type of each commercial motor vehicle or piece of equipment for which application is made.

In an area served by an Emergency Truck Tire Board the Board with which an application on OPA Form R–1 (Revised) for truck tires with a cross-section size 8.25 or larger is filed, shall forward the application to the Emergency Truck Tire Board serving its area, if the applicant has established need and eligibility under this order. However, an application shall not be forwarded when the Board has been instructed by the Emergency Truck Tire Board to issue a certificate to the applicant.

5. The text of § 1315.602 (b) preceding subparagraph (1) is amended by adding the following at the end thereof:

An application on OPA Form R–19 for truck tires with a cross-section size 8.25 or larger shall be filed separately from an application for other tires. In an area served by an Emergency Truck Tire Board, the Board with which application on OPA Form R–19 for truck tires having a cross-section size 8.25 or larger is filed shall forward the application to the Emergency Truck Tire Board serving its area, if the applicant has established need and eligibility under this order. However, an application shall not be forwarded when the Board has been instructed by the Emergency Truck Tire Board to issue a certificate to the applicant.

6. Section 1315.610 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) Use of certificate. A person to whom a properly executed certificate was issued may use it for the purposes specified thereon, except that a person who has been issued a certificate, dated prior to July 16, 1944, for a truck tire with a cross-section size 8.25 or larger, which he has not transferred to a dealer or manufacturer prior to July 30, 1944, must surrender the certificate to the issuing Board not later than August 10, 1944.

7. Section 1315.803 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) By dealers. A dealer may, in exchange for a certificate, transfer tires to a consumer: Provided, however, That a dealer may not transfer a truck tire with a cross-section size 8.25 or larger in exchange for a certificate dated prior to July 16, 1944.

8. Section 1315.803 (b) (1) is amended to read as follows:

(1) A manufacturer may, in exchange for a certificate, transfer tires to a consumer who acquired tires from a manufacturer between December 31, 1940 and August 6, 1943: Provided, however, That a manufacturer may not transfer a truck tire with a cross-section size 8.25 or larger in exchange for a certificate dated prior to July 16, 1944.

9. Section 1315.804 (c) (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Permitted replenishment of tires. Subject to the provisions of subparagraph (1) of this paragraph any dealer or manufacturer may, in exchange for a properly endorsed replenishment portion of a certificate or receipt, transfer to another dealer or manufacturer the number of tires authorized by the certificate or receipt in accordance with the table below:

If replenishment portion calls for—	Dealer or manufacturer may replenish with—

(3) Maximum prices for railroad fuel. (i) The maximum prices for railroad locomotive fuel use are:

Mine Run, modified mine run and all lump and all double-screened coals	240
Screenings, top size not exceeding 2"	185

The maximum prices for coals shipped from Mine Index No. 70 for such use shall be the above respective prices, plus 20 cents per net ton.

(ii) Modified mine run shipped for railroad locomotive fuel use shall contain 15%, with a tolerance of 2% up or down, of coal that will pass through screens with round hole openings 1¼" in diameter, or other shaped openings equivalent in area (1¼" screenings), and large lumps may be broken down; or modified mine run may be 6" x 1¼" egg coal with 15%, with a tolerance of 2% up or down, of 1¼" screenings, as described above.

(iii) The maximum prices for coal sold to railroads for other than locomotive fuel use are those set forth in paragraph (b) (1) for the size and grade shipped.

(iv) An amount not exceeding 15 cents per net ton may be added to the maximum prices for railroad locomotive fuel use when railroad locomotives are coaled at the mine tipple.

(4) The maximum prices for coals produced at mine which is either (i) an underground mine loading coal entirely by hand without the aid of any mechanical means, such as loading machines or conveyors inside the mine, or (ii) an underground truck mine without a rail siding or connection, shall be the specific prices for the grade and size and use of coal shipped as set forth in this paragraph (b), plus 15 cents per net ton.

(5) Identification by counties and seams of mines in the truck price group numbers specified in subparagraph (2) above. Following is a table of counties, seams and price group numbers. A seller of coal produced at a mine from any of these seams shall first determine the price group number applicable to the mine as indicated in this table. He shall then use the maximum price applicable to the mines in the same price group number as set forth in subparagraph (2) unless otherwise specifically provided therein. The same shall be true of any mine classified as to seam by the Office of Price Administration by an order issued prior to, or after August 5, 1944, under § 1340.210 (a) (6) of this regulation. The seams referred to below are the same as those set forth in the Schedule of Effective Minimum Prices as established by the Bituminous Coal Division and as in effect at midnight, August 23, 1943.

ARTICLE I—EXPLANATION OF THE REGULATION

SECTION 1. Explanation of the regulation. The purpose of this regulation is to establish maximum prices for sales and purchases of, and for certain services performed with respect to, flue-cured tobacco of the 1944 crop. This regulation fixes maximum prices which may be paid to growers and paid or received by dealers, manufacturers and other purchasers and sellers of that tobacco. Specific dollar and cents maximum prices are fixed for certain services performed by dealers for purchasers. The maximum prices and pricing methods are stated in sections 3 and 4.

SEC. 2. General definitions. (a) When used in this regulation, the term:

(1) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.

(2) "Flue-cured tobacco" means United States Types 11a, 11b, 12, 13 and 14 tobacco as classified in Regulatory Announcement No. 18 of the Bureau of Agricultural Economics of the United States Department of Agriculture. When used without specific reference to a particular year's crop, the term refers to that tobacco of the 1944 crop; when used with specific reference to one or more years' crops, the term refers to that tobacco of the specified years' crops.

(3) "Weighted average purchase price" means the total of prices actually paid in purchases on the loose-leaf market or otherwise, plus discounts allowed the purchaser for prompt payment and transportation charges paid by him, divided by the number of pounds of tobacco purchased. Prices actually paid shall include all commissions, fees or other compensation paid by or for the purchaser to a person at the seller's instance or request.

(4) "Weighted average selling price" means the gross dollar and cents amount the seller charged for the tobacco (excluding transportation charges paid by the seller for the account of the purchaser), divided by the number of pounds of tobacco sold. The gross dollar and cents amount charged shall include all commissions, fees or other compensation paid by or for the purchaser to a person at the seller's instance or request.

(5) "Farm scrap" means loose, tangled, untied and unstemmed tobacco salvaged as a by-product in harvesting, stripping, classing or tying on the farm, consisting principally of barn and striphouse floor sweepings and inferior quality leaves discarded by growers for auction marketing purposes because of being broken, burnt, worm-eaten, or diseased.

(6) "Auction scrap" means loose, untied and unstemmed tobacco consisting entirely of auction floor sweepings, loose and tangled leaves, or portions of leaves, accumulated from droppings or breakage in handling of tobacco on auction warehouse floors and salvaged as a by-product of auction marketing. The term does not include tobacco purchased at auction or directly or indirectly from growers.

*Copies may be obtained from the Office of Price Administration.

(7) "Drop leaves" refers to tobacco leaves, including broken leaves and scrap, resulting from the handling of tobacco in transit or while in receiving rooms, hanging rooms, packing rooms or green storage (but not on the auction warehouse floor or farm) which is not customarily processed with the grade being handled.

(8) "Dealer" means any person engaged in the business of buying flue-cured tobacco of any year's crop on the loose-leaf market or otherwise, for his own account or on direct order.

(b) Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions in Section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall apply to other terms used herein.

ARTICLE II—PRICING PROVISIONS

SEC. 3. Maximum prices for purchases of flue-cured tobacco on loose-leaf markets—(a) In general. The weighted average purchase price paid by any buyer for flue-cured tobacco on the loose-leaf markets shall not exceed:

$39.00 per cwt., green weight, for untied loose-leaf tobacco.

$43.50 per cwt., green weight, for tied loose-leaf tobacco.

$5.00 per cwt., green weight, for farm scrap tobacco.

In figuring a weighted average purchase price, purchases on direct order shall be deemed purchases by the buyer for whose ultimate account the tobacco is intended. Amounts paid for farm scrap and auction scrap tobacco shall not be used in figuring a weighted average purchase price for untied or tied loose-leaf tobacco.

NOTE: All buyers are warned that in paying more than $39.00 per cwt., green weight, for untied loose-leaf tobacco or $43.50 per cwt., green weight, for tied loose-leaf tobacco, they take the risk of violating this regulation, since inability to buy tobacco at lower prices in order to reduce their weighted average purchase prices will not constitute a defense.

(b) Purchases not covered. If a buyer makes a purchase of flue-cured tobacco for resale in substantially the same form on the loose-leaf market and the tobacco is so resold, his purchase is not covered by this regulation and shall not be included in computing his weighted average purchase price.

SEC. 4. Maximum prices for sales of flue-cured tobacco by dealers. As used in this section, "dried in the hogshead cost" means the total of the lawful amounts paid for green tobacco, costs of transporting it, and direct costs of handling and redrying. The term does not include charges for warehousing or storage. Elements of "dried in the hogshead cost" shall be figured in accordance with the dealer's customary accounting practices and in a consistent manner (e.g., if an element of cost is used in figuring "dried in the hogshead cost" of flue-cured tobacco of the 1944 crop, the same element of cost shall be used in determining the corresponding figure for tobacco of another crop year, etc.).

(a) For tobacco purchased on loose-leaf markets other than on direct order—(1) Sales to manufacturers. A dealer's maximum price to manufacturers for a sale of flue-cured tobacco purchased by him on the loose-leaf markets other than on direct order shall be an amount figured as follows:

(i) The dealer shall ascertain his weighted average dried in the hogshead cost per pound for this tobacco of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 crops which he sold unstemmed to manufacturers up to and including June 30, 1942, by dividing his total dried in the hogshead cost by the number of pounds, dried weight, thereof.

(ii) The dealer shall ascertain his weighted average dried in the hogshead cost per pound for this tobacco of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 crops which he sold stemmed to manufacturers up to and including June 30, 1942 by dividing his total dried in the hogshead cost by the number of pounds, dried weight, thereof.

(iii) The dealer shall ascertain his weighted average selling price per pound for his sales of unstemmed tobacco of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 crops to manufacturers up to and including June 30, 1942 by dividing his total selling price for unstemmed tobacco of those crops by the number of pounds, dried weight, of unstemmed tobacco of those crops he sold to manufacturers.

(iv) The dealer shall ascertain his weighted average selling price per pound for his sales of stemmed tobacco of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 crops to manufacturers up to and including June 30, 1942 by dividing his total selling price of stemmed tobacco of those crops by the number of pounds, dried weight, of stemmed tobacco of those crops he sold to manufacturers.

(vi) The dealer shall then multiply his dried in the hogshead cost, per pound, dried weight, of the flue-cured tobacco being priced by the appropriate markup factor obtained at (v) according to whether the tobacco being priced is to be sold as stemmed or unstemmed tobacco. The resulting figure is the dealer's maximum price per pound to manufacturers.

(vii) The dealer may then add to his maximum price determined in (vi) above, the following:

(a) The actual amount of commission paid by the dealer to a tobacco broker doing business as such on or before June 30, 1944 for the broker's services in negotiating the sale of the tobacco to a manufacturer, but not in excess of 3% of the selling price.

(b) A charge for warehousing and carrying not in excess of 1% of his dried in the hogshead cost per pound, redried weight, for each full month beginning six months after the tobacco redried in hogsheads has been placed in storage.

(2) Sales to dealers. A dealer's maximum price for sales to dealers of flue-cured tobacco purchased by him on the loose-leaf markets other than on direct order shall be an amount figured as follows:

(i) The dealer shall ascertain his weighted average dried in the hogshead cost per pound for this tobacco of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 crops which he sold unstemmed to dealers up to and including June 30, 1942, by dividing the total dried in the hogshead cost by the number of pounds, dried weight, thereof.

(ii) The dealer shall ascertain his weighted average dried in the hogshead cost per pound for this tobacco of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 crops which he sold stemmed to dealers up to and including June 30, 1942, by dividing the total dried in the hogshead cost by the number of pounds, dried weight, thereof.

(iii) The dealer shall ascertain his weighted average selling price per pound for his sales of unstemmed tobacco of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 crops to dealers up to and including June 30, 1942 by dividing his total selling price for unstemmed tobacco of those crops by the number of pounds of unstemmed tobacco of those crops he sold to dealers.

(iv) The dealer shall ascertain his weighted average selling price per pound for his sales of stemmed tobacco of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 crops to dealers up to and including June 30, 1942 by dividing his total selling price for stemmed tobacco of those crops by the number of pounds of stemmed tobacco of those crops he sold to dealers.

(vi) The dealer shall then multiply his dried in the hogshead cost per pound to the flue-cured tobacco being priced by the appropriate markup factor obtained at (v) according to whether the tobacco being priced is to be sold as stemmed or unstemmed tobacco. The resulting figure is the dealer's maximum price per pound to dealers.

(vii) The dealer may then add to his maximum price determined in (vi) above, a charge for warehousing and carrying not in excess of 1% of his dried in the hogshead cost per pound, redried weight, for each full month beginning six months after the tobacco redried in hogshead has been placed in storage.

(b) For tobacco purchased on loose-leaf markets on direct order—(1) Dealer's charges. A dealer who purchases flue-cured tobacco on the loose-leaf markets on direct order may charge for services rendered in connection with the tobacco purchased, but not in excess of the following amounts:

Services	Maximum charge per 100 pounds green weight
Buying at auction	$0.50
Buying and sheeting (when dealer furnishes sheets)	.90
Buying and sheeting (when dealer does not furnish sheets)	.80
Buying and green prizing	1.65

Services	Maximum charge per 100 pounds redried weight
Redrying only	$2.50
Buying and redrying	3.00
Stemming only and redrying	6.50
Buying, stemming and redrying	7.00
Hand-stemming	7.50
Stemming loose leaves, drop leaves or scrap	7.50
Buying and hand-stemming	8.00
Buying and stemming loose leaves, drop leaves or scrap	8.00
Buying, handling and redrying farm scrap	3.50

NOTE: Redrying services include packing and cost of hogshead or other packing material. However, a premium of 50 cents per cwt. may be charged when the tobacco is packed in cases.

"Purchase on direct order" means a purchase made in conformity with an agreement to buy for a principal either in the principal's name or for his account.

(2) Dealer's charge for supervisory services on direct order purchase. A dealer performing supervisory services in the purchase on direct order of flue-cured tobacco for a particular buyer may charge a fee for such services, but not to exceed the highest customary fee charged by the dealer to the particular buyer for the same services performed with respect to purchases on direct order of the 1942 or 1941 year's crop, whichever is most recent. If the dealer performed no supervisory services for the buyer with respect to purchases on direct order of the 1942 or 1941 year's crop of that type of tobacco, the fee charged by the dealer for such supervisory services shall not exceed the highest customary fee charged therefor by the dealer with respect to purchases on direct order of the 1942 or 1941 year's crop, whichever is most recent, to other buyers of the same class. A dealer who performed no supervisory services for the particular buyer or for other buyers of the same class with respect to purchases on direct order of the 1942 or 1941 year's crop, shall apply by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Tobacco Section, Washington, D. C. for authorization to charge a fee for such services based on the fee charged by his most closely competitive dealer of the same class.

"Supervisory services" means services involving responsibility for establishment of proper grade standards, correlation of grading between the several markets, selection of markets affording the greatest abundance of suitable flue-cured tobacco, decisions as to the rate of buying from week to week and guiding purchases through frequent visits to the several markets.

(i) The dealer shall ascertain his weighted average purchase price for the redried flue-cured tobacco of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940, and 1941 crops he sold up to and including June 30, 1942 and his weighted average selling price of that tobacco.

(ii) The dealer shall ascertain his markup factor by dividing that weighted average selling price by that weighted average purchase price.

(iii) The dealer shall then multiply his purchase price for the redried tobacco being priced by the percentage obtained at (ii). The resulting figure is the dealer's maximum price, except that the dealer may add a charge for warehousing and carrying not in excess of 1% of his purchase price per pound, redried weight, of tobacco being priced for each full month beginning six months after that tobacco has been placed in storage by him.

(2) A dealer's maximum price for his sales of redried flue-cured tobacco previously owned in redried form by two or more dealers shall not exceed his purchase price for the tobacco being priced.

(d) Certification by dealers. On and after August 4, 1944 any dealer selling redried flue-cured tobacco shall place upon the invoice or other evidence of sale given by him to the purchaser a complete, correct and signed statement as follows:

The flue-cured tobacco covered by this invoice (if other evidence of sale is used, specify) in redried condition has been owned by (specify number) persons previous to this sale. The price charged for this tobacco does not exceed our maximum price under MPR No. 549 issued by the Office of Price Administration. The Office of Price Administration requires you to keep this statement for examination.

Seller.

(e) Dealers unable otherwise to determine maximum prices. If a dealer is unable to determine his maximum price for a particular sale of flue-cured tobacco under other provisions of this section, he shall apply by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., requesting that a maximum price or a method of determining a maximum price for that sale shall be established. The letter shall set forth:

(1) The name and address of the dealer making the application.

(2) A description sufficient to identify the tobacco he wishes to sell including a statement of the manner in which he has acquired it, its location, the number of its former owners, the purchase price he paid for it and the quantity of tobacco to be priced.

(3) The reason why he is unable to determine the maximum price under other provisions of this section.

(4) The name and address of the persons to whom he desires to sell the tobacco.

(5) Any other pertinent information which the dealer desires to submit.

After receipt of the letter, the Office of Price Administration will by order establish a maximum price in line with maximum prices established under this section for similar sales of other dealers or prescribe a method for determining a maximum price. Until a maximum price or a method for determining it is thus established, the dealer may deliver the tobacco but may not receive payment for it.

ARTICLE III—MISCELLANEOUS PROVISIONS

SEC. 5. Reports. (a) Not later than August 21, 1944, every dealer shall report by letter to the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., the markup factors computed by him before that date to be used in determining his maximum prices under section 4. If the original report omits markup factors which the dealer thereafter computes, those new markup factors shall likewise be reported within ten days after computation.

(b) Within thirty days after the close of the marketing season, but in any event before February 1, 1945, every buyer of flue-cured tobacco shall file with the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C., a statement showing the following:

(1) The total amount of untied loose-leaf flue-cured tobacco in pounds, green weight, purchased by him and the total amount paid for it.

(3) The total amount of farm scrap tobacco in pounds, green weight, purchased by him and the total amount paid for it.

SEC. 6. Records. (a) Every buyer of flue-cured tobacco shall make and preserve for examination by the Office of Price Administration for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains in effect, records showing with respect to each purchase of such tobacco:

(1) The name of the seller and the date of purchase

(3) The purchase price paid, and

(4) Any other records of the same kind that he has customarily kept relating to the prices he pays for flue-cured tobacco after the effective date of this regulation.

SEC. 7. Compliance with this regulation—(a) No buying or selling above maximum prices. On and after July 28, 1944 regardless of any contract, lease or other obligation, no dealer or other purchaser in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive, or agree, offer, solicit or attempt to buy or receive, and no person for whose sales of flue-cured tobacco maximum prices are established by this regulation, shall sell or deliver, or agree, offer, solicit or attempt to sell or deliver any flue-cured tobacco at prices higher than the appropriate maximum price established by this regulation. However, lower prices may be charged, paid, offered and received.

(b) Evasion—(1) In general. The price limitations in this regulation shall not be evaded, directly or indirectly, whether by commission, service, transportation or other charge or discount, premium or other privilege; or by tying agreement, by any change in manner of packing, any business practice or trade understanding, or in any other way.

(2) Specific practices which are evasions. Specifically, but not exclusively, the following practices are evasions:

(i) In the case of a dealer, reduction or elimination by the dealer of his customary discounts or initial credit terms allowed on his most recent sales of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 and 1941 crops to the same purchaser, or if he made no sales of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 or 1941 crops to the purchaser, reduction or elimination of his customary discounts or initial credit terms allowed on his most recent sales of the 1937, 1938, 1939, 1940 or 1941 crop to purchasers of the same class, except where accompanied by a compensating reduction in his maximum price.

"Initial credit terms" means terms fixing the time for payment of the purchase price agreed to by the dealer and buyer at or prior to delivery of the tobacco.

(c) Penalties for violations. Any person violating a provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, license suspension proceedings and suits for treble damages provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(d) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,[1] licensing all persons who make sales under price control, apply to all sellers (except growers) of flue-cured tobacco. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

PART II

1. Vessel and voyage. The Vessel on tendering hereunder shall as far as due diligence can make her so, be tight, staunch, strong and ready for service. Because of prevailing conditions, it is agreed that the Vessel may be of a type not fitted, constructed or ordinarily employed for the contract voyage and the Owner shall not be responsible for any loss of, damage or delay to cargo arising from or due to the type or structure of the Vessel provided the same is not due to the Owner's failure to exercise due diligence, and all risk of loss, damage or delay inherent in such carriage or attributable to such use shall be borne by the Charterer. In the event the named Vessel is prevented from reporting for loading for any reason, Owners are to have the privilege of substituting another vessel of similar class, and, in the event the rate order provides for any alteration in rate, loading or discharging time, demurrage or despatch to cover the type of substituted vessel, the Charterer or Owner, whoever is affected, shall receive the benefit of such change or changes.

2. Stevedoring and lighterage. (a) Stevedoring and other expenses of loading and discharging, including any expense of tallying, winchmen, dunnage, cargo fittings, heavy lifts, dumping and trimming, removal of strongbacks with shore equipment where necessary are upon the basis set out in Part I. Unless otherwise agreed, dunnage and fittings placed aboard by the Charterer may be retained on board at the option of the Owner. If the Owner elects not to retain them on board, the cost of removal and discharge shall be borne by the Charterer, and time so used shall count as laytime. Where Charterer loads or discharges the Charterer shall be responsible for cleaning the cargo compartments at Charterer's expense and on his time. Cleaning shall mean swept holds with refuse removed except on cargo where custom provides more complete cleaning.

(b) The Vessel will permit the use of ship's winches and other appropriate gear actually on board. The Vessel will at all times provide power sufficient to run all the winches, or all necessary to be worked. Where loading or discharging is performable by the Charterer and it is necessary to employ the Vessel's crew to operate winches, the said members of the crew shall be deemed the agents of the Charterer and any wages or overtime payable to the Vessel's crew employed as winchmen shall be for Charterer's account and shall be covered by Charterer's compensation or other liability insurance ordinarily required by law or custom upon stevedores or other workmen. At any berth where the Charterer is to load or discharge at his expense, or at any berth used upon the request of the Charterer, the Charterer must supply adequate light for any work performed but may have the use of any lighting facilities aboard the Vessel.

(c) The Charterer agrees to provide and pay for workmen's compensation, job liability and other insurance required by law or custom upon stevedores or other workmen employed by or performing any of the duties of the Charterer hereunder at all ports or places of loading and discharging and will furnish the Owner upon demand a certificate of such insurance. The Charterer agrees to pay for all stevedore damage and to indemnify the Vessel and the Owner for any damage or expense caused by the act or neglect of the Charterer or its Agents or contractors appointed by the Charterer or performing any of its duties in the loading or discharging of the Vessel or from failure of equipment supplied by them.

(d) Lighterage, if any, to be at the risk and expense of the cargo.

3. Loading port. (a) The cargo described in Part I shall be loaded on the Vessel but in no case shall the cargo exceed what the Vessel can reasonably stow and carry, in the judgment of the Master, over and above the space and burthen necessary for Vessel's officers and crew, her cabin, tackle, apparel, furniture, provisions, fresh water, stores, necessary ballast and fuel. No cargo shall be carried on deck, unless provided in Part I hereof, and in such case the carriage of deck cargo shall be at the sole discretion of the Master and at the risk of the Charterer and Owners of such cargo. Any material required for securing deck cargo is to be furnished by the Charterer and for his account, but Charterer may have the use of any such material aboard the vessel.

(b) Loading port or ports to be named by the Charterer not later than upon signing this charter.

4. Loading berth. (a) The cargo described in Part I shall be loaded on the Vessel at such berth or berths that the Charterer may designate, always, however, subject to the approval of the War Shipping Administration. One loading berth only is contemplated, and permission of the Owner is required for any additional berths. If permission is obtained the Charterer shall pay all expenses, except wages of the Vessel's crew including overtime, fuel, and other usual vessel expenses incurred in shifting between or among berths and the time consumed shall count as used loading time.

(b) The Charterer warrants that such berth or place as may be designated by him shall be safe in all respects. Unless expressly provided in Part I that the Vessel may load safely aground, the Charterer warrants that such berth or berths shall have sufficient depth of water at all times and stages of tide to accommodate safely a vessel of the size and particulars designated in Part I hereof and that the Vessel can proceed to, remain thereat, and depart therefrom always safely afloat.

(c) The Charterer warrants that the berth shall be available immediately when the Vessel is ready to load. Any time lost to the Vessel while awaiting berth shall be counted as used time for loading. Where delay is due to routing instructions, bunching of vessels in convoy or other similar causes resulting from orders of the United States or the Owner, over which the Charterer has no control, the Owner reserves the right to exclude all or any part of the time the Vessel is so delayed from the lay time, if in the Owner's judgment, which shall be final and conclusive, the circumstances of the delay warrant such action.

5. Loading time. When the Vessel has arrived at the loading port and is in all respects ready to load, a notice of readiness to load shall be tendered by letter, telegram or phone to the Charterer or his agent whether or not during usual business hours and the despatch of such notice shall constitute notice whether or not it is received by the Charterer. The time for loading shall commence at the time stated below respectively, Vessel in or out of berth.

If the said notice is tendered between	Time for loading shall commence
12:01 a. m. to 8:00 a. m.	At 1:00 p. m. on the same day.
8:01 a. m. to 12:00 noon	4 hours after notice provided loading commences before the four hour period after notice has expired, but in no event later than 4:00 p. m. on the same day.
12:01 p. m. to 4:00 p. m.	4 hours after notice provided loading commences before the four hour period after notice has expired, but in no event later than 8:00 p. m. on the same day.
4:01 p. m. to 12:00 midnight	At 8:00 a. m. on the next day, unless loading commences before 12:00 midnight the day of tendering of notice in which event time starts 12:01 a. m. the next day.

6. Freight. (a) Full freight to the discharging port named in Part I shall be considered completely earned on cargo as same is loaded whether the freight be stated or intended to be prepaid or to be collected and the Owner shall be entitled to all freight and charges due hereunder whether actually paid or not and to receive and retain them irrevocably under all circumstances whatsoever s'hip and/or cargo lost or not lost, whether or not the cargo is damaged or unsound or the voyage broken up or abandoned. In the event the Vessel and/or cargo is lost, the loading quantity, weight or measurement at the rate specified in Part I and as indicated by cargo receipts, shall be conclusive.

(b) Freight shall be payable in United States currency in the United States upon completion of loading, without deductions for any cause, except for advances to the Master. In the event freight is to be determined on the outturned weight, 90% of the freight on the loading weight shall be paid upon the signing of cargo receipts; the balance payable upon ascertainment of the gross landed weights as determined by certificates of public weighers, railway scale weights or by other customary means not inconsistent with these. The Vessel may checkweight or measure at its own expense.

(c) Should the Charterer fail to supply the cargo stipulated in Part I hereof, the Vessel may at the Master's option, and shall, upon the request of the Charterer, proceed on her voyage: Provided, That she is, in the judgment of the Master, in a seaworthy condition as far as the quantity and stowage of the cargo is concerned. In that event, dead freight shall be paid upon the difference between the quantity loaded and the quantity she would have carried if loaded as contracted. Dead freight shall be subject to all of the stipulations as to freight generally hereunder.

(d) If this Charter Party is for successive voyages, the freight for each and every voyage after the first voyage shall be at the rate prescribed by the War Shipping Administration on or before the date of completion of loading for each such voyage. If the rate of freight and/or surcharge at the time of such loading is higher than the rate stated in Part I hereof, Charterer agrees to pay such increase and the Vessel shall have a lien upon the goods for any difference between such increased rate and surcharge and the rate and surcharge stated herein. Similarly any reduction in the rate or surcharge will inure to the benefit of the Charterer.

(e) Notwithstanding any of the foregoing provisions of this clause, the Owner may repay or refund all or part of the freight, dead freight or charges including demurrage if in the judgment of the Owner, whose decision shall be final and conclusive, the circumstances are of a nature which requires the whole or partial absorption of the loss by the Owner rather than by the Charterer.

7. Advances. Cash shall be advanced by the Charter to the Master, if required, for ordinary disbursements at ports of loading and discharge against Master's receipt, and at current rates of exchange, free of interest, discount, commission, or insurance fees.

8 Discharging port. (a) If the port or ports of discharge are not specified in Part I hereof, such port or ports shall be named by the Charterer not later than the time of completion of loading. Any loss of time resulting from delay in naming the port of discharge shall count as used loading time.

(b) Diversion of the Vessel to another discharging port while en route to the first named port at the request of the Charterer may be permitted by the Owner on such terms and conditions as may be agreed upon, but not a less additional charge than if such option had originally been granted in Part I hereof. When the Vessel is diverted or the voyage frustrated by reason of government orders or under any of the circumstances specified in Clause #23 hereof, all the rights, liberties and immunities stated in Clause #23 shall be available to the Owner and the Owner shall have the right to receive or retain freight in accordance with Clause #6 (a) hereof except in cases where the Owner, whose decision shall be final and conclusive, determines that all or part of such freight should be refunded or reduced because the circumstances relating to the diversion or frustration are of a nature which properly requires the whole or partial absorption of the loss by the Owner rather than by the Charterer.

9. Discharging berth. (a) Cargo will be discharged at the berth or berths that the Charterer designates, always subject, however, to the approval of the War Shipping Administration. One discharging berth only is contemplated, and permission of the Owner is required for any additional berth. If permission is obtained, the Charterer shall pay all expenses, except wages of the Vessel's crew, including overtime, fuel, and other usual vessel expenses incurred in shifting between or among berths and the time consumed shall count as used discharging time.

(b) The Charterer warrants that such berth or place as may be designated by him shall be safe in all respects. Unless expressly provided in Part I that the Vessel may discharge safely aground, the Charterer warrants that such berth or berths shall have sufficient depth of water at all times and stages of tide to accommodate safely a vessel of the size and particulars designated in Part I hereof and that the Vessel can proceed to, remain thereat, and depart therefrom always safely afloat.

(c) The Charterer warrants that the berth will be available immediately upon Vessel being ready to discharge. Any time lost to the Vessel while awaiting berth shall be counted as used time for discharging. Where delay is due to routing instructions, bunching of vessels in convoy or other similar causes resulting from orders of the United States or the Owner, over which the Charterer has no control, the Owner reserves the right to exclude all or any part of the time the Vessel is so delayed from the lay time, if in the Owner's judgment, which shall be final and conclusive, the circumstances of the delay warrant such action.

10. Discharging time. When the Vessel has arrived at the discharging port and is in all respects ready to discharge, a notice of readiness to discharge will be tendered by letter, telegram or phone to the Charterer or his agent whether or not during usual business hours and the despatch of such notice shall constitute notice whether or not it is received by the Charterer. The time for discharging shall commence at the times stated below respectively, vessel in or out of berth.

If the said notice is tendered between	Time for discharging shall commence
12:01 a. m. to 8:00 a. m.	At 1:00 p. m. on the same day.
8:01 a. m. to 12:00 noon	4 hours after notice provided discharging commences before the four-hour period after notice has expired, but in no event later than 4:00 p. m.
12:01 p. m. to 4:00 p. m.	4 hours after notice provided discharging commences before the four-hour period after notice has expired, but in no event later than 8:00 p. m.
4:01 p. m. to 12:00 midnight	At 8:00 a. m. on the next day, unless discharging commences before 12:00 midnight the day of tendering of notice in which event time starts 12:01 a. m. the next day.

11. Separation of cargo. Unless otherwise stipulated in Part I all of the cargo loaded shall be of the same character and quality, and no separation thereof shall be required. Cargo may be discharged and landed as it comes to hand. In the event the Charterer should desire separation of cargo, such separation shall be at his risk and expense, and any material required shall be for Charterer's account. In any event the Owner shall not be responsible for delivery of cargo by quality, grade or marks.

12. Demurrage, Despatch, Overtime.—(a) Laytime. For purposes of computing laytime under this Charter the quantities stipulated in Part I hereof as the minimum loading or discharging rate, or the minimum rate for bringing cargo to or taking it from alongside the Vessel, shall be the factor to determine the number of lay days allowed for loading and discharging.

(b) Demurrage. Charterers shall pay demurrage at the rate stipulated in Part I hereof for each and every day and pro rata for any part of a day that the time of loading or discharging exceeds the allowed lay-time.

(c) Despatch. Charterer shall be entitled to despatch, if any, at the rate stipulated in Part I hereof for each and every day and pro rata for any part of a day for all lay-time saved in loading or discharging.

(d) Lay days reversible. Unless otherwise provided in Part I hereof lay days at Charterer's option are reversible, except that, if Charterer earns and elects at the time the bills of lading are signed to collect despatch at loading port, the Charterer is not entitled to a second election in the event demurrage accrues at the port of discharge.

(e) Overtime—charterer loads or discharges. If overtime is ordered by the Charterer, all overtime loading and discharging shall be at the Charterer's expense. If overtime is ordered by the Owner, the Owner shall pay or reimburse the Charterer for all overtime for stevedore labor or operators of cranes for loading from alongside the vessel at the end of ship's tackle or for discharging to the end of ship's tackle, but all overtime for placing cargo alongside or for taking it away from alongside the Vessel shall be for Charterer's account. Where overtime is ordered by the Owner, all overtime hours worked at the Owner's expense shall be deducted from any lay time saved in the event despatch is payable hereunder.

(f) Overtime—Owner loads or discharges. If overtime is ordered by the Charterer, as Charterer may do with the approval of the War Shipping Administration's Port Representative, to avoid or minimize demurrage, earn despatch, or otherwise for Charterer's convenience, the Charterer shall pay or reimburse the Owners for all overtime expense. If overtime is ordered by the Owner, all overtime for stevedore labor or crane operators for loading cargo from alongside the Vessel at the end of the ship's tackle or for discharging cargo to the end of the ship's tackle shall be for the Owner's account, but all overtime for placing cargo alongside or for taking it away from alongside the Vessel shall be for the Charterer's account.

(g) Overtime—Vessel's crew. Whether loading or discharging is performable by the Owner or by the Charterer, overtime of the Vessel's crew shall be for the Owner's account; except, that where the Charterer loads or discharges and employs the Vessel's crew to operate winches, any overtime of members of the crew operating the winches shall be for the Charterer's account.

(h) Overtime—Right of owner to order. Notwithstanding the fact that the quantity stipulated in Part I hereof may be loaded or discharged during or before the end of the usual working hour day, the Owner reserves the right to order the Vessel to load or discharge as fast as she can twenty-four consecutive hours per day, each and every day, Sundays and holidays included or during any part of any or all days beyond the usual working hours. In that event and if the Charterer refuses or neglects to use due diligence to perform during straight or overtime hours any of the obligations on its part to be performed pursuant to this Charter Party, the Charterer shall pay as liquidated damage a sum computed upon the rate of demurrage stipulated in Part I hereof for each and every hour of work requested by the Owner which is not worked without regard to the allowed or used lay time.

(i) Strikes. Any time lost through strikes, lockouts, or stoppages of work, not caused or promoted by the Charterer, shipper, consignee, or their agents, which prevent the Vessel from loading or discharging cargo, or which prevent the Charterer from bringing cargo, which is on the pier or lighter, alongside the Vessel, or prevents the Charterer from taking cargo from alongside the Vessel, is not to be computed as part of the time for loading or discharging; provided that the foregoing exceptions shall not apply to strikes, lockouts or stoppages of work existing at the berth at the time charterer designates such berth pursuant to Clause No. 4 (a) or No. 9 (a) hereof, or existing at the time the vessel, after arrival at port, tenders notice of readiness to load or discharge pursuant to Clauses No. 5 or No. 10 hereof.

(j) Strikes—Loading port. In the event the Vessel or loading of the Vessel is delayed by reason of strikes, lockouts, or stoppages of work, the Owner reserves the right at the loading port to despatch the Vessel with such portion of the cargo as may then be on board or at the Owner's option to terminate this Charter Party and withdraw the Vessel from service. In either case, the Charterer shall not be liable for dead freight or demurrage or both on cargo which is not loaded up to the time of the commencement of such strike, lockout or stoppage of work.

(k) Strikes—Discharge port. In the event the Vessel or discharge of the Vessel is delayed by reason of strike, lockout, or stoppage of work, the Owner reserved the right at the discharge port to discharge or dispose of the cargo still on board, at Charterer's risk and expense, in accordance with all the terms and liberties contained in Clause #23 hereof.

(l) Strikes—Notice to—owner. In the event a strike, lockout or stoppage of work is in effect at a particular designated port or berth to which the Vessel is proceeding to load or discharge, the Charterer shall immediately communicate with the Owner or its Agents at that port. If the notice is received by the Owner in less than three days before the scheduled or anticipated arrival of the Vessel at that port, the Owner may elect whether or not to proceed to that port or berth. In the event the Owner elects to proceed, the Vessel may tender notice of arrival and the provisions of Paragraphs j and k above shall not be applicable and time for loading or discharging shall not commence until four hours after the termination of the strike, lockout or stoppage of work. If the Owner elects not to proceed to the loading port, the Owner may terminate this Charter Party and withdraw the Vessel from service. If the Owner elects not to proceed to a discharge port the Owner shall be entitled to all the rights, liberties and immunities provided in Clause 23 and Clause 8 (b) hereof.

13. Appointment of Agents. The Owner's Agents will act for the Vessel at both loading and discharging ports.

14. Dues, taxes, wharfage, etc. The Vessel will be free of any wharf, dock, quay dues, or similar charges at both the port of loading and port of discharge. Custom's fees, entrance or clearance fees, whether measured by the volume of cargo or not, towing and tug charges, pilotage and other usual port charges on the vessel shall be paid by the Owner. All other dues, taxes or assessments of any sort, including but without limitation those against the Vessel which are measured by the volume of the cargo, shall be paid by the Charterer.

15. Customs, weighers, etc. All arrangements and expense for weighers, samplers and gauges, whether required by Customs, or to determine the quantity of cargo, the amount or adjustment of freight or otherwise and all other Customs' requirements in connection with the cargo to be paid by Charterer, and any delay resulting from failure to make such arrangements shall count as used lay time.

16. Lien. The Owner shall have an absolute lien on the cargo and upon all subfreights for all amounts due under this Charter including freight, dead freight, demurrage and costs and disbursements (including attorney's fees) of recovering the same, which lien shall continue after delivery of the cargo hereunder.

17. Assignment. Subject to the prior approval of War Shipping Administration the Charterer shall have the option of subletting or assigning this Charter to any individual or company, but the Charterer shall always remain responsible for the due fulfillment of this Charter and all its terms and conditions.

18. Cargo receipt. (a) Non-negotiable receipts substantially in the form appearing herein shall be issued and signed by the Master as requested. If a negotiable bill of lading is provided for in Part I, the bill of lading shall be in the form prescribed by General Order No. 18 and present and future supplements or amendments thereto (Warshipsading or Warshipshortlading) upon which the following clause shall be prominently placed: "Subject to all the terms, provisions conditions and exceptions of Warshipvoy Charter Party dated_____."

(b) Any receipt or bill of lading signed by or on behalf of the Master or Agent shall be without prejudice to the terms, conditions and exceptions of this Charter and subject to all of them. The Charterer hereby agrees to indemnify and hold harmless the Owner, the Master, and the Vessel of and from all consequences or liabilities that may arise from the Charterer or its agents or the Master signing or issuing receipts, bills of lading or other documents inconsistent with this Charter or from any irregularity in the papers supplied by the Charterer or its agents or from complying with Charterer's or its agents' orders.

19. Limitation of liability. (a) The Owner and the Vessel in all matters arising under this Charter Party shall be entitled to the like privileges and rights and immunities as are contained in Section 3 (6), Section 4, and Section 11 of the Carriage of Goods by Sea Act of the United States approved April 16, 1936. The aforesaid provisions (except as may be otherwise specifically provided herein) shall govern before the goods are loaded on and after they are discharged from the Vessel and throughout the entire time the goods are in the custody of the Owner or Vessel.

(b) Neither the Vessel or Owner, nor any corporation owned by, subsidiary to or associated or affiliated with the Vessel or Owner shall be liable to answer for or make good any loss or damage to the goods occurring at any time and even though before loading on or after discharge from the Vessel, by reason or by means of any fire whatsoever, unless such fire shall be caused by the owner's design or neglect.

(c) Any provision of this Charter to the contrary notwithstanding the Owner shall have the benefit of all limitations of and exemptions from liability accorded to the owner or chartered owner by any statute or rule of law for the time being in force. The amount of the Owner's liability hereunder for or in connection with any cargo transported shall not exceed the value of the Owner's interest in the vessel and pending freight regardless of whether or not the Owner is within the purview of Sections 4281–4289 of the Revised Statutes of the United States.

20. Both-to-blame collision clause. If the Vessel comes into collision with another ship as a result of the negligence of the other ship and any act, neglect or default of the Master, Mariners, Pilot or the servants of the Owner of the Vessel in the navigation or in the management of the Vessel, the owners of the cargo carried hereunder will indemnify the Owner of the Vessel against all loss or liability to the other or non-carrying ship or her owners insofar as such loss or liability represents loss of, or damage to, or any claim whatsoever of the owners of said cargo, paid or payable by the other or non-carrying ship or her owners to the owners of said cargo and set-off, recouped or recovered by the other or non-carrying ship or her owners as part of their claim against the carrying Vessel or Owners. The foregoing provisions shall also apply where the owners, operators or those in charge of any ship or ships or objects other than, or in addition to, the colliding ships or objects are at fault in respect of a collision or contact.

21. General average clause. General average shall be adjusted, stated, and settled, according to Rules 1 to 15, inclusive, 17 to 22, inclusive, and Rule F of York-Antwerp Rules 1924, at such port or place in the United States as may be selected by the Owner of the Vessel, and as to matters not provided for by these Rules, according to the laws and usages at the port of New York. In such adjustment, disbursements in foreign currencies shall be exchanged into United States money at the rate prevailing on the dates made and allowances for damage to cargo claimed in foreign currency shall be converted at the rate prevailing on the last day of discharge at the port or place of final discharge of such damaged cargo from the Vessel. Average agreement or bond and such additional security, as may be required by the Owner, must be furnished before delivery of the cargo. Such cash deposit as the Owner or his Agents may deem sufficient as additional security for the contribution of the cargo and for any salvage and special charges thereon, shall, if required, be made by the cargo, shippers, consignees, or owners of the cargo to the Owner before delivery. Such deposit shall, at the option of the Owner, be payable in United States money, and be remitted to the adjuster. When so remitted the deposit shall be held in a special account at the place of adjustment in the name of the adjuster pending settlement of the general average and refunds or credit balances, if any, shall be paid in United States money.

22. Amended Jason clause. In the event of accident, danger, damage, or disaster before or after commencement of the voyage resulting from any cause whatsoever, whether due to negligence or not, for which or for the consequence of which the Owner is not responsible by statute, contract, or otherwise, the cargo, shippers, consignees, or owners of the cargo shall contribute with the Vessel and its Owner in General Average to the payment of any sacrifices, losses or expenses of a General Average nature that may be made or incurred, and shall pay salvage and special charges incurred in respect of the cargo. If a salving vessel is owned or operated by the Owner, salvage shall be paid for as fully as if the salving vessel or vessels belong to strangers.

23. Liberties clauses. (a) In any situation whatsoever and wheresoever occurring and whether existing or anticipated before commencement of or during the voyage, which in the judgment of the Owner or Master is likely to give rise to risk of capture, seizure, detention, damages, delay or disadvantage to or loss of the vessel or any part of her cargo, or to make it unsafe, imprudent, or unlawful for any reason to commence or proceed on or continue the voyage or to enter or discharge the cargo at the port of discharge, or to give rise to delay or difficulty in arriving, discharging at or leaving the port of discharge or the usual place of discharge in such port, the Owner or Master may before loading or before the commencement of the voyage, require the shipper or other person entitled thereto to take delivery of the cargo at port of shipment and upon their failure to do so, may warehouse the cargo at the risk and expense of the cargo; or the Owner or Master, whether or not proceeding toward or entering or attempting to enter the port of discharge or reaching or attempting to reach the usual place of discharge therein or attempting to discharge the cargo there, may discharge the cargo into depot, lazaretto, craft or other place; or the Vessel may proceed or return, directly or indirectly, to or stop at any such port or place whatsoever as the Master or the Owner may consider safe or advisable under the circumstances, and discharge the cargo, or any part thereof, at any such port or place; or the Owner or the Master may retain the cargo on board until the return trip or until such time as the Owner or the Master thinks advisable and discharge the cargo at any place whatsoever as herein provided or the Owner or the Master may discharge and forward the cargo by any means at the risk and expense of the cargo. The Owner or the Master is not required to give notice of discharge of the cargo, or the forwarding thereof as herein provided. When the cargo is discharged from the Vessel, as herein provided, it shall be at its own risk and expense; such discharge shall constitute complete delivery and performance under this Contract and the Owner and the Vessel shall be freed from any further responsibility. For any service rendered to the cargo as herein provided the Owner or the Vessel shall be entitled to a reasonable extra compensation.

(b) The Owner, Master and Vessel shall have liberty to comply with any orders or directions as to loading, departure, arrival, routes, ports of call, stoppages, discharge, destination, delivery or otherwise howsoever given by the government of any nation or department thereof or any person acting or purporting to act with the authority of such government or of any department thereof, or by any committee or person having, under the terms of the war risk insurance on the Vessel, the right to give such orders or directions. Delivery or other disposition of the cargo in accordance with such orders or directions shall be a fulfillment of the contract voyage. The Vessel may carry contraband, explosives, munitions, warlike stores, hazardous cargo, and may sail armed or unarmed and with or without convoy.

(c) In addition to all other liberties herein the Owner and the Vessel shall have the right to withhold delivery of, reship to, deposit or discharge the cargo at any place whatsoever, surrender or dispose of the cargo in accordance with any direction, condition or agreement imposed upon or exacted from the Owner or the Vessel by any government or department thereof or any person purporting to act with the authority of either of them. In any of the above circumstances the cargo shall be solely at its risk and expense and all expenses and charges so incurred shall be payable by the owner or consignee thereof and shall be a lien on the cargo.

24. Scope of voyage. (a) The scope of voyage herein contracted for shall include usual or customary or advertised ports of call whether named in this contract or not, also ports in or out of the advertised, geographical, usual or ordinary route or order, even though in proceeding thereto the Vessel may sail beyond the port of discharge or in a direction contrary thereto or return to the original port, or depart from the direct or customary route, and include all canals, straits and other waters. The Vessel may call at any port for the purposes of the current voyage or of a prior or subsequent voyage. The Vessel may omit calling at any port or ports whether scheduled or not, and may call at the same port more than once; may for matters occurring before loading the cargo, known or unknown at the time of such loading and matters occurring after such loading, either with or without the cargo or passengers on board, and before or after proceeding toward the port of discharge, adjust compasses, dry dock, with or without cargo aboard go on ways or to repair yards, shift berths, make trial trips or tests, take fuel, passengers, crew or stores, remain in port, sail with or without pilots, tow and be towed, and save or attempt to save life or property; and all of the foregoing are included in the contract voyage.

(b) In view of the necessity for the expeditious employment of all the available Merchant Marine, the exercise by the carrier or master of any of the liberties granted herein with respect to loading, departure, scope of voyage, arrival, routes, ports of call, stoppage, discharge, destination, surrender, delivery, or otherwise, shall be presumed to be for the purposes of conserving and utilizing war time, sea mileage or shipping space, and therefore prima facie reasonable and necessary in the assembling, transportation or distribution of materials essential to the war effort.

25. Exceptions. The Vessel, her Master and Owner, shall not, unless otherwise in the Charter expressly provided, be responsible for any loss or damage or delay or failure in performing hereunder, arising or resulting from: Any act, neglect, default or barratry of the Master, Pilots, Mariners or other servants of the Owner in the navigation or management of the Vessel; fire, unless caused by the personal design or neglect of the Owner; collision, stranding, or peril, danger or accident of the sea or other navigable waters; saving or attempting to save life or property; wastage in weight or bulk, or any other loss or damage arising from inherent defect, quality or vice of the cargo; any act or omission of the Charterer, the Owner, shipper or consignee of the cargo; their agents or representatives; insufficiency of packing, insufficiency or inadequacy of marks; explosion, bursting of boilers, breakage of shafts, or any latent defects in hull, equipment or machinery; unseaworthiness of the Vessel unless caused by want of due diligence on the part of the Owner to make the Vessel seaworthy or to have her properly manned, equipped and supplied; or from any other cause of whatsoever kind arising without the actual personal fault or privity of the Owner. And neither the Vessel, the Master or Owner, nor the Charterer, shall, unless otherwise in the Charter expressly provided, be responsible for any loss or damage or delay or failure in performing hereunder arising or resulting from: Act of God, act of war; act of public enemies, pirates, or assailing thieves; arrest or restraint of princes, rulers or people, or seizure under legal process; strike or lockout or stoppage or restraint of labor from whatever cause, either partial or general; or riot or civil commotion. The Vessel shall have liberty to sail with or without pilots, to tow or to be towed, to go to the assistance of vessels in distress and to deviate for the purpose of saving life or property or of landing any ill or injured person on board or to repair or go on drydock either with or without cargo aboard. No exemption afforded to the Charterer under this clause shall diminish its obligations for payment of any sums due the Owner under the other provisions of this Charter.

26. Ice clause. The Vessel shall not be ordered to nor bound to enter any ice-bound place or any place where lights, lightships, marks and buoys on Vessel's arrival are or are likely to be withdrawn by reason of ice or where there is risk that ordinarily the Vessel will not be able on account of ice to enter, reach or leave the place. The Vessel shall not be obliged to force ice. If on account of ice the Master considers it dangerous to remain at the loading or discharging place for fear of the Vessel being frozen in and/or damaged, he has the liberty to sail to a convenient open place and await the Charterer's further instructions. Detention through any of the above causes to be for the Charterer's account.

27. Definition of "owner." Wherever the word "Owner" appears herein without further definition it refers to the Owner of the Vessel, and shall be deemed to include a Time Charterer, Demise Charterer, Requisition Charterer, Deponent Owner, or user.

28. Part I and Part II. This Charter Party consists of this Part II and of Part I on the reverse hereof. Unless in this Part II otherwise provided, all of the provisions of said Part I shall be part of this Charter Party as though fully incorporated herein. In the event of conflict between the provisions of this Part II and those of Part I, the provisions of Part I shall govern to the extent of such conflict.

29. Members of Congress. No member of or delegate to the Congress, nor Resident Commissioner, shall be admitted to any share or part of this Charter or to any benefit that may arise therefrom, except as provided in Section 116 of the Act approved March 4, 1909.

In the matter of regulations for transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles.

It appearing, that pursuant to section 233 of the Transportation of Explosives Act approved March 4, 1921 (41 Stat. 1445), and Part II of the Interstate Commerce Act, the Commission has formulated and published certain regulations for transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles;

It further appearing, that in applications received we are asked to amend the aforesaid regulations as set forth in provisions made part hereof;

And it further appearing, that amendments involved in said applications, having been considered and found to be in accord with the best-known practicable means for securing safety in transit and with the need therefor for promoting safety of operation and standards of equipment used in the transportation of said dangerous articles:

It is ordered, That the aforesaid regulations for transportation of explosives and other dangerous articles be, and they are hereby, amended as follows:

(Sec. 233, 41 Stat. 1445, sec. 204, 49 Stat. 546, sec. 4, 52 Stat. 1232, sec. 20, 54 Stat. 922, 56 Stat. 176; 18 U.S.C. 383, 49 U.S.C. 304)

Part 3—Regulations Applying to Shippers

Superseding and amending sec. 261A, order Aug. 16, 1940, as follows (packing formic acid) (change or add):

(b) In containers prescribed in sec. 246, except Spec. 5A metal barrels or drums.

(f) Spec. 5C.—Metal barrels or drums.

Appendix—Shipping Container Specifications

Superseding and amending pars. 15 (b) and 17, spec. 3A, order Aug. 16, 1940, to read as follows:

15 (b) Specimens must be: Gauge length 8 inches with width not over 1½ inches; or, gauge length 2 inches with width not over 1½ inches: Provided, That gauge length at least 24 times thickness with width not over 6 times thickness is authorized when cylinder wall is not over 5/16 inch thick. The specimen, exclusive of grip ends, must not be flattened. Grip ends may be flattened to within one inch of each end of the reduced section. Heating of specimen for any purpose is not authorized.

17. Leakage Test.—Every cylinder with the bottom closed in by the spinning process must be tested for leakage by gas or air pressure after the interior of the bottom has been cleaned and is free from all moisture. Pressure, approximately the same as but not less than service pressure, must be applied to the interior of the finished bottom over an area of at least 1/16 of the total area of the bottom but not less than ¾ inch in diameter, including the point of closure, for at least one minute, during which time the exterior of the bottom exposed to interior pressure must be covered with water and closely examined for indications of leakage. Leakers must not be repaired and must be rejected.

NOTE: As a safety precaution, if the manufacturer elects to make this test before the hydrostatic test, he should design his apparatus so that the pressure is applied to the smallest area practicable, around the point of closure, and so as to use the smallest possible volume of air or gas.

It is further ordered, That this order amending the aforesaid regulations shall be effective on and after July 24, 1944, and shall remain in full force and effect and be observed until further order of the Commission;

1. Pursuant to the Act of June 4, 1920 as amended by Public Law No. 343, 78th Congress, 2d Sess., and the Joint Resolution of Congress No. 344, both of which were approved by the President of the United States June 17, 1944, the Secretary of the Navy (hereinafter referred to as Navy) will produce from said Reserve and have available for public sale to the highest qualified bidder petroleum in the estimated quantities, at the approximate times and at the place indicated below: Bids for all or any part of such petroleum are requested in compliance with the terms of the above cited Act and Joint Resolution and the conditions and provisions to which reference is hereinafter made.

2. The public sale will take place in the office of the District Supply Officer, Twelfth Naval District, Room 545, Federal Office–Building, San Francisco 2, California, at 10:00 a. m. (P. W. T.) August 15, 1944. Prior to such sale bidders must file with said officer certain statements showing qualifications to bid, which statements are described in detail in the specifications hereinafter mentioned. No one will be deemed a qualified bidder or be permitted to bid who has not filed such statements. All bids must be in writing. The bids and statements will be read aloud at said time and place and any interested person may be present and will be heard with respect to the subject matter. A bidder who has submitted a bid in accordance with the provisions of this Call and Specifications may forthwith, after all proposals have been read, change the price or any other terms of his bid and such change or changes shall immediately be written into his bid: Provided, however, That no changes will be permitted that will have the effect of lowering the prices bid. The bids will then be taken under advisement by Navy and an acceptance or acceptances made within 30 days thereafter subject, however, to the later approval of the President of the United States, which approval may not be obtained within such 30 day period. Navy reserves the right, in the public interest, to reject all bids and order a new public sale.

3. The maximum number of barrels of petroleum covered hereby is approximately 2,474,900 barrels. The quantities that will be available from time to time are subject to (a) speed of development work to increase present production, (b) a maximum authorized daily rate of production available to Navy of 50,000 barrels and (c) causes beyond the control of Navy. The principal place of delivery will be at U. S. Naval Fuel Annex, Elk Hills, in the South Half of Section 16, Township 31 South, Range 24 East, M. D. B. & M., Kern County, California.

4. Navy reserves the right to reduce or stop production at any time when it is no longer required for the national defense and more particularly for the meeting of the critical need for petroleum on the west coast to supply the armed services in the Pacific theater. Consequently, the contract of sale will contain provisions for partial or total cancellation by Navy.

5. Specifications containing detailed information on quantities offered for sale, form of bids, bond requirements, payments, deliveries, volume measurements, provisions respecting price, gravity determination, form of contract, information to be supplied by bidder, etc., can and should be obtained by prospective bidders from Director, Naval Petroleum and Oil Shale Reserves, Navy Department, Washington, D. C., or the Inspector, Naval Petroleum Reserve in California, 402 United States Court House and Postoffice Bldg., Los Angeles 12, California, or the District Supply Officer, 12th Naval District, Federal Office Bldg., San Francisco 2, California. All proposals must conform to such specifications.

RALPH A. BARD, Acting Secretary of the Navy.

[Docket No. 5197]

COAST FISHING CO.

NOTICE OF HEARING

Complaint. The Federal Trade Commission, having reason to believe that the party respondent named in the caption hereof and hereinafter more particularly designated and described, since June 19, 1936, has violated and is now violating the provisions of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Clayton Act (U.S.C. Title 15, sec. 13) as amended by the Robinson-Patman Act, approved June 19, 1936, hereby issues its complaint, stating its charges with respect thereto as follows:

PARAGRAPH ONE: Respondent Coast Fishing Company is a corporation, organized and existing under the laws of the State of California, with its principal office and place of business located at 621 S. Pries Avenue, Wilmington, California.

PAR. TWO: Respondent Coast Fishing Company is now engaged, and for many years prior hereto has engaged in the business of packing, distributing, and selling canned tuna, canned sardines and canned mackerel and other sea food products (all of which are hereinafter called sea food products) in its own name and for its own account for resale directly to buyers located in states other than the state in which the respondent is established. As a result of respondent's instructions, such sea food products are shipped and transported across state lines to such buyers who are located in various states of the United States, other than the state where the respondent is established.

The respondent, to distinguish its sea food products from the sea food products sold by competitors, and to facilitate sales, utilizes registered and unregistered trade-marks and brands for the various types and grades of sea food products it sells. Among and representative of respondent's well-known brands are:

Coast, Treasure, Abbey Biltmore, Satisfaction, Wave Kissed, King Solomon, Lucky Strike, Flakies.

PAR. THREE: The respondent, since June 19, 1936, in connection with the interstate sale and distribution of sea food products has been and is now paying or granting or has paid or granted, directly or indirectly, commissions, brokerage or other compensation or allowances or discounts in lieu thereof to buyers of said sea food products sold under its own labels, unlabeled and under buyers' labels.

PAR. FOUR: The respondent, since June 19, 1936, has distributed and sold and distributes and sells sea food products directly to certain buyers in interstate transactions as aforesaid and has paid to such buyers commissions or brokerage fees on purchases made by them in their respective names and for their respective accounts. The respondent's method of distribution and sale, as hereinafter illustrated, is representative of the sales methods of a number of West Coast distributors.

The respondent's buyers customarily designate themselves as "brokers", "merchandise brokers", or as "primary distributors", although they are known to the trade as "buying brokers" or "speculative brokers". Such "buying brokers" or "speculative brokers" customarily operate by placing orders for merchandise with those sellers, and only with those sellers, who will grant and pay them commissions or brokerage fees on their own purchases. Some such buyers are large scale buyers and sellers of sea food products distributed under their own private brands, which brands usually show the name and address of the buyer, but not the packer, and identify the merchandise as being the product of the particular buyer who owns the label.

Some such buyers customarily purchase their private brand sea food products from respondent and many other sellers and often during a given season, after shopping the market, will purchase such commodities under the same private brands from several competing sellers, placing their orders where they are able to secure the most favorable prices and terms.

Such buyers place their orders for merchandise with respondent and other sellers, who, on receiving and accepting such orders, deliver the merchandise to a common carrier for delivery, but require that the buyer pay the purchase price as a condition precedent to the delivery of the merchandise. If such merchandise is lost or damaged in transit, such buyers file claims in their own names and collect damages from the carrier for their own account.

On receipt of the merchandise, such buyers insure such merchandise and warehouse it in there own warehouses or in public warehouses, and thereafter generally utilize the warehouse receipts covering the merchandise, together with the insurance contract, as collateral or security to obtain bank loans.

Such buyers mask these operations under the fictionalized designation of "brokers", "merchandise brokers", or "primary distributors", for the sole purpose of coloring the name and method of their operation in order to collect commissions or brokerage fees from respondent and from other sellers who will pay such buyers commissions or brokerage fees on their own purchases, notwithstanding the fact that it is well known to be the custom of such buyers to invoice and sell such merchandise in their own names, for their own accounts, at their own prices, and on their own terms, and to assume full and complete credit risks.

PAR. FIVE: The acts and practices of the respondent in promoting sales of sea food products by paying to buyers, directly or indirectly, commissions, brokerage or other compensation and allowances or discounts in lieu thereof, as set forth above, are in violation of subsection (c) of section 2 of the Clayton Act as amended.

Wherefore, the premises considered, the Federal Trade Commission on this 27th day of July, A. D. 1944, issues its complaint against said respondent.

Notice. Notice is hereby given you, Coast Fishing Company, a corporation, respondent herein, that the 1st day of September A. D., 1944, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, is hereby fixed as the time, and the offices of the Federal Trade Commission in the City of Washington, D. C., as the place, when and where a hearing will be had on the charges set forth in this complaint, at which time and place you will have the right, under said Act, to appear and show cause why an order should not be entered by said Commission requiring you to cease and desist from the violations of the law charged in the complaint.

You are notified and required, on or before the twentieth day after service upon you of this complaint, to file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. If answer is filed and if your appearance at the place and on the date above stated be not required, due notice to that effect will be given you. The rules of practice adopted by the Commission with respect to answers or failure to appear or answer (Rule IX) provide as follows:

> In case of desire to contest the proceeding the respondent shall, within twenty (20) days from the service of the complaint, file with the Commission an answer to the complaint. Such answer shall contain a concise statement of the facts which constitute the ground of defense. Respondent shall specifically admit or deny or explain each of the facts alleged in the complaint, unless respondent is without knowledge, in which case respondent shall so state.
> Failure of the respondent to file answer within the time above provided and failure to appear at the time and place fixed for hearing shall be deemed to authorize the Commission, without further notice to respondent, to proceed in regular course on the charges set forth in the complaint.
> If respondent desires to waive hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in the complaint and not to contest the facts, the answer may consist of a statement that respondent admits all the material allegations of fact charged in the complaint to be true. Respondent by such answer shall be deemed to have waived a hearing on the allegations of fact set forth in said complaint and to have authorized the Commission, without further evidence, or other intervening procedure, to find such facts to be true.

Contemporaneously with the filing of such answer the respondent may give notice in writing that he desires to be heard on the question as to whether the admitted facts constitute the violation of law charged in the complaint. Pursuant to such notice, the respondent may file a brief, directed solely to that question, in accordance with Rule XXIII.

In witness whereof, the Federal Trade Commission has caused this, its complaint, to be signed by its Secretary, and its official seal to be hereto affixed, at Washington, D. C., this 27th day of July, A. D., 1944.

By the Commission.

[MPR 188, Order 1949]

PIANO PARTS

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 1949 under § 1499.159b of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Manufacturers' maximum prices for specified building materials and consumers' goods other than apparel. Adjustable pricing on sales of certain piano parts.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register, and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328, it is ordered:

(a) Scope of this order. This order applies only to sales by manufacturers of the piano parts covered by this order. The piano parts covered by this order are:

Keys, actions and action brackets.
Hammers.
Sounding boards.
Plates.
Pedals.
Tuning pins.
Custom-built wood parts and cases.

and all other piano parts which are used exclusively in the manufacture of pianos and whose sales are not covered by any price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration other than Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

This order does not cover:

Lumber (except custom-built wood parts and cases).
Glue.
Finishing materials.
Small hardware.

or any other part which is either not used exclusively in the manufacture of pianos or whose sales are covered by any price regulation issued by the Office of Price Administration other than Maximum Price Regulation No. 188.

This order applies only to sales made to manufacturers of pianos who will use the parts for the manufacture of new pianos and does not apply to sales of parts to purchasers who buy these parts for resale or for reconditioning of used pianos.

(b) Adjustable pricing permitted by this order. A manufacturer of piano parts may, after the effective date of this order, offer to sell, enter into contracts, and deliver the piano parts covered by this order at the existing maximum price and agree with the purchaser that the price charged for such parts may be increased to the extent that an increase in the maximum price for piano parts may be allowed by the Office of Price Administration by an order with an effective date within the calendar year 1944. Until such an order has been issued, the seller may not charge and the buyer may not pay any amount which exceeds the seller's existing maximum price.

(c) In order to be eligible for the adjustment, any manufacturer of piano parts, who proposes to collect the additional amount which may be allowed by the Office of Price Administration, must indicate on each invoice covering such parts, his intention to charge the additional amount by a statement in the following form:

The prices on this invoice are at or below the ceiling prices fixed in Office of Price Administration Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. In accordance with Order No. 1949 under that regulation, the purchaser is to pay any additional amount for piano parts permitted to be collected by the Office of Price Administration in an order effective during 1944.

(d) This Order No. 1949 may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time and expires on December 31, 1944.

This Order No. 1949 shall become effective July 28, 1944.

MALT AND CEREAL BEVERAGES IN CHARLOTTE, N. C.

Order No. G–1 under General Order No. 50. Maximum prices for malt and cereal beverages in certain areas.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the District Director of the Charlotte District Office of Region IV of the Office of Price Administration by General Order No. 50 issued by the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, and Region IV Revised Delegation Order No. 17, issued May 5, 1944, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. Purpose of order. It is the purpose of this order to establish specific maximum prices for malt and cereal beverages including those commonly known as ale, beer and near-beer, either in containers or on draught when sold or offered for sale at retail by any eating or drinking establishment, either for consumption on the premises or when carried away.

SEC. 2. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order extend to all eating and drinking places or establishments located within the limits of the following named counties of the State of North Carolina:

Alexander, Alleghany, Anson, Ashe, Avery, Buncombe, Burke, Cabarrus, Caldwell, Catawba, Cherokee, Clay, Cleveland, Davidson, Davie, Forsyth, Gaston, Graham, Guilford, Haywood, Henderson, Iredell, Jackson, Lincoln, Macon, Madison, McDowell, Mecklenburg, Mitchell, Montgomery, Polk, Randolph, Richmond, Rockingham, Rowan, Rutherford, Stanly, Stokes, Surry, Swain, Transylvania, Union, Watauga, Wilkes, Yadkin, and Yancey.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices. (a) On and after July 10, 1944, if you operate an eating or drinking establishment, you may not sell or offer for sale any beverage subject to this order at prices higher than the applicable ceiling prices listed in Appendix A hereof. You may, of course, charge lower prices at any time.

(b) If you sell any beverage subject to this order which is not specifically listed in Appendix A hereof, and if you believe that the maximum price specified under the applicable heading "All other brands not listed above" is not appropriate to such beverage, you may make application to the Charlotte District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that such beverage be specifically included in Appendix A hereof. With or without such application the Charlotte District Office of the Office of Price Administration may, at any time and from time to time, add new or unlisted beverages, brands, types or sizes, together with maximum prices for same to the lists set forth in Appendix A hereof.

(c) You may not add any taxes to your ceiling prices set forth in Appendix A hereof except those specifically provided therein, as all other taxes were taken into consideration in establishing the ceiling prices for each group, as set forth in Appendix A.

SEC. 4. How to figure your ceiling prices. (a) This order divides eating and drinking establishments into three different groups and gives each group a different ceiling price. The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. You must figure the group to which you belong on the basis of your correct legal ceiling prices for that period.

(b) The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices for the beverages subject to this order in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. If your legal ceiling prices for various brands and types of beverages subject to this order vary so that your ceiling prices on some brands or types seem to place you in one particular group and ceiling prices on others seems to classify you into a different group, you must classify yourself into the particular group representative of the prices at which the greater number of your sales were made. You must figure the group to which you belong as follows:

(1) Group 1–B. Your establishment belongs to Group 1–B, if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943 your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 1–B establishments.

(2) Group 2–B. Your establishment belongs to Group 2–B if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943 your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 2–B establishments, but were less than those provided in Appendix A for Group 1–B establishments.

(c) If your eating or drinking establishment was not in operation during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, and, if the nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type as yours is one which is properly classified in Group 1–B or Group 2–B, you must file an application with the Charlotte District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that your establishment be reclassified into the same group to which its nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type belongs. Until your application is acted upon and your establishment is reclassified, it must retain the classification of a Group 3–B seller, and must observe the ceiling prices as provided for that group in Appendix A hereof. All such applications for reclassification must contain the following information:

1. Name and address of the establishment and of its owner or owners.

2. A description of the establishment showing its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the date it began operating.

3. The selling prices by brand name of all beverages sold since the beginning of its operation.

4. The names of the three nearest eating and drinking establishments of the same type, and their group number as determined under this order.

5. Any other information pertinent to such application, or which may be requested by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5. Filing with War Price and Rationing Board. When you have figured your proper group under section 4 above, you must, on or before July 15, 1944, file with your War Price and Rationing Board a signed statement with the name and address of your establishment, its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the group to which it belongs. Thereupon the War Price and Rationing Board will send you a card bearing your group number.

SEC. 6. Modification of prices. After you have determined your group and have put into effect the ceiling prices provided in this order for that group, the Office of Price Administration District Director for the district in which your establishment is located may direct you to charge lower ceiling prices:

(a) If, on the basis of your April 4–10, 1943 legal ceiling prices, this order, properly applied, requires you to be placed into a group with lower ceiling prices.

(b) If, as a result of speculative, unwarranted, or abnormal increases, contrary to the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, your legal ceiling prices on April 4–10, 1943, were excessive in relation to the legal ceiling prices of other comparable establishments in the district.

SEC. 7. Exempt sales. The following sales are exempt from the operation of this order. However, unless they are otherwise exempt from price control, they shall remain subject to the appropriate maximum price regulation or order:

(a) Sales by persons on board common carriers (when operated as such), including railroad dining cars, club cars, bar cars, and buffet cars, or sales otherwise governed by Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 1 (Dining Car Regulation).

(b) Sales by public and private hospitals insofar as they serve to patients.

(c) Sales by eating cooperatives formed by members of the Armed Forces (as, for example, officers' mess) operated as a non-profit cooperative (where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any individual) which sells food items or meals on a cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to members of the Armed Forces who are members of the cooperative.

(d) Sales where the beverages subject to this order are included in, and sold as part of, a meal and where the price of such beverage is included in the price of the meal. (Such sales remain under Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 4–1.)

(e) Sales by the War Department or the Department of Navy of the United States through such Departments' sales stores, including commissaries, ships' stores ashore, and by stores operated as army canteens, post exchanges, or ships' activities.

(f) Bona fide private clubs insofar as such clubs sell only to members or bona fide guests of members. Whenever such clubs sell to persons other than members or bona fide guests of members, such clubs shall be considered for all sales an eating or drinking establishment and subject to this order. No club shall be considered to be exempt as a private club, within the meaning of this subparagraph, unless its members pay dues (more than merely nominal in amount), are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body, and unless it is otherwise operated as a private club.

No private club organized after the effective date of this order shall be exempt unless and until it has filed a request for exemption with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration of the area in which it is located, furnishing such information as may be required, and has received a communication from such office authorizing exemption as a private club.

SEC. 8. Evasion. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment, you must not evade the ceiling prices established by this order by any type of scheme or device; among other things (this is not an attempt to list all evasive practices) you must not:

(a) Institute any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking or other special charges which you did not have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4, 1943 to April 10, 1943, or

(b) Increase any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking or other special charges which you did have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, or

(c) Require as a condition of sale of a beverage the purchase of other items or meals.

SEC. 9. Records and menus. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment subject to this order, you must observe the requirements of General Order 50, as well as Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 4–1, either as revised and amended or as may be revised and amended, with reference to the filing and keeping of menus and the preservation and keeping of customary and future records. Among other provisions of General Order No. 50, are the following:

(a) Preserve all existing records relating to prices, cost and sales of food items, meals and beverages;

(b) Continue to prepare and maintain such records as have been ordinarily kept;

(c) Keep for examination by the Office of Price Administration two copies of each menu used by the establishment each day, or a daily record in duplicate of the prices charged for food items, beverages and meals. If the establishment has customarily used menus, it must continue to do so.

SEC. 10. Posting of prices. If you are an operator of an eating and drinking establishment, you must post, and keep posted, the ceiling prices of the beverages subject to this order sold by your establishment, either by:

(a) Supplying the customers menus or bills of fare showing the beverages subject to this order which are sold by the establishment; and showing the brand name, quantity and ceiling price of each kind and type of bottled beverage, and the quantity and ceiling price of all beverages sold on draught.

(b) Posting a sign giving the same information as required on menus or bills of fare by subparagraph (a) above. Such a sign must be posted in the establishment at a place where it can easily be read by the customers. If you prefer, you may use a similar sign furnished by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11. Posting of group number. If you operate an eating or drinking establishment selling at retail beverages subject to this order, you must post, and keep posted, in the premises a card clearly visible to purchasers showing the group number of your establishment as classified under this order. The card must read "OPA 1B", "OPA 2B", or "OPA 3B", whichever is applicable. You may use the card furnished you for this purpose by the War Price and Rationing Board.

SEC. 12. Receipts and sales slips. Regardless of whether or not receipts have customarily been issued, upon request by any customer at the time of payment, a receipt containing a full description of the beverage sold and the price of same must be issued. Such receipts must show the date of issue and bear the signature of the person issuing same.

If you have customarily issued receipts or sales slips, you may not now discontinue the practice.

SEC. 13. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one place selling beverages subject to this order, you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 14. Enforcement. If you violate any provision of this regulation, you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspension of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 15. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. If you are a seller subject to this order, your license may be suspended for violation of the license or of the order. If your license is suspended, you may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which your license has been suspended.

SEC. 16. Relation to other maximum price regulations. This order supersedes the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 259 and the General Maximum Price Regulation insofar as such provisions were applicable to sales at retail by eating and drinking establishments of beverages subject to this order. [Atlanta Order G-1 Under Gen. Order 50]

MALT AND CEREAL BEVERAGES IN ATLANTA, GA., DISTRICT

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the District Director of the Atlanta District Office of Region IV of the Office of Price Administration by General Order No. 50 issued by the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, and Region IV Revised Delegation Order No. 17, issued May 5, 1944, and pursuant to the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. Purpose of order. It is the purpose of this order to establish specific maximum prices for malt and cereal beverages including those commonly known as ale, beer and near-beer, either in containers or on draught when sold or offered for sale at retail by any eating, or drinking establishment, either for consumption on the premises or when carried away.

SEC. 2. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order extend to all eating and drinking places or establishments located within the limits of the following named counties of the State of Georgia: Baldwin, Banks, Barrow, Bartow, Bibb, Bleckley, Butts, Carroll, Catoosa, Chattahoochee, Chattooga, Cherokee, Clarke, Clayton, Cobb, Coweta, Crawford, Crisp, Dade, Dawson, De Kalb, Dodge, Dooly, Douglas, Elbert, Fannin, Fayette, Floyd, Forsyth, Franklin, Fulton, Gilmer, Gordon, Greene, Gwinnett, Habersham, Hall, Hancock, Haralson, Harris, Hart, Heard, Henry, Houston, Jackson, Jasper, Johnson, Jones, Lamar, Laurens, Lee, Lincoln, Lumpkin, Macon, Madison, Marion, Meriwether, Monroe, Morgan, Murray, Muscogee, Newton, Oconee, Oglethorpe, Paulding, Peach, Pickens, Pike, Polk, Pulaski, Putnam, Quitman, Rabun, Randolph, Rockdale, Schley, Spalding, Stephens, Stewart, Sumter, Talbot, Taliaferro, Taylor, Terrell, Towns, Troup, Twiggs, Union, Upson, Walker, Walton, Washington, Webster, White, Whitfield, Wilcox, Wilkes, and Wilkinson.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices. (a) On and after July 25, 1944, if you operate an eating or drinking establishment, you may not sell or offer for sale any beverage subject to this order at prices higher than the applicable ceiling prices listed in Appendix A hereof. You may, of course, charge lower prices at any time.

(b) If you sell any beverage subject to this order which is not specifically listed in Appendix A hereof, and if you believe that the maximum price specified under the applicable heading "All other brands not listed above and beer or ale not bearing a brand label at time of sale" is not appropriate to such beverage, you may make application to the Atlanta District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that such beverage be specifically included in Appendix A hereof. With or without such application the Atlanta District Office of the Office of Price Administration may, at any time and from time to time, add new or unlisted beverages, brands, types or sizes, together with maximum prices for same to the lists set forth in Appendix A hereof.

(c) You may not add any taxes to your ceiling prices set forth in Appendix A hereof except those specifically provided therein, as all other taxes were taken into consideration in establishing the ceiling prices for each group, as set forth in Appendix A.

SEC. 4. How to figure your ceiling prices. (a) This order divides eating and drinking establishments into three different groups and gives each group a different ceiling price. The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. You must figure the group to which you belong on the basis of your correct legal ceiling prices for that period.

(b) The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices for the beverages subject to this order in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. If your legal ceiling prices for various brands and types of beverages subject to this order vary so that your ceiling prices on some brands or types seem to place you in one particular group and ceiling prices on others seem to classify you into a different group, you must classify yourself into the particular group representative of the prices at which the greater number of your sales were made. You must figure the group to which you belong as follows:

(1) Group 1B. Your establishment belongs to Group 1B if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 1B establishments.

(2) Group 2B. Your establishment belongs to Group 2B if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 2B establishments, but were less than those provided in Appendix A for Group 1B establishments.

(c) If your eating or drinking establishment was not in operation during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, and if the nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type is one which is properly classified in Group 1B or Group 2B, you may file an application with the Atlanta District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that your establishment be reclassified into the same group to which its nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type belongs. Until your application is acted upon and your establishment is reclassified, it must retain the classification of a Group 3B seller and must observe the ceiling prices as provided for that group in Appendix A hereof. All such applications for reclassification must contain the following information.

(1) Name and address of the establishment and of its owner or owners.

(2) A description of the establishment showing its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the date it began operating.

(3) The selling prices by brand name of all beverages sold since the beginning of its operation.

(4) The names of the three nearest eating and drinking establishments of the same type, and their group number as determined under this order.

(5) Any other information pertinent to such application, or which may be requested by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5. Filing with War Price and Rationing Board. When you have figured your proper group under section 4 above, you must, on or before August 10, 1944, file with your War Price and Rationing Board a signed statement with the name and address of your establishment, its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the group to which it belongs. Thereupon the War Price and Rationing Board will send you a card bearing your group number.

SEC. 6. Modification of prices. After you have determined your group and have put into effect the ceiling prices provided in this order for that group, the Office of Price Administration District Director for the District in which your establishment is located may direct you to charge lower ceiling prices:

(a) If, on the basis of your April 4–10, 1943, legal ceiling prices, this order, properly applied, requires you to be placed into a group with lower ceiling prices.

(b) If, as a result of speculative, unwarranted, or abnormal increases, contrary to the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, your legal ceiling prices on April 4–10, 1943, were excessive in relation to the legal ceiling prices of other comparable establishments in the District.

SEC. 7. Exempt sales. The following sales are exempt from the operation of this order. However, unless they are otherwise exempt from price control, they shall remain subject to the appropriate maximum price regulation or order:

(a) Sales by persons on board common carriers (when operated as such), including railroad dining cars, club cars, bar cars, and buffet cars, or sales otherwise governed by Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 1 (Dining Car Regulation).

(b) Sales by public and private hospitals insofar as they serve to patients.

(c) Sales by eating cooperatives formed by members of the Armed Forces (as for example, officers' mess) operated as a non-profit cooperative (where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any individual) which sells food items or meals on a cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to members of the Armed Forces who are members of the cooperative.

(d) Sales where the beverages subject to this order are included in, and sold as part of, a meal and where the price of such beverage is included in the price of the meal. (Such sales remain under Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 4–1.)

(e) Sales by the War Department or the Department of Navy of the United States through such Departments' sales stores, including commissaries, ships' stores ashore, and by stores operated as army canteens, post exchanges or ships' activities.

(f) Bona fide private clubs insofar as such clubs sell only to members or bona fide guests of members. Whenever such clubs sell to persons other than members or bona fide guests of members, such clubs shall be considered for all sales an eating or drinking establishment and subject to this order. No club shall be considered to be exempt as a private club, within the meaning of this subparagraph, unless its members pay dues (more than merely nominal in amount), are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body, and unless it is otherwise operated as a private club.

No club organized after the effective date of this order shall be exempt unless and until it has filed a request for exemption with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration of the area in which it is located, furnishing such information as may be required, and has received a communication from such office authorizing exemption as a private club.

SEC. 8. Evasion. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment you must not evade the ceiling prices established by this order by any type of scheme or device; among other things (this is not an attempt to list all evasive practices) you must not:

(a) Institute any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking, or other special charges which you did not have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4, 1943, to April 10, 1943, or

(b) Increase any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking, or other special charges which you did have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, or

SEC. 9. Records and menus. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment subject to this order you must observe the requirements of General Order No. 50, as well as Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 4–1, either as revised and amended or as may be revised and amended, with reference to the filing and keeping of menus and the preservation and keeping of customary and future records. Among other provisions of General Order No. 50, are the following:

(b) Continue to prepare and maintain such records as have been ordinarily kept;

(b) Posting a sign giving the same information as required on menus or bills of fare by subparagraph (a) above. Such a sign must be posted in the establishment at a place where it can easily be read by the customers. If you prefer you may use a similar sign furnished by the Office of Price Administration.

Such receipts must show the date of issue and bear the signature of the person issuing same.

If you have customarily issued receipts or sales slips, you may not now discontinue the practice.

SEC. 13. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one place selling beverages subject to this order you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

[Raleigh Order G–1 Under Gen. Order 50]

MALT AND CEREAL BEVERAGES IN RALEIGH, N. C., DISTRICT

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the District Director of the Raleigh, North Carolina District Office of Region IV of the Office of Price Administration by General Order No. 50 issued by the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, and Region IV Revised Delegation Order No. 17, issued May 5, 1944, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. Purpose of order. It is the purpose of this order to establish specific maximum prices for malt and cereal beverages including those commonly known as ale, beer and near-beer, either in containers or on draught when sold or offered for sale at retail by any eating, or drinking establishment, either for consumption on the premises or when carried away.

SEC. 2. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order extend to all eating and drinking places or establishments located within the limits of the following named counties of the State of North Carolina: Alamance, Beaufort, Bertie, Bladen, Brunswick, Camden, Carteret, Caswell, Chatham, Chowan, Columbus, Craven, Cumberland, Currituck, Dare, Duplin, Durham, Edgecombe, Franklin, Gates, Granville, Greene, Halifax, Harnett, Hertford, Hoke, Hyde, Johnston, Jones, Lee, Lenoir, Martin, Moore, Nash, New Hanover, Northampton, Onslow, Orange, Pamlico, Pasquotank, Pender, Perquimans, Person, Pitt, Sampson, Scotland, Tyrrell, Robeson, Vance, Wake, Warren, Washington, Wayne and Wilson.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices. (a) On and after July 10, 1944, if you operate an eating or drinking establishment, you may not sell or offer for sale any beverage subject to this order at prices higher than the applicable ceiling prices listed in Appendix A hereof. You may, of course, charge lower prices at any time.

(b) If you sell any beverage subject to this order which is not specifically listed in Appendix A hereof, and if you believe that the maximum price specified under the applicable heading "all other brands" is not appropriate to such beverage you may make application to the Raleigh, North Carolina District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that such beverage be specifically included in Appendix A hereof. With or without such application the Raleigh, North Carolina District Office of the Office of Price Administration may, at any time and from time to time, add new or unlisted beverages, brands, types or sizes, together with maximum prices for same to the lists set forth in Appendix A hereof.

(c) You may not add any taxes to your ceiling prices set forth in Appendix A hereof except those specifically provided therein, as all other taxes were taken into consideration in establishing the ceiling prices for each group, as set forth in Appendix A.

SEC. 4. How to figure your ceiling prices. (a) This order divides eating and drinking establishments into three different groups and gives each group a different ceiling price. The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. You must figure the group to which you belong on the basis of your correct legal ceiling prices for that period.

(b) The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices for the beverages subject to this Order in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. If your legal ceiling prices for various brands and types of beverages subject to this order vary so that your ceiling prices on some brands or types seem to place you in one particular group and ceiling prices on others seem to classify you into a different group, you must classify yourself into the particular group representative of the prices at which the greater number of your sales were made. You must figure the group to which you belong as follows:

(1) Group 1B. Your establishment belongs to Group 1B, if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943 your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 1B establishments.

(2) Group 2B. Your establishment belongs to Group 2B if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943 your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 2B establishments, but were less than those provided in Appendix A for Group 1B establishments.

(c) If your eating or drinking establishment was not in operation during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, and, if the nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type is one which is properly classified in Group 1B or Group 2B, you may file an application with the Raleigh, North Carolina District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that your establisment be reclassified into the same group to which its nearest similar eating or drinking establisment of the same type belongs. Until your application is acted upon and your establishment is reclassified, it must retain the classification of a Group 3B seller, and must observe the ceiling prices as provided for that group in Appendix A hereof. All such applications for reclassification must contain the following information:

(1) Name and address of the establishment and of its owner or owners.

(2) A description of the establishment showing its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the date in began operating.

(3) The selling prices by brand name of all beverages sold since the beginning of its operation.

(4) The names of the three nearest eating and drinking establishments of the same type, and their group number as determined under this order.

(5) Any other information pertinent to such application, or which may be requested by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5. Filing with War Price and Rationing Board. When you have figured your proper group under section 4 above, you must, on or before July 5, 1944, file with your War Price and Rationing Board a signed statement with the name and address of your establishment, its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the group to which it belongs. Thereupon the War Price and Rationing Board will send you a card bearing your group number.

SEC. 6. Modification of prices. After you have determined your group and have put into effect the ceiling prices provided in this order for that group, the Office of Price Administration District Director for the District in which your establishment is located may direct you to charge lower ceiling prices:

(a) If, on the basis of your April 4–10, 1943 legal ceiling prices, this order, properly applied, requires you to be placed into a group with lower ceiling prices.

(b) If, as a result of speculative, unwarranted, or abnormal increases, contrary to the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, your legal ceiling prices on April 4–10, 1943 were excessive in relation to the legal ceiling prices of other comparable establishments in the District.

SEC. 7. Exempt sales. The following sales are exempt from the operation of this order. However, unless they are otherwise exempt from price control, they shall remain subject to the appropriate maximum price regulation or order:

(a) Sales by persons on board common carriers (when operated as such), including railroad dining cars, club cars, bar cars, and buffet cars, or sales otherwise governed by Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 1 (Dining Car Regulation).

(b) Sales by public and private hospitals insofar as they serve to patients.

(c) Sales by eating cooperatives formed by members of the Armed Forces (as, for example, officers' mess) operated as a nonprofit cooperative (where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any individual) which sells food items or meals on a cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to members of the Armed Forces who are members of the cooperative.

(d) Sales where the beverages subject to this order are included in, and sold as part of, a meal and where the price of such beverage is included in the price of the meal. (Such sales remain under Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 4–1).

(e) Sales by the War Department or the Department of Navy of the United States through such Department's sales stores, including commissaries, ships' stores ashore, and by stores operated as army canteens, post exchanges, or ships' activities.

(f) Bona fide private clubs insofar as such clubs sell only to members or bona fide guests of members. Whenever such clubs sell to persons other than members or bona fide guests of members, such clubs shall be considered for all sales an eating or drinking establishment and subject to this order. No club shall be consdered to be exempt as a private club, within the meaning of this subparagraph, unless its members pay dues (more than merely nominal in amount), are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body, and unless it is otherwise operated as a private club.

No club organized after the effective date of this order shall be exempt unless and until it has filed a request for exemption with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration of the area in which it is located, furnishing such information as may be required, and has received a communication from such office authorizing exemption as a private club.

SEC. 8. Evasion. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment you must not evade the ceiling prices established by this order by any type of scheme or device; among other things (this is not an attempt to list all evasive practices) you must not:

(a) Institute any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking or other special charges which you did not have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4, 1943 to April 10, 1943, or

(b) Increase any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking or other special charges which you did have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, or

SEC. 9. Records and menus. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment subject to this order you must observe the requirements of General Order 50, as well as Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 4–1, either as revised and amended or as may be revised and amended, with reference to the filing and keeping of menus and the preservation and keeping of customary future records. Among other provisions of General Order No. 50, are the following:

(a) Preserve all existing records relating to prices, cost and sales of food items, meals and beverages;

(b) Continue to prepare and maintain such records as have been ordinarily kept;

(c) Keep for examination by the Office of Price Administration two copies of each menu used by the establishment each day, or a daily record in duplicate of the prices charged for food items, beverages and meals. If the establishment has customarily used menus, it must continue to do so.

SEC. 10. Posting of prices. If you are an operator of an eating and drinking establishment you must post and keep posted, the ceiling prices of the beverages subject to this order sold by your establishment, either by:

(a) Supplying the customers menus or bills of fare showing the beverages subject to this order which are sold by the establishment; and showing the brand name, quantity and ceiling price of each kind and type of bottled beverage, and the quantity and ceiling price of all beverages sold on draught.

(b) Posting a sign giving the same information as required on menus or bills of fare by subparagraph (a) above. Such a sign must be posted in the establishment at a place where it can easily be read by the customers. If you prefer you may use a similar sign furnished by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11. Posting of group number. If you operate an eating or drinking establishment selling at retail beverages subject to this order you must post, and keep posted, in the premises a card clearly visible to purchasers showing the group number of your establishment as classified under this order. The card must read "OPA 1B", "OPA 2B", or "OPA 3B", whichever is applicable. You may use the card furnished you for this purpose by the War Price and Rationing Board.

SEC. 12. Receipts and sales slips. Regardless of whether or not receipts have customarily been issued, upon request by any customer at the time of payment, a receipt containing a full description of the beverage sold and the price of same must be issued. Such receipts must show the date of issue and bear the signature of the person issuing same.

If you have customarily issued receipts or sales slips, you may not now discontinue the practice.

SEC. 13. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one place selling beverages subject to this order you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 14. Enforcement. If you violate any provisions of this regulation you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement action, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspensions of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 15. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. If you are a seller subject to this order your license may be suspended for violation of the license or of the order. If your license is suspended you may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which your license has been suspended.

SEC. 16. Relation to other maximum price regulations. This order supersedes the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 259 and the General Maximum Price Regulation insofar as such provisions were applicable to sales at retail by eating and drinking establishments of beverages subject to this order. [South Carolina Order 1B Under General Order 50]

MALT AND CEREAL BEVERAGES IN SOUTH CAROLINA

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the District Director of the South Carolina District Office of Region IV of the Office of Price Administration by General Order No. 50 issued by the Administrator of the Office of Price Administration, and Region IV Revised Delegation Order No. 17, issued May 5, 1944, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. Purpose of order. It is the purpose of this order to establish specific maximum prices for malt and cereal beverages including those commonly known as ale, beer and near-beer, either in containers or on draught when sold or offered for sale at retail by any eating, or drinking establishment, either for consumption on the premises or when carried away.

SEC. 2. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order extend to all eating and drinking places or establishments located within the limits of all counties of the State of South Carolina.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices. (a) On and after July 5, 1944, if you operate an eating or drinking establishment, you may not sell or offer for sale any beverage subject to this Order at prices higher than the applicable ceiling prices listed in Appendix A hereof. You may, of course, charge lower prices at any time.

(b) If you sell any beverage subject to this order which is not specifically listed in Appendix A hereof, and if you believe that the maximum price specified under the applicable heading "All other brands not listed above" is not appropriate to such beverage you may make application to the South Carolina District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that such beverage be specifically included in Appendix A hereof. With or without such application the South Carolina District Office of the Office of Price Administration may, at any time and from time to time, add new or unlisted beverages, brands, types or sizes, together with maximum prices for same to the lists set forth in Appendix A hereof.

(c) You may not add any taxes to your ceiling prices set forth in Appendix A hereof except those specifically provided therein, as all other taxes were taken into consideration in establishing the ceiling prices for each group, as set forth in Appendix A.

SEC. 4. How to figure your ceiling prices. (a) This order divides eating and drinking establishments into three different groups and gives each group a different ceiling price. The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. You must figure the group to which you belong on the basis of your correct legal ceiling prices for that period.

(b) The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices for the beverages subject to this order in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. If your legal ceiling prices for various brands and types of beverages subject to this order vary so that your ceiling prices on some brands or types seem to place you in one particular group and ceiling prices on others seem to classify you into a different group, you must classify yourself into the particular group representative of the prices at which the greater number of your sales were made. You must figure the group to which you belong as follows:

(1) Group 1B. Your establishment belongs to Group 1B, if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943 your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this Order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 1B establishments.

(2) Group 2B. Your establishment belongs to Group 2B if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943 your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this Order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 2B establishments, but were less than those provided in Appendix A for Group 1B establishments.

(c) If your eating or drinking establishment was not in operation during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, and if the nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type is one which is properly classified in Group 1 B or Group 2 B, you may file an application with the South Carolina District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that your establishment be reclassified into the same group to which its nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type belongs. Until your application is acted upon and your establishment is reclassified, it must retain the classification of a Group 3 B seller, and must observe the ceiling prices as provided for that group in Appendix A hereof. All such applications for reclassification must contain the following information:

(1) Name and address of the establishment and of its owner or owners.

(2) A description of the establishment showing its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the date it began operating.

(3) The selling prices by brand name of all beverages sold since the beginning of its operation.

(4) The names of the three nearest eating and drinking establishments of the same type, and their group number as determined under this order.

(5) Any other information pertinent to such application, or which may be requested by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5. Filing with War Price and Rationing Board. When you have figured your proper group under section 4 above, you must, on or before July 5, 1944, file with your War Price and Rationing Board a signed statement with the name and address of your establishment, its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the group to which it belongs. Thereupon the War Price and Rationing Board will send you a card bearing your group number.

SEC. 6. Modification of prices. After you have determined your group and have put into effect the ceiling prices provided in this order for that group, the Office of Price Administration District Director for the District in which your establishment is located may direct you to charge lower ceiling prices:

(a) If, on the basis of your April 4–10, 1943 legal ceiling prices, this order, properly applied, requires you to be placed into a group with lower ceiling prices.

(b) If, as a result of speculative, unwarranted, or abnormal increases, contrary to the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, your legal ceiling prices on April 4–10, 1943 were excessive in relation to the legal ceiling prices of other comparable establishments in the District.

SEC. 7. Exempt sales. The following sales are exempt from the operation of this order. However, unless they are otherwise exempt from price control, they shall remain subject to the appropriate maximum price regulation or order:

(a) Sales by persons on board common carriers (when operated as such), including railroad dining cars, club cars, bar cars, and buffet cars, or sales otherwise governed by Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 1 (Dining Car Regulation)

(b) Sales by public and private hospitals insofar as they serve to patients.

(c) Sales by eating cooperatives formed by members of the Armed Forces (as, for example, officers' mess) operated as a non-profit cooperative (where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any individual) which sells food items or meals on a cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to members of the Armed Forces who are members of the cooperative.

(d) Sales where the beverages subject to this order are included in, and sold as part of, a meal and where the price of such beverage is included in the price of the meal. (Such sales remain under Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 4–1.)

(e) Sales by the War Department or the Department of Navy of the United States through such Departments' sales stores, including commissaries, ships' stores ashore, and by stores operated as army canteens, post exchanges, or ships' activities.

(f) Bona fide private clubs insofar as such clubs sell only to members or bona fide guests of members. Whenever such clubs sell to persons other than members or bona fide guests of members, such clubs shall be considered for all sales an eating or drinking establishment and subject to this order. No club shall be considered to be exempt as a private club, within the meaning of this subparagraph, unless its members pay dues (more than merely nominal in amount), are elected to membership by a governing board, membership committee or other body, and unless it is otherwise operated as a private club.

No club organized after the effective date of this order shall be exempt unless and until it has filed a request for exemption with the District Office of the Office of Price Administration of the area in which it is located, furnishing such information as may be required, and has received a communication from such office authorizing exemption as a private club.

SEC. 8. Evasion. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment you must not evade the ceiling prices established by this order by any type of scheme or device; among other things (this is not an attempt to list all evasive practices) you must not:

(a) Institute any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking or other special charges which you did not have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4, 1943 to April 10, 1943, or

(b) Increase any cover, minimum, bread and butter, service, corkage, entertainment, checkroom, parking or other special charges which you did have in effect on any corresponding day during the seven-day period from April 4 to April 10, 1943, or

(c) Require as a condition of sale of a beverage the purchase of other items or meals.

SEC. 9. Records and menus. If you are an operator of an eating or drinking establishment subject to this order you must observe the requirements of General Order 50, as well as Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 4–1, either as revised and amended or as may be revised and amended, with reference to the filing and keeping of menus and the preservation and keeping of customary and future records. Among other provisions of General Order No. 50, are the following:

(a) Preserve all existing records relating to prices, cost and sales of food items, meals and beverages;

(b) Continue to prepare and maintain such records as have been ordinarily kept;

(c) Keep for examination by the Office of Price Administration two copies of each menu used by the establishment each day, or a daily record in duplicate of the prices charged for food items, beverages and meals. If the establishment has customarily used menus, it must continue to do so.

SEC. 10. Posting of prices. If you are an operator of an eating and drinking establishment you must post and keep posted, the ceiling prices of the beverages subject to this order sold by your establishment, either by:

(a) Supplying the customers menus or bills of fare showing the beverages subject to this order which are sold by the establishment; and showing the brand name, quantity and ceiling price of each kind and type of bottled beverage, and the quantity and ceiling price of all beverages sold on draught.

(b) Posting a sign giving the same information as required on menus or bills of fare by subparagraph (a) above. Such a sign must be posted in the establishment at a place where it can easily be read by the customers. If you prefer you may use a similar sign furnished by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11. Posting of group number. If you operate an eating or drinking establishment selling at retail beverages subject to this order you must post, and keep posted, in the premises a card clearly visible to purchasers showing the group number of your establishment as classified under this order. The card must read "OPA 1B", "OPA 2B", or "OPA 3B", whichever is applicable. You may use the card furnished you for this purpose by the War Price and Rationing Board.

SEC. 12. Receipts and sales slips. Regardless of whether or not receipts have customarily been issued, upon request by any customer at the time of payment, a receipt containing a full description of the beverage sold and the price of same must be issued. Such receipts must show the date of issue and bear the signature of the person issuing same.

If you have customarily issued receipts or sales slips, you may not now discontinue the practice.

SEC. 13. Operation of several places. If you own or operate more than one place selling beverages subject to this order you must do everything required by this regulation for each place separately.

SEC. 14. Enforcement. If you violate any provisions of this regulation you are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspensions of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

SEC. 15. Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. If you are a seller subject to this order your license may be suspended for violation of the license or of the order. If your license is suspended you may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which your license has been suspended.

SEC. 16. Relation to other maximum price regulations. This order supersedes the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 259 and the General Maximum Price Regulation insofar as such provisions were applicable to sales at retail by eating and drinking establishments of beverages subject to this order. Sales of beverages subject to this order when sold as part of a meal and when the price of same is included in the meal remain subject to the provisions of Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 4–1.

SEC. 17. Definitions. (a) "Malt Beverage" is any malt beverage produced either within or without the Continental United States, and includes those commonly designated as beer, lager beer, ale, porter and stout.

(b) "Cereal Beverage" is any beverage produced from cereals either within or without the Continental United States and commonly known as "near-beer".

(c) "On Draught" means dispensed by a seller at retail from any container of ⅓ barrel or larger size.

(d) "Person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, or any other organized group of persons, or legal successor or representative of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof, or any other government, or any of its political sub-divisions, or any agency of any of the foregoing.

(e) "Sales at retail" or "selling at retail" means a sale or selling to an ultimate consumer other than an industrial or commercial user.

(f) "Eating or drinking establishment" shall include any place establishment or location, whether temporary or permanent, in which any prepared food item or meal, or any beverage is sold for immediate consumption on the premises or to be carried away without substantial change in form of substance. However, grocery and other stores that do not sell food items or meals, or beverages for immediate consumption on the premises are specifically excluded from this definition.

(g) Other definitions. Unless the context otherwise requires, the definitions set forth in section 302 of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and in § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, shall apply to the other terms used herein.

SEC. 18. Petitions for amendment. Any person dissatisfied with any of the provisions of this order may request the Office of Price Administration to amend the order. Such petition for amendment must be filed in pursuance of the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition for amendment shall be directed to, filed with, and acted upon, by the District Director of the South Carolina District Office.

SEC. 19. Revocation and amendment. This order may be revoked, amended, or corrected at any time.

[Roanoke Order G–1 Under Gen. Order 50]

MALT AND CEREAL BEVERAGES IN ROANOKE, VA., DISTRICT

Pursuant to the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, Executive Orders 9250 and 9328, General Order No. 50, and Region IV Revised Delegation Order No. 17, issued May 5, 1944, and for the reasons set forth in the accompanying opinion, this order is issued:

SECTION 1. Purpose of order. It is the purpose of this order to establish specific maximum prices for malt and cereal beverages including those commonly known as ale, beer, and near-beer, either in containers or on draught when sold or offered for sale at retail by any eating, or drinking establishment, either for consumption on the premises or when carried away.

SEC. 2. Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order extend to all eating and drinking places or establishments located within the limits of the following named counties of the State of Virginia:

Alleghany, Amherst, Appomattox, Arlington, Augusta, Bath, Bedford, Bland, Botetourt, Buchanan, Campbell, Carroll, Charlotte, Clarke, Craig, Dickenson, Fairfax, Fauquier, Floyd, Franklin, Frederick, Giles, Grayson, Halifax, Henry, Highland, Lee, Loudoun, Montgomery, Nelson, Pittsylvania, Page, Patrick, Prince William, Pulaski, Rappahannock, Roanoke, Rockbridge, Rockingham, Russell, Scott, Shenandoah, Smyth, Tazewell, Warren, Washington, Wise, and Wythe, together with all municipalities and towns located therein with the exception of the City of Bristol, Virginia.

SEC. 3. Ceiling prices. (a) On and after July 31, 1944, if you operate an eating or drinking establishment, you may not sell or offer for sale any beverage subject to this order at prices higher than the applicable ceiling prices listed in Appendix A hereof. You may, of course, charge lower prices at any time.

(b) If you sell any beverage subject to this order which is not specifically listed in Appendix A hereof, and if you believe that the maximum price specified under the applicable heading "All other brands not listed above" is not appropriate to such beverage you may make application to the Roanoke (Virginia) District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that such beverage be specifically included in Appendix A hereof. With or without such application the Roanoke (Virginia) District Office of the Office of Price Administration may, at any time and from time to time, add new or unlisted beverages, brands, types, or sizes, together with maximum prices for same to the lists set forth in Appendix A hereof.

(c) You may not add any taxes to your ceiling prices set forth in Appendix A hereof except those specifically provided therein, as all other taxes were taken into consideration in establishing the ceiling prices for each group, as set forth in Appendix A.

SEC. 4. How to figure your ceiling prices. (a) This order divides eating and drinking establishments into three different groups and gives each group a different ceiling price. The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. You must figure the group to which you belong on the basis of your correct legal ceiling prices for that period.

(b) The group to which you belong depends on your legal ceiling prices for the beverages subject to this order in effect during the base period of April 4–10, 1943. If your legal ceiling prices for various brands and types of beverages subject to this order vary so that your ceiling prices on some brands or types seem to place you in one particular group and ceiling prices on others seem to classify you into a different group, you must classify yourself into the particular group representative of the prices at which the greater number of your sales were made. You must figure the group to which you belong as follows:

(1) Group 1B. Your establishment belongs to Group 1B if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943 your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 1B establishments.

(2) Group 2B. Your establishment belongs to Group 2B if during the base period of April 4–10, 1943 your legally established ceiling prices for beverages subject to this order were the same as, or more than the prices listed in Appendix A hereof for Group 2B establishments, but were less than those provided in Appendix A for Group 1B establishments.

(c) If your eating or drinking establishment was not in operation during the base period of April 4–10, 1943, and, if the nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type is one which is properly classified in Group 1B or Group 2B, you may file an application with the Roanoke (Virginia) District Office of the Office of Price Administration requesting that your establishment be reclassified into the same group to which its nearest similar eating or drinking establishment of the same type belongs. Until your application is acted upon and your establishment is reclassified, it must retain the classification of a Group 3B seller, and must observe the ceiling prices as provided for that group in Appendix A hereof. All such applications for reclassification must contain the following information:

(1) Name and address of the establishment and of its owner or owners.

(2) A description of the establishment showing its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the date it began operating.

(3) The selling prices by brand name of all beverages sold since the beginning of its operation.

(4) The names of the three nearest eating and drinking establishments of the same type, and their group number as determined under this order.

(5) Any other information pertinent to such application, or which may be requested by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 5. Filing with War Price and Rationing Board. When you have figured your proper group under section 4 above, you must on or before Aug. 15, 1944, file with your War Price and Rationing Board a signed statement with the name and address of your establishment, its type (such as night club, hotel, restaurant, tavern) and the group to which it belongs. Thereupon the War Price and Rationing Board will send you a card bearing your group number.

SEC. 6. Modification of prices. After you have determined your group and have put into effect the ceiling prices provided in this order for that group, the Office of Price Administration District Director for the District in which your establishment is located may direct you to charge lower ceiling prices:

(a) If, on the basis of your April 4–10, 1943 legal ceiling prices, this order, properly applied, requires you to be placed into a group with lower ceiling prices.

(b) If, as a result of speculative, unwarranted, or abnormal increases, contrary to the purpose of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, your legal ceiling prices on April 4–10, 1943, were excessive in relation to the legal ceiling prices of other comparable establishments in the District.

SEC. 7. Exempt sales. The following sales are exempt from the operation of this order. However, unless they are otherwise exempt from price control, they shall remain subject to the appropriate maximum price regulation or order:

(a) Sales by persons on board common carriers (when operated as such), including railroad dining cars, club cars, bar cars, and buffet cars, or sales otherwise governed by Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 1 (Dining Car Regulation).

(b) Sales by public and private hospitals insofar as they serve to patients.

(c) Sales by eating cooperatives formed by members of the Armed Forces (as, for example, officers' mess) operated as a non-profit cooperative (where no part of the net earnings inures to the benefit of any individual) which sells food items or meals on a cost basis (or as near thereto as reasonable accounting methods will permit), and substantially all sales of which are made to members of the Armed Forces who are members of the cooperative.

(d) Sales where the beverages subject to this order are included in, and sold as part of, a meal and where the price of such beverage is included in the price of the meal. (Such sales remain under Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation 4–1.)

NORTHERN INDIANA PUBLIC SERVICE CO.

NOTICE OF FILING OF AMENDMENT TO APPLICATION-DECLARATION AND ORDER FOR HEARING

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 28th day of July 1944.

Notice is hereby given that an amendment to an application-declaration has been filed with this Commission, pursuant to the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, by Northern Indiana Public Service Company, a subsidiary of Clarence A. Southerland and Jay Samuel Hartt, Trustees of the Estate of Midland Utilities Company, a registered holding company. All interested persons are referred to the said amendment to the application-declaration which is on file in the office of the said Commission for a statement of the transactions therein proposed which are summarized below:

Northern Indiana Public Service Company proposes to refinance its presently outstanding 220,078 shares of cumulative preferred stock (69,858 shares of the 7% series, 124,505 shares of the 6% series, and 25,715 shares of the 5½% series) by making an offer to the holders of such stock whereby they will be afforded the opportunity to exchange each share of presently held stock for one share of $100 par value 5% cumulative preferred stock of the company, plus a cash payment of the difference between the redemption price of such stock and $102, and a further adjustment for accrued dividends on the shares to be surrendered and the shares to be issued. Any shares not surrendered on exchange will be called for redemption at the redemption prices ($115 per share for the 7%, $107.50 for the 6%, and $105 for the 5½%, cumulative preferred stock), plus accrued dividends. Such number of the 220,078 shares of the $100 par value 5% cumulative preferred stock as have not been issued as a result of exchanges will be issued and sold either pursuant to the competitive bidding requirements of Rule U-50 or at private sale subject to the Commission's granting an exception from such requirements. The proposed exchange and redemption will, however, be consummated only if such shares of $100 par value 5% cumulative preferred stock, if any, as have not been issued on exchanges, are actually sold by applicant-declarant not later than September 30, 1944, at not less than the minimum price of $100 and if the initial public offering price (if there is a public offering) is not less than $102 per share plus accrued dividends. Northern Indiana Public Service Company proposes to enter into an agreement with The First Boston Corporation providing for its services in forming and managing a group of security dealers, including itself, for the purpose of obtaining acceptances of the exchange offer. Applicant-declarant proposes that, if the exchange is consummated, The First Boston Corporation be paid a manager's fee of $39,500, plus ten cents per share for each share exchanged, plus out-of-pocket expenses not in excess of $5,000. In addition, if the exchange is consummated, applicant-declarant proposes to pay a dealer's commission upon a graduated scale as follows for each share exchanged: (a) $1.00 if the aggregate number of shares so exchanged is less than 110,040, shares (50%); (b) $1.125 if the aggregate number of shares so exchanged exceeds 110,039 but does not exceed 132,047 shares (60%); (c) $1.25 if the aggregate number of shares so exchanged exceeds 132,047 but does not exceed 154,055 shares (70%); and (d) $1.375 if the aggregate number of shares so exchanged exceeds 154,055 shares. Furthermore, the dealer's commission with respect to exchanges by a holder of five shares or less will be determined in accordance with a schedule which provides for graduated fees depending upon the number of shares exchanged by such holder and the aggregate number of all shares exchanged. However, no dealer's commission will be paid without the approval of applicant-declarant with respect to such shares issuable in exchange to a holder whose letter of transmittal tendering his shares for exchange fails to show the name of the dealer soliciting the exchange.

Applicant-declarant has designated sections 6 (b) and 12 (c) of the act and Rules U-42 and U-50 as applicable to the proposed transactions.

It appearing to the Commission that it is appropriate in the public interest and the interest of investors and consumers that a hearing be held with respect to such matters;

It is ordered, That a hearing on such matters under the applicable provisions of said Act and the rules of the Commission thereunder be held on August 3, 1944, at 10:00 a. m., e. w. t., at the offices of the Securities and Exchange Commission, 18th and Locust Streets, Philadelphia 3, Pennsylvania. On such day the hearing room clerk in room 318 will advise as to the room in which such hearing will be held. It is requested that any person desiring to be heard or to be admitted as a party to such proceeding shall file with the Secretary of this Commission on or before August 3, 1944, his request or an application therefor as provided in Rule XVII of the rules of practice of the Commission.

It is further ordered, That Henry C. Lank or any other officer or officers of the Commission designated for that purpose shall preside at the hearing in such matter. The officer so designated to preside at any such hearing is hereby authorized to exercise all powers granted to the Commission under section 18 (c) of said act and to a trial examiner under the Commission's rules of practice.

It is further ordered, That without limiting the scope of the issues presented by said amended application-declaration, particular attention will be directed at such hearing to the following matters and questions:

1. Whether, as to the issuance by means of exchanges of shares of the $100 par value 5% cumulative preferred stock, compliance with the requirements of paragraphs (b) and (c) Rule U-50 is not necessary or appropriate under the circumstances;

2. Whether the terms and conditions of the proposed agreement with The First Boston Corporation is in the public interests and the interest of investors and consumers;

3. Generally, whether the proposed transactions comply with all the provisions and requirements of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935 and the rules and regulations promulgated thereunder, and, if not, whether and what modifications or terms and conditions should be required or imposed to satisfy the statutory standards.

By the Commission.

WAR FOOD ADMINISTRATION.

Commodity Credit Corporation.

[1944 CCC Cottonseed Form A]

COTTONSEED AND COTTONSEED PRODUCTS

OFFER TO PROCESSORS

AUGUST 1, 1944.

In order to support prices of cottonseed in accordance with the announcement of the War Food Administration on July 20, 1944, and to promote the orderly marketing of cottonseed and the production of cottonseed oil, cottonseed meal and cake, and cotton linters for war purposes, Commodity Credit Corporation (hereinafter called "Commodity") hereby offers to purchase such cottonseed products manufactured by any processor engaged in crushing cottonseed (hereinafter called the "Processor") on the following terms and conditions:

1. Terms of acceptance. The Processor shall notify Commodity of his acceptance of this offer in substantially the following form on or before September 1, 1944: Provided, That the terms of this offer shall not be binding upon Commodity unless such notice is forwarded by telegram or by registered mail to Commodity Credit Corporation, Oilseeds Division, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C.:

The undersigned Processor hereby accepts your Offer to Cottonseed Processors (1944 CCC Cottonseed Form A) dated August 1, 1944, for the following plants:

(Name plants or specify all plants)

The Processor understands that, by the acceptance of such offer, he becomes obligated to pay not less than the prices specified in the offer for cottonseed of the 1944 crop purchased during the period ending July 31, 1945, and processed at the plants named above.

If a person operates more than one cottonseed crushing plant, he may file one acceptance for those plants for which he desires to accept this offer and shall specify in the acceptance the names and locations of the plants covered by the acceptance. If he desires to accept this offer for all plants he shall so state in his acceptance. The acceptance of this offer with respect to more than one processing plant shall result in a separate contract between Commodity and the Processor with respect to cottonseed purchased for processing at, and cottonseed products manufactured at, each such plant. Commodity will acknowledge the receipt of each acceptance.

2. Purchases of cottonseed by the processor—(a) Purchases on a grade basis. All cottonseed which is purchased by the Processor on a chemical grade basis shall be graded on the basis of "United States Standard Grades," as amended July 18, 1939, in accordance with the rules, regulations, and standard methods governing the handling, sampling, and analysis of cottonseed for grading purposes established by the United States Department of Agriculture. The minimum prices to be paid by the Processor for such cottonseed f. o. b. shipping point shall be:

(1) For "basic grade" (100) cottonseed in lots of 5 tons or more:

(i) In Oklahoma, Texas (except Bowie County) and New Mexico—$56 per ton.

(ii) In other States and Bowie County, Texas—$56 per ton.

(2) For cottonseed grading above or below 100 in lots of 5 tons or more: the price stated in (1) plus or minus a percentage of such price equal to the percentage by which the grade of such cottonseed exceeds or is less than 100: Provided, That cottonseed grading "off quality" or "below grade" may be purchased by the Processor at such price as may be agreed upon by the Processor and the seller at the time of purchase.

(3) For cottonseed in lots of less than 5 tons; the prevailing price for bale lots in the locality where the cottonseed is purchased.

(b) Purchases on a "flat" or "as is" basis. The average price paid by the Processor for all cottonseed which is purchased by him on a "flat" or "as is" basis shall be not less than the average price which he would have paid if each lot had been purchased on a grade basis in accordance with subsection (a) of this section 2. The Processor shall keep complete books and records of analyses and of prices paid for such cottonseed, and shall, upon request in writing by Commodity, submit such information and certifications with respect therto as commodity may request.

3. Purchase of chemical cotton linters by Commodity. Commodity agrees to purchase, on the following terms and conditions, such chemical cotton linters as the Processor may offer prior to August 1, 1945, to sell to Commodity in minimum carlots: Provided, That Commodity shall be obligated hereunder to purchase only the quantity of such chemical linters that is allocated to Commodity pursuant to War Production Board General Preference Order M-12, including any amendments thereto: Provided further, That in any event, Commodity shall be obligated to purchase 65 percent of the Processor's production of linters during any portion of the period from August 1, 1944, to August 31, 1945, inclusive, if such linters are offered to Commodity prior to August 1, 1945, in minimum carlots.

Commodity may reduce the quantity of linters which it is otherwise obligated to purchase hereunder by such quantity of linters as Commodity determines to have been purchased and paid for by it in excess of the quantity Commodity was obligated to purchase from the Processor under this offer or 1943 CCC Cottonseed Form A, revised.

(2) Premiums. $0.009 per 100 pounds gross weight for each 1/10 of one percent of cellulose yield above 73 percent.

(3) Discounts. $0.009 per 100 pounds gross weight for each 1/10 of one percent of cellulose yield below 73 percent down to and including 70 percent, and $0.016 per 100 pounds gross weight for each 1/10 of one percent of cellulose yield below 70 percent.

(b) Bagging. Bales shall be well covered with close woven bagging. Sisal or paper covering will not be acceptable. Total tare shall not exceed 5 percent.

(c) Quality. Linters shall be clean, undamaged, free of excessive hull pepper, shale, and trash and shall not contain motes, sweepings, or any other foreign material and shall be suitable for chemical use as determined by Commodity or the consignee. Linters shall be subject to consignee's inspection and acceptance at the Processor's mill. ("Consignee", as used in this Section 3, means the Bleachery or other person designated by Commodity to inspect and accept delivery of the linters.) The Processor shall give consignee written notice when linters are ready for inspection, and consignee shall have a reasonable length of time in which to make such inspection and tag the bales. Immediately upon consignee's request, the Processor shall, at his expense, make the bales accessible so that each bale can be sampled, inspected, and tagged by consignee's inspector. The Processor shall make linters available for inspection in lots of at least 200 bales, unless a smaller number of bales are necessary to complete delivery under any particular shipping order or at the end of the season. Commodity shall not be obligated to purchase any linters until such linters have been inspected and accepted by the consignee. All linters shall be inspected by the consignee on or before August 31, 1945.

(d) Cellulose yield. Cellulose yield, calculated on actual moisture content, shall be determined upon the basis of samples drawn from bales as unloaded at consignee's plant or storage warehouse and tests run in the consignee's laboratory by a method approved by The American Oil Chemists Society. However, an approved Referee Chemist's analysis of cellulose yield calculated on actual moisture content will be acceptable to Commodity for purposes of settlement under this contract, provided the Processor arranges and pays for such analysis, without expense or delay in unloading to consignee, from samples drawn at the same time consignee draws its sample at unloading point.

(e) Weight. Where the consignee is a Bleachery or Public Warehouse, the destination weight before compression shall govern. Where the consignee is other than a Bleachery or Public Warehouse, the consignee shall be instructed by Commodity to notify the Processor by telegram if the destination weight is more than 1 percent below the weight as billed by the Processor, and the Processor shall have the option, if he notifies the consignee by telegram within 24 hours of the receipt of such notice, to have the shipment reweighed by an official weighmaster at the Processor's expense or to have the shipment reweighed by the consignee in the presence of a representative of the Processor, provided such representative arrives at the destination point within 72 hours after the receipt of such notice by the Processor.

(f) Loading. All cars shall be loaded to protect minimum freight rate. All cars shall be carefully swept and cleaned before loading. All linters shall be in such condition that common carrier will accept them for transportation to consignee's plant without any charges or expense other than freight. Such linters, when loaded, shall be in good condition, dry, and free from weather or other damage.

(g) Shipment. Shipments shall be made promptly after inspection and acceptance by consignee, subject to availability of storage space at consignee's plant or storage warehouse.

(h) Shipping documents. At the time of shipment, invoice (in quadruplicate), with original bill of lading and weight sheet attached, shall be mailed to the consignee. All shipments of any one day shall be included in a single invoice.

(i) Payment and storage. (1) Payment of the base price specified in subsection (a) of this section 3 shall be made by Commodity with respect to linters, other than linters stored as provided in (2) of this subsection, upon the receipt by Commodity from the consignee of approved shipping documents and such certifications as Commodity may prescribe and upon the basis of the weight shown in the invoice. Title and risk of loss or damage to such linters shall pass to Commodity upon issuance of a bill of lading or shipping receipt by a contract carrier. Final settlement for such linters shall be made after the receipt by Commodity from the consignee of the cellulose yield analysis and the certified destination out-turn weight of the linters.

(2) In the event the consignee is unable to accept linters for shipment promptly after inspection and acceptance at the Processor's plant, the Processor shall store such linters at his own expense in such manner that the linters are adequately protected against damage. Commodity shall advance to the Processor against the purchase price of such linters an amount equal to the base price specified in subsection (a) hereof, upon the receipt from the Processor of storage receipts, in form satisfactory to Commodity; an invoice showing the base price for such linters and approved by the consignee; and such certifications as Commodity may prescribe. Title to such linters shall pass to Commodity upon receipt of such documents. The Processor, however, shall be responsible, and shall reimburse Commodity, for any loss of or damage to such linters while so stored resulting from any cause whatsoever, and shall maintain insurance thereon, sufficient to protect Commodity's interest therein against risk of loss or damage by fire, lightning, windstorm, tornado, and other risks normally insured against by the Processor. The Processor shall furnish Commodity certificates of indorsement from insurance companies, acceptable to Commodity, showing Commodity to be fully covered for the maximum duration of storage of such linters. The consignee or Commodity shall send shipping instructions on or before September 1, 1945, for all linters so stored. Final settlement for such linters shall be made after the receipt by Commodity from the consignee of approved shipping documents, together with the cellulose yield analysis and the certified destination out-turn weight of the linters.

4. Purchases of crude cottonseed oil by Commodity. Commodity agrees to purchase, on the following terms and conditions, crude cottonseed oil which the Processor offers, prior to August 1, 1945, to sell to Commodity:

(b) Base grade. "Basis prime crude cottonseed oil" as defined in the rules of the National Cottonseed Products Association in effect at the time of delivery.

(c) Quality settlement basis. The base price shall be adjusted for variance in quality in accordance with the provisions of the rules of the National Cottonseed Products Association in effect at the time of delivery.

(d) Passage of title. Title and risk of loss or damage to the oil shall pass to Commodity upon payment by Commodity to the Processor of the purchase price.

(e) Storage and care. Oil purchased by Commodity shall, without cost to Commodity, be stored by the Processor to the extent of available facilities at the plant until arrangements are made by Commodity for moving the oil. The Processor shall notify Commodity of any condition which may result in quality deterioration: Provided, That prime or basis prime, and offgrade crude cottonseed oil as defined in the rules of the National Cottonseed Products Association shall not be stored in the same storage tank.

(f) Delivery. Oil purchased by Commodity shall be shipped by the Processor in accordance with Commodity's instructions: Provided, That instructions for the prompt shipment of all such oil shall be given on or before September 1, 1945.

(g) Payment of purchase price. Payment of the purchase price shall, subject to the adjustment specified in subsection (h) of this section, be made upon the presentation to and approval by Commodity of:

(1) An invoice, in duplicate, showing the quantity and quality of the oil and the price thereof.

(2) Either (i) storage receipts, in form satisfactory to Commodity, representing the oil and identifying it by tank number or otherwise, each receipt representing not less than one or more than five tank car units of 60,000 pounds each or, (ii) if Commodity has furnished shipping instructions, straight bills of lading showing the oil has been shipped in accordance with Commodity's instructions, accompanied by official weight certificates: Provided, That one clean-up tank car of less than 60,000 pounds will be accepted by Commodity from the Processor if such Processor protects the carload freight rate.

(3) If the oil is stored by the Processor, a certificate of sampling and analysis issued by a chemist who has been certified by the National Cottonseed Products Association and approved by Commodity, such certificate to be obtained at the Processor's expense and to be identified with oil reprsented by a particular storage certificate.

(4) Such other certifications as Commodity may prescribe.

(h) Final settlement. Final settlement shall be made for each tank car of oil upon arrival at the destination specified by Commodity upon the basis of:

(1) Weight. The out-turn weight of the oil at destination as certified on consignee's sworn weight certifications;

5. Purchase of cottonseed meal and cake by Commodity. Commodity agrees to purchase, on the following terms and conditions, prime quality bulk cottonseed meal of 41 percent minimum protein content which the Processor offers, prior to August 1, 1945 to sell to Commodity in minimum car lots:

(a) Price.

Location of Processor's plant	Purchase price per ton bulk basis, f. o. b. cars at Processor's plant location
Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas, Tennessee, Missouri, Illinois, and Bowie County, Texas	$43
North Carolina, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama, and Florida	44
Texas (except Bowie County), Oklahoma, New Mexico, Arizona, and California	45

Upon request by Commodity, the Processor shall supply sacked meal or, if available, sized cake in bags or loose slab cake of 41 percent minimum protein content, at the price differentials allowed in applicable regulations issued by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) Quality. Prime quality, as defined in the rules of the National Cottonseed Products Association in effect at the time of delivery, of not less than 41 percent protein content.

(c) Passage of title. Title and risk of loss or damage to the cake and meal shall pass to Commodity upon the payment by Commodity to the Processor of the purchase price.

(d) Storage and care. Cake and meal purchased by Commodity shall, without cost to Commodity, be stored by the Processor to the extent that the Processor's usual plant storage capacity for cake and meal will permit. In the event the Processor's usual plant storage capacity will not permit the storage of cake or meal offered to Commodity hereunder, the Processor shall, before selling such cake or meal to Commodity, arrange for other storage on terms and conditions satisfactory to Commodity. All warehouse charges in storage other than plant storage shall be paid by Commodity. The Processor shall not be liable for loss in quality not due to his fault or negligence after passage of title. The Processor shall notify Commodity of any conditions which may result in loss of quality.

(e) Payment. Payment of the purchase price shall be made upon the presentation to and approval by Commodity of:

(1) An invoice, in duplicate, showing the quantity and quality of cake or meal and the price thereof;

(2) Storage receipts, in form satisfactory to Commodity, representing the cake or meal and identifying it in place of storage, or, if Commodity has furnished shipping instructions, bills of lading, showing the meal or cake has been shipped in accordance with Commodity's instructions, accompanied by certified weights;

(3) A certificate of sampling and analysis issued by a chemist who has been certified by the National Cottonseed Products Association, and approved by Commodity, such certificate to be obtained at the Processor's expense and to be identified with cake or meal represented by a particular storage receipt or bill of lading;

(4) Such other certifications as Commodity may prescribe.

(f) Weight adjustment. If the cake or meal is stored, payment will be made on the basis of the weight shown on the storage receipts representing the cake or meal. However, if the certified weight of the cake or meal at the point of destination differs from the weight shown on such storage receipts, an adjustment of the amount paid by Commodity shall be made, based upon such difference in weight.

(g) Loading out. Upon receipt of shipping instructions from Commodity, the Processor shall, without cost to Commodity, load out from his plant or plant storage and place on carrier, in accordance with such instructions, any such cake and meal ordered loaded out by Commodity. Instructions for the prompt shipment of all such cake and meal shall be given on or before September 1, 1945.

6. Segregation of stored products. All cottonseed products which the Processor holds for the account of Commodity shall be segregated from any other cottonseed products, and the buildings, tanks, piles, bins, or other units in which such products are stored shall be marked in conspicuous places with appropriate signs and in such manner as will give public notice of Commodity's ownership of such products.

7. Carrier and routing. The Processor may select the originating carrier on shipments of cottonseed products but the lowest available transportation rate between the point of shipment and the point of destination named in Commodity's instructions shall not be exceeded and the routing and loading shall be in compliance with applicable regulations: Provided, That all shipments of cotton linters shall be made to Commodity at the point designated by the consignee on open bills of lading or contract carrier receipts, freight collect, and on consignee's routing, which shall not be altered without consignee's consent.

8. Bond. Upon Commodity's request, the Processor shall furnish to Commodity a bond conditioned upon the faithful performance by the Processor of his obligations hereunder with respect to the storage and delivery of cottonseed products held by him for the account of Commodity. Such bond shall be in such form, and in such amount, and with such sureties, as Commodity may prescribe.

9. Movement of linters, oil, cake and meal. Notwithstanding any provisions of sections 3, 4, and 5 hereof, Commodity shall not be responsible for any loss or injury caused the Processor by failure of Commodity or its consignees to move cottonseed products due to the unavailability of transportation or storage facilities, or due to any other cause beyond the control of Commodity or its consignees. Commodity shall not be responsible, except as is otherwise expressly provided herein, or except as such transportation or handling is requested by Commodity, for any cost in connection with the transportation or other handling of any cottonseed product held by the Processor for the account of Commodity.

10. Liability limitations. The Processor shall not be liable for any loss of or damage to any cottonseed oil, meal, or cake owned by Commodity unless such loss or damage is due to the fault or negligence of the Processor. Neither Commodity nor the Processor shall be liable for any failure to comply with this contract which results directly or indirectly from compliance with any regulations or orders issued pursuant to the authority contained in Title III of the Second War Powers Act, 1942, the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, or any other statute, or Executive order.

11. Books and records. The Processor shall keep complete and accurate books, records, and accounts with respect to all purchases of cottonseed and all other transactions hereunder, and shall furnish Commodity such information and reports as Commodity may from time to time request. Commodity may at any time examine and audit the books, records, and accounts of the Processor insofar as they relate to any contract resulting from the Processor's acceptance of this offer.

12. Termination of contract. Any contract resulting from the Processor's acceptance of this offer may be terminated at any time by Commodity or the Processor, upon written notice to the other party, as to cottonseed purchased by the Processor after such termination and cottonseed products manufactured therefrom. Notwithstanding such termination, such contract shall continue in full force and effect with respect to cottonseed products which are manufactured by the Processor from cottonseed purchased by the Processor prior to such termination and offered to Commodity pursuant to sections 3, 4 and 5 hereof. Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prevent the termination by Commodity of any such contract at any time for violation of any of the provisions thereof.

TITLE 8—ALIENS AND NATIONALITY

Chapter I—Immigration and Naturalization Service

PART 150—ARREST AND DEPORTATION

CUSTODY OF ARRESTED ALIENS

JULY 26, 1944.

Section 150.5, Title 8, Chapter I, Code of Federal Regulations is amended to read as follows:

§ 150.5 Custody of arrested aliens—(a) Release on bond or personal recognizance. An alien arrested in deportation proceedings may, pending final disposition of his case and in the discretion of the officer in charge of the office having custody of the alien, be released under bond, or on his own personal recognizance, or on parole, unless specific instructions to the contrary covering individual aliens or classes of aliens shall have been issued by the Central Office. When release is directed by the officer in charge of the office having custody of the alien under conditions other than those stated in the warrant of arrest, such officer shall make immediate report thereof in writing to the Central Office giving the reasons for the action taken.

(b) Detention without bond. If, in any case where the Central Office has not authorized detention without bond, the officer in charge of an office having custody of an alien has reason to believe that release should not be authorized under any condition, such alien may be continued in custody but a report shall promptly be made to the Central Office giving reasons for the action taken.

(c) Delivery bonds. If a delivery bond is required and accepted, the bond shall be in an amount that will insure the alien's appearance when wanted, but not less than $500. The approval of the form and execution of the bond by the district director or officer in charge shall be sufficient for the release of an alien, pending final approval of the bond by the Central Office. The sureties may justify in real estate or may deposit any public debt obligations of the United States and any bonds, notes, or other obligations which are unconditionally guaranteed as to both interest and principal by the United States, and which are not redeemable within one year from the date on which they are offered for deposit. The justification in real estate shall be by two owners, each in double the amount of the penalty of the bond over and above all encumbrances. A surety company authorized by the Treasury Department to transact federal bond business shall be an acceptable surety.

CROSS REFERENCE: For "Acceptance of bonds, notes or other obligations issued or guaranteed by the United States as security in lieu of surety or sureties on penal bonds", see 31 CFR Part 225 (Treasury Department Circular No. 154, revised February 6, 1935).

(d) Detention facilities. An alien under deportation proceedings not released on bond, or on personal recognizance, or on parole, may be confined only in a detention facility operated by the Service, or in a jail which has been approved by the Service as a detention facility or, upon approval from the Central Office, in some other suitable quarters. Children under eighteen years of age and women shall not be held in custody in jails unless absolutely unavoidable. Such aliens, when detention is necessary, may be detained in a private or other home or facility operated under contract with the Service for the maintenance of aliens, or in a home or other facility operated by a social welfare or philanthropic agency. Where detention of such aliens in a jail is unavoidable, a report thereof with the reasons therefor, shall be immediately submitted to the Central Office.

(e) Institutional cases. An alien confined in an institution shall not be removed therefrom, in the absence of special instructions, until a warrant of deportation has been served and the Service is completely ready to deport, except in the case of a criminal alien who has served his sentence and is subject to discharge from imprisonment.

(f) Cost of maintenance pending deportation. The cost of maintaining aliens in custody after arrest and pending deportation may be borne by the Government, except that where an alien is an inmate of a public or private institution at the time of the institution of deportation proceedings no expense shall be incurred by the Government until he is taken into physical custody by immigration officers.

EARL G. HARRISON,
Commissioner of Immigration and Naturalization.

Part 944—Regulations Applicable to the Operation of the Priorities System

[PR 3, Direction 5, as Amended Aug. 1, 1944]

Ratings for Listed Chemicals and Other Materials

The following direction is issued pursuant to Priorities Reg. 3:

(a) Purpose. Owing to the fact that the supply of certain materials is controlled by peculiar factors including their interchangeability and their use both as production materials and for MRO (maintenance, repair and operating supplies), it is necessary to provide special rules for the use of ratings in getting these materials. The purpose of this Direction is to prohibit the use of AA-1 and AA-2 blanket MRO ratings for the materials on the attached list, and to substitute in the place of these ratings, the use of production materials ratings. Where no production materials ratings are available, this direction assigns ratings which may be used in place of AA–1 and AA–2 blanket MRO ratings.

(b) Restriction on use of certain blanket MRO ratings. Blanket MRO ratings of AA–1 and AA–2 may not be used to get any of the materials on the attached list for any purpose. An exception to this prohibition, however, is a rating assigned under P–98–b when the rating is applied with the allotment symbol, MRO–P–3, and a rating assigned under P–66 where the rating is applied with the allotment symbol S–8. "Blanket MRO ratings" are defined in paragraph (e) (2) of Priorities Regulation No. 3.

(c) What ratings may be used instead. You may use any of the following ratings which may be applicable to your situation for the materials listed in this direction:

(1) Production materials ratings. If you have a rating for production materials to be physically incorporated in your product, you may use that rating to get the materials on the attached list as MRO. You may not use the MRO symbol in this case, but your allotment number and symbol, if any, assigned to your production schedule should be used. "Production materials" are defined in paragraph (b)(2) of Priorities Regulation No. 11B and Interpretation No. 1 of that regulation issued June 16, 1943, and also paragraph (b)(1) of CMP Regulation No. 3. For the purpose of this Direction, any rating assigned under Orders P–65 and P–135 are production materials ratings. The amount of these materials which are bought as MRO with any production materials rating must be deducted from your MRO quota under CMP Regulation No. 5, or any other regulation or order which places limits on your purchase of MRO.

(2) Blanket MRO rating of AA–1 lowered to AA–2X. If you have a blanket MRO rating of AA–1, you may use an AA–2X rating to get the materials listed in this direction for MRO. If a purchase order bearing a blanket MRO rating of AA–1 is served upon a seller for a product which does not appear on the attached list but which contains any materials listed under "Chemicals" on the attached list, the seller may not extend that AA–1 rating to get the necessary production materials (appearing on the attached list) to make that product. The seller may use a rating of AA–2X instead to get the necessary production materials.

(3) Blanket MRO rating of AA–2 lowered to AA–3. If you have a blanket MRO rating of AA–2, you may use an AA–3 rating to get the materials listed in this direction for MRO. If a purchase order bearing a blanket MRO rating of AA–2 is served upon a seller for a product which does not appear on the attached list but which contains any materials listed under "Chemicals" on the attached list, the seller may not extend that AA–2 rating to get the necessary production materials (appearing on the attached list) to make that product. The seller may use a rating of AA–3 instead to get the necessary production materials.

(4) Ratings for construction projects. If you have a rating for materials to be physically incorporated in a construction project, you may use that rating to get materials on the attached list for MRO for use in that construction project.

(5) Specific ratings. You may use any rating assigned by a preference rating certificate which specifically names the kinds and quantities of material rated to get the materials on the attached list.

(d) Persons engaged in several activities. If a person is engaged in several business activities to which different ratings are assigned and it is impracticable to apportion his needs for any material on the attached list between those activities, he must use the rating assigned to the activity in which he is principally engaged. For example, if a person has 75 per cent of his production devoted to filling orders bearing AA–1 production materials ratings, and 25 per cent of his production devoted to filling orders bearing other production materials ratings and it is impracticable to apportion his MRO needs between these, he may use his AA–1 production materials rating to procure items on the attached list to satisfy his entire MRO needs. Also if a person produces only one product but has more than one production rating for the materials going into that product, he must use the rating applicable to the greater portion of his production.

(e) Applications for special assistance. Any person who needs any material listed in this direction either as production material or for MRO, and is unable to get it with the rating which he has, may apply on Form WPB–541 (formerly PD–1A) to the nearest local office of the War Production Board for a higher rating.

Issued this 1st day of August 1944.

§ 3270.49 Schedule C to Limitation Order L-103—(a) Definition. For the purposes of this schedule:

"Standard glass container" means any container constructed in accordance with the specifications and design prescribed by any exhibit set forth in Drawings 1 to 15, inclusive, annexed to Order L-103, which possesses the finish prescribed for such exhibit or, subject to the provisions of paragraph (b) (2) hereof, any other finish which is interchanged therewith in accordance with paragraph (g) of Limitation Order L-103.

(Note that in accordance with the footnotes to Drawings 7, 8, 9 and 13 glass containers conforming to the specifications of the following exhibits constitute "standard glass containers" for the purposes of this schedule only if they are manufactured before December 20, 1943—16-80, 16-81, 17-09, 17-11, 17-22, 17-76, 18-06, 18-14, 51-87, 51-89, 51-93, 51-95, 51-97, 51-99.)

(b) Restrictions on use. (1) With the exceptions set forth in paragraph (c) of this schedule, on and after July 4, 1943, no person shall use a glass container for the packing for sale of any product listed in the annexed table, except a standard glass container, having a capacity equal to or greater than that specified for such product in column II of said table.

(2) Notwithstanding the provisions of paragraph (g) of Order L-103, no person shall use for the packing for sale of any product listed in the table annexed to this schedule any glass container with a "deep screw cap" finish, except as specifically permitted by an exhibit authorized for such product.

(c) Exceptions. (1) Nothing in this schedule shall prevent the use, for the packing of any product listed in the annexed table, of any glass containers which were completely manufactured before the 4th day of July 1943.

(2) Nothing in this schedule shall restrict the sale, delivery, use or manufacture of glass containers with a capacity larger than 140 fluid ounces, of designs that existed on May 11, 1942.

(3) Nothing in this schedule shall prohibit any person who packed less than a total of 5,000 containers with all of the products listed in the annexed table during the calendar year 1942 from purchasing, accepting delivery of, or using without restriction, during any subsequent calendar year, a maximum of 5,000 glass containers for packing such products.

(4) Except as specifically permitted by the drawings and exhibits annexed to Order L-103 molded lettering or decoration on standard glass containers for the respective products listed in said table shall be limited to the manufacturers' identification (which may include trademark, name, symbol), place of manufacture, date of manufacture by year, design number, and mold or cavity number.

(d) Manufacture. (1) No person shall manufacture, sell, or deliver any glass container which he knows, or has reason to believe, will be used in violation of any provision of this schedule.

(2) On and after the 5th day of April 1943, no molds may be manufactured for a container for any of the products listed in the annexed table which does not conform to the specifications of a standard glass container usable for such product, nor may any mold for a container for a product listed in the annexed table be replaced—whether because of wear or for any other reason—except by a mold which conforms to said specifications.

PART 3288—PLUMBING AND HEATING EQUIPMENT

[Limitation Order L-42, Direction 3 as Amended Aug. 1, 1944]

CAST IRON BATHTUBS

The following amended direction is issued pursuant to Order L-42:

(a) What this direction does. The War Production Board having determined upon a program of production of metal bathtubs for the remainder of the year 1944, has authorized the production of 50,000 bathtubs for the third quarter. This direction tells by whom and for what purposes bathtubs may be made without utilizing labor in critical labor areas in order to produce the required 50,000 metal bathtubs.

(b) Production of bathtubs. Prior to October 1, 1944, in addition to the bathtubs authorized by previous Directions to Limitation Order L-42, the following manufacturers may produce at their plants at the addresses indicated, recess type cast iron bathtubs, no longer than those commercially known as five foot, and in quantities not exceeding the number indicated opposite their names:

American Radiator & Standard Sanitary Corporation, Louisville, Kentucky	10,000
Crane Company, Chattanooga, Tennessee	10,000
Eljer Company, Salem, Ohio	10,000
Kohler Company, Kohler, Wisconsin	10,000
Richmond Radiator Company, Uniontown, Pennsylvania	10,000

(c) Sale of bathtubs. These bathtubs may be delivered only to fill orders (1) of or for ultimate delivery to the Army or Navy, (2) for export authorized by the Foreign Economic Administration, or (3) for approved installation in projects rated in the P-19 series authorized on Form GA-1456, in the P-55 series authorized on Form WPB-2896, or in the U-1 series authorized on Form WPB-2774. No jobber, or dealer, may accept delivery of any such bathtubs to place in his inventory, whether or not he has previously delivered bathtubs to fill such orders. No jobber or dealer may order, or accept delivery of any such bathtubs unless he has in his possession an actual order calling for the delivery of bathtubs to an authorized project or building with a specified completion date, to or for the account of the Army, or Navy, or for installation in a project rated by orders in the P-19, P-55, or U-1 series. Shipments for export may be made only if a license has actually been issued by the Foreign Economic Administration. A manufacturer may not accept a rating alone as evidence of his authority to deliver to a dealer, but must obtain, in addition to the standard certification accompanying the extension of the rating, applicable information of the following nature:

(1) For delivery to the Army or Navy: the contract purchase order, or rating certificate number.

(2) For delivery to an authorized project of the P-19, P-55, or U-1 series: the number and location of the project.

(3) For export authorized by the Foreign Economic Administration: the export license number.

(d) [Deleted Aug. 1, 1944]

(e) Reports. Each manufacturer named in paragraph (b) shall report by letter on or before the 10th day of each month to the Plumbing and Heating Division, War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., by size, the number of bathtubs produced and the number shipped under this direction during the preceding month. This reporting requirement has been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

In addition, each claimant agency shall furnish to the Office of Rubber Director its estimated requirements for each group and sub-group for the following three quarterly periods.

(2) Upon the basis of requirements submitted by each claimant agency to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board will allot on or before the 15th day of the second month preceding the quarter to be covered by the allotment, to each claimant a quantity of tires by groups and sub-groups for the following quarterly period and shall also make tentative allotments to each claimant for the following three quarterly periods.

(3) Within 5 days after receipt of its allotment, each claimant agency shall furnish to the Office of Rubber Director a statement showing the break-down of its allotment by group and sub-group between original equipment and replacement.

(e) Issuance of production directives to producers. Not later than 10 days after the time prescribed in the preceding paragraph for the issuance of allotments to the claimant agencies, War Production Board will issue to each producer a directive for the period covered by the allotments, prescribing the percentage of the producer's facilities by groups and sub-groups allocated to the production of the following classes of orders:

(1) Original equipment; (2) replacement by military claimants; (3) indirect military replacement.

"Indirect Military" refers to claimants not designated as military claimants in paragraph (b) (4).

(f) [Deleted May 31, 1944]

Original Equipment

(g) Vehicle manufacturer's authorization. (1) Each manufacturer of vehicles or equipment listed in Table I must file his application for original equipment tires on Form WPB-3663 with the appropriate industry division of the War Production Board in accordance with instructions accompanying the form, unless he is specifically excused from filing. A manufacturer of vehicles or equipment not listed in Table I need not file Form WPB-3663, unless he is specifically instructed to do so.

(2) On or before the first day of the month preceding each quarter, manufacturers of vehicles and equipment listed in Table I for which tires have been allotted, will be authorized by the War Production Board on Form GA-1733 to accept delivery of a specified number of tires by group and sub-group. In the case of tire mounted vehicles or equipment not listed in Table I, similar authorizations will be issued to vehicle manufacturers by the appropriate claimant agency.

(3) No manufacturer may accept delivery of tires for his production of vehicles or equipment (including tire mounted components of vehicles or equipment) unless he has been specifically authorized to accept such delivery under this order.

(h) Vehicle manufacturer's certification to his supplier. (1) In order to receive tires for original equipment, each vehicle manufacturer authorized under the preceding paragraph must certify to his supplier not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter in which shipments are to be made, in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official:

Agency identification number or symbol ---------. The undersigned certifies, subject to the criminal penalties for misrepresentation contained in section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, that he is authorized to accept delivery of the following tires for his production during the quarterly period commencing -----, 1944; that the monthly deliveries specified will not result at any time in an inventory exceeding 10 days' supply based upon his total authorized monthly production:

Size Ply Type Quantity

The identification number shall consist of the appropriate symbol followed by the major program number (see Table I, unless authorization is issued by claimant agency).

No certification other than the above is required. The standard form of certification provided in Priorities Regulation 7 may not be substituted.

(2) By using the above certification, a vehicle manufacturer who buys tire mounted components for his production may authorize the manufacturer of the components to accept delivery of tires. On the basis of the certification received from his customer, the manufacturer of the tire mounted components shall use the same certification in placing his orders for tires with a producer. He must place his certified orders within the time prescribed for vehicle manufacturers.

(3) A vehicle manufacturer's authorization for tires may be reduced or cancelled at any time by the War Production

Board or claimant agency issuing the same. A manufacturer who is notified that his authorization has been reduced or cancelled must immediately reduce or cancel delivery orders which he has placed under his authorization to the extent necessary to bring scheduled deliveries within the authorized amount.

(4) A vehicle manufacturer's authorization for tires may be increased by the War Production Board or claimant agency issuing the same at any time during the quarter covered by the authorization.

In placing orders under an increase in authorization, a vehicle manufacturer must certify to the producer that he does so under "Increase dated _____," and in addition, must use the above certification for vehicle manufacturers signed by an authorized official. This may be done by preceding the certification with "Increase dated _____" (inserting date of increase). If the vehicle manufacturer is unable to place his certified order for additional tires, it may be referred to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, for placement.

The procedure described in (2) above may be followed in authorizing a manufacturer of tire mounted components to receive tires under the increase, but the increase must be identified by date in the certification.

(5) No manufacturer shall certify an order for original equipment tires until he has received his authorization under this order.

Replacement

(i) Replacement by procuring claimant agency. In order to receive tires for replacement purposes under its allotment for any quarter, a claimant agency which purchases tires must certify to its supplier on or before the 15th day of the month preceding the quarter in substantially the following form signed by an authorized official:

Agency identification symbol _____. The undersigned certifies that the claimant agency identified by the above symbol is authorized to procure the following tires for replacement during the quarter commencing _____, 1944 and that the tires have been charged against its allotment for that period:

Size	Ply	Type	Quantity

Open Capacity and Unplaced Orders

(j) Placement against open capacity. Unplaced certified orders may be referred to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, for placement on the basis of open capacity reports received from producers. Unplaced orders must be received by the Office of Rubber Director on or before the 20th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter for which the orders are certified.

(k) Report by producer of his open capacity. Each producer shall report to the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board, by letter not later than the 20th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter, the open capacity he has available for the production of tires in each group and sub-group, after making provision for the scheduling of all orders placed with him as of the last day for placement of orders for production during the quarter. This report shall be based upon the percentage allocation of his production facilities made by directive issued to him under paragraph (e).

Producer's Acceptance and Shipment of Orders

(l) General restrictions on acceptance. Unless otherwise directed under the provisions of this order, no producer shall accept or fill any orders for tires except: (1) Orders certified under paragraphs (h) or (i) and presented to him within the prescribed time for placement; (2) orders for indirect military replacement.

Orders certified under paragraphs (h) or (i) must be presented not later than the 15th day of the month preceding the first month of the quarter in which shipments are to be made, except certified orders based upon an increase in a vehicle manufacturer's authorization, which may be presented at any time during the quarter.

(m) Acceptance or fulfillment of orders in excess of authorized production. No producer shall accept or fill any orders for tires to be delivered in any quarter in excess of the percentage allocation of his facilities for the particular class of order established by his production directive issued under paragraph (e), unless otherwise directed under the provisions of this order. No producer shall accept orders in excess of 100% of his expected production for the quarter.

(n) Limitation on size of shipments. No producer may ship in any calendar month to a vehicle manufacturer or claimant agency more than 40% of the tires in any size or type scheduled by him for shipment during the quarter to the particular manufacturer or agency under certified orders unless he can do so without interfering with other certified orders on his schedule. Shipments for indirect military replacement may be made only to the extent that the shipments do not interfere with the producer's frozen schedule under paragraph (p).

Scheduling Provisions

(o) Directions by claimant agency. A claimant agency which purchases tires may issue the following written directions to a producer: (1) Diverting a particular shipment of tires scheduled for its account by the producer; (2) changing tire sizes to be produced for its account within a particular sub-group but only if the production capacity required and the total number of tires scheduled for its account are not increased by the change.

(p) Frozen production schedule. On the first day of the quarter, each producer's production schedule shall become a frozen schedule within the meaning of Priorities Regulation 18 for the quarterly period, and may not be altered except as provided in that regulation. A producer may, however, accept certified orders based upon an increase in a vehicle manufacturer's authorization unless the production or shipment of any such orders will interfere with his frozen schedule. In addition, written directions may be issued by a claimant agency under paragraph (o).

The following orders shall automatically become part of a producer's frozen schedule:

(1) Orders for original equipment tires which have been certified under paragraph (h) and which the producer has accepted and agreed to ship during the quarter.

(2) Orders placed with him by the Office of Rubber Director, War Production Board on the basis of his open capacity report for the quarterly period.

(3) Orders for replacement tires which he has accepted and agreed to fill during the quarterly period.

(q) Other scheduling provisions. With respect to the production or shipment of tires, the War Production Board may notwithstanding any other order, preference rating, directive, rule, or regulation (except Priorities Regulation No. 18) of the War Production Board or other Governmental agency:

(1) Direct the return or cancellation of any purchase order on the books of a producer.

(2) Direct changes in the production or shipping schedule of a producer.

(3) Cancel purchase orders placed with one producer and direct that they be placed with another producer.

Miscellaneous Provisions

(r) Effect of preference ratings. Within the limits established by his production directive, a producer shall accept orders certified under paragraphs (h) and (i) in the order in which they are received by him without regard to preference ratings.

(2) Milk. Your ceiling price for sales of milk subject to this regulation is your legally established ceiling price during the week of June 18–24, 1944 for milk of the same kind, quantity or grade.

3. Section 8 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 8. Rules for seasonal operators. If your establishment was in operation during April 4 to 10, 1943, and if more than 80 percent of your volume is customarily done in a seasonal period of not more than four months, you may, during that seasonal period, charge prices no higher than you charged for meals, food items, or beverages of the same class during the same seasonal period in 1943. If, however, your ceiling prices for such seasonal period of 1943 were frozen under a district or regional restaurant regulation at your highest prices charged during the base period of April 4 to 10, 1943, you may, if you desire, take as your seasonal ceiling prices the highest prices you charged for meals, food items, and beverages of the same class during the same seasonal period of 1942. In either case you must keep available for inspection menus or records of the prices you charged during the seasonal period in 1943 or 1942, whichever happens to be your base period. At the end of the season and until the season starts again, you may not charge more than your ceiling prices figured under section 1 of this regulation.

4. Section 10 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 10. Moving your establishment or changing type of operation. If you move your establishment or change your type of operation, you must keep the same prices and observe the same requirements as before. However, if you make a major change in your type of operation and your ceiling prices cause you substantial hardship, then, upon application by you before you change your type of operation, the OPA may establish different prices. You must file such application with your District Office and furnish all the information required by paragraph (b) of section 2, and you must show how such major changes in your type of operation will result in such financial hardship as to cause a substantial threat to the continuance of your operation.

5. The text of section 18 preceding paragraph (a) is amended to read:

SEC. 18. Exempt sales. Sales of the following items, or sales by the following eating or drinking establishments, or persons, are specifically exempt from the provisions of this regulation:

6. Sections 18 (f), (g) and (h) are added to read as follows:

(f) Milk when sold as a separate item for consumption off the premises and not as part of a meal. Such off-premise sales shall remain subject to the General Maximum Price Regulation or other applicable price regulations.

(g) Beer, wines, liquors, and other alcoholic beverages when sold as a separate item for consumption off the premises and not as part of a meal. Such off-premise sales shall remain subject to the applicable price regulations.

(h) Packaged distilled spirits or wines, regardless of whether the seal or "strip stamp" is broken, made by on-premise licensee to a purchaser who removes such distilled spirits or wines or any part thereof in any container from licensee's premises. Such sales shall remain subject to Maximum Price Regulation 445.

7. Section 19 (l) is added to read as follows:

(l) "OPA" means the Regional, District or other properly authorized office of the Office of Price Administration.

8. Section 22 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 22. Authority of Local War Price and Rationing Boards. Each Regional Administrator may instruct any or all of the War Price and Rationing Boards in his region to receive complaints from the public, investigate prices charged by proprietors, hold hearings on prices charged by proprietors either on complaint or on its own motion, make appropriate recommendations to its District Office, and exercise any other authority granted to them by the Price Administrator.

9. Section 23 is amended by adding the number 18 to the section numbers enumerated therein.

10. Section 25 (a) is amended to read as follows:

(a) This regulation supersedes and takes the place of all restaurant regulations issued by OPA Regional Administrators or District Directors. Since this regulation keeps many of the same basic pricing provisions, most of your ceiling prices under it will be the same as those you properly established under these restaurant regulations. This regulation shall not supersede Revised Maximum Price Regulation 319, Certain Bakery Products. It shall, however, supersede and take the place of all other price regulations insofar as they establish ceiling prices for food and drink sold in eating and drinking establishments for immediate consumption on or about the premises or put up to take out for consumption without further preparation. However, any price you charged during April 4 to 10, 1943 (or other appropriate base period) shall not be your ceiling price if it exceeded your ceiling price under any other regulation applicable at that time.

11. Appendix A, II is amended to read as follows:

II. Beverages:
1. Non-alcoholic beverages, including soft drinks not containing ice cream, sparkling and mineral waters.
2. Bottled malt beverages including beer, ale, near-beer, and similar beverages.
3. Draft malt beverages.
4. Wines, including sparkling wines, sold by the drink.
5. Bottled wines, including sparkling wines.
6. Cordials, including fruit liquors sold by the drink.
7. Bottled cordials, including fruit liquors.
8. Liquors, including whiskeys, gins, rums, brandies sold by the drink.
9. Bottled liquors, including whiskeys, gins, rums, brandies.
10. All other alcoholic beverages, including mixed drinks and cocktails sold by the drink.
11. All other bottled alcoholic beverages, including mixed drinks and cocktails.

This amendment shall become effective July 31, 1944.

Issued this 31st day of July 1944.

Administrator.

TITLE 38—PENSIONS, BONUSES AND VETERANS' RELIEF

Chapter I—Veterans' Administration

[Instruction 1-B]

VOCATIONAL REHABILITATION

PRINCIPLES AND PROCEDURE GOVERNING DETERMINATIONS AS TO VOCATIONAL HANDICAP AND AWARDING OF PENSION

Instruction No. 1-B, Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended (act of March 24, 1943). Principles and procedure governing determinations as to vocational handicap and the awarding of pension during the period of vocational rehabilitation under Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended.

Instructions Nos. 1 and 1-A, Public No. 16, 78th Congress, (8 F.R. 5351, 9480) are hereby canceled and this instruction issued in lieu thereof:

1. The adjudication division in each regional office or facility under the direction of an adjudication officer, and the claims division, veterans claims service, central office, under the direction of a chief, are vested with authority to determine whether a vocational handicap exists and award pension payable during the period of vocational rehabilitation.

2. Requirements for entitlement to vocational rehabilitation follow:

(a) Active military or naval service any time after September 15, 1940, and prior to the termination of the present war.

(b) A discharge under conditions other than dishonorable and under conditions other than those contained in section 300, Public No. 346, 78th Congress.

(c) A pensionable disability incurred in or aggravated by active service on or after September 16, 1940, and prior to the termination of hostilities in the present war.

(d) Vocational handicap due to such disability.

(e) Need for vocational rehabilitation to overcome such handicap.

3. Rating boards in the adjudication division, field office, area office, and the central disability board, claims division, veterans claims service, central office, will have original jurisdiction to determine whether a vocational handicap exists. Need for vocational rehabilitation to overcome the handicap will be determined by the vocational rehabilitation and education division.

4. A vocational handicap will be determined to exist when, upon the basis of the evidence of record as to the disabled person's education, occupational training and experience, it is found the disability will materially interfere with securing and pursuing employment comparable with that for which qualified by education, training and experience.

(a) It is to be distinctly borne in mind, in applying the above definition, that there is a clear distinction between average impairment in earning capacity for pension purposes and a vocational handicap requiring vocational rehabilitation to overcome the handicap. A person who is totally disabled on the basis of average impairment in earning capacity may nevertheless be fully able to secure and pursue employment in some occupation for which he is well qualified. Conversely, a person who has a very slight pensionable disability may, on account of peculiar relationships existing between specified skills and his occupational experience, have a vocational handicap which would require vocational rehabilitation to overcome. It should also be borne in mind that unemployment is not necessarily an indication that a vocational handicap exists, nor is employment alone sufficient to support a determination that no vocational handicap exists. Mere temporary employment, the tenure of which may be dubious or which is not suitable for the individual, or comparable with his education, occupational training and skill, is not incompatible with the existence of a vocational handicap. A disabled person may be able to follow occupations not comparable with the occupation pursued prior to service and still have a vocational handicap. By comparable is meant, substantially similar or on a parity with regard to remuneration, permanence of employment, opportunities for advancement, and environment. When, however, the disabled person's best interests will be served by seeking and pursuing employment for which he is qualified, that is, when this offers a suitable career, it may not be held that a vocational handicap exists.

(b) Determinations as to existence of a vocational handicap will be recorded by proper notation on the rating sheet as follows: "Vocational handicap exists, Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended," or "Vocational handicap does not exist, Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended."

(c) Determination as to existence of vocational handicap will not be made by the rating agencies unless it is determined the veteran has a pensionable disability incurred in or aggravated by active military or naval service on or after September 16, 1940, and prior to termination of hostilities in the present war.

5. Written notice of the decision of the rating board or central disability board will include a statement as to whether the service-connected pensionable disability produces a vocational handicap.

(a) In the event the determination is in the affirmative, the statement should be substantially as follows:

Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended, amended Veterans Regulation No. 1 (a), as amended, to provide among other things that any person who served in the active military or naval service at any time after September 15, 1940, and prior to the termination of the present war, who is discharged under conditions other than dishonorable or other than (1) by reason of the sentence of a general court martial, (2) on the ground that he was a conscientious objector who refused to perform military duty or refused to wear the uniform or otherwise to comply with lawful orders of competent military authority, (3) as a deserter or (4) of an officer by the acceptance of his resignation for the good of the service, and who has a disability incurred in or aggravated by such service for which pension is payable under laws administered by the Veterans Administration or would be but for receipt of retirement pay, and is in need of vocational rehabilitation to overcome the handicap of such disability, shall be entitled to such vocational rehabilitation as may be prescribed by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs to fit him for employment consistent with the degree of disablement. . . . In the event you are interested and consider vocational rehabilitation is necessary to overcome the handicap of your service-connected disability, the enclosed Form 1900, Application for Vocational Rehabilitation, should be prepared and returned to this office for consideration and determination as to whether you are in need of vocational rehabilitation.

(b) Should the determination be in the negative, the statement should be substantially as follows:

Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended, amended Veterans Regulation No. 1 (a), as amended, to provide among other things that any person who served in the active military or naval service at any time after September 15, 1940, and prior to the termination of the present war, who is discharged under conditions other than dishonorable or other than (1) by reason of the sentence of a general court martial, (2) on the ground that he was a conscientious objector who refused to perform military duty or refused to wear the uniform or otherwise to comply with lawful orders of competent military authority, (3) as a deserter or (4) of an officer by the acceptance of his resignation for the good of the service, and who has a disability incurred in or aggravated by such service for which pension is payable under laws administered by the Veterans Administration or would be but for receipt of retirement pay, and is in need of vocational rehabilitation to overcome the handicap of such disability, shall be entitled to such vocational rehabilitation as may be prescribed by the Administrator of Veterans Affairs to fit him for employment consistent with the degree of disablement . . . It has been determined that the service-connected pensionable disability does not constitute such a vocational handicap as to require vocational rehabilitation to overcome.

(See paragraph 11 of this instruction regarding notification to veteran of his right of appeal.)

(c) When Form 1900, Application for Vocational Rehabilitation, is received from the veteran, it will be attached to the claims folder and forwarded to the vocational rehabilitation and education division.

6. The authorization unit, adjudication division, field office, and the authorization subdivision, claims division, veterans claims service, central office, will have jurisdiction over determinations as to basic entitlement to monetary benefits payable on account of vocational rehabilitation.

(a) Immediately upon entrance of the disabled veteran into vocational training the vocational rehabilitation and education division will notify the adjudication division, field office, or claims division, central office, depending upon the jurisdiction of the claim, by appropriate form showing veteran's name, claim number, and date of entrance into, and type of, training, that is, whether on the job. The vocational rehabilitation and education division will also notify the adjudication division or claims division, by form, of any change in status which would affect the rate of pension.

(b) The monthly rate of pension payable while the disabled veteran is pursuing a course of vocational rehabilitation will, except as hereinafter provided, be as follows:

(1) If the disabled person has neither wife nor child, $80.00.

(2) If he has a wife, but no child, $90.00.

(3) If he has a wife and one child, $95.00, and $5.00 for each additional child.

(4) If he has no wife and one child, $90.00, and $5.00 for each additional child.

(5) If he has a mother or father, either or both dependent on him for support, then, in addition to the above amounts, $10.00 for each parent so dependent.

(The rates specified above are subject to the 15 percent increase provided by section 1, Public No. 312, 78th Congress.)

(6) The monthly rates of pension authorized in (1) to (5) above will be reduced to the extent of any forfeiture invoked as a penalty for breach of rules or regulations during training, upon notification from the vocational rehabilitation and education division.

(7) In no event will the monthly rate of pension payable while pursuing a course of vocational rehabilitation be less than the monthly rate of pension or retirement pay to which the disabled person would be entitled for service-connected disability.

(8) When the disabled person pursuing a course in vocational rehabilitation is furnished hospitalization by the United States Government or a political subdivision thereof, other than during approved leave, he will be entitled only to the monthly amount of pension or retirement pay authorized for the service-connected disability, and this disability pension or retirement pay will be subject to reduction or discontinuance as provided in § 35.06.

7. Pension payable on account of vocational rehabilitation will be apportioned as provided in §§ 3.1310–3.1317.

8. Awards adjusting the monthly rate of pension on account of vocational rehabilitation to the disabled person will be prepared upon Form 553 (c); apportioned awards to dependents, on Form 553 (a), citing "Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended," as authority for the award in the proper space.

(a) The effective date of an award of pension on account of vocational rehabilitation, shall be the date of entrance into vocational rehabilitation or reentrance, if interrupted.

(b) The effective date of an increased award of pension on account of vocational rehabilitation based on the marriage of the claimant, the birth or adoption of a child, or dependency of a parent, shall be the date of receipt of claim by the Veterans' Administration or the date the evidence of relationship or dependency shows entitlement, whichever is the later. In the event claimant's application is not complete, he will be advised of the evidence necessary to complete the application, and if such evidence is not received within one year from the date of request therefor, increased pension will not be paid by virtue of that application.

(c) Reduction of an award of pension payable on account of vocational rehabilitation shall be effective:

(1) In the event of death of a dependent, as of the date of death.

(2) In the event of divorce, the date preceding date of divorce.

(3) In case of a child, the date preceding the eighteenth anniversary of date of birth; or if attending school after age 18, the date of cessation of school attendance or the date preceding the twenty-first anniversary of the date of birth, whichever is the earlier; the date preceding date of marriage; in case of cessation of incapacity to support self by reason of mental or physical defect, last day of month in which reduction is approved.

(4) By reason of wages, compensation or other income received while training on the job, last day of month in which award effecting reduction is approved.

(d) Discontinuance of an award of pension payable on account of vocational rehabilitation because of interruption of course or employability determined, shall be effective:

(1) Interruption of course, date following date of interruption of course.

(2) Employability determined, first day of the third calendar month next succeeding that in which employability was determined.

9. Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended, provides, among other things, that—"Where any person while following a course of vocational rehabilitation as provided for in this part suffers an injury or aggravation of an injury, as a result of the pursuit of such course of vocational rehabilitation, and not the result of his or her own wilful misconduct, and such injury or aggravation results in additional disability to or death of such person, the benefits under laws applicable to veterans of the present war shall be awarded in the same manner and extent as if such disability, aggravation, or death were service-connected within the meaning of such laws; except that no benefits under this paragraph shall be awarded unless application be made therefor within two years after such injury or aggravation was suffered, or such death occurred."

(a) The benefits granted under that portion of Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended, quoted above, will not be awarded unless application is made therefor within two years after such injury or aggravation was suffered or such death occurred. Veterans Administration Form 526a, revised May 1943, will be used in filing claim for such benefits.

(b) Jurisdiction, determinations and adjudication action under this paragraph will be in accordance with the provisions of §§ 2.1122, 2.1123 and 2.1124, insofar as applicable.

10. Cases wherein the veteran served after September 15, 1940, and prior to December 7, 1941, will not be automatically reviewed. Upon receipt of a claim to reopen the case will be considered in accordance with the provisions of this instruction.

11. Public No. 16, 78th Congress, as amended, amends Title I, Public No. 2, 73d Congress, and § 35.01, as amended, accordingly, except as otherwise provided herein, the provisions of Regulations and Procedure, Veterans Administration, pertaining to definitions of relationship, dependency, jurisdiction, appeals, etc., under Public No. 2, 73d Congress, insofar as applicable, will control under this instruction. (July 21, 1944.) (57 Stat. 43; 58 Stat. 229, 38 U. S. C. 701, ch. 12 note; Pub. Law 346, 78th Cong.)

TITLE 49—TRANSPORTATION AND RAILROADS

Chapter I—Interstate Commerce Commission

[S. O. 222]

PART 97—ROUTING OF TRAFFIC

REROUTING OF GRAIN AND GRAIN PRODUCTS IN CARLOADS

At a session of the Interstate Commerce Commission, Division 3, held at its office in Washington, D. C., on the 29th day of July, A. D. 1944.

Upon recommendation of the ODT-ICC Grain and Grain Products Transportation Conservation Committee to the Office of Defense Transportation that certain routes now maintained in tariffs on non-transit carload shipments of grain, grain products, and related articles, also seeds described in Appendix A attached hereto and made a part hereof, be closed because of the time consumed in transporting this traffic over such routes as compared with more direct routes, the Office of Defense Transportation recommends that this Commission take such action as it deems necessary; in the opinion of the Commission an emergency exists requiring immediate action to best promote the service in the interest of the public and the commerce of the people.

It is ordered, That:

Routing of non-transit grain, grain products, and related articles, also seeds in carloads over certain routes prohibited. (a) No common carrier by railroad subject to the Interstate Commerce Act shall accept for transportation, transport, or move, carload shipments of non-transit grain, grain products, and related articles, also seeds from and to the points and over the routes specified in Appendix A, attached hereto and made a part hereof until further order of the Commission, but not for a longer period than the present war and six (6) months thereafter.

(b) Application. The provisions of this order shall not apply to any carload of non-transit grain, grain products, or related articles or seeds loaded for transportation or movement or being transported or moved from and to the points and over the routes specified in Appendix A prior to the effective date of this order.

(c) Notice of prohibited routing. Each railroad, or its agent, 30 days before the effective date of this order, shall publish, file, and post a supplement to each of its tariffs affected hereby, announcing the prohibition on routing specified in paragraph (a) of this section. (40 Stat. 101, secs. 402, 418, 41 Stat. 476, 485, secs. 4, 10, 54 Stat. 901, 912; 49 U.S.C. 1 (10)–(17), 15 (4))

It is further ordered, That this order shall become effective at 12:01 a. m., September 10, 1944; that a copy of this order and direction shall be served upon the Association of American Railroads, Car Service Division, as agent of the railroads subscribing to the car service and per diem agreement under the terms of that agreement; and that notice of this order be given to the general public by depositing a copy in the office of the Secretary of the Commission at Washington, D. C., and by filing it with the Director, Division of the Federal Register.

By the Commission, Division 3.

OFFICE OF PRICE ADMINISTRATION.

[Order 34 Under 19 (a)]

LUGGAGE FRAMES

ADJUSTMENT OF MAXIMUM PRICES

Order No. 34 under § 1499.19a of General Maximum Price Regulation.

Applications have been filed by representative producers in the Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York area for price relief on sales of luggage frames. It has been shown that authorization to use adjustable pricing, pending the establishment of a uniform schedule of prices for these items, is necessary to promote production and distribution of the commodity involved and that the granting of such authorization will not interfere with the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

Therefore, under authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders Nos. 9250 and 9328 and in accordance with § 1499.19a of the General Maximum Price Regulation; It is ordered:

(a) Producers in the states of Pennsylvania, New Jersey and New York may sell and deliver and any person may buy and receive luggage frames at prices adjustable to those later established by the Office of Price Administration.

(b) However, prices in excess of the maximums currently established under the General Maximum Price Regulation may not be collected or paid, pending further action by this Office.

(c) This order shall expire at midnight of September 30, 1944.

This order shall become effective August 1, 1944.

Issued this 31st day of July 1944.

CHESTER BOWLES,
Administrator.

Order No. 14 under § 1336.101 (d) of Revised Price Schedule No. 24. Radio receiver and phonograph parts. Approval of maximum prices for sales of sub-standard radio receiver tubes manufactured by National Union Radio Corporation.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register and pursuant to the authority vested in the Price Administrator by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, the Stabilization Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders No. 9250 and 9328, It is ordered:

(a) This Order No. 14 sets maximum prices for all sales and deliveries of sub-standard radio receiver tubes manufactured by National Union Radio Corporation, Newark, New Jersey. A sub-standard radio receiver tube is a tube which does not meet the manufacturer's specifications for standard tubes.

(1) For all sales and deliveries by the manufacturer to distributors, the manufacturer shall allow a 15% discount on his properly established maximum price for sales of standard radio receiver tubes in effect immediately prior to the effective date of this order.

(2) For all sales and deliveries by persons who purchase for resale, the seller shall allow a 15% discount on his properly established maximum price for sales of standard tubes as established by Amendment No. 134 to Supplementary Regulation No. 14 of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

(b) The manufacturer, prior to the delivery of any sub-standard tubes, must plainly mark such tube or carton containing the tube, to plainly indicate that the radio receiving tube is sub-standard.

(c) At the time of, or prior to the first invoice to each purchaser for resale of sub-standard radio receiver tubes, the manufacturer shall furnish such purchaser a copy of the following notice:

The enclosed tube is not of standard National Union quality but is believed to be satisfactory for the use intended. It has been released by us in the interest of conserving critical materials and making the best possible use of every operable tube.

Since it is of sub-standard quality, it has been sold by us at a price that is reduced to reflect the average lowering of quality. Should you within 30 days from the date of sale to an ultimate consumer, find it unsatisfactory for your use, it may be returned for replacement in kind or for full credit. If retained for more than 30 days, our usual adjustment policy will apply.

(d) To every sub-standard radio receiving tube shipped to a purchaser for resale, the manufacturer shall attach a tag or label or mark the carton in which the tube is shipped, so that the retail ceiling price is plainly legible.

WAR FOOD ADMINISTRATION.

MILK IN CLINTON, IOWA, MARKETING AREA

Notice of report and opportunity to file written exceptions with respect to a proposed marketing agreement and to a proposed order regulating the handling of milk in the Clinton, Iowa, marketing area.

Pursuant to the rules of practice and procedure governing proceedings to formulate marketing agreements and marketing orders (7 CFR, Cum. Supp., 900.1 et seq.), notice is hereby given of the filing with the hearing clerk of the report of the Director of Distribution, with respect to a marketing agreement and to an order regulating the handling of milk in the Clinton, Iowa, marketing area to be made effective pursuant to the provisions of the Agricultural Marketing Agreement Act of 1937, as amended (7 U.S.C. 1940 ed. 601 et seq.). Interested parties may file exceptions to this report with the Hearing Clerk, Office of the Solicitor, Room 1331, South Building, United States Department of Agriculture, Washington 25, D. C., not later than the close of business on August 12, 1944.

The hearing, on the record of which this proposed marketing agreement and order were formulated, was initiated by the Office of Distribution following receipt of a petition by the Clinton Cooperative Milk Producers' Association, and was conducted at Clinton, Iowa, on June 21 and 22, 1944, after the issuance of notice on May 25, 1944 (9 F. R. 5761).

The major issues developed at the hearing were: (1) whether there is interstate commerce in milk in the Clinton marketing area; (2) whether an order should be issued; (3) the extent of the marketing area; (4) the definitions of "producer" and "handler"; (5) the classification of milk and milk products; (6) the level of class prices and the method for determining such prices; (7) emergency milk; (8) the amount of the administrative assessment; (9) the amount of the deduction for marketing services; and (10) the administrative provisions common to all orders.

With respect to these issues it is concluded from the record that:

1. There is interstate commerce in milk in the Clinton, Iowa, marketing area. The testimony presented at the hearing indicates that out of approximately 180 producers supplying milk to the market, 35 produce milk on farms located in Illinois, the remaining farms being located in Iowa. The Illinois produced milk constitutes approximately 21 percent of the milk suplied to the market by nearby producers. The record further indicates that during the past three years it has been necessary, during the greater part of the year, to purchase milk outside the local supply in order to meet demands. The usual sources of this milk appear to have been Argo Fey, Morrison, and Erie, all in Illinois, and the Quad Cities. The latter area is an interstate market comprising territory in both Illinois and Iowa, and receiving milk from producers in both States. Hence, it appears certain that well over 20 percent of the milk disposed of by Clinton handlers originates outside the State of Iowa.

2. An order should be issued to regulate the handling of milk in the Clinton, Iowa, marketing area. The evidence presented at the hearing indicates that there has been a steady decline both in the volume of milk produced for sale in the Clinton market, and in the number of producers regularly supplying the market. This appears to have resulted largely from the fact that the manufacturing plants which compete with Clinton handlers for the local milk supply were paying upwards of 15 cents per hundredweight more for milk than was being paid by local handlers. Producers indicate that this price discrepancy was largely due to their inability to bargain effectively with handlers.

The record also shows that producers feel that they have, in some instances, been victimized by handlers. It was charged that some handlers required producers to accept surplus prices for a portion of their milk at times when the market was so short of milk that the local supply was insufficient to meet fluid requirements. It was also charged that some handlers were deliberately underreporting the butterfat test of producers' milk. Both these accusations were denied by the handlers.

From the above we feel that there is need for the issuance of an order to stabilize milk marketing in the Clinton area. It appears that there is need of a pricing program which will maintain the price of fluid milk for the Clinton market in a proper relationship with the prices paid for milk by nearby manufacturing plants if the already limited supply of milk available to Clinton is not to be further depleted. It is also felt that the auditing of handlers' utilization of milk and the checking of weights and tests by an impartial agency established under an order will aid in establishing and maintaining orderly marketing by allaying the apparent suspicions of producers that they are not receiving a proper accounting for their milk.

3. The Clinton marketing area should include the city of Clinton and the eastern part of Camanche Township, all in Clinton County, Iowa. The area thus described includes the communities normally served by the Clinton handlers as well as certain large manufacturing establishments, also supplied by Clinton handlers, which utilize large quantities of milk.

4. The term, "producer," should be restricted to those farmers producing milk under certification from the health authorities of the city of Clinton. This restriction appears logical since there would be no purpose in including within the definition those farmers who produce milk only for manufacturing purposes. The definition will include all producers whose milk normally is sold in the marketing area for consumption in fluid form since all the handlers who would be subject to the order distribute a portion of their milk in the city of Clinton and thus are required to receive milk only from producers who hold approval from the city of Clinton.

The term, "handler," should include any person who disposes of milk as Class I (fluid milk, milk drinks, and cream) in the marketing area. This definition would include all persons who purchase milk from producers as defined above and who are engaged in the distribution and sale of those products normally associated with the "fluid milk industry." It would exclude those plants which are engaged exclusively in the manufacture and sale of ice cream and dairy products.

5. The classification of milk should be the same as was proposed in the notice of hearing. The evidence presented at the hearing indicates no need for more than two classes of milk, Class I, the fluid milk products such as milk, flavored milk drinks, and cream, which are the products normally associated with the fluid milk industry and which must come from milk which bears the approval of the local health authorities; and Class II, manufactured dairy products which require no health department approval.

While there was some discussion as to the advisability or need for establishing a separate class for cream on the grounds that the Class I price was too high for milk made into cream, we feel that this argument is not sound since the method of classification set forth in the order places only the cream in Class I if the skim milk is used for manufacturing. Thus the price of 100 pounds of milk used to make cream would not be the same as the price of 100 pounds of milk sold as milk unless the skim milk separated from the cream were disposed of in a Class I product. It was also proposed that cottage cheese be included in Class I or Class II if a three-class plan were adopted. While there appears to be some merit to this suggestion, since milk for cottage cheese apparently must meet the same stringent health requirements as milk for fluid consumption, we feel that there is insufficient evidence in the record to warrant such reclassification at this time.

There was no testimony presented to indicate any need for a change in the proposed methods of computing the volume of milk in each class, or determining the classification of producers' milk.

6. The class prices and the respective butterfat differentials should be the same as were proposed in the notice of hearing. The testimony presented at the hearing indicates that the principal competition for the Clinton milk supply comes from Illinois condenseries, Therefore, it seems only reasonable to base the Clinton Class I price on the average price paid by a group of these condenseries. Such a plan should cause the price of milk for the Clinton market to fluctuate with the prices paid for milk by the condenseries, and thus maintain a fixed relationship between the two. The 50-cent premium over the condensery price appears to be the minimum amount required to return to producers a blended price which will compensate for the added costs incurred by them in adapting their production to fluid market requirements, and in equipping and maintaining their dairy premises in accordance with the requirements of the health ordinance of the city of Clinton.

The Class II price should be based on the market quotations for butter and casein. From the testimony, it appears that these are the principal uses made by handlers of the milk which is received in excess of their fluid requirements. Therefore, it is only reasonable to base the price of such milk on the prices of those products which handlers normally manufacture from such milk. While this price is somewhat lower than the prices paid by the nearby condenseries, it is expected that, because of the small volume of Class II milk normally handled, the blended price returned to producers will be sufficiently above the condensery price during the greater part of the year to prevent a further diversion of milk away from the Clinton market.

The Class I and Class II butterfat differentials reflect the approximate value of the butterfat in milk when used to produce Class I and Class II products, respectively. In effect, the use of butterfat differentials in each class approximates separate pricing of the fat and skim milk in milk, the skim milk price being approximately the difference between the class price and the butterfat value. This system of pricing will insure equity among handlers by requiring each to pay exactly the same price for fat or skim milk used to produce the same product.

7. The provision relating to emergency milk should be retained as proposed in the notice of hearing. There should also be added to the order the provision proposed by the producers' association that all milk received from sources other than producers and other handlers except emergency milk should be considered Class II milk except for that portion of such milk which was needed to fulfill Class I requirements beyond the available supply of producers' milk.

8. The administrative assessment should be fixed as an amount not to exceed 5 cents per hundredweight. It appears that there will be needed approximately $300 per month to defray the costs of administering the order. From the record it appears that the average receipts of producer milk are approximately 600,000 pounds per month. Thus an assessment of 5 cents per hundredweight would be required to meet the expense of administering the order. Should experience prove that a lesser sum were sufficient, or should receipts increase to such an extent that the income exceeded needs, the market administrator, with the approval of the War Food Administrator, may reduce the assessment to an amount sufficient to meet the actual expenses.

9. The deduction for marketing services should be fixed at 5 cents per hundredweight. From the evidence presented it appears that the costs of checking the weight and butterfat test of producers' milk, and furnishing marketing information to producers will cost approximately $300 per month. An assessment of 5 cents per hundredweight would be required to provide this sum.

10. Emergency provisions should be made in the order (i) to provide a basis for computing class prices in the event the basic commodity price quotations are discontinued, or should fail to reflect the true value of the product to producers because of the payment of subsidies or for other reasons; and (ii) to enable the War Food Administrator to forestall any abrupt price change which might have the effect of bringing the proposed pricing program into conflict with the national program for economic stabilization. Although the latter part of the provision was not proposed as such at the hearing, it is felt that the testimony concerning the possibilities of such a conflict occurring necessitates the inclusion of such a provision in the proposed order.

The other provisions of the proposed order, mainly administrative in character, should remain about as proposed in the notice of hearing. Slight changes should be made in the phraseology to correct typographical errors or to provide greater clarity, but these changes would not affect the intent or effect of the provision.

The following proposed order is recommended as the detailed means by which the conclusions may be carried out. The proposed marketing agreement is not included in this report because its provisions are identical with those set forth in the proposed order.

PROPOSED ORDER REGULATING THE HANDLING OF MILK IN THE CLINTON, IOWA, MARKETING AREA

It is found upon the evidence introduced at the public hearing held in Clinton, Iowa, on June 21 and 22, 1944:

1. That this order regulates the handling of milk in the same manner as and is applicable only to handlers defined in a marketing agreement upon which a hearing has been held; and

(9) Promptly verify the information contained in reports submitted by handlers.

SEC. 3. Classification of milk—(a) Basis of classification. All milk, skim milk, or cream purchased or received by a handler or caused to be diverted by a cooperative association to a plant from which no milk is disposed of as Class I milk in the marketing areas shall be reported by the handler and shall be classified by the market administrator in the classes set forth in (b) of this section.

(b) Classes of utilization. Subject to the conditions set forth in (a) and (d) of this section, the classes of utilization of milk shall be as follows:

(1) Class I milk shall be all milk, skim milk, or cream disposed of in the form of milk, skim milk, buttermilk, flavored milk and milk drinks, and cream, for consumption as cream (including any cream product in fluid form containing 6 percent or more butterfat), and all milk not specifically accounted for as Class II milk.

(2) Class II milk shall be all milk, skim milk, and cream used to produce a milk product other than those specified in Class I milk and milk accounted for as actual plant shrinkage: Provided, That allowance for such plant shrinkage shall not exceed 3 percent of the total receipts of milk from producers.

(c) Responsibility of handlers. In establishing the classification of milk as required in (b) of this section, the burden rests upon the handler who receives milk from producers to account for the milk and to prove to the market administrator that such milk should not be classified as Class I milk.

(d) Transfers of milk and cream. (1) Milk, skim milk, and cream shall be classified as Class I milk when moved from the plant of a handler (i) to the plant of another handler who receives milk from producers: Provided, That if such milk, skim milk, or cream was utilized in Class II, it shall be classified accordingly subject to verification by the market administrator; (ii) to the plant of a handler who receives no milk from producers other than milk of his own production; and (iii) to the plant of a person, other than a handler, who distributes milk, skim milk, or cream in fluid form for consumption as such.

(2) Milk, skim milk, and cream received at the plant of a handler from sources other than producers or other handlers shall be Class II milk except for such milk in excess of the total Class II utilization of the receiving handler.

(3) Milk, skim milk, and cream, disposed of by a handler to the plant of a person, other than a handler, who does not distribute milk, skim milk, or cream for consumption in fluid form shall be classified as Class II milk.

(e) Computation of the milk in each class. For each delivery period, the market administrator shall compute in the case of each handler the amount of milk in each class as defined in (b) of this section as follows:

(1) Determine the total pounds of milk received as follows: add into one sum the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream received from (i) producers; (ii) the handler's own farm production; (iii) other handlers; and (iv) other sources.

(2) Determine the total pounds of butterfat received as follows: multiply by its average butterfat test the weight of the milk, skim milk, and cream received from (i) producers; (ii) the handler's own farm production; (iii) other handlers; and (iv) other sources. Add together the resulting amounts.

(3) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class I as follows: (i) convert to pounds the total quantity of milk, skim milk, and cream, disposed of in each of the several products of Class I; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; and (iii) if the quantity of milk so computed when added to the pounds of Class II milk computed pursuant to (5) (iv) of this paragraph is less than the total pounds of milk received in accordance with (1) of this paragraph, an amount equal to the difference shall be added to the sum obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph.

(4) Determine the total pounds of butterfat in Class I as follows: (i) multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class I by its average butterfat test; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; and (iii) if the quantity of butterfat so computed, when added to the pounds of butterfat in Class II computed pursuant to (6) (iv) of this paragraph is less than the total pounds of butterfat received in accordance with (2) of this paragraph, an amount equal to the difference shall be added to the sum obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph.

(5) Determine the total pounds of milk in Class II as follows: (i) compute the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream which were used to produce each of the several products of Class II; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; (iii) subtract the total pounds of milk computed pursuant to (3) (ii) of this paragraph and the total pounds of milk computed pursuant to (ii) of this subparagraph from the total pounds of milk computed pursuant to (1) of this paragraph, which resulting quantity, up to 3 percent of the total receipts of milk from producers, shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purposes of this paragraph; and (iv) add together the result obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph and the amount of plant shrinkage allowed pursuant to (iii) of this subparagraph.

(6) Determine the total pounds of butterfat in Class II as follows: (i) multiply the actual weight of each of the several products of Class II by its average butterfat test; (ii) add together the resulting amounts; (iii) subtract the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (4) (ii) of this paragraph and the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (ii) of this subparagraph from the total pounds of butterfat computed pursuant to (2) of this paragraph, which resulting quantity, up to 3 percent of the total receipts of butterfat from producers shall be allowed as plant shrinkage for the purposes of this paragraph; and (iv) add together the results obtained in (ii) of this subparagraph and the amount of plant shrinkage allowed pursuant to (iii) of this subparagraph.

(7) Determine the classification of milk of producers as follows: (i) subtract from the pounds of milk in each class the pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream received from other handlers and allocated to each class in accordance with (d) of this section; (ii) subtract from the remaining pounds of milk in Class II the total pounds of milk, skim milk, and cream, except emergency milk, received from sources other than producers, own farm production, and other handlers: Provided, That if the quantity of milk, skim milk, and cream, so received, is greater than the remaining quantity of Class II milk of such handler, an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted from the remaining pounds of Class I milk; (iii) subtract pro rata from the remaining pounds of milk in each class, the total pounds of milk which were received from the handler's own farm production and emergency milk; (iv) if the remaining quantity of milk is greater than, or contains a greater quantity of butterfat than the handler reported having received from producers, an amount equal to the difference shall be subtracted pro rata from the remaining pounds of milk or butterfat in each class; and (v) the result shall be known as the "net pooled milk" in each class.

SEC. 4. Minimum prices—(a) Class prices. Each handler shall, subject to the provisions of (b) of this section, pay at the time and in the manner set forth in section 8 not less than the prices set forth in this section per hundredweight of milk received during each delivery period at such handler's plant or caused by such handler to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area.

(1) For Class I milk—the price shall be 50 cents per hundredweight more than the price resulting from the following computation by the market administrator: determine the average of the basic or field prices per hundredweight ascertained to have been paid for milk of 3.5 percent butterfat content received during the period beginning with the 16th day of the previous month and ending with the 15th day of the then current month at the plants listed in this subparagraph: Provided, That if the price so determined is less than the price computed by the market administrator in accordance with the following formula, such formula price shall be used in lieu of the above-stated price: (i) multiply by 6 the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago for the delivery period as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function); (ii) add 2.4 times the average weekly prevailing price of the cheese known as "Twins" during said delivery period on the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange at Plymouth, Wisconsin (in the absence of such prices the prevailing price of "Twins" at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) shall be used); (iii) divide the resulting sum by 7; (iv) add 30 percent thereof; and (v) multiply the result by 3.5.

Amboy Milk Products Co., Amboy, Ill.
Borden Company, Dixon, Ill.
Borden Company, Sterling, Ill.
Carnation Milk Company, Oregon, Ill.
Dean Milk Company, Belvidere, Ill.
Dean Milk Company, Pearl City, Ill.
Dean Milk Company, Pecatonica, Ill.

(2) For Class II milk, the price shall be the result of the following computation by the market administrator: multiply by 3.5 the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) during the delivery period in which such milk was received, add 20 percent thereof and add any plus amount resulting from the following calculation:

Subtract 6 cents from the average price per pound of casein and multiply such result by 2.3. The price per pound of casein to be used shall be the average of the carlot prices for unground casein f. o. b. drying plants in the Chicago area as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) during the delivery period in which such milk was received.

(b) Butterfat differentials to handlers. (1) If the average butterfat content of the milk of producers disposed of as Class I by any handler computed pursuant to section 3 (e) is more or less than 3.5 percent, such handler shall add to the Class I price per hundredweight computed pursuant to (a) (1) of this section for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class I milk is above 3.5 percent, or shall subtract from such Class I price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class I milk is below 3.5 percent, an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: to the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture, or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk was received, add 20 percent, divide the result obtained by 10, and add 1.0 cent.

(2) If the average butterfat content of the milk of producers disposed of as Class II by any handler computed pursuant to section 3 (e) is more or less than 3.5 percent, such handler shall add to the Class II price per hundredweight computed pursuant to (a) (2) of this section for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class II milk is above 3.5 percent, or shall subtract from such Class II price for each one-tenth of 1 percent that the average butterfat content of such Class II milk is below 3.5 percent, an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: to the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) for the delivery period during which such milk was received, add 20 percent, and divide the result obtained by 10.

(c) Emergency price provision. (1) Whenever the provisions hereof require the market administrator to use a specific price (or prices) for milk or any milk product for the purpose of determining class prices or for any other purpose, the market administrator shall add to the specified price the amount of any subsidy or other similar payment being made by any Federal agency in connection with the milk or product, associated with the price specified: Provided, That if for any reason, the price specified is not reported or published as indicated, the market administrator shall use the applicable maximum uniform price established by regulations of any Federal agency plus the amount of any subsidy or other similar payment: Provided, That if the specified price is not reported or published and there is no applicable maximum uniform price or if the specified price is not reported or published and the War Food Administrator determines that the market price is below the applicable maximum uniform price, the market administrator shall use a price determined by the War Food Administrator to be equivalent to or comparable with the prices specified.

(2) Whenever the War Food Administrator finds and announces that the Class I price computed for any delivery period pursuant to (a) of this section is not in the public interest, the Class I price for such delivery period shall be the same as the Class I price for the previous delivery period: Provided, That if the War Food Administrator for two consecutive delivery periods finds and announces that the Class I price computed pursuant to (a) of this section is not in the public interest, he shall upon request of interested parties and pursuant to the applicable provisions of the act, issue notice of and opportunity for a hearing upon a proposed amendment to this section of the order.

SEC. 5. Reports of handlers—(a) Periodic reports. (1) On or before the 8th day after the end of each delivery period each handler, with respect to all milk or milk products which were, during such delivery period, (i) received from producers; (ii) received from other handlers; (iii) received from such handler's own farm production; (iv) received from any other sources; or (v) caused to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area, shall report to the market administrator, in the detail and on forms prescribed by him, as follows:

(a) The receipts at each plant from producers who are not handlers;

(b) The receipts at each plant from any other handler, including any handler who is also a producer;

(c) The receipts at each plant from such handler's own farm production;

(d) The receipts at each plant from any other source;

(e) The utilization of all milk and milk products disposed of;

(f) The quantity of milk and milk products on hand; and

(g) The respective butterfat content of each of the above.

(2) On or before the 5th day after the end of each delivery period, the receipts at each plant of emergency milk as follows; (i) the amount of such milk and the average butterfat content thereof; (ii) the date or dates upon which such milk was received during the delivery period; (iii) the plant from which such milk was shipped; (iv) the prices paid or to be paid for such milk; (v) the utilization of such milk; and (vi) such other information with respect thereto as the market administrator may request.

(b) Reports as to producers. Each handler shall report to the market administrator within 10 days after the market administrator's request with respect to any producer and with respect to a period of time designated by the market administrator: (i) the name and address; (ii) the total pounds of milk received; (iii) the average butterfat test of milk received; and (iv) the number of days upon which milk was received.

(c) Reports of payments to producers. On or before the 20th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall submit to the market administrator his producer pay roll for such delivery period, which shall show for each producer (i) the net amount of such producer's payments with the prices, deductions, and charges involved, and (ii) the total volume of milk received from such producer or caused by the handler to be delivered to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area and the average butterfat test of such milk.

(d) Reports of producer-handlers and handlers whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers. Producer-handlers and handlers whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers shall report to the market administrator at such time and in such manner as the market administrator may request.

(e) Verification of reports and payments. The market administrator shall verify all reports and payments of each handler by audits of such handler's records and the records of any other handler or person upon whose disposition of milk such handler claims classification. Each handler shall keep adequate records of receipts and utilization of milk and shall, during the usual hours of business, make available to the market administrator or his representative such records and facilities as will enable the market administrator to:

(1) Verify the receipts and disposition of all milk required to be reported pursuant to this section and, in the case of errors or omissions, ascertain the correct figures;

(2) Weigh, sample, and test for butterfat content the milk received from producers and any product of milk upon which classification depends; and

(3) Verify the payments to producers prescribed in section 8.

SEC. 6. Application of provisions—(a) Handlers who receive no milk from producers. Sections 4, 7, 8, 9, and 10 shall not apply to the handling of milk by handlers (1) whose sole sources of supply are receipts from other handlers or (2) who are producer-handlers pursuant to section 1 (g) as verified by the market administrator in the manner provided in (b) of this section.

(b) Producer-handlers. Handlers shall furnish to the market administrator for his verification, subject to review by the War Food Administrator, evidence of their qualifications as producer-handlers pursuant to section 1 (g), as of the effective date hereof, and they shall furnish evidence of subsequent changes made in the manner of producing or distributing their milk that affect their qualification as producer-handlers; such verification by the market administrator shall be made within 15 days of the date of receipt of the evidence and shall be effective retroactively to the effective date of the provisions hereof in cases verified within 45 days of such effective date and shall be effective retroactively to the first day of the delivery period during which verification is made in subsequent cases.

(c) Emergency milk. During any delivery period when the market administrator determines that the supply of milk available to any handler from producers and handlers is not sufficient to fulfill the Class I requirements of such handler, such handler, after giving notice to the market administrator of his intention to purchase milk from other than such sources, may secure milk from emergency sources on terms and conditions other than those provided in section 4 hereof. Emergency milk shall be reported to the market administrator by the receiving handler separately from milk received from producers and handlers in accordance with section 5 (a) (2). The person from whom the handler received such milk shall not be considered a handler with respect to milk disposed of in the marketing area under the circumstances described in this paragraph.

(d) Milk received from other sources. If a handler has disposed of milk, skim milk, or cream, except emergency milk, which was received from sources other than producers, his own farm production, or other handlers, as Class I milk within the marketing area, the market administrator, in determining the net pool obligation of the handler pursuant to section 7 (a), shall add an amount equal to the difference between the value of such milk at the Class I price and the value of such milk at the Class II price. This provision shall not apply if the handler can prove to the market administrator that such milk, skim milk, or cream was used only to the extent that milk of producers was not available.

(e) Payment for excess milk or butterfat. If a handler, after subtracting receipts from his own farm production, receipts from other handlers, and receipts from sources determined as other than producers or other handlers, has disposed of milk or butterfat in excess of the milk or butterfat which, on the basis of his reports, has been credited to his producers as having been delivered by them, the market administrator in computing the net pool obligation of such handler pursuant to section 7 (a) shall add an amount equal to the value of such milk or butterfat in accordance with its utilization by the handler as determined pursuant to section 3 (e) (7) (iv).

SEC. 7. Determination of uniform price to producers—(a) Net pool obligation of handlers. The net pool obligation of each handler for milk received from producers during each delivery period shall be a sum of money computed for such delivery period by the market administrator as follows: multiply the pounds of net pooled milk in each class computed pursuant to section 3 (e) by the class prices computed pursuant to section 4 (a) subject to the butterfat differentials set forth in section 4 (b), add together the resulting amounts, and add the value of any payments required to be made pursuant to paragraphs (d) and (e) of section 6.

(b) Computation of the uniform price. For each delivery period the market administrator shall compute the uniform price per hundredweight of milk as follows:

(1) Combine into one total the net pool obligations of all handlers computed pursuant to (a) of this section who made the reports prescribed by section 5 and who made the payments prescribed by section 8 for the previous delivery period;

(2) Add an amount equal to not less than one-half the cash balance in the producer-settlement fund;

(3) Subtract, if the average butterfat content of the net pooled milk of all handlers whose reports are included in this computation is greater than 3.5 percent, or add, if such average butterfat content is less than 3.5 percent, an amount computed as follows: multiply the amount by which the average butterfat content of such milk varies from 3.5 percent by the butterfat differential computed pursuant to section 8 (c), and multiply the result by the total hundredweight of net pooled milk of all handlers whose reports are included in this computation.

(4) Divide the resulting sum by the total quantity of net pooled milk of all handlers whose reports are included in this computation.

(5) Subtract not less than 4 cents nor more than 5 cents per hundredweight of milk for the purpose of retaining in the producer-settlement fund a cash balance to provide against errors in reports and payments or delinquencies in payment by handlers. The result shall be known as the "uniform price" per hundredweight for milk of producers containing 3.5 percent butterfat.

(c) Announcement of prices. On or before the 9th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall notify all handlers and make public announcement of the computation, pursuant to (b) of this section, of the uniform price per hundredweight of milk, of the Class I and Class II prices computed pursuant to section 4 (a) and of the butterfat differentials to handlers computed pursuant to section 4 (b) and of the butterfat differential to producers computed pursuant to section 8 (c).

(d) Notification of handlers. On or before the 9th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall notify each handler of the amount of his net pool obligation and of the amount by which such handler's net pool obligation is greater or less than the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to section 8 (a).

SEC. 8. Payments for milk—(a) Time and method of payment. Each handler shall make payment, subject to the butterfat differential set forth in (c) of this section, after deducting the amount of the payments made pursuant to (b) of this section for milk purchased or received from producers by such handler during each delivery period as follows:

(1) To each producer, except as set forth in (2) of this paragraph, on or before the 15th day after the end of the delivery period during which such milk was purchased or received, at not less than the uniform price per hundredweight computed pursuant to section 7 (b).

(2) To a cooperative association for milk which it causes to be delivered to a handler from producers and for which such cooperative association collects payments, on or before the 12th day after the end of the delivery period during which such milk was purchased or received, of a total amount equal to not less than the sum of the individual payments otherwise payable to such producers under (1) of this paragraph.

(b) Half delivery period payments. (1) On or before the last day of each delivery period, each handler shall, except as set forth in (2) of this paragraph, make payment to each producer for the approximate value of the milk of such producer which, during the first 15 days of the delivery period, was received by such handler.

(2) At least 3 days before the end of each delivery period, each handler shall make payment to a cooperative association for milk which it causes to be delivered to a handler from producers and for which such cooperative association collects payments for the approximate value of the milk which such cooperative association caused to be delivered to such handler during the first 15 days of the delivery period.

(c) Butterfat differential to producers. If, during the delivery period, any handler has purchased or received from any producer milk having an average butterfat content other than 3.5 percent, such handler, in making the payments prescribed in (a) (1) and (2) of this section, shall add to the uniform price per hundredweight paid to such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk above 3.5 percent not less than, or shall deduct from the uniform price per hundredweight paid to such producer for each one-tenth of 1 percent of average butterfat content in milk below 3.5 percent not more than, an amount computed by the market administrator as follows: to the average wholesale price per pound of 92-score butter at Chicago as reported by the United States Department of Agriculture (or such other Federal agency as may be authorized to perform this price reporting function) add 20 percent, and divide the resulting sum by 10.

(d) Producer-settlement fund. The market administrator shall establish and maintain a separate fund known as the "producer-settlement fund" into which he shall deposit all payments made by handlers pursuant to (e) and (g) of this section and out of which he shall make all payments to handlers pursuant to (f) and (g) of this section: Provided, That the market administrator shall offset any such payment due to any handler against payments due from such handler.

(e) Payments to the producer-settlement fund. On or before the 12th day after the end of each delivery period, each handler shall pay to the market administrator for payment to producers through the producer-settlement fund the amount by which the net pool obligation of such handler is greater than the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to (a) of this section.

(f) Payments out of the producer-settlement fund. (1) On or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, the market administrator shall pay to each handler for payment to producers the amount by which the sum required to be paid producers by such handler pursuant to (a) of this section is greater than the net pool obligation of such handler.

(2) If the balance in the producer-settlement fund is insufficient to make all payments pursuant to this paragraph, the market administrator shall reduce uniformly such payments and shall complete such payments as soon as the necessary funds are available. No handler who, on the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, has not received the balance of such reduced payment from the market administrator shall be deemed to be in violation of (a) of this section if he reduces his payments to producers by not more than the amount of the reduction in payment from the producer-settlement fund.

(g) Adjustments of errors in payments. Whenever verification by the market administrator of reports or payments of any handler discloses errors in payments to the producer-settlement fund made pursuant to (e) of this section, the market administrator shall promptly bill such handler for any unpaid amount and such handler shall, within 5 days of such billing make payment to the market administrator of the amount so billed. Whenever verification discloses that payment is due from the market administrator to any handler pursuant to (f) of this section, the market administrator shall, within 5 days, make such payment to such handler. Whenever verification by the market administrator of the payment by a handler to any producer discloses payment to such producer of an amount which is less than is required by this section, the handler shall make up such payment to the producer not later than the time of making payment to producers next following such disclosure.

SEC. 9. Marketing service—(a) Deductions for marketing services. Except as set forth in paragraph (b) of this section, each handler shall deduct an amount not exceeding 5 cents per hundredweight (the exact amount to be determined by the market administrator, subject to review by the War Food Administrator) from the payments made to producers pursuant to section 8 with respect to all milk received by such handler during each delivery period from producers, and shall pay such deductions to the market administrator on or before the 15th day after the end of such delivery period. Such moneys shall be used by the market administrator to verify weights, samples, and tests of milk received by handlers from producers during the delivery period and to provide such producers with market information, such services to be performed in whole or in part by the market administrator or by an agent engaged by and responsible to him.

(b) Producers' cooperative association. In the case of producers for whom a cooperative association, which the War Food Administrator determines to be qualified under the provisions of the act of Congress of February 18, 1922, as amended, known as the "Capper-Volstead Act," is actually performing, as determined by the War Food Administrator, the services set forth in paragraph (a) of this section, each handler shall make, in lieu of the deductions specified in paragraph (a) of this section, such deductions from the payments to be made to such producers as may be authorized by such producers and, on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, pay over such deductions to the cooperative association rendering such services of which such producers are members.

SEC. 10. Expense of administration—(a) Payments by handlers. As his pro rata share of the expense of the administration hereof, each handler, on or before the 15th day after the end of each delivery period, shall pay to the market administrator a sum not exceeding 5 cents per hundredweight with respect to all milk received during such delivery period producers or from a producer's cooperative association or produced by such handler, the exact sum to be determined by the market administrator subject to review by the War Food Administrator: Provided, That such handler which is a cooperative association shall pay such pro rata share of expense of administration on only that milk of producers received by such association or caused to be delivered by such association to a plant from which no milk is disposed of in the marketing area.

(b) Suits by market administrator. The market administrator may maintain a suit in his own name against any handler for the collection of such handler's pro rata share of expense set forth in this section.

SEC. 11. Effective time, suspension, or termination—(a) Effective time. The provisions hereof, or any amendment hereto, shall become effective at such time as the War Food Administrator may declare and shall continue in force until suspended or terminated, pursuant to paragraph (b) of this section.

(b) Suspension or termination. The War Food Administrator may suspend or terminate this order or any provision hereof, whenever he finds that this order or any provision hereof, obstructs, or does not tend to effectuate the declared policy of the act. This order shall terminate, in any event, whenever the provisions of the act authorizing it cease to be in effect.

(c) Continuing power and duty of the market administrator. If, upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, there are any obligations arising hereunder the final accrual or ascertainment of which requires further acts by any handler, by the market administrator, or by any other person, the power and duty to perform such further acts shall continue notwithstanding such suspension or termination: Provided, That any such acts required to be performed by the market administrator shall, if the War Food Administrator so directs, be performed by such other person, persons, or agency as the War Food Administrator may designate.

(1) The market administrator, or such other person as the War Food Administrator may designate, shall (a) continue in such capacity until discharged by the War Food Administrator, (b) from time to time account for all receipts and disbursements, and, when so directed by the War Food Administrator, deliver all funds or property on hand, together with the books and records of the market administrator, or such person, to such person, as the War Food Administrator may direct, and (c) if so directed by the War Food Administrator, execute such assignments or other instruments necessary or appropriate to vest in such person full title to all funds, property, and claims vested in the market administrator or such person pursuant thereto.

(d) Liquidation after suspension or termination. Upon the suspension or termination of any or all provisions hereof, the market administrator, or such person as the War Food Administrator may designate shall, if so directed by the War Food Administrator, liquidate the business of the market administrator's office and dispose of all funds and property then in his possession or under his control, together with claims for any funds which are unpaid or owing at the time of such suspension or termination. Any funds collected pursuant to the provisions hereof, over and above the amounts necessary to meet outstanding obligations and the expenses necessarily incurred by the market administrator or such person in liquidating and distributing such funds, shall be distributed to the contributing handlers and producers in an equitable manner.

SEC. 12. Agents. The War Food Administrator may, by designation in writing, name any officer or employee of the United States to act as his agent or representative in connection with any of the provisions hereof.

This report filed at Washington, D. C., this 1st day of August 1944.

Acting Director of Distribution.

TITLE 32—NATIONAL DEFENSE

Chapter IX—War Production Board

Subchapter B—Executive Vice-Chairman

PART 3208—SCHEDULED PRODUCTS

[General Scheduling Order M-293, as Amended Aug. 2, 1944]

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the production of certain products for defense, for private account, and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate in the public interest and to promote national defense:

§ 3208.1 General Scheduling Order M-293—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this order:

(1) "M-293 product" means any item listed in the tables to this order except Table 1. These items are identified in the Tables as Class X; Class Y and undesignated. The same products may be designated X and Y and, if so, are subject to the provisions applying to each class. Class X, Class Y and undesignated products are subject to all other provisions of this order.

(2) "Manufacturer" means any person to the extent that he is engaged in making an M-293 product.

(b) Operations reports. Each manufacturer must file an operations report on the applicable form shown in Column 1 of the appropriate table in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form at the times there shown. If no form is designated in Column 1, no operations report need be filed.

(c) Provisions covering Class X products—(1) Filing of shipping schedules of Class X products. Each manufacturer of Class X products must file with the War Production Board each month his shipping schedule, beginning with shipments to be made on and after the first of the following month, and other information called for on the form shown in Column 2 of the appropriate table, at the time shown and in accordance with the instructions accompanying the form, except when he is excused from filing by the War Production Board. A manufacturer who is so excused from filing is not excused from complying with paragraph (f) or any of the other provisions of this order. A manufacturer who has been excused may, nevertheless, if he wishes, file the Column 2 form with the War Production Board just as if he had not been excused. In any case, unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board, the manufacturer in arranging the sequence of shipments on his shipping schedules shall be governed by Priorities Regulation No. 1 and other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board. The shipping dates of purchase orders which are already part of a frozen schedule must not be changed. In preparing the Column 2 form for filing each month the manufacturer shall include all purchase orders received up to the close of business on a date which is as near as practicable to the date the form is due to be filed. Orders received after the close of business on that date shall not be included on the form for that month.

(2) Maintaining shipping schedules of Class X products when not filed. Each manufacturer of a Class X product who is excused from filing his shipping schedule by the War Production Board, must maintain his proposed shipping schedule on the forms shown in Column 2 of the appropriate table if so instructed by the War Production Board, otherwise in such manner that they can be readily transferred to that form. In arranging the sequence of shipments on his shipping schedule, unless otherwise directed by the War Production Board, the manufacturer shall be governed by Priorities Regulation No. 1 and other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board. The shipping dates of purchase orders which are already part of a frozen schedule must not be changed.

(3) Freezing of X product shipping schedules which are filed. When a manufacturer who has not been excused from filing, or one who has been excused but still wishes to file, files his schedule, that schedule is automatically frozen under Priorities Regulation 18 on the date it is filed, for shipments to be made during the periods specified in Column 4 of the appropriate table. This period begins on the first day of the month after the schedule is filed. If a previously frozen schedule covers shipments to be made before the beginning of the period, those shipments remain part of the frozen schedule.

(4) Freezing of X product shipping schedules of manufacturers who are excused from filing and do not file. If a manufacturer is excused and does not file, his shipping schedule becomes frozen under Priorities Regulation 18 at the close of business on the date he would have had to file his schedule if he were not excused, and at the close of business on the same day of each month after that. The schedule is frozen for shipments to be made during a period of two months, unless a shorter period of time is specified in Column 4 of the appropriate table, in which case it is frozen for the shorter period. This period in either case begins on the first day of the month following the date on which he would have had to file his schedule if he were not excused. If a previously frozen schedule covers shipments to be made before the beginning of the period, those shipments remain part of the frozen schedule.

(5) Production and shipment of X products. When a shipping schedule has become frozen, the manufacturer must schedule his production and make his shipments so as to meet the schedule without regard to preference ratings or directions from any governmental agency, except that the schedule may be amended by the War Production Board as explained in Priorities Regulation 18 and paragraph (g) of this order.

plicable order or regulation of the War Production Board.

(2) Freezing of authorized orders for Y products. All authorized purchase orders for Class Y products which the manufacturer accepts, automatically become a "frozen schedule" under Priorities Regulation No. 18, and the manufacturer must schedule his production and make his shipments so as to meet the schedule without regard to preference ratings or directions from any governmental agency, except that the schedule may be amended by the War Production Board as explained in Priorities Regulation 18 and paragraph (g) of this order.

(3) Authorization of orders for Y products placed by distributors. A distributor who places a purchase order for a Class Y product must accompany it by an authorization as provided in subparagraph (1) above. If he wants to buy for immediate resale, the information called for by the application for authorization must be given about the customer and not the distributor. The application may be filled out and filed either by the distributor or by the customer. In either case the distributor must forward the authorization with his purchase order to the manufacturer. If the distributor is buying for stock, he must say so on his application and give all information called for by the application form in terms of the type of customers to whom he expects to sell. A manufacturer must obtain authorization for the transfer of a Y product to a distribution outlet owned or controlled by him. The term "distributor" includes wholesalers, retailers, jobbers, sales agencies and consignees for sale.

(e) Provisions covering undesignated products. No manufacturer of an undesignated M-293 product need file the form shown in Column 2 of the appropriate table unless specifically directed to do so by the War Production Board or unless he chooses to do so. If the manufacturer is directed to file, the shipping schedule shown on the form becomes frozen in accordance with the direction. If the manufacturer is not directed, but chooses to file the form, the shipping schedule shown on it does not become a frozen schedule until the War Production Board specifically directs the manufacturer that it is one.

(f) Special reporting provisions covering certain M-293 products—(1) Reports of requirements by purchasers of M-293 products. Any claimant agency listed on Table 1 may instruct its prime contractor (or the prime contractor of a procuring agency which the claimant agency represents) who is purchasing M-293 products required in his prime contracts, or any other person purchasing M-293 products except for incorporation into other M-293 products manufactured by himself, to file with the claimant agency a report on Form WPB-3003 or other form approved for the purpose by the Bureau of the Budget. In such a case the person must file the form giving the information called for concerning the purchase orders which he has placed or will place for each specified M-293 product required under the Table 1 programs, except those which are indicated on the tables as being exempt from this paragraph. The report must state how many of each M-293 product will be used as spares.

(2) Reports of shipping schedules. A claimant agency listed on Table 1 may send to a manufacturer a Form WPB-3003, or other form approved for the purpose by the Bureau of the Budget, which shows the requirements of purchasers described in paragraph (f) (1) above covering all M-293 products for Table 1 programs, except those indicated on the tables as being exempt from the provisions of this paragraph. If a manufacturer receives such a form filled out and certified by the claimant agency in accordance with the accompanying instructions, he must fill in only the proposed shipping dates determined in accordance with Priorities Regulation No. 1 and other applicable orders and regulations of the War Production Board. The shipping dates of purchase orders which already are part of a frozen schedule must not be changed. He must file copies of the form with the claimant agency in accordance with the accompanying instructions and also with the War Production Board when requested to do so by the appropriate industry division. This schedule does not become a frozen schedule unless the War Production Board specifically directs the manufacturer that it is one.

(g) Other scheduling provisions. With respect to any M-293 product, the War Production Board may, notwithstanding any other order, preference rating, directive, rule or regulation (except Priorities Regulation 18) of the War Production Board, or of any other government agency:

(1) Revoke any authorization or approval to place a purchase order granted by it under paragraph (d) above;

(2) Direct the return or cancellation of any purchase order on the books of a manufacturer;

(3) Direct the filing of shipping schedules by any manufacturer and direct changes in the shipping schedule of any manufacturer.

(4) Cancel purchase orders placed with one manufacturer and direct that they be placed on another manufacturer;

(5) Take such other action as it deems necessary with respect to the production of, the placing of purchase orders for, or the shipment of M-293 products.

(h) Deviations from a frozen schedule. If a manufacturer is unable to fulfill on time a frozen schedule of any M-293 product, he must make shipments, so far as practicable, in the sequence required by the schedule. In any case where the manufacturer foresees an appreciable delay in or acceleration of production, the manufacturer must notify the War Production Board of the reason for the delay or acceleration and the revised dates on which he expects to be able to make shipments under each purchase order affected. The manufacturer shall notify the War Production Board, either by letter or telegram, at his option.

(i) Appeals. Any appeal from the provisions of this order shall be made by filing a letter in triplicate, referring to the particular provisions appealed from, and stating fully the grounds of the appeal.

(j) Reports and communications. The list of M-293 products is arranged so that the name of the Industry Division appears at the top of the table covering M-293 products for which it is primarily responsible. All reports and forms required by the order and all appeals should be addressed to the War Production Board, Washington 25, D. C., attention of the appropriate Industry Division so listed. All reports and forms required in paragraphs (b), (c), (d), (e), (f), (g), and (h) of this order have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(k) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provisions of this order, or who in connection with this order wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or obtaining further deliveries of, or from processing or using material under priority control, and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

Issued this 2d day of August 1944.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

PART 3270—CONTAINERS

[Preference Rating Order P-146 as Amended Aug. 2, 1944]

FIBRE SHIPPING CONTAINERS—RATINGS

To facilitate the acquisition of fibre shipping containers in the public interest and to promote the defense of the United States, preference ratings are hereby assigned to deliveries of such containers upon the following terms:

§ 3270.26 Preference Rating Order P-146—(a) What this order does. This order assigns preference ratings for new fibre shipping containers to persons who need them for various purposes. It also explains to what extent ratings assigned in other ways may be used to get new fibre shipping containers.

The ratings and rating systems described in this order are the only ones which may be used to get new fibre shipping containers. All others are barred for this purpose. Furthermore, this order only applies to the containers, sheets, rolls and parts covered by the definition of fibre shipping containers (paragraph (c)). It should not be construed to establish a rating system for any other types of containers.

Preference ratings may be used to get fibre shipping containers in accordance with the provisions of this order regardless of any contrary provisions contained in paragraph (d) (4) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(b) Suggested procedure for using this order. The following procedure is suggested for determining the ratings you may use to get fibre shipping containers.

1. For a product you manufacture. Refer to Schedule A (paragraph (h)) to see if the product is listed there. Then refer to paragraph (i). Use the rating you are entitled to under either of these provisions.

2. For a product you do not manufacture. Refer to Schedule A (paragraph (h)), to see if the product is listed there. Then refer to paragraph (j). Use the rating you are entitled to under either of these provisions.

3. If you are a manufacturer or jobber of inner containers or closures. Refer to Schedule (s) (paragraph (h)). Then refer to paragraph (n). Paragraph (n) sets forth the only ways in which manufacturers and jobbers of inner containers or closures may use ratings for their fibre shipping container requirements.

4. If you are a jobber of fibre shipping containers. Refer to paragraph (o).

5. For containers to be used for export shipment to specified agencies of products appearing on List A of Priorities Regulation 3. Refer to paragraph (k) (2).

6. For fibre shipping containers to be delivered empty to foreign countries other than Canada. Refer to paragraph (p).

7. For fibre shipping containers to be delivered empty to Canada. Refer to paragraph (q).

8. For empty fibre containers to be delivered to the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission or the War Shipping Administration. Refer to paragraph (k) (1).

9. For fibre shipping containers to be delivered on orders rated AAA. Refer to paragraph (g).

10. For a product for which you have no rating under any other provisions of this order. Refer to paragraph (m).

10–a. For combination packages (i. e. a package containing two or more products). Refer to paragraphs (m) and (o–1).

11. If, because of special circumstances, the ratings you may use under this order are inadequate. Refer to paragraph (l). Note that the special ratings contemplated by this paragraph will be issued only in cases of extreme hardship or in special instances where it is determined that the war effort will be aided by so doing.

12. If you are a sheet plant or a cleated box manufacturer. Refer to paragraph (x).

13. All persons. Refer to paragraph (v) (Certification); paragraphs (d) through (f) (Over-all limitations on use of ratings); paragraphs (s) through (u); (Status of outstanding unfilled orders); paragraphs (y) through (dd) (Miscellaneous).

Definitions

(c) Definitions. "Fibre shipping container" means the following items:

(1) Any new box, crate, case, basket, drum, inner carton, hamper or sleeve, in set-up or knock-down form which is made in whole or in part from solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre and which is used for the delivery or shipment of materials. This does not include the following: Trunks, luggage, or military locker boxes; fibre cans, or tubes. It also does not include combination wood-and-fibre shipping containers consisting of 50% or more wood (by area).

(2) Any new solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre sheet or any new corrugated fibre roll to be used for wrapping, packaging, or otherwise protecting a product or material for shipment. This does not include corrugated or solid fibre sheets produced for delivery to plants, of the type commonly referred to in the container manufacturing industry as "sheet plants" for their use in manufacturing fibre shipping containers. It also does not include corrugated or solid fibre sheets produced for delivery to cleated box manufacturers for use in manufacturing shipping containers made of corrugated or solid fibre sheets attached to wooden cleats.

(3) Any new solid fibre (.045 or heavier) or corrugated fibre interior fitting which is cut to size for use in any type of container to provide content protection, structural strength, or both. This includes, but is not limited to, the following: Partitions; pads; liners; sun bursts; corrugated wrappers (single-faced, double-faced, double-walled).

Limits on Use of Ratings

(d) Prohibition against use of other ratings. No person may use any rating except as provided in this order, to get fibre shipping containers; for instance, a person may not use a rating which has been assigned to him for maintenance, repair or operating supplies for this purpose.

Likewise, if he is a manufacturer of fibre shipping containers, he may not use any ratings he may have received for production materials for such containers, pursuant to CMP-4B or WPB-2813 applications, to get fabricated items which are defined in paragraph (c) as "fibre shipping containers"—for instance "interior fittings". He is regarded as a "fibre shipping container jobber" in so far as such fabricated items are concerned, and must extend his customers' ratings in accordance with paragraph (o) to get them. He may do this, regardless of paragraph (d) of Priorities Regulation 11B and paragraph (e) of CMP Regulation 3.

(e) Prohibition against use of ratings to obtain production materials for fibre shipping containers. The ratings which this order allows a person to use to get fibre shipping containers may not be extended to obtain materials for use in the manufacture of containers.

(f) Limitation on use of ratings by persons owning container production facilities. No rated order for fibre shipping containers need be accepted if the person applying or extending the rating owns or controls facilities on which he can produce the containers covered by his purchase order. The only exception to this rule is where the purchaser's facilities are required to fill higher rated orders or previously received orders bearing equal rating, or where the War Production Board specifically directs the acceptance of the rated order.

In order to avail himself of the provisions of this paragraph (f) a person who gets a rated order must first notify the person applying or extending the rating of his claim that this paragraph excuses acceptance of the rated order.

Preference Ratings Which May Be Used to Get Fibre Shipping Containers

(g) AAA ratings. Any person who receives an order rated AAA may use that rating to get fibre shipping containers which he will actually use to deliver that order. This rating may not be used to replace containers in inventory except under the circumstances described in paragraphs (i) (2), (j), (k) (2) and (o) of this order.

(h) Assignment of ratings. Any person may use the preference rating shown opposite any product or use listed in Schedule A to get the fibre shipping containers he needs for commercially shipping or delivering that product or for that use. He may also use the rating to provide his suppliers of that product with fibre shipping containers in which to deliver the product to him.

(i) Manufacturers may use production material ratings. Any manufacturer (other than a manufacturer of inner containers or closures—see paragraph (n) who has a rating to get production materials [1] for a product, may use the same rating, within the limitations set forth in this paragraph to get the fibre shipping containers he needs to package that product or to replace fibre shipping containers so used in his inventory. If he has two or more ratings (i. e. split ratings) for production materials, he must use them in the same proportion in ordering fibre shipping containers. Furthermore the fibre shipping containers he may get with each rating, must be reduced by the number of wooden shipping containers (see Order P-140) he gets with the same rating.

Examples of the way in which ratings may be used under this paragraph are the following:

(1) If a manufacturer has a split rating of 25% AA–2 and 75% AA–5 for production materials for a certain product, he may use the AA–2 rating to get his fibre shipping container requirements for 25% of that product and the AA–5 for the balance.

This applies if he has gotten no wooden shipping containers for the product with the AA–2 rating. If he has, the fibre shipping containers plus the wooden shipping containers he gets with that rating, must not exceed the number of both kinds of containers he requires to ship 25 percent of the product in question.

(2) If a manufacturer receives a rated order and is not prohibited by any War Production Board regulation or order, (such as Priorities Regulation 11B or CMP Regulation 3 [2]) from using the rating to get his production material for the order, he may extend that rating to get the fibre shipping containers he will use to make delivery on the rated order or for inventory replacement purposes.

(j) Non-manufacturers may extend customers' ratings. A person who sells, on a rated order, material which he does not manufacture, may extend his customers' ratings to get fibre shipping containers to fill that order or for inventory replacement. This may be done regardless of the provisions of paragraph (d) (4) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(k) Use of ratings assigned by certain agencies.—(1) Empty containers. The Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission and the War Shipping Administration may use ratings which they assign to get empty fibre shipping containers which will be packed either (i) in plants owned by them, or (ii) under their direction, in warehouses or other plants which did not produce the product packed and which are not normally responsible for the procurement of containers required for the fulfillment of their contracts. The rating described in this paragraph cannot be used to get fibre shipping containers which will be packed anywhere else whether on a contract, agency or other basis.

(2) Containers for export shipment of products on List A of Priorities Regulation 3. A person may use a rating, assigned specifically for fibre shipping containers by the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration, War Food Administration and the Foreign Economic Administration, only for the following purposes: To get fibre shipping containers which will be packed in the United States with a product appearing on List A of Priorities Regulation 3 and shipped to any point outside of the forty-eight states, the District of Columbia, Canada or Mexico, to or for the account of the Army, the Navy, the Maritime Commission, the War Shipping Administration or for lend-lease purchases. The same rating may be used to replace in inventory any fibre shipping containers used for such export shipment.

[1] "Production material" means, with respect to any person, material or products (including fabricated parts and subassemblies) which will be physically incorporated into his product and includes the portion of such material normally consumed or converted into scrap in the course of processing. It also includes items purchased by a manufacturer for resale to round out his line if such items do not represent more than 10% of his total sales. It does not include any items purchased by him as manufacturing equipment or for maintenance, repair or operating supplies as defined in CMP Regulation 5.

[2] Priorities Regulation 11B contains the following provision: "A person who has received a rating or ratings on Form WPB-2813 (formerly PD–670) for production materials for a specified product shall not extend ratings received from his customers to purchase production materials for the same product". CMP Regulation 3 contains the following provision: "A prime consumer who manufactures Class B products and has received an authorized production schedule for such manufacture, accompanied by a preference rating to be used with his allotment number, shall not extend any other rating received by him from a customer". Limited exceptions to these prohibitions are set forth in the respective regulations.

(l) Special ratings. The War Production Board may assign special ratings in addition to those described in paragraphs (h), (i), (j), (k), (m), and (n), for fibre shipping containers. Applications for such ratings should be filed on Form WPB–2408.

(m) Catch-all ratings. If a person (other than a manufacturer or jobber of inner containers or closures, see paragraph (o)) is not entitled to use a rating to get fibre shipping containers for a particular purpose or purposes under any other provision of this order, he may use the following ratings to get the fibre shipping containers he needs for that purpose or to replace fibre shipping containers used for that purpose in his inventory.

1. AA–2X—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–1.
2. AA–3—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–2.
3. AA–4—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–2X.
4. AA–5—if he has a blanket MRO rating of AA–3 or lower.

He may also use these ratings to get fibre shipping containers for "combination packages" (as defined in paragraph (o–1) if he is not entitled to use a rating to get fibre shipping containers under any other provision of this order for any one of the products included in such packages.

"Blanket MRO ratings" are defined in paragraph (e) (2) of Priorities Regulation 3.

(n) Ratings for manufacturers or jobbers of inner containers or closures. When used in this paragraph (n) the term "inner containers" shall, in all cases, include closures for containers.

Manufacturers or jobbers of inner containers, such as glass jars, folding boxes, cans, etc. may not use their production material rating (paragraph (i)) or a catch-all rating (paragraph (m)), to get fibre shipping containers for the delivery of empty inner containers. However, they may use, for this purpose, any rating which they are entitled to under paragraphs (g), (h-Schedule A), (j), (l) or (k) (2) of this order.

In addition, manufacturers or jobbers of inner containers may use the same ratings which their customers could use to get fibre shipping containers, within the following limits and under the following conditions:

(1) The customer must advise the manufacturer or jobber, in writing, that a specific number or all of the inner containers covered by his purchase order will be used for a purpose which would entitle him, under the terms of this order, to use a certain rating to get fibre shipping containers for shipping them after they (the inner containers) have been filled.

(2) When so advised, the manufacturer or jobber of the inner containers may use the same rating to get fibre shipping containers for delivering the specified number of empty inner containers to that customer, or to replace any fibre shipping containers so used in inventory.

(o) Permitted extension of ratings by fibre shipping container jobbers. A person who sells empty fibre shipping containers, which he does not make, or which, he merely assembles, may extend his customers' ratings to get fibre shipping containers for delivery on the rated order, or to replace any fibre shipping containers so delivered in inventory.

(o–1) Combination packages. For the purpose of this order a "combination package" is one in which two or more products are packed in the same fibre shipping container.

Fibre shipping containers for combination packages must be obtained with the lowest rating which could be used, under this order, to get fibre shipping containers if each product in the package were packed separately. For instance, if a retail store packs two products in the same fibre shipping containers and it could use an AA–3 to get fibre shipping containers for one of them (if packed separately) and an AA–5 for the other, it must use an AA–5 to get fibre shipping containers for the combination package.

Use of Ratings for Delivery of Empty Containers to Foreign Countries

(p) Countries other than Canada. No ratings except those assigned pursuant to paragraph (1) (Special ratings) may be used to get fibre shipping containers which will be delivered empty to any foreign country except Canada, unless the containers are to be delivered directly to and used directly by an agency of the United States Government.

(q) Canada. The ratings provided by this order may be used to get fibre shipping containers by persons in Canada only if they are authorized to do so in accordance with Priorities Regulation 22. Any person in Canada authorized to use a preference rating under this order shall use such rating in the manner provided by Priorities Regulation 22.

Directions

(r) Special directions by the War Production Board. The War Production Board may, from time to time, direct a producer to produce and deliver specific quantities and types of fibre shipping containers to specified persons. It may also direct the manner in which such production and delivery shall be effected. Such directions will be made to insure the satisfaction of war and essential civilian requirements, both direct and indirect, and shall take precedence, to the extent which may be indicated by the War Production Board in the Direction over any preference ratings.

Existing Unfilled Orders

(s) Permitted re-rating of existing orders. Preference ratings assigned or permitted to be used by this order may be applied or extended to any unfilled order for fibre shipping containers placed prior to August 2, 1944. Any rating so applied or extended is a re-rating under the provisions of Priorities Regulation 12.

(t) Compulsory rerating of unfilled orders—(1) Where a rating has been lowered by amendment of Schedule A. Any person who has applied a rating under Schedule A (paragraph (h)) of this order to get fibre shipping containers must, if the containers covered by his order are not delivered or in transit to him within ten days after the rating has been lowered by an amendment to that Schedule, rerate his purchase order to the extent necessary to bring it into conformity with the provisions of this order as then amended. Thus a person who has used a Schedule A rating which was lowered by the amendment of August 2, 1944, must rerate his order to bring it into conformity with this order as amended unless the rated shipping containers are actually in transit to him before August 12, 1944.

2. Where the production material rating has been lowered. Where a person has placed orders for fibre shipping containers to which he has applied his production material rating (paragraph (i)) and that rating is subsequently lowered, he must rerate his unfilled orders for fibre shipping containers to the same extent (and only to the same extent) that he is required to rerate his outstanding orders for production materials.

(3) Where ratings have changed in any other manner. In any other case where the rating which a person has used to get fibre shipping containers is reratet downward, he must rerate his unfilled purchase orders for fibre shipping containers as provided in Priorities Regulation 12.

(u) Cancellation of special ratings previously assigned. No ratings assigned on Form WPB–2408, before February 29, 1944, may be applied to orders for containers placed after February 29, 1944.

Certification

(v) How the ratings provided for in this order may be applied or extended. The ratings assigned or permitted to be used by this order may be applied or extended only by use of a certificate in substantially the following form, signed manually or as provided in Priorities Regulation 7:

The undersigned purchaser certifies, subject to the penalties of section 35 (A) of the United States Criminal Code, to the seller and to the War Production Board that he is entitled to apply or extend the preference rating set forth on this order and that such application or extension is in accordance with Priorities Regulation 3, and is justified by paragraph (...) of Order P–146.

Purchasers applying or extending ratings to get fibre shipping containers shall insert the appropriate paragraph letter of this order in the blank appearing in the last line of the above certificate.

(w) Standard certification. The standard certification provided for in paragraph (g) (1) of Priorities Regulation 3, and in paragraph (d) of Priorities Regulation 7, cannot be used in place of the certification provided by paragraph (v) above; nor may the certification provided by this order be waived in accordance with paragraph (f) of Priorities Regulation 7.

Sales of Sheet

(x) Sales of sheet to sheet plants and to cleated box manufacturers. A manufacturer of fibre shipping containers may supply corrugated or solid fibre sheets to sheet plants or cleated box manufacturers even though he has unfilled rated orders for fibre shipping containers to be made from such sheets. This does not mean that container manufacturers are required so to supply sheets or that sheet plants or cleated box manufacturers can extend ratings received from their customers to get sheets. It merely supersedes the provisions of Priorities Regulation 1 to the extent necessary (and only to that extent) to permit the sale of sheets to cleated box manufacturers and sheet plants regardless of whether this would prevent or delay the acceptance or fulfilment of rated orders for fibre shipping containers.

Miscellaneous

Use of different grades of ratings on one purchase order. If a person has two or more ratings of different grades which he can use to get fibre shipping containers under this order, he may apply or extend them to deliveries on one purchase order. However, the purchase order must show the amount of each type or design of container to which a particular grade of rating is applied or extended. In order to avoid production or delivery of containers in quantities smaller than the minimum commercially practicable, a person may combine ratings of different grades and apply or extend the rating of the lowest grade to the total delivery.

(y) Limits on the scope of this order. This order deals only with the items defined as "fibre shipping containers". It does not affect ratings applicable to any other kind of container. This order does not purport to define any containers or closures (including fibre shipping containers) as "production materials" for the product to be packed. Nor does it permit "production materials" ratings, or any other ratings described herein, to be used to get any containers or closures, except those defined in paragraph (c).

(z) Restrictions on acceptance of ratings. No persons receiving an order for fibre shipping containers shall give effect to any preference rating applied or extended thereto on or after February 29, 1944, if he knows or has reason to believe, that the rating has not been applied or extended in accordance with the provisions of this order.

(aa) Applicability of regulations. Except to the extent that this order specifies to the contrary, this order and all transactions affected thereby are subject to all applicable provisions of the regulations of the War Production Board as amended from time to time. For instance, when this order allows a rating to be used for inventory replacement, this must be done in accordance with Priorities Regulation 3.

(bb) Effect of other orders. This order does not authorize the delivery, receipt, manufacture or use of any materials in violation of any other order of the War Production Board. Attention is specifically directed to Order L–317 which restricts the manufacture and use of fibre shipping containers.

(cc) Violations. Any person who wilfully violates any provision of this order, or who, in connection with this order, wilfully conceals a material fact or furnishes false information to any department or agency of the United States, is guilty of a crime, and upon conviction, may be punished by fine or imprisonment. In addition, any such person may be prohibited from making or accepting further deliveries of or from processing or using material under priority control and may be deprived of priorities assistance.

(dd) Communications. All reports to be filed hereunder, and all communications concerning this order shall, unless otherwise directed, be addressed to: War Production Board, Paperboard Division, Washington 25, D. C., Ref.: P–146.

Issued this 2d day of August 1944.

By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

SCHEDULE A

Table amended August 2, 1944.

These are the product ratings described in paragraph (h) of this order. The preference rating shown opposite each product may be used to get "fibre shipping containers" for it.

Rating procedures to get fibre shipping containers for products not appearing in the following list are described in paragraphs (g) through (p) of this order. Some of these procedures may, in appropriate cases, be used to get containers for listed products if the shipper prefers them to his listed rating. However, attention is called to the fact that the so-called "catch all" rating procedure, described in paragraph (m) of this order, may not be used to get containers for any listed product, except in the case of combination packages as provided in that paragraph and in paragraph (o–1).

The headings used in this table are only for the purpose of separating the items into groups of similar commodities.

PART 3281—PULP AND PAPER

[Limitation Order L-120, Schedule XVI as Amended Aug. 2, 1944]

SPECIALTY PAPER AND BOARD

§ 3281.32 Schedule XVI to Limitation Order L-120—(a) Definitions. For the purpose of this schedule, including the appendix.

(1) The term "specialty paper and board" means and is limited to the kinds of paper and board commonly described and distributed in the paper trade by the names used as captions in the appendix below.

(2) A "grade" means one particular quality within a kind of paper or board such grade having the essential properties peculiar to such kind and common to all grades within such kind, but distinguished from other such grades by a difference in the degree to which one or several of those common properties are emphasized. However, a difference in the degree to which any common property is emphasized, due only to a difference in ash content, in sizing, in the quantity of adhesive in the coating formula, or in the dyes used in the paper or board or coating shall not be considered as resulting in a different grade.

(3) "Color" means any hue of the spectrum, including but not limited to ivory, india and green-white tints, and black, but not including white.

(4) The term "basis weight" means the weight in pounds per 500 sheets in the size indicated under the appropriate caption, or the equivalent weight of 500 sheets in any other size figured proportionately to the size specified.

(5) The term "thickness" means the thickness of a sheet of paper or board expressed either in terms of plies or by caliper in terms of thousandths of an inch measured by the Cady Micrometer.

(6) An "item" means a quantity of paper or board all of which is of the same size, grain, basis weight or thickness, finish, color and grade.

(7) The term "standard" as applied to grade, color, basis weight or thickness, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, a grade, color, basis weight or thickness, and size selected or specified under A of the appropriate caption in the appendix below.

(8) The term "special" as applied to grade, color, basis weight or thickness, and size means, with respect to each manufacturer, any grade, color, basis weight or thickness, or size that is not standard.

(9) The term "special making order" means a single order placed by a single buyer for manufacture at one time for use by one printer, converter or consumer.

(10) The term "manufacture" includes all making and finishing operations prior to packaging or packing, including pasting whether by a primary manufacturer or otherwise.

(11) The terms "SU" and "WO" and similar terms as applied to tag stock refer to converter tag grades recognized by the trade as standard under A (1) of such caption by these terms, and, in conjunction with numbers indicating the thickness, also indicate certain technical standards and tolerances for weight, thickness and tear which apply thereto.

(12) The term "Converter Tag Board" means and is limited to those grades commonly sold to tag manufacturers and coating mills under the names and technical standards generally recognized by the "Tag Converting" industry.

(13) The term "Dealer Tag Board" means any grade of tag board other than converter tag board grades, commonly sold and distributed in the paper trade to others than tag manufacturers.

(b) Identification of the paper or board subject to this schedule. It shall be the duty of each person who manufactures paper or board to determine in the first instance, but subject to review and official classification by the War Production Board at any time thereafter, under which caption, if any, of the appendix belongs each kind of paper and board manufactured by him. There shall be taken into account in such determination, and in any review and reclassification by the War Production Board the designation by which the manufacturer heretofore identified or distributed the paper or board in question, the common designation in the paper trade of similar papers or boards selling within the same general price range as the paper or board in question, and the common designation in the paper trade of papers or boards possessing the same general physical characteristics, manufactured by the same general processes, or commonly distributed and used for the same general uses as the paper or board in question. If a manufacturer is uncertain as to the proper caption under which to classify a particular kind of paper or board, or whether a particular kind of paper or board is such a paper or board at all or belongs under any caption of the appendix to this schedule, he may apply to the War Production Board, in writing, for an official classification of such paper or board, submitting with his application representative samples of the grade or grades in which he manufactures such paper or board, a full explanation of the processes by which he manufactures the same, the designation by which he has heretofore identified or distributed the same, the general uses for which it is intended, the general price range within which it is sold, and the types of paper or board with which it chiefly competes, and a full explanation of the reasons for his uncertainty. The War Production Board may on its own motion review a manufacturer's classification and substitute therefore an official classification. In any event, an official classification by the War Production Board by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer shall, unless and until the War Production Board shall amend or revise the same by telegram or notice in writing sent to the manufacturer, be conclusive.

(c) Selection of grades for regular manufacture. Each person who manufactures any kind of paper or board shall select such "grade" or "grades" (if selection is indicated under the appropriate caption), not to exceed the number specified in A (1) of the appropriate caption of the appendix below, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall forthwith notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB–1295 (formerly PD–589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board, in writing, the original selection shall remain binding.

(d) Selection of colors for regular manufacture. If by the terms of A (2) under the appropriate caption of the appendix below a manufacturer is permitted with respect to a particular grade of a kind of paper or board to select a number of colors and such selection is indicated, each person desiring to manufacture such grade in colors shall immediately select therefor such particular colors, not to exceed the number indicated in A (2) of the appropriate caption, as he may desire to adopt for regular manufacture, and shall immediately notify the War Production Board of such selection on Form WPB–1295 (formerly PD–589). The manufacturer may thereafter apply to the War Production Board for leave to amend the original selection, but unless and until such leave is granted by the War Production Board in writing, the original selection shall remain binding.

(e) General limitations. No person shall manufacture any kind of specialty paper and board in any grade, color, basis weight or thickness, or size other than those specified or selected as standard under A of the appropriate caption of the appendix (if such standards are specified or selected under A of the appropriate caption) or contrary to any other provision under the appropriate caption. This general rule, is, however, subject to the following exceptions:

(1) Tolerances and variations are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (f).

(2) Cutting and slitting to various sizes are permitted to the extent provided in paragraph (g).

(3) Special provision is made for "jobs" and "seconds" in paragraph (h).

(4) Special provision is made for export orders in paragraph (i).

(5) Exceptions are made for "special making orders" under B in certain captions of the appendix. However, regardless of these exceptions where special making orders are so permitted under any caption, the basis weight or thickness must not exceed the greatest standard basis weight or thickness permitted under A of such caption unless specific exception is made therefor under B.

(6) Specialty paper and board in process of manufacture on May 27, 1944, may be completed otherwise than by pasting.

(f) Tolerances and variations. The prohibitions and restrictions of this revised schedule are subject to the normal tolerances customary in the manufacture of the kind of paper or board under each caption of the appendix (with such exceptions as may be noted under the caption), and to the normal variations in quantity manufactured customarily acceptable in the paper trade for such kind. Nothing in this schedule shall restrict the remaking, because of faulty manufacture or excessive underrun, of all or any part of a "special making order" accepted in good faith for manufacture in accordance with the terms of this revised schedule.

(g) Cutting and slitting. Nothing in this revised schedule shall restrict the cutting of any sheet size to sizes of which the parent size is a multiple, Provided, The parent size is manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this schedule, nor restrict the slitting to fractional width rolls of any parent roll size manufactured in accordance with the provisions of this schedule on an order for rolls; however, a special sheet size may not be cut from a standard or special roll size except in a quantity and under the conditions, if any, applying to a "special size" under B of the appropriate caption in the appendix below.

(h) Jobs and seconds. Nothing in this schedule shall restrict the sale of "job lots" or "seconds" resulting from faulty manufacture or overruns customarily unacceptable to the buyer, which occur during a bona fide attempt to manufacture paper and board according to the terms of this schedule, provided that the manufacturer clearly informs the purchaser that such paper or board is a "job lot" or "seconds" and so indicates on each package.

(i) Exception for export. Regardless of the foregoing provisions of this schedule and of the provisions of Limitation Order L–120, a person may manufacture for export (but may not without permission in writing from the War Production Board sell in the domestic market) any kind of specialty paper or board in any size, basis weight or thickness required, regardless of quantity: Provided, All other provisions of this schedule are complied with and (if the basis weight or thickness is greater than permitted) such person has received permission in writing from the War Production Board to manufacture the particular order in question in such basis weight or thickness.

(j) Records and reports—(1) Standard samples. Each person who manufactures any kind of specialty paper or board shall keep, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, representative samples of each standard grade and each standard color of such grade selected by him under A (1) and A (2) of the appropriate caption.

(2) Special making orders. On and after May 27, 1944, each person who manufactures any "special making order" permitted under B of the appropriate caption of the appendix below shall require from the buyer a statement to the effect that such order is purchased for use by one printer or converter or consumer, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of such order, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

(3) Export orders. On and after May 27, 1944, each person who manufactures specialty paper or board for export shall require from the buyer a statement on his purchase order to the effect that such paper or board is purchased for export, shall keep such statement, together with a complete record of the order against which such paper or board is manufactured, readily available for inspection by the War Production Board, and shall submit reports of such orders to the War Production Board as it may from time to time require, subject to the approval of the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

NOTE: The reporting requirements of this schedule have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget pursuant to the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 2d day of August 1944.

WAR PRODUCTION BOARD,
By J. JOSEPH WHELAN,
Recording Secretary.

§ 1394.5454 Acknowledgment of delivery. (a) Acknowledgment of delivery on Form OPA R-544 (Revised) to be used for the acquisition of fuel oil by or for the account of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, War Shipping Administration, Coast Guard and Maritime Commission of the United States or by the British Ministry of War Transport or any official war transport or war shipping agency of any United Nation requiring fuel oil for any official purpose will, prior to August 1, 1944, be issued by the Washington Office to the Washington headquarters of such agencies. Prior to September 1, 1944 any such form bearing the signature of an authorized officer, agent or employee of any of such agencies, shall be valid as an authorization of transfer of fuel oil to or for the account of such agency by any person to whom it is presented to the extent of the gallonage thereon stated. In the event an acknowledgment form is not available, a receipt on an official letterhead of such agency bearing such authorized signature and supplying the information required by Form OPA R-544 (Revised), may be used as an evidence in lieu of such acknowledgment form. On and after September 21, 1944 such form or receipt shall be void for all purposes.

2. Section 1394.5454 (d) is redesignated § 1394.5696 (e) and amended to read as set forth in paragraph 6 below.

cies are referred to in this order as "exempt agencies" and are exempt agencies for the purpose of General Ration Order 3B.) In addition, the British Ministry of War Transport, or any official war transport or war shipping agency of any United Nation may acquire fuel oil for any official purpose in exchange for ration evidences equal in gallonage value to the amount of the fuel oil transferred.

(b) Bank accounts for exempt agencies. Each of the exempt agencies mentioned in paragraph (a) of this section is authorized to open one or more exempt ration bank accounts of the type described in General Ration Order 3B. A ration check issued by any such agency in exchange for a transfer of fuel oil must be sent to the transferor by the time of delivery or as soon as practicable thereafter.

(c) Use of ration checks by exempt agencies. The Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard may issue a ration check only in exchange for a transfer of fuel oil into stationary storage facilities (i. e. a bulk transfer. For other transfers, see paragraph (d) below). The War Shipping Administration and Maritime Commission may use ration checks for all their acquisitions of fuel oil. The War Shipping Administration may also authorize the British Ministry of War Transport and any official war transport or war shipping agency of any United Nation to draw checks on its account for acquisitions of fuel oil for any official purpose by such agencies. In this event, the check must be drawn in the name of the War Shipping Administration and signed by the agency as agent for the War Shipping Administration.

(d) Use of R–594 by certain exempt agencies. Acknowledgments of delivery on Form OPA R–594 may be issued by the Washington Office to the Washington headquarters of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. Such form shall be valid for use by such agencies only in accepting transfers of fuel oil other than into stationary storage facilities (i. e. transfers into the fuel supply tanks of vehicles, boats or equipment under the control of any such agency.) In the event that an acknowledgment form (OPA R–594) is not available, a receipt on an official letterhead of such agency, bearing the signature of an authorized officer, agent or employee of any of such agencies, and supplying the information required by Form OPA R–594, may be used as an evidence in lieu of such acknowledgment form. Any such form (OPA R–594) or receipt must be endorsed by each person to whom it is delivered in exchange for a transfer of fuel oil.

(e) Use of other evidences. Coupons or other evidences may also be issued by the Washington Office to the Washington headquarters of the agencies listed in paragraph (a) of this section, or to the law enforcement agencies of the United States, for the use of such agencies, or their officers, agents or employees, in the performance of official duties which depend upon secrecy. Application for such coupon sheets or other evidences may be made on the official letterhead of the applicant and shall set forth the class and number of the coupon sheets or other evidences required.

7. Section 1394.5697 is amended to read as follows:

§ 1394.5697 Transfers by the Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard. The Army, Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard of the United States may transfer fuel oil to consumers, dealers or primary suppliers. Any such transfer must be in exchange for coupons or other evidences equal in gallonage value to the fuel oil transferred (except in the case of transfers to primary suppliers). The agency transferring fuel oil must report on its official letterhead to the Control and Audit Section, Fuel Oil Rationing Branch, Washington Office on or before the twenty-fifth (25) day of each month, the amount of fuel oil transferred during the preceding month to each supplier and the amount transferred respectively to dealers and consumers. (Such a transfer shall not constitute the agency a dealer or primary supplier.)

This amendment shall become effective on August 1, 1944.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES

[RMPR 165,[1] Amdt. 2]

SERVICES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.*

The last paragraph of section 23 (a) (10) is amended to read as follows:

If in March 1942, you had an established practice of charging the same price to certain customers on the basis of standards (such as the nature of the buyer—wholesaler, retailer, etc., or the nature of the sale—large, small, cash, credit, etc.) you must place a new purchaser of the same service in the proper purchaser price class in accordance with such standards. If you had no such standards, or if the new purchaser does not correspond to any of such standards, you must establish a price for the new purchaser under section 5 of this regulation. However, in the case of any service which was supplied before the effective date of this regulation to a new purchaser, if you had no such standards or if the new purchaser did not correspond to any of such standards, the requirements of section 5 (a) will be satisfied if you submit the new purchaser's name and address; the service supplied; the price charged; and a brief statement indicating how it was determined. In such a case, the price for the service shall be deemed to be approved under section 5 (b), subject to revision at any time by OPA if such price is above the level of prices otherwise established by this regulation. For the purposes of this definition, a "new purchaser" means a purchaser to whom you did not supply or offer to supply the same service in March 1942.

This amendment shall become effective August 1, 1944.

Issued this 1st day of August 1944.

Administrator.

Law 507, 77th Cong.; E.O. 9125, 7 F.R. 2719; WPB Dir. No. 1, 7 F.R. 562, as supplemented; Food Dir. No. 3, 8 F.R. 2005; Food Dir. No. 5, 8 F.R. 2251; Food Dir. No. 6, 8 F.R. 3471, and Food Dir. No. 7, 8 F.R. 3471.

ARTICLE I—SCOPE AND APPLICATION OF REVISED PROCEDURAL REGULATION NO. 4

SECTION 1.1 Scope of regulation. It is the purpose of this regulation to prescribe the procedure used by the Office of Price Administration in the issuance of rationing suspension orders. This regulation does not apply to suspension proceedings before War Price and Rationing Boards or Special Hearing Officers, but Article IV prescribes the procedure on appeal from orders issued in such proceedings.

ARTICLE II—INSTITUTION AND CONDUCT OF PROCEEDINGS

SEC. 2.1 Institution of proceedings. A proceeding for the issuance of a suspension order shall be instituted by the service of a notice of hearing upon the respondent not less than seven (7) days before such hearing.

SEC. 2.2 Notice of hearing. (a) A notice of any hearing to be held pursuant to this regulation shall be issued by the District Enforcement Attorney. It shall set forth the time and place of hearing, a clear statement of the charges against the respondent with a reference to the particular section of the regulation or order involved or alleged to have been violated, and a statement of the purpose or purposes for which the hearing is to be held. The notice shall also state that a suspension order may be entered by default in case of failure to appear at the hearing.

(b) A copy of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 4 shall be attached to the notice of hearing served upon any respondent.

[Sec. 2.2 amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 5426, effective 5-27-44]

SEC. 2.3 Conduct of hearing. (a) Any hearing held pursuant to this regulation shall be conducted by a Hearing Commissioner or by a Presiding Officer designated by the Chief Hearing Commissioner to conduct the hearing. The Hearing Commissioner or Presiding Officer shall preside at the hearing, administer oaths and affirmations, and rule on the admission and exclusion of evidence.

(b) The hearing shall be so conducted as to permit the presentation of evidence and argument to the fullest extent compatible with fair and expeditious determination of the issues raised in the hearing. To this end:

(1) The respondent shall have the right to be represented by counsel of his own choosing.

(2) The Hearing Commissioner or Presiding Officer shall afford reasonable opportunity for cross-examination of witnesses.

(3) All hearings held pursuant to this regulation shall be public.

SEC. 2.4 Rules of evidence. The rules of evidence governing civil proceedings in matters not involving trial by jury in the courts of the United States shall govern all hearings: Provided, however, That such rules may be relaxed by the Hearing Commissioner or Presiding Officer where the ends of justice will be better served by so doing.

SEC. 2.5 Appearances. Any individual respondent may appear for himself; any partner may appear for a partnership if expressly or impliedly authorized to do so; any officer of a corporation or association may appear for such corporation or association. Any respondent may appear by an attorney. No other person may appear for a respondent unless specifically authorized in writing by such respondent. All appearances shall be noted on the record of the proceeding. Appearances of Office of Price Administration employees and former employees in a representative capacity shall be governed by the provisions of Procedural Regulation No. 14.[2]

SEC. 2.6 Continuance or adjournment of hearing. The hearing shall be held at the time and place specified by the notice of hearing but the Hearing Commissioner or Presiding Officer may continue or adjourn the hearing to a later date or to a different place. Notice of such adjournment or continuance shall be given either prior to or at the hearing.

SEC. 2.7 Defaults. (a) If a respondent fails to appear at a hearing the charges set forth in the notice of hearing may be deemed to be admitted by default, and a hearing need not be held. The District Enforcement Attorney shall, however, present evidence relevant to the determination of the effective period of any suspension order.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 5426 effective 5-27-44]

(b) At any time within ten (10) days after the service of an order issued after a default, the respondent may file with the Hearing Commissioner a petition for the reopening of the proceedings, setting forth the grounds on which he believes his default should be excused. A copy of such petition shall be served upon the District Enforcement Attorney at or prior to the time of filing. Within three (3) days after such service, the District Enforcement Attorney may file with the Hearing Commissioner affidavits and a brief in opposition, a copy of which shall be served on the respondent at or prior to the time of filing. The Hearing Commissioner shall grant or deny the petition by order. If the Hearing Commissioner grants the petition, his order shall set aside the order to which the petition is directed and shall set forth the time and place for the hearing.

SEC. 2.8 Subpoenas. (a) Any Hearing Commissioner may, upon proper application, issue subpoenas compelling the attendance and testimony of witnesses and the production of evidence at a hearing conducted under this regulation.

(b) An applicant for a subpoena shall specify the name and address of the witness and the nature of the facts to be proved by him, and, if calling for the production of evidence, shall specify the same with such particularity as will enable it to be identified for purposes of production.

(c) A subpoena may be served by any person, including a party, who is more than 18 years of age. Service of a subpoena upon a person named therein shall be made by delivering a copy thereof to such person and by tendering to him the fee and mileage for one day's attendance. When the subpoena is issued on behalf of the Office of Price Administration, fees and mileage need not be tendered. The verified return of the person making the service shall be proof of service.

SEC. 2.9 Payment of witness fees and mileage. Witnesses summoned before a Hearing Commissioner or Presiding Officer at any hearing held pursuant to this regulation shall be paid the same fees and mileage as are paid witnesses in the District Courts of the United States. Witness fees and mileage shall be paid by the party at whose instance the witness appears.

SEC. 2.10 Contemptuous conduct. Contemptuous conduct at any hearing shall be ground for exclusion from the hearing.

[Sec. 2.10 amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 5426 effective 5-27-44]

SEC. 2.11 Transcript of hearings. (a) A stenographic report of all hearings shall be taken. The report shall be transcribed only if the transcription is requested by a party to the proceeding or the Hearing Commissioner, or if the case is heard by a Presiding Officer. Any party may obtain a copy of the transcript. The cost of a transcription requested by a respondent shall be borne by such respondent. If the report is transcribed at the request of the Hearing Commissioner or the District Enforcement Attorney, a copy shall be available for inspection by the respondent during business hours at the District Office or such other place as may be designated by the Hearing Commissioner. Argument of counsel shall not be included in the report except at the direction of the Hearing Commissioner or Presiding Officer.

(b) The parties may, by stipulation, agree upon corrections of inaccuracies in the transcript. The Hearing Commissioner or Presiding Officer, whichever presided at the hearing, shall, by written findings, resolve any dispute of the parties as to the accuracy of the transcript.

SEC. 2.12 Presiding Officer's advisory report: service. (a) A Presiding Officer who has conducted a hearing shall prepare an advisory report, which shall contain findings of fact and conclusions of law, and may contain recommendations with respect to the disposition of the matter.

(b) The advisory report shall be filed with the Hearing Commissioner, and copies thereof shall be served on the respondent and the District Enforcement Attorney.

SEC. 2.13 Briefs on Presiding Officer's advisory report. (a) Any party may submit to the Hearing Commissioner a brief in opposition to or in support of the report of the Presiding Officer.

(b) Such briefs shall be filed within five (5) days after the service of the Presiding Officer's report. The brief shall be filed with the Hearing Commissioner and a copy thereof served upon the opposing party at or before the time of filing.

(c) Briefs may be filed after the time prescribed by paragraph (b) of this section only with the permission of the Hearing Commissioner.

SEC. 2.14 Briefs after hearing before Hearing Commissioner. The Hearing Commissioner may, upon request of any party to a proceeding conducted by him, permit the filing of briefs or written argument. Such briefs or written argument shall be filed within such time as the Hearing Commissioner may prescribe.

ARTICLE III—ORDERS OF HEARING COMMISSIONERS

SEC. 3.1 Suspension order of Hearing Commissioner. (a) If the Hearing Commissioner determines that a respondent has violated a rationing regulation or order, he may issue a suspension order.

[Paragraph (a) amended by Am. 1, 9 F.R. 5426 effective 5-27-44 and Am. 2, effective 8-7-44]

(b) Any suspension order hereunder, except a consent order issued under section 3.3, shall set forth the findings of fact and conclusions of law upon which it is based and shall contain a statement of the reasons why a suspension order should be issued, unless such findings of fact, conclusions of law and statement of reasons are set forth in an opinion accompanying the order.

(c) If the Hearing Commissioner determines that no suspension order should be issued, he shall issue an order dismissing the proceeding or issue an admonitory order. The findings of fact, conclusions of law and a statement of the reasons why an order of dismissal or an admonitory order should be issued shall be set forth in the order or in an opinion accompanying the same.

(d) A suspension order under this section may contain such provisions as may be deemed appropriate to make it effective.

SEC. 3.2 Stay of operation of suspension order. (a) A Hearing Commissioner may, for good cause, provide in a suspension order that the operation thereof shall be stayed in whole or in part for so long as the respondent shall comply with rationing orders or the conditions set forth in the suspension order.

(b) The District Enforcement Attorney may at any time file an application with the Hearing Commissioner or, in the Hearing Commissioner's absence, with the Chief Hearing Commissioner to have such a stay vacated. Such application shall be served upon the respondent, shall set forth a detailed statement of charges of further violations of a ration order by the respondent, and shall contain affidavits or other proofs of such violations. The application shall contain a statement fixing a time, which shall not be less than seven (7) days after service, within which the respondent may file with the Hearing Commissioner or Chief Hearing Commissioner, as the case may be, answering affidavits, proofs, and written arguments.

(c) The Hearing Commissioner or Chief Hearing Commissioner, as the case may be, may, either upon the written proofs submitted by the parties or upon further hearing ordered by him, enter an order vacating the stay in whole or in part. All proofs submitted and the record of any further hearing shall become part of the record of the original proceeding.

(d) Any Hearing Commissioner may, in an order issued in a suspension proceeding under this regulation, vacate a stay of the operation of a suspension order previously issued against the same respondent.

SEC. 3.3 Consent order. If the Hearing Commissioner approves an agreement entered into by the District Enforcement Attorney and a respondent with respect to the terms of a suspension order, he shall issue the order agreed upon, and such order shall have the same force and effect as an order issued under section 3.1 except that no appeal to the Office of the Hearing Administrator may be taken therefrom.

SEC. 3.4 Application for modification, vacation or further hearing. (a) The District Enforcement Attorney or a respondent may file with the Hearing Commissioner an application for modification, vacation or further hearing of an order issued by the Hearing Commissioner under section 3.1, from which no appeal is pending. Any application so filed shall be accompanied by proof of service upon the opposing party.

(b) The application may include affidavits or a brief in support thereof, shall state in detail the grounds upon which the order should be modified, vacated or set for re-hearing in accordance with section 3.5.

(c) The opposing party may, within three days of receipt of service of the application, or such longer period as the Hearing Commissioner may allow, file with the Hearing Commissioner a brief and affidavits in opposition to the application.

(d) At any time after the filing of such an application, the Hearing Commissioner may, in his discretion, stay the suspension order to which the application relates, pending determination of the application.

SEC. 3.5 Order upon application. (a) A Hearing Commissioner may by order, at any time, save when an appeal is pending or an order has been entered on appeal by the Hearing Administrator, modify or vacate an order issued by him to correct errors of fact or law disclosed by the record. No oral hearing will be held on such application.

(b) At any time after the issuance of a Hearing Commissioner's order or an order on appeal therefrom, except when an appeal is pending, the Hearing Commissioner may set the proceeding for a further hearing upon a showing to his satisfaction:

(1) That the applicant will produce additional material evidence which the applicant could not have produced at the original hearing by the exercise of reasonable diligence, or

(2) That material changes in conditions or circumstances cause the suspension order to be detrimental to the public interest.

(c) A Hearing Commissioner may, at any time, either upon his own motion or upon motion of either party, modify his order to correct a clerical error or omission, or to change the effective dates of the order.

(d) An order may not be modified, vacated, or set for further hearing by the Hearing Commissioner for reasons other than those stated in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of this section, unless it affirmatively appears to the Hearing Commissioner that refusal to take such action would be wholly inconsistent with the just and proper disposition of the proceeding.

ARTICLE IV—APPEALS FROM ORDERS OF WAR PRICE AND RATIONING BOARDS OR SPECIAL HEARING OFFICERS

SEC. 4.1 Appeals from orders of Boards or Special Hearing Officers. (a) Whenever a right to appeal to a Hearing Commissioner from an order of a War Price and Rationing Board or a Special Hearing Officer is granted by a rationing order or regulation, such appeal may be taken within the time and in the manner prescribed by the rationing order or regulation.

(b) The appeal shall be heard by the Hearing Commissioner or a Presiding Officer and determined by the Hearing Commissioner in the same manner as if it were an original proceeding instituted by a notice of hearing issued under section 3.1.

(c) The Hearing Commissioner may, for good cause shown upon application by the respondent, stay or suspend the operation of an order issued by a War Price and Rationing Board or a Special Hearing Officer pending the hearing and determination of the appeal.

(d) Any order issued by the Hearing Commissioner upon the determination of the appeal shall supersede the order from which the appeal was taken. No appeal may be taken to the Office of the Hearing Administrator from such an order issued by the Hearing Commissioner.

ARTICLE V—APPEALS TO, REVIEW AND HEARING BY HEARING ADMINISTRATOR

SEC. 5.1 Hearing and order by the Hearing Administrator. (a) At any time after the service of the notice of hearing and before the service of the order of the Hearing Commissioner, the Hearing Administrator may direct that the proceedings be brought before him.

(b) Notice that the proceedings are to be brought before the Hearing Administrator shall be served upon the District Enforcement Attorney, the respondent and the Hearing Commissioner.

(c) Proceedings brought before the Hearing Administrator shall be conducted in the same manner as if brought before a Hearing Commissioner.

SEC. 5.2 Petition for reconsideration of order of Hearing Administrator under section 5.1. (a) Any party may file with the Hearing Administrator a petition for reconsideration of an order issued by the Hearing Administrator under section 5.1.

(b) The petition for reconsideration shall be served and filed in the same manner as a notice of appeal under section 5.4, and such petition shall conform to the requirements for notices of appeal prescribed in section 5.4 (b). The procedures on such petition shall be the same as on an appeal.

SEC. 5.3 Appeals from orders of Hearing Commissioners. A respondent or the District Enforcement Attorney may appeal to the office of the Hearing Administrator from any order issued under section 3.1 or section 3.2 (c) other than an order entered by default. A respondent may appeal to the Office of the Hearing Administrator from an order issued under section 2.7, denying a petition to reopen a defaulted proceeding.

SEC. 5.4 Notice of appeal. (a) An appeal may be taken by serving a notice of appeal on the Hearing Commissioner and the other party or parties to the proceeding within ten (10) days (or in the case of orders issued in the Territories and Possessions, within thirty (30) days) after service of the order appealed from. A copy of the notice of appeal with proof of such service shall be filed at the Office of the Hearing Administrator, Washington, D. C., within five (5) days after the taking of the appeal. The Hearing Administrator, for good cause shown, may extend the time within which an appeal may be taken.

(b) The notice of appeal shall contain (1) a reference to the findings of fact and conclusions of law, if any, to which exception is taken, (2) a brief statement of the grounds for such exceptions, (3) the modifications proposed with respect to the order appealed from, and (4) a brief statement of the reasons supporting such proposed modifications. The Hearing Administrator may dismiss any appeal if the notice of appeal is deficient in such respects.

(c) The appealing party shall, within ten days after taking the appeal, or such longer period as the Chief Hearing Commissioner shall allow, file in the Office of the Chief Hearing Commissioner the transcript of the stenographic report of the hearing unless the preparation of the transcript was requested by the Hearing Commissioner or the case was heard by a Presiding Officer.

SEC. 5.5 Stay pending appeal. The taking of an appeal shall not automatically stay the operation of the order appealed from. A Hearing Commissioner may, however, for good cause shown, upon application of any party, stay or suspend the operation of an order pending the determination of the appeal. A copy of such application shall be served upon the opposing party at or before the time it is filed with the Hearing Commissioner. If the Hearing Commissioner does not act upon such application within three days after filing, or denies such application, the requesting party may apply for a stay to the Office of the Hearing Administrator, Washington, D. C.

SEC. 5.6 Record on appeal. The Chief Hearing Commissioner shall, within three (3) days after the receipt of the notice of appeal or the stenographic transcript, whichever is later, send to the Office of the Hearing Administrator the complete record in the case which shall include:

(a) The notice of hearing and proof of service thereof;

[Paragraph (b) revoked and former (c) through (g) redesignated (b) through (f), respectively, by Am. 2, effective 8-7-44]

(c) The Presiding Officer's report and briefs in support and opposition thereto, if any;

(d) The order of the Hearing Commissioner with proof of service thereof and the accompanying opinion, if any;

(e) The stay order, if any; and

(f) All petitions, applications, or motions filed and orders issued in the proceeding.

SEC. 5.7 Briefs. (a) Any party to the appeal may submit to the Office of the Hearing Administrator a brief in support of or in opposition to the order of the Hearing Commissioner.

(b) Two copies of briefs submitted on behalf of an appealing party, together with proof of service of a copy thereof upon the opposing party, shall be filed with the Office of the Hearing Administrator, Washington, D. C., within ten (10) days after the taking of the appeal. Within five (5) days after receipt of a copy of the appealing party's brief, the opposing party shall file two copies of his brief, together with proof of service of a copy thereof, in the Office of the Hearing Administrator. In the case of an appeal from an order issued in a Territory or Possession twenty (20) days shall be added to the times specified for the filing of briefs. Reply briefs will not be allowed except with the permission of the Office of the Hearing Administrator.

(c) Briefs may be filed after the time prescribed by paragraph (b) of this section only with the permission of the Office of the Hearing Administrator.

SEC. 5.8 Oral argument. The Hearing Administrator may, upon application or upon his own motion, order that oral argument be heard before him, the Deputy Hearing Administrator, or any Assistant Hearing Administrator.

SEC. 5.9 Order on appeal. (a) The Hearing Administrator may affirm, reverse, or modify the order of the Hearing Commissioner, or remand the proceeding with directions.

(b) Copies of the order on appeal shall be served on the respondent and the District Enforcement Attorney.

(c) The provisions of this section applicable to the Hearing Administrator shall apply to the Deputy Hearing Administrator or any Assistant Hearing Administrator, when either is acting in lieu of the Hearing Administrator pursuant to paragraph (b) of Revised General Order No. 46, as amended.

SEC. 5.10 Review on initiative of Hearing Administrator. (a) If neither the District Enforcement Attorney nor the respondent appeals within the time prescribed in section 5.4, the Hearing Administrator may review the case on his own motion. The Hearing Administrator may review, on his own motion, any order issued by a Hearing Commissioner from which an appeal does not lie.

(b) The Hearing Administrator shall initiate a review under paragraph (a) of this section by serving a notice of intention to review on the District Enforcement Attorney and the respondent.

(c) A review proceeding under this section shall be conducted in the same manner as an appeal except that the time for filing briefs shall be computed from the time of service of the notice of intention to review.

17. Definitions.
18. Effect of this supplementary order on price regulations and other supplementary orders.
19. Records and reports.
20. Enforcement.

SECTION 1. Scope and nature of this order. This supplementary order grants exemptions from maximum price control, continues existing maximum prices, establishes maximum prices, and provides a procedure for obtaining maximum prices or exemptions, for sales by the United States Government or its agencies of all commodities except food commodities, and for resales by certain private buyers of such commodities. This supplementary order also applies to sales of all commodities except food commodities by a contractor or subcontractor whose contract has been terminated by a Government agency where such contractor or subcontractor has been authorized or directed by the Government agency to sell the commodities, and where the proceeds are paid or credited to the Government agency.

This supplementary order does not apply to sales of any commodities by any Government agency where the original purchase by the Government was for the sole purpose of resale in substantially the same form or of stockpiling. Such commodities shall be priced by Government agencies under applicable price regulations.

Resales by private sellers are governed by the existing applicable price regulations and not by this supplementary order, except where OPA issues an order under section 11 of this supplementary order covering resales of a particular commodity. If OPA issues such an order, the provisions of the order will apply instead of the regulation otherwise applicable. The order will either provide a maximum price or exempt the resale from price control.

SEC. 2. Suggestions for the use of this supplementary order. As explained in section 1, this order establishes procedures for determining exemptions from price control, and maximum prices for sales of "surplus commodities," whether new, used or scrap.

Certain transactions and commodities are exempt from price control. If not exempted, the transaction and commodity may be covered by a price ceiling stated in dollar-and-cents terms. If, however, no such specific price ceiling is established, a Government agency or a contractor acting on the Government's behalf, may sell at a price not to exceed acquisition or replacement cost of the commodity, or on the basis of adjusted price lists of private manufacturers or producers. Alternatively, where no dollar-and-cents price ceiling has been established, a Government agency may apply to OPA for a specific ceiling price or exemption.

The Government agency may itself ascertain the applicable maximum price or exemption, using the appropriate method or methods outlined below. It may, however, rely upon the buyer's certification as a means of determining the applicable ceiling price.

Since this order is intended to assure that no more than maximum prices are charged by Government agencies, its use in determining the maximum price applicable to a particular sale is not, of course, necessary where the Government agency has knowledge of market conditions for the commodity or commodities to be sold and has good reason to believe that prices obtainable at the time and place of sale are substantially below OPA ceiling prices.

In using this order, the following steps are suggested:

Determine the applicable regulations. (1) Find what regulation generally governs the sale of the particular commodity you are selling; the Directory of Commodities and Services issued by the OPA is a convenient guide for this purpose. (It may be secured from the Superintendent of Documents, U. S. Government Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.)

Exemptions. (2) Refer to section 3 of this order to learn what types of sales and what commodities are exempt from price control.

Maximum prices on new commodities. (3) Refer to section 4 to learn whether or not a maximum price in dollar-and-cents terms is applicable.

(4) Where maximum prices in dollar-and-cents terms have not been established, sales may be made on the basis of cost of acquisition or replacement (section 5) or on the basis of adjusted list prices of private producers (section 7).

(5) Section 6 provides a special method for determining maximum prices for sales of war contract termination inventory.

Maximum prices of used commodities. (6) Refer to section 8 for a statement of methods by which to determine maximum prices for used commodities.

Maximum prices for scrap. (7) Refer to section 9 for the determination of maximum prices for scrap.

Applications for special maximum prices or exemptions. (8) Applications for the establishment of special maximum prices or for exemptions may be filed under section 10.

Reliance on buyer's certification. (9) If the Government agency does not wish to determine its maximum price or apply for a special price or exemption under the provisions of section 4 to 10 referred to above, it may rely upon the certifications of buyers as provided for in section 12.

Other provisions. (11) Additional provisions with respect to delegation to OPA field offices, geographical applicability, prohibitions, the charging of lower prices, definitions, effect on other regulations, records and reports, and enforcement are contained in sections 13 to 20.

EXEMPTIONS

SEC. 3. Exemption of certain sales. (a) Exemptions based on the type of sale. (1) Sales by Government agencies. A sale by a Government agency is exempt from price control by operation of this supplementary order where the sale is:

(i) To another Government agency;

(ii) To any foreign government or agency thereof;

(iii) To a contractor for use in carrying out his prime contract with a Government agency;

(iv) To any relief organization for donation or export sale;

(v) Of a single item or group of items where the sales price estimated to be obtainable for all substantially similar items available for sale at the place of sale does not exceed $300;

(vi) Of personal property when sold together with an interest in land or buildings in a single transaction;

(vii) Of all or substantially all the Government-owned contents of a factory or plant to the owner, lessee, or operator; or to any other single buyer purchasing for use.

(viii) Of building installations, facilities, appurtenances, equipment, and personal property attached to the land (except standing timber subject to MPR 460).

(2) Further exemptions. Upon application of a Government agency or on its own motion, the OPA, may by order, exempt such further types of sales as it deems necessary to facilitate the disposal of Government commodities if it appears that such exemptions will not have inflationary consequences.

(b) Exemptions based on the commodity sold. Sales by Government agencies of the commodities referred to in Appendix A are exempt from price control by operation of this supplementary order. Part I of Appendix A lists exempt commodities by reference to the regulation which would otherwise govern their sale. Part II of Appendix A lists commodities and classes of commodities sales of which by Government agencies are exempt from maximum price control even though the regulation applicable is not listed in Appendix A, Part I.

SALES OF NEW COMMODITIES

SEC. 4. Application of price regulations to sales by Government agencies—(a) Maximum prices for commodities governed by price regulations listed in Appendix B. When a Government agency sells a commodity governed by a regulation listed in Appendix B, its maximum price for the sale is the price, if any, stated in dollar-and-cents terms, in the applicable regulation applying to sales by producers, manufacturers, or processors, adjusted for such geographical, quantity or other differentials as may be provided. If, however, the applicable regulation has established a maximum price for sales by Government agencies by express reference to such agencies (and not merely by a catch-all clause referring to sellers generally or by the common definition of the term "person" to include Government agencies), the maximum price for the selling agency shall be the maximum price so established.

A Government agency may sell at the maximum price applicable to sales by wholesalers or jobbers if the buyer from the agency generally buys the commodity from wholesalers or jobbers or from retailers. A Government agency may sell at the maximum price applicable to sales by retailers if the buyer from the agency generally buys the commodity from retailers.

(1) Make such determination itself;

(2) Obtain from the buyer a written representation with regard thereto in the contract of sale or otherwise.

(b) Maximum prices for commodities governed by price regulations listed in Appendix C. When a Government agency sells a commodity governed by a regulation listed in Appendix C, its maximum price for the sale is the manufacturer's, producer's, or processor's net price to wholesalers or jobbers, that is, the list price, adjusted for all applicable extra charges, discounts, or allowances, for sales to wholesalers or jobbers. If, however, the applicable regulation has established a maximum price for sales by Government agencies by express reference to such agencies (and not merely by a catch-all clause referring to sellers generally or by the common definition of the term "person" to include Government agencies), the maximum price for the selling agency shall be the maximum price so established.

A Government agency may sell at the maximum price applicable to sales by wholesalers or jobbers if the buyer from the agency generally buys the commodity from wholesalers or jobbers or from retailers. A Government agency may sell at the maximum price applicable to sales by retailers if the buyer from the agency generally buys the commodity from retailers.

To determine whether a buyer generally purchases a commodity from a given class of seller (e. g., wholesalers and jobbers, retailers), the Government agency may:

(1) Make such determination itself;

(2) Obtain from the buyer a written representation with regard thereto in the contract of sale or otherwise.

(c) When a maximum price cannot be determined by reference to Appendices B and C although the commodity is listed therein. In such instances the Government agency may determine a maximum price under the succeeding sections. (For an explanation of the situations in which maximum prices cannot be determined, see text of Appendix B.)

(d) Sales of a heterogeneous group of commodities. (1) Where a heterogeneous group of new commodities held at one place is sold to one purchaser and where the determination of dollar-and-cents maximum prices would be unduly burdensome, the maximum price for the entire group of commodities may be determined under section 5.

(2) Where a heterogeneous group of new and used, or all used, commodities held at one place is sold to one purchaser and where the determination of dollar-and-cents maximum prices would be unduly burdensome, the maximum price for the entire group may be a price not to exceed 75 per cent of the acquisition or replacement cost (as defined in section 5) to the Government agency.

SEC. 5. Sales by Government agencies of new commodities at a price not to exceed acquisition or replacement cost—(a) When Government agencies may sell at a price not to exceed acquisition or replacement cost. When no maximum price has been expressly provided for the sale under section 4 and no exemption is provided in section 3 a Government agency may sell any new commodity at a price not to exceed its acquisition or replacement cost (as defined in (b) following) to the Government agency.

(b) What is acquisition or replacement cost. "Acquisition cost" means delivered cost to the Government or if this is unknown, or cannot reasonably be ascertained, the estimated delivered cost to the Government. "Delivered cost" may be averaged. Where the Government sales officer finds it practicable to determine, all other expenses, including handling, warehousing, costs of trans-shipment by the Government, contract termination allowances and interest charges, shall be excluded.

"Replacement cost" means estimated current replacement cost to the Government agency at the point of Government sale.

Where the Government agency sells a commodity "in place" or on an "installed basis," the expenses incurred by it in connection with the installation thereof may be included.

In calculating acquisition or replacement costs of consumer goods or cost of living items, as distinguished from industrial goods, the Government agency shall, where the Government sales officer finds it practicable to determine, eliminate that portion of such cost which is attributable to inclusion in the article of features which, while useful to the Government, do not add significantly to the article's value to a private consumer. On sales of war contract termination inventory (for a description of which see section 6 below) such costs need not be eliminated.

SEC. 6. Sales of war contract termination inventory. Notwithstanding any other pricing provision of this supplementary order, on sales of war contract termination inventory consisting of raw materials, supplies, component parts, semi-processed and semi-fabricated material, the Government agency which terminated the contract or the contractor selling in its behalf may, prior to the date on which such inventory is declared or assigned as surplus to a disposal agency, as authorized by regulations of the Surplus War Property Administrator, sell any item in such inventory at a price not to exceed the acquisition cost of the item. This section is not applicable to sales made subsequent to such date of declaration or assignment. Maximum prices for sales of war contract termination inventory may also be determined under any other applicable provision of this supplementary order.

For the purposes of this section "acquisition cost" means the purchase price plus freight, if any, paid by the contractor for the item, and may be averaged. Freight charges which cannot be definitely assigned or allocated to the item may be estimated. Where the item being sold has been fabricated or processed by the contractor, direct labor costs plus the appropriate allocable factory overhead (which may be estimated if actual figures are not available) may be added to the acquisition cost. The acquisition cost of property furnished to the contractor by the Government may be estimated, if the actual cost is unknown or cannot reasonably be ascertained.

SEC. 7. Sales by Government agencies of new commodities at a price not to exceed manufacturer's, producer's, or processor's adjusted list prices. (a) As an alternative to selling at a price not to exceed acquisition or replacement cost, a Government agency may sell at a price not to exceed the net price to wholesalers or jobbers contained in price lists and discount schedules of any manufacturer, producer, or processor of the same commodity, minor differences in specifications and design being disregarded. "Net price to wholesaler" means the manufacturer's, producer's, or processor's list price adjusted for all applicable extra charges, discounts, or allowances, for sales to wholesalers or jobbers.

A Government agency may sell at the maximum price applicable to sales by wholesalers or jobbers if the buyer from the agency generally buys the commodity from wholesalers or jobbers or from retailers. A Government agency may sell at the maximum price applicable to sales by retailers if the buyer from the agency generally buys the commodity from retailers.

To determine whether a buyer generally purchases a commodity from a given class of seller (e. g., wholesalers and jobbers, retailers), the Government agency may:

(1) Make such determination itself;

(2) Obtain from the buyer a written representation with regard thereto in the contract of sale or otherwise.

Wherever practicable, the price list and discount schedule of the manufacturer of the particular commodity being sold should be used. Where there are significant geographical differences in the price of products to be sold, the price lists and discount schedules shall be those of a seller normally selling in the area or areas in which the Government agency intends to sell.

SALES OF USED COMMODITIES AND SCRAP

SEC. 8. Sales of used commodities by Government agencies. The maximum price of used commodities (exclusive of scrap) not exempt under section 3 of this order shall be determined by any one of the following methods which the selling agency may select:

(a) The maximum price may be that specified for used commodities by price regulations listed in Appendix D. Part I of Appendix D lists the regulations which specify maximum prices in terms of dollar-and-cents. Part II of Appendix D lists the regulations which provide for the establishment of maximum prices by formula.

(b) A Government agency may file with the OPA national office a formula or formulas which it proposes to use in establishing maximum prices for the sale of specified used commodities or groups of commodities. The formula must be related to the ceiling price of the commodity in new condition and must not exceed maximum prices applicable thereto, except that where such commodity or groups of commodities are sold "in place" or on an "installed basis," the Government agency may include the expenses incurred by it in connection with the installation thereof. If a formula is not disapproved or modified within 15 days of filing, sales may be made thereunder until such time as the OPA may modify, supersede, or suspend it.

The OPA's failure to disapprove, modify, supersede, or suspend any formula filed under this paragraph shall not be construed as indicating that higher maximum prices would not be approved if applied for under section 10.

SEC. 9. Sales of scrap by Government agencies. The maximum price for sales of scrap not exempt under section 3 shall be the price specified in the applicable regulation listed in Appendix E.

APPLICATION FOR PRICES OR EXEMPTIONS

SEC. 10. Application by Government agencies for special maximum prices or exemptions—(a) When Government agency shall apply. When the maximum price for a sale has not been expressly provided under section 4 or section 9 and the sale is not exempt under section 3, the Government agency, if it does not determine its maximum price by one of the methods provided in sections 5, 6, 7, 8, or 12, shall apply to the OPA for either a maximum price or an exemption.

(b) Where to file applications. The Government agency may file its application with the nearest OPA District or Regional Office or with the National Office.

(c) What the application shall contain. An application under this section shall contain the following:

(1) An accurate physical description and identification of the commodity or commodities to be priced, and the name and address of the manufacturer, if available, or, if not, the name and address of a distributor, if available.

(2) Its condition.

(3) The quantity to be sold.

(4) The type of sale contemplated, such as: auction, acceptance of sealed bids, negotiations.

(5) The types of purchasers to whom sales are contemplated, such as: manufacturers, industrial users, wholesalers, retailers, and non-industrial users. The OPA will establish a maximum price for sales by manufacturers unless the Government states that it desires a maximum price for sales by wholesalers, jobbers, or retailers.

(6) An estimate of "acquisition cost" or "replacement cost" of the commodity to the agency, if available. (These terms are defined in section 5.)

(7) A requested maximum price if the agency so desires, with an explanation of the basis for the requested price.

(8) A request for an exemption if the agency so desires, with an explanation of the reasons for the request.

(d) When a requested maximum price may be deemed approved. Any maximum price requested by the Government agency with reasons therefor, shall be deemed approved unless the OPA gives notice to the contrary within twenty days from the date the application is mailed or delivered to it.

(e) Sales pending OPA approval of maximum price. Upon the filing of an application under this section, the Government agency may, where the commodity is to be sold by negotiation, enter into a contract to sell at the requested price, subject to the approval of such price by OPA, and make delivery thereunder. If the Government agency collects the requested price it shall refund the difference between the price collected and any lower maximum price established by OPA.

(f) Action by OPA on applications discretionary. The OPA, in its discretion, may either grant a special exemption or establish a special maximum price, regardless of whether the Government selling agency had applied for a special exemption or a special maximum price.

(g) When the OPA may grant exemptions. The OPA may grant an exemption from price control limited to a particular sale of a designated commodity or commodities when, in its opinion, inflationary consequences will not result from the exemption because of market conditions, the use to which the commodity may be put, or the fact that the price charged will not tend to increase the cost of living or other prices.

(h) When the OPA may establish special maximum prices. If the Government agency's application satisfies the requirements of this section, the OPA may establish special maximum prices for the particular commodities covered by the application which are representative of, or in line with, the average or prevailing ceiling price or prices to which private sellers of these commodities are subject.

SEC. 11. When OPA may establish special maximum prices or exemptions on its own motion. The OPA, on its own motion, may, by order, establish special maximum prices or special exemptions, applicable to sales by Government agencies or to resales by private resellers of commodities purchased from Government agencies. Except where a special maximum price or special exemption for all or designated classes of resellers of a commodity has been provided by an order issued under this section 11, the maximum prices and exemptions applying to all such resales shall be determined by the applicable maximum price regulation.

RELIANCE ON BUYER'S CERTIFICATION

SEC. 12. Sales in reliance upon buyer's representations—(a) Sales at or below customary purchase prices. A Government agency may sell any commodity at a price not to exceed the maximum price applicable to purchases by the buyer, from usual sources of supply, of the commodity in the quantity and at the place that delivery is made: Provided, That the buyer certifies to the Government agency that the price paid, contracted for, or offered does not exceed such maximum price.

(b) Sales to manufacturers, producers, or processors at or below maximum selling prices. A Government agency may sell any commodity at a price not to exceed the maximum selling price applicable to sales by the buyer, in his capacity as a manufacturer, producer, or processor of the same commodity, disregarding minor differences in specifications or design, in the quantity and at the place that delivery is made: Provided, That the buyer certifies to the Government agency that the price paid, contracted for, or offered does not exceed his maximum selling price.

(c) Sales at or below acquisition or replacement cost. A Government agency may sell any new commodity to a buyer at a price not to exceed acquisition or replacement cost as determined under section 5: Provided, That the buyer certifies to the Government agency that no maximum price for the sale of the commodity is established in dollar-and-cents terms by a price regulation listed in Appendix B or C of this supplementary order.

(d) Accuracy of buyer's representations. No Government selling agent shall make a sale under this section where he has reason to doubt the accuracy of the certificate. Every certificate furnished under this section shall constitute a representation both to the Government selling agency and to the Office of Price Administration.

OTHER PROVISIONS

SEC. 13. Delegation to field offices. The Price Administrator, or any Regional Administrator so authorized by the Deputy Administrator for Price, or any District Director so authorized by his Regional Administrator may issue special maximum prices and exemptions in the form of orders issued under sections 10 and 11 of this supplementary order.
